COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1932.

Vol. 14 HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JUNE 27, 1932. No. 1.

SENATE

MONDAY, JUNE 27, 1932, 9 O'CLOCK P. M. (Eastern Standard Time)

This being the day and hour fixed by the Governor of the Commonwealth in his proclamation, convening the General Assembly in Extraordinary Session, the members of the Senate assembled in the Senate Chamber.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) called the Senate to order at 9 o'clock P. M.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Our gracious Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for all the mercies Thou hast granted unto us since last we met as a legislative body.

Our hearts are saddened as we realize that an honored member of our body will not answer to the roll call at this session. His chair and desk are draped in mourning. He has answered to Thy roll call of the ages. We carry with us fragrant memories of his generous acts and loyal friendships. We pray that Thou mayest minister Thy blessed comfort to the bereaved members of his family.

The grim reaper of death has likewise removed in the recent past two faithful and devoted officials of this body. We cherish their memory and pray that Thy consolation may be granted to the bereaved ones of their home groups.

We pray for Thy guidance during this special session of our General Assembly. May legislation be enacted which will furnish relief to those in distress, without bringing undue hardships to those who will be called upon to furnish the relief.

Give clearness of vision to our legislators, so that they may find for their fellow citizens the royal highway which leads to happier conditions; and unto Thy name we will ascribe the praise forevermore. Amen.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. EARNEST asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. HEATON.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will proceed to read the proclamation of the Governor convening the General Assembly in Extraordinary Session.

Whereupon,

The Chief Clerk of the Senate read the proclamation of the Governor, as follows:

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR

In the Name and by Authority of the

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
HARRISBURG

By virtue of the authority vested in me by Article IV, Section 12, of the Constitution, I, Gifford Pinchot, Governor of Pennsylvania, do hereby convene the General Assembly of the Commonwealth in extraordinary session, to meet in the Capitol at Harrisburg, on Monday, June twenty-seventh, one thousand nine hundred thirty-two, at eight o'clock P. M. (Eastern Standard Time) of that day, to consider legislation upon the following subjects:

1. By reductions in appropriations previously made and by amendments or other modifications of existing tax laws or the imposition of new taxes, to provide money to restore, in whole or in part, nine million seven hundred twenty thousand three hundred sixty-four dollars and twenty-seven cents ($9,720,364.27) of appropriations abated by the passage of the Talbot Act, to balance the deficiency of five million dollars ($5,000,000) in the budget for the biennium ending May 31, 1933, and to pay the expenses of the special session of the Legislature.

2. If appropriations previously made can be reduced in an amount exceeding the aggregate of five million dollars ($5,000,000) and the amount by which Talbot Act abatements are restored, to appropriate for unemployment relief the excess of such reductions.

3. To authorize all political subdivisions of the Commonwealth during 1932 to negotiate temporary emergency loans for certain purposes and under certain circumstances to refund such loans annually for a certain period.

4. To increase the taxing power of political subdivisions of the State.

5. By taxation to provide State revenue for unemployment relief and appropriate the money provided, or to initiate a constitutional amendment authorizing a State loan for reinbursing counties, cities, and poor districts for moneys expended for unemployment relief, or both. And, if a loan is proposed, to enact legislation specifying the basis upon which the State shall reimburse such counties, cities and poor districts.

6. Expanding the power of the Secretary of Banking to sell, pledge, and lease the real and personal property of closed banks.

7. Authorizing building and loan associations within certain limitations to borrow money from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other Federal agencies.

8. Authorizing political subdivisions of the State to receive local taxes in monthly installments.

9. Amending the laws relating to the collection and enforcement of collection of delinquent taxes owing to political subdivisions of the State.

10. Authorizing the council of cities of the first class to fix the number and compensation of county employes whose compensation is paid out of the city treasury.

11. Authorizing the creation and regulation of limited dividend housing companies.

12. Proposing constitutional amendments for State loans:

(a) To take advantage of any Federal legislation authorizing loans to states.

(b) For the rebuilding and construction of highways.

(c) To meet, if necessary, the expenses of the State government during the next biennium.

13. Proposing a constitutional amendment permitting the State to distribute among its political subdivisions the whole or a part of any tax collected by the State.

14. Proposing a constitutional amendment authorizing a State income tax exclusively for educational purposes, of which a part must be returned to the school districts of the State.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State at the City of Harrisburg, this 22d day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred thirty-two, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred fifty-sixth.

(SEAL)

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

By the Governor:
RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 27, 1932.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

If it meets with the approval of the General Assembly, I should like to address the members in Joint Session on Monday, June 27, 1932, at 9.00 o'clock Eastern Standard Time.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the invitation be accepted.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMITTEE TO ESCORT THE GOVERNOR TO THE HALL OF THE HOUSE

Mr. BUCKMAN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 27, 1932.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That a committee of three on the part of the Senate be appointed to act with a similar committee on the part of the House (if the House shall appoint such committee), to escort the Governor to the Hall of the House to address Members of the General Assembly in Joint Session at 9 P. M. Eastern Standard Time, June 27, 1932.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were laid upon the table.

NOTIFICATION TO THE HOUSE

Mr. NORTON offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 27, 1932.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate is now in session and ready to proceed to business.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair appoints a said Committee the Senator from Berks, Mr. Norton, the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Pethick, and the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Baumer.

NOTIFICATION TO THE GOVERNOR

Mr. HOMSHER offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 27, 1932.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That a committee of three on the part of the Senate be appointed to act with a similar committee on the part of the House, if the House shall appoint such committee, to await upon His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, and inform him that the General Assembly is convened in Extraordinary Session in conformity with the proclamation of June 22, 1932, and is ready to receive any communications he may have to make.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

ADOPTION OF RULES

Mr. BELL offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 27, 1932.

Resolved, That the standing rules of the Senate during the regular session of 1931 be adopted for the government of the Senate at the present Extraordinary Session.

WHEN BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS MAY BE INTRODUCED

Mr. WILLIAMSON offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 27, 1932.

Resolved, That all petitions, memorials and remonstrances be presented by handing the same to the Chief Clerk, properly endorsed with the name thereon, in accordance with the practice of the last regular session.

POSTAGE ON LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

Mr. CLARK offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 27, 1932.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Chief Clerks of the Senate and the House of Representatives be directed to make arrangements for the necessary postage, so that the Legislative Journal may be mailed according to the requirements of the Post Office Department, and that the Appropriations Committee provide for the cost of the same in the bill providing for the expenses of the Extraordinary Session.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PAYMENT OF SALARIES OF MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Mr. TRAINER offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 27, 1932.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the State Treasurer be and is hereby authorized to pay on warrant of the Auditor General to each member of the General Assembly the sum of $250.00 on account of the salary of $500.00 to which each member is entitled for an Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly by virtue of the provisions of the Act of Assembly approved the tenth day of May, A. D. 1927, P. L. 880; and the balance of said $500.00, namely, $250.00, on the day of final adjournment of the Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly, convened in session on call of the Governor, June 27, 1932.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SALARIES OF EMPLOYES OF SENATE

Mr. BRANDT offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 27, 1932.

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Senate approve orders for the payment of salaries and wages only to such officers and employes of the Senate as are specifically authorized by law, and who actually perform the duties of the positions to which they have been elected or appointed.

STANDING COMMITTEES

The PRESIDENT. The President Pro Tempore of the Senate has requested me to announce that there has been only one change in the membership of the Senate since the Extraordinary Session of 1931, which was occasioned by the death of Honorable Augustus F. Daix, Jr., Therefore, if there are no objections, the committees will stand as they were in the Extraordinary Session of 1931; and any vacancies which occur in the membership of the committees shall be filled in accordance with the rules of the Senate.

The Chair hears no objection.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR TRANSMITTING RESOLUTION OF CONGRESS

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 27, 1932.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to submit herewith for your consideration a letter addressed to me from the Secretary of State, Washington, D. C., dated March 8, 1932, to which is attached a certified copy of a Resolution of Congress, entitled "Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States fixing the commencement of the terms of President and Vice President and Members of Congress and fixing the time of the assembling of Congress."

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

REASONS FOR PARDONS

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 27, 1932.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to present herewith the reasons for pardons granted by me from October 1, 1931, to May 31, 1932.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Cyrus M. Woodell—No. 351

October Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Cyrus M. Woodell, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Erie County, on April 26, 1929, be commuted from three and one-half years to two years, six months, expiring on October 26, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant and a co-defendant, A. K. Lanning, the latter being the older of the two, held up the attendant at a gasoline station in Erie, Pa., forcing him into a lavatory with a gun while applicant took $57.53 from the cash register. Both were arrested within an hour, made restitution, and pleaded guilty. Three days later Lanning was sentenced to the Huntingdon Reformatory and the applicant was sentenced to serve from three and one-half to seven years in the West State Penitentiary.

2. Applicant was never before arrested in this or any other State, always bore a good record and has an honorable discharge from the U. S. Marines. He has now served two and one-half years. We feel that he can safely be released on parole.

3. The trustees of the Western State Penitentiary, and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend commutation, and there are a number of letters of recommendation from prominent citizens, city and county officials and judges, including Hon. A. R. Chase and Hon. Singleton Bell, who are personally acquainted with the applicant.

4. Upon his release, applicant will be employed with the Lauterbauch Bakery, Inc., 121 E. 21st Street, Erie, Pa., and will be on parole until April 26, 1936.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Raimondo Valentino—No. 340.

October Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of Raimondo Valentino, convicted of murder, first degree, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Clinton County, on March 25, 1926, be commuted from imprisonment for life to a minimum of six years and a maximum of twelve years.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant was convicted of causing the death of Howard Wagner on Labor Day, Sept. 7, 1925. Donald Charles and Howard Wagner were crossing a bridge from the Main Street, to the south side of Avis, Clinton County, to take a street car for Jersey Shore. They were both very drunk. Applicant is alleged to have stabbed Wagner, causing his death, but has always maintained his innocence and claims it was a question of mistaken identity.

2. The trial judge says in part, "In my judgment the ends of justice would be served by the commutation of sentence from life imprisonment to a determinate term of not less than six nor more than twelve years and that he may safely be released from prison." Applicant has now served six years. The private prosecutor, the present district attorney, the trustees of the Western State Penitentiary and the State Supervisor of Paroles are all favorable to clemency.

3. Applicant has friends at Avis, Pa., who will care for him, and he will be employed by Mr. Joe Mandorello, Jersey Shore. He will be on parole until March 26, 1937.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendatoin is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Domenick Stanzens—No. 339
October Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Domenick Stanzeone, convicted of obstructing railroad engine (two counts), in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Clinton County, on April 30, 1925, be commuted from eight and one-half years to six years, six months, expiring on October 30, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant on November 28, 1924 found a piece of steel known as a derailer and mischievously placed same on a railroad track. An engine was derailed and no great damage done, nor anyone injured. He is supposed to have committed the same offense on April 30, 1925. He entered a plea of guilty to the first offense, but claims to be innocent of the second charge.

2. The district attorney, private prosecutor, trustees of the Western State Penitentiary and State Supervisor of Paroles are all favorable to a commutation, conditioned upon immediate deportation.

3. Applicant served six years and five months of his sentence and will be on parole until April 30, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Fred Allen Senft—No. 457

October Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Fred Allen Senft, convicted of murder, second degree, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of York County, on May 23, 1929, be commuted from seven and one-half years to three years, expiring on May 23, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant while highly intoxicated went to the home of his paramour, a widow, where he secured a gun which belonged to the widow's son and attempted to leave the house with the gun. His paramour and her son attempted to prevent this and the son struck applicant in the face with his fist. During this scuffle which ensued, the gun discharged, and a granddaughter of applicant's paramour, who was in the room, was killed. About an hour after the shooting applicant had sobered up, entered a restaurant, asked that a police officer be called, remained there until the officer came for him, and at once pleaded guilty to the crime.

2. The trial judge, the trial district attorney, the parents of the deceased child, and the warden of the York County Prison, recommend commutation.

3. Applicant has a position awaiting him with John C. Becker, 217 Hartley Street, York, Pa., and will be on parole until May 23, 1944.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Paul Richell—No. 456

October Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Paul Richell, convicted of robbery in the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of York County, on August 12, 1929, be commuted from three years to two years, two months, expiring on October 12, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant along with William Anderson, both members of the U. S. Army were stationed at Fort Meade, Maryland, and started for Laurel, Maryland, a distance of nine miles. They obtained a "hitch hike" and held up and robbed the man with whom they were riding. At the time of the crime applicant was only 19 years old. He pleaded guilty, returned everything he had taken and was sentenced to from 3 to 6 years in the penitentiary. He has served more than two years.

2. The trial judge, the trial district attorney, the State Supervisor of Paroles, and the victim of the crime L. C. Madison. Professor of Animal Husbandry, Pennsylvania State College, all recommend commutation.

3. Applicant has a position upon his release with J. A. Cunningham, Inc., 1155-1161 S. Broad Street, Philadelphia. He will be on parole until August 12, 1935.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Louis McCarthy—No. 296

October Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Louis McCarthy, convicted of rape, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on November 25, 1929, be commuted from three years, to one year, eleven months, expiring on October 25, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant, convicted of the crime of rape, still claims his innocence. He has now served two years of a three-year minimum sentence. He had never before been accused of crime. The Board feels that there is substantial doubt whether applicant was guilty of this offense.

2. The trial district attorney, the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend clemency.

3. Upon his release applicant will have a position with William Leech, 220 Chartiers Ave., McKees Rocks, Pa., and will be on parole until November 25, 1935.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Leslie Merker—No. 312

October Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of Leslie Merker, convicted of larceny, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Beaver County, on March 2, 1931, be commuted from two years, to six months, expiring on September 2, 1931, and that his minimum sentence for escape, imposed in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Centre County, on May 25, 1931, be commuted from 1 year to 2 months, expiring on November 2, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant, then 19 years of age, was a student at St. John's College, Brooklyn, N. Y., on January 21, 1931. For some unknown reason he left the college on that night and roved into Pennsylvania, where he arrived in Aliquippa, Beaver County. He was tired and hungry and asked a police officer where he might get a night's lodging. The officer ignored him. Thereupon the boy broke the window and walked into the police station saying to the sergeant that he had stolen the watches in order to get a night's lodging. He was arrested and sentenced to from one to two years in the Western State Penitentiary. He was sent to Rockview Penitentiary and on May 22, 1931, fearing that his parents would learn of his whereabouts and be disgraced, he escaped from Rockview, was captured and sentenced by the Centre County Court to from one to two years for escape.

2. Applicant's mother does not as yet know of his imprisonment. Through worry over her son's disappearance, she has suffered a nervous breakdown.

3. The trial judges of Beaver and Centre Counties, the trial district attorney of Beaver County and the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary recommend clemency. Applicant's father, Mr. A. B. Merker, 41 W. 45th Street, New York City, N. Y., appeared before the Board and asked that his son be released so that he could return to college. We suggested that possibly the boy was in need of mental treatment and the father cheerfully agreed to provide it, if necessary. Applicant will be on parole until May 25, 1935.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Clarence Markle—No. 342

October Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Clarence Markle, convicted of breaking and entering, larceny, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Columbia County, on August 22, 1927, be commuted from five years to four years, two months, expiring on October 22, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant and two co-defendants, one Theodore McHenry and Morris Stout had been drinking liquor on the night of August 15, 1927. They entered the Elks Club by force and committed a robbery.

2. The trial judge is not opposed to clemency, saying in part, "The young man has been sufficiently punished, and his two confederates have been pardoned," the State Supervisor of Paroles and Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary recommend clemency.

3. Applicant has served over four years and has a position awaiting him with the American Car and Foundry Company, Berwick, Pa. He will be on parole until August 22, 1937.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Joseph Klarik—No. 353

October Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joseph Klarik, convicted of arson, fire with intent to defraud, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Fayette County, on August 6, 1929, be commuted from four years to two years, two months, expiring on October 6, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant on the evening of July 21, 1929, being alone in his home became intoxicated as the result of drinking home brew and set fire to his own home. Some of the neighbors discovered the fire and sent in an alarm. The fire was extinguished, the damage to the house amounting to about one hundred dollars. Eight days later the fire marshal questioned the applicant as to the origin of the fire and he admitted his guilt. He was later sentenced to imprisonment to from four to eight years. He has now served over two years.

2. The trial judge the trial district attorney, the Board of Trustees of Western State Penitentiary and the State Supervisor of Paroles are favorable to commutation.

3. Applicant will be employed by the International Steel Tie Co., Cleveland, Ohio, and will be on parole until August 6, 1937.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Wadislauf Joblonski—No. 333

October Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Wadislauf Joblonski, convicted of larceny, receiving stolen good (6 count), in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Chester County, on October 5, 1926, be commuted from six years to five years, expiring on October 5, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant was convicted and sentenced to from 6 to 12 years for chicken stealing. He is sixty-five years of age and has now served five years in the penitentiary. He owns two farms in Chester County of which one is his home. He will go there upon his release. We believe that he has been sufficiently punished.

2. The trial district attorney and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend commutation.

3. Applicant will be on parole until October 5, 1938.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Martin Fleming—No 346

October Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of Martin Fleming, convicted of murder, first degree, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Dauphin County, on July 13, 1914, be commuted from imprisonment for life to a minimum sentence of 17 years, 3 months, expiring on October 21, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant is serving a life sentence for the murder of his mother-in-law. His wife and baby were living at the home of her mother, in Harrisburg, and applicant was forbidden to come to the house. He was about to leave the city and accept a position in Altoona, and desiring to see his child before going, he went to the home of his mother-in-law at midnight, entered through an open window and went to the bedroom where his wife, child and mother-in-law were. He sat beside the bed for some time, then leaned over and kissed his wife, and reached over to get the baby so that he might hold it in his arms. His mother-in-law awoke and ordered him from the house. He pleaded with her to allow him to see the baby, but she refused. She was a large woman weighing nearly two hundred pounds. She came towards applicant to force him from the house, and in his crazed condition he shot and killed her.

2. On July 13, 1914, the applicant was sentenced to be hanged. On August 21, 1914, his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. He has now been imprisoned for eighteen years.

3. The trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary and the State Supervisor of Paroles both recommend the further commutation of sentence. The trial judge and district attorney are both deceased.

4. Applicant has a fine institutional record. He has been very useful in the medical department. He is at present in bad health.

5. Upon his release he will be employed by Mr. Henry G. Brock, at Muncy, Pa., in the capacity of caretaker on his farm. He will be on parole for the remainder of his natural life.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Rocco DiPippa—No. 546

October Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Rocco DiPippi, convicted of breaking and entering, receiving stolen goods, escape, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on January 26, 1923, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant had been confined in the Western State Penitentiary for breaking and entering, receiving stolen goods and escape. He was sentenced to from six to twelve years on January 26, 1923.

2. Applicant has served his minimum sentence and three years of his parole. He desires to leave the State with his wife to avoid being annoyed by his father-in-law. Applicant is an Italian and his wife a Syrian. The father-in-law was always opposed to the marriage.

3. The trial district attorney, the assistant trial district attorney, various county officials and the State Supervisor of Paroles all recommend a pardon. A former warden of the Western State Penitentiary recommends a pardon for the valuable services applicant rendered to the Commonwealth while in prison—he made it possible for the warden to convict three prison guards on charges of bringing contraband articles into the penitentiary.

4. Upon receipt of a pardon, applicant and his wife will at once leave the State.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of George Andrew Diehl—No. 284

October Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of George Andrew Diehl, convicted of statutory rape, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on August 13, 1926, be commuted from eight years to five years, two months, expiring on October 13, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant was arrested for rape on two girls. He admits having made an attempt on one, but denies that he actually committed the offense. He was placed in jail and after awaiting trial for five weeks, he offered to plead guilty to the charge as to the one girl, but by mistake a plea of guilty was entered in both cases and applicant was sentenced to imprisonment for from four to eight years on each charge. He has now served over five years of an eight to sixteen year sentence

2. This is applicant's first offense and we believe that he has been sufficiently punished for the offense committed.

3. The trial judge is not opposed to clemency, and the trial district attorney, the Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend it.

4. If applicant is released he has a position awaiting him with Mr. Earl Webster, 201 Water Street, Pittsburgh, Pa., and he will be on parole until August 13, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Arsenio Alivinti—No. 387

October Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Arsenio Alivinti, convicted of pandering, in the Court of Quarter Session of Luzerne County, on December 8, 1928, be commuted from five years to three years, ten months, expiring on October 8, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant, in September 1928, drove an automobile with Louis Ferruci and a Miss Carpenter to a restaurant at Mocanaqua. At a later date Miss Carpenter testified that she was compelled to become a prostitute and had the applicant arrested charged with the crime of pandering. Applicant denied this charge at the trial and still denies it. He has now served two years, ten months of a five to ten year sentence.

2. The trial judge is favorable to clemency, the district attorney is not opposed, and in a petition presented to the Board, eight of the trial jurors recommend clemency. The State Supervisor of Paroles is favorable if applicant is properly sponsored and returns to New York. We recommend that the commutation be conditioned on having applicant go to that State.

3. Applicant will be on parole until December 8, 1938.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

In re Application of Louis Yankovich—No. 600

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Louis Yankovich, convicted of statutory rape, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on March 11, 1930, be commuted from four and one-half years to one year, nine months, expiring on December 11, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant was sentenced on March 11, 1930, to from four and one-half to nine years for statutory rape. He has always asserted he was innocent of the offense charged, but guilty of immoral conduct with a girl of known bad reputation. We believe his story. Applicant has now served one year and nine months in the penitentiary and we feel that he has been adequately punished.

2. The State Supervisor of Paroles after investigation recommends clemency.

3. Applicant has employment awaiting him with Jones and Laughlin, Pittsburgh, Penna. He will be on parole until March 11, 1939.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Did not hear this case,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Benjamin Williams—No. 554

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Benjamin Williams, convicted of murder, second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on October 28, 1924, be commuted from ten years to seven years, two months, expiring on December 28, 1931.

Our reasons for marking this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant and his wife had been separated for some time, and he sent his fourteen-year-old son with fifteen dollars to his wife. She requested the boy to tell the applicant that she wished to see him. He went to see his wife and she drew a revolver from under her coat. In a tussle the revolver was discharged and the applicant's wife fell to the floor. Applicant then went to the police station and gave himself up. His wife died.

2. The trial judge is not opposed to clemency, and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommends commutation.

3. Applicant has employment with P. L. Sullivan & Son, 223 Wood Street, Philadelphia, Pa. He will be on parole until May 26, 1937.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Did not hear this case.
Attorney General

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Thomas Wallace—No. 427

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Thomas Wallace, convicted of robbery and conspiracy, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions, of Philadelphia County, on February 1, 1924, be commuted from ten years to seven years, nine months, expiring on November 1, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant and one Joseph Conway were convicted of holding up and robbing a paymaster. There is grave doubt as to applicant's guilt. Joseph Conway was pardoned in December, 1929. Applicant has now served eight years in the penitentiary.

2. The Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend clemency. We feel that under the circumstances commutation is justified.

3. Applicant has a position with the Model Heating and Engineering Company, 5223 Haverford Avenue, Philadelphia, Penna. He will be on parole until February 1, 1944.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of William Nugent—No. 605

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that William Nugent, convicted of larceny, receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on July 21, 1914, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. On July 21, 1914, applicant was placed on probation for one year on the charges of larceny and receiving stolen goods. He reported regularly and was discharged from probation July, 1915. He is now desirous of removing the stigma from his former good record. He was represented before the Board by Mr. E. M. Hackney, Chief Probation Officer of the Quarter Sessions Court of Philadelphia County.

2. The district attorney and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend a pardon.

3. We feel that under the circumstances an absolute pardon is warranted.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Did not hear this case.
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Joseph McGlinchey—No. 414

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joseph McGlinchey, convicted of murder second degree, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on January 22, 1929, be commuted from seven years to two years, ten months, expiring on November 22, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant had been on a drunken debauch for quite some time and upon entering a restaurant in Columbia Avenue, Philadelphia attempted to shoot a darby hat off a Negro who was sitting at the counter. The bullet struck the man in the head and caused his death.

2. The applicant is suffering from advanced tuberculosis. The Board asked Dr. Appel to have a physical examination made. This examination was made by Dr. Gorman, Medical Director, Hamburg State Sanitarium, who recommends applicant's removal to a location better adapted to the treatment of his disease. He will be on parole until January 22, 1949.

3. We feel that applicant's physical condition justifies clemency.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Walter McClarigan—No. 334

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Walter McClarigan, convicted of burglary (2 counts), in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Chester County, on April 23, 1928, be commuted from ten years to three years, seven months, expiring on November 23, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant was sentenced on two charges of burglary. The value of the articles stolen was eighty dollars ($80). He has now served three years, seven months in the penitentiary. As this was his first offense we feel that he has been sufficiently punished.

2. The trial judge does not oppose, and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommends clemency.

3. Applicant has employment with M. L. Jaschik, 509 North Street, Lancaster, Penna. He will be on parole until April 23, 1948.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Joseph Muha—No. 470

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joseph Muha, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on October 15, 1929, be commuted from four years to two years, one month, expiring on November 15, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant and an accomplice attempted to enter the window of a gasoline station for the purpose of taking an automobile tire, but upon seeing an officer approaching they abandoned their purpose. They then went to a "Blind Pig" (speakeasy) and attempted to take money from the proprietor, and again did not succeed. However, they were arrested and convicted on both counts. The accomplice was sentenced to one year in the Allegheny County Jail and is now at liberty. Applicant was sentenced to the penitentiary from four to ten years. He has served more than two years.

2. We feel that as this was applicant's first offense, and his accomplice, who was equally guilty, has been at liberty for more than a year, applicant has been sufficiently punished.

3. Applicant has a position awaiting him with Speros Bukes and Company, 205 East Eighth Street, Homestead, Pa. He will be on parole until October 15, 1939.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Max Morgenthau—No. 463

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Max Morgenthau, convicted of murder second degree, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Cumberland County, on November 5, 1922, be commuted from nineteen years to nine years, expiring on November 5, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant, now seventy-nine years of age, was in the huckstering business, going through the country buying egg, chickens, etc. He stopped his team to get a piece of binding cord at a farm house. The farmer took him for an intruder and ordered him to put up his hands, which order he obeyed. Nevertheless the farmer fired and shot applicant through the wrist. Thereupon the applicant drew his revolver and shot in self defense, killing the farmer. He was sentenced to death, but the Supreme Court reversed the decision of the lower Court. Later applicant received a sentence of nineteen to twenty years for second degree murder. He has been in prison for over seventeen years.

2. The trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend clemency. We feel that this recommendation is warranted.

3. Applicant has a home to go to upon his release, with Miss Bianca S. Simon, 310 Riverside Drive, New York. He will be on parole until November 5, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Stanley Mackewicz—No. 542

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Stanley Mackewicz, convicted of rape, in the court of Quarter Sessions of Chester County, on November 10, 1930, be commuted from five years to one year, expiring on November 10, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant with two accomplices was charged with rape. He has always maintained his innocence of the charge. The trial judge says, in part, "In my judgment this application should be granted." We feel that it is perfectly apparent that applicant was not guilty of rape.

2. Applicant has a position awaiting him upon his release with the Dohler Die Casting Company, Pottstown, Pennsylvania. He will be on parole until November 10, 1940.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Modesto Loquastro—No. 612.

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Modesto Loquastro convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Luzerne County, on June 11, 1931, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant was arrested and convicted on June 11, 1931, for robbery. It was afterwards discovered this was a clear case of mistaken identity.

2. The Honorable Clarence D. Coughlin, Presiding Judge of Luzerne County, directed Assistant District Attorney Harris to make application to the Board of Pardons for the pardon of the applicant. Under the circumstances he is clearly entitled to it.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Leo Lawler—No. 579

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Leo Lawler, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, entering with intent to rob, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions, of Philadelphia County, on November 15, 1927, be commuted from forty years to five years, expiring on November 15, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant was sentenced November 15, 1927, to from forty to eighty years for robbery, being armed with a weapon, and entering to rob. He was but 19 years of age at the time these offenses were committed and all took place within a period of five weeks. His three accomplices were older than he.

2. The trial judge, the assistant trial district attorney, and the trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary, and the State Supervisor of Paroles all recommend a commutation of sentence.

3. We feel that the sentence was extreme for a first offender, especially one of such tender age. Applicant's father died last month leaving three children for the widowed mother to provide for. Applicant has two jobs offered him, one with the Stratford Laundry, 3605 Haverford Avenue and with the Fox Film Corporation, 1238 Vine Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

4. We feel that when applicant has completed five years of his sentence, he should be paroled. He will be on parole for seventy-five years.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Raymond E. Larrison—No. 355

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Raymond E. Larrison, convicted of breaking and entering, larceny and R. S. G., in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Fayette County, on August 31, 1928, be commuted from four years to three years, three months, expiring on November 31, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant broke into the store of Davidson Supply Company at Port Marion, Pennsylvania, and stole between two and three hundred dollars worth of merchandise. He then gave himself up to the police and pleaded guilty. He has now served two years, ten months of a four to eight-year sentence.

2. The trial judge and the Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary recommend clemency, and we feel that commutation is proper.

3. Upon his release applicant will be employed by John Atkinson, Chaplin Collieries Company, Morgantown, West Virginia. He will be on parole until August 31, 1936.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Frank Knox Hockman—No 576

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Frank Knox Hockman, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Clarion County, on March 7, 1927, be commuted from ten years to four years, nine months, expiring on December 7, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant was sentenced March 7, 1927, to pay a fine of one dollar ($1.00), and to undergo imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for from ten to twenty years, on a charge of accessory before the fact to robbery. He has now served four years, and nine months. We feel that he can safely be paroled.

2. The trial judge, the trial district attorney, the trustees of the Western State Penitentiary and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend commutation of sentence.

3. Applicant has a position awaiting him writing articles for several popular magazines. He will be on parole until March 7, 1947.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,

In re Application of Harry M. Green—No. 557

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Harry M. Green, convicted of receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on March 28, 1929, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant was convicted on March 28, 1929, of a charge of receiving stolen goods. He was sentenced to the Philadelphia County Prison for a term of from six monhts to one year. After serving two months of his sentence he was placed on parole, and was discharged from parole on March 28, 1930. Applicant has been at liberty for the past year and one-half, during which time his conduct has been entirely satisfactory. He desires a pardon to enable him to accept a position in Baltimore to qualify for which he has to be bonded. We feel that he will justify your confidence in pardoning him.

In re Application of Earl Green—No. 551

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Earl Green, convicted of burglary, larceny and receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Montgomery County, on November 15, 1924, be commuted from ten years to six years, expiring on November 15, 1930.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant was sentenced from Montgomery County, on November 15, 1924, for breaking, larceny and receiving stolen goods. While at Rockview he escaped. His motive was his anxiety to see his little boy who was very ill. He was at liberty forty days. Upon his capture he was sentenced to from five to ten years for escape. He has now been in prison seven years, one month.

2. The trial judge, Hon. Arthur C. Dale of Centre County, who sentenced the applicant appeared before the Board in his behalf. The State Supervisor of Paroles recommends commutation.

3. Mr. A. G. Fraser, of the Pennsylvania Prison Society, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, has promised to secure employment for applicant, who will be on parole until August 15, 1935.

In re Application of Thomas B. C. Gilgallon—No. 548

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Thomas B. C. Gilgallon, convicted of rape, statutory rape, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Lackawanna County, on April 11, 1927, be commuted from seven and one-half years to four years, eight months, expiring on December 11, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

Applicant and one Michael Provpack were found guilty of rape and were sentenced on April 11, 1927, to from seven and one-half to fifteen years.

2. The accomplice, Michael Provback was released on parole in December, 1930. As he was at least equally guilty with the applicant, and as this is applicant's first offense, we feel that in fairness, applicant should also be paroled.

3. The trial judge is not opposed to clemency, and the trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary, and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend it.

4. Upon his release applicant will be employed by James Kearney Company, 114 Olive Street, Scranton, Pennsylvania. He will be on parole until April 11, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Lawrence Edwin St. Clair Gibson—No. 407

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of Lawrence Edwin St. Clair Gibson, convicted of murder first degree, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on August 3, 1904, be commuted from imprisonment for life to a minimum sentence of twenty-seven years, three months, expiring on November 3, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant went to the Houston Club of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, to make a friendly call, but while there he stole four dollars ($4.00), from the cash register in the basement. He started to leave the basement, but at the top of the stairs he was met by John Thomas, night watchman, who, armed with an iron bar, struck applicant over the shoulder. They grappled and a struggle ensued, in which they rolled down the stairway. The applicant ran to a closet nearby where he knew a hatchet was kept, and with this weapon killed the watchman. The applicant was arrested in his bed the next morning charged with murder, and was sentenced August 3, 1904, to be hanged. On March 5, 1905, his sentence was commuted to imprisonment life. There is a real question whether the crime could properly be held to be first degree murder.

2. Applicant wishes to return to Jamaica, his native country. He has been imprisoned twenty-seven years, and the Board feel that he has been sufficiently punished and can be safely released for deportation.

3. The district attorney is not opposed to commutation and the trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary and State Supervisor of Paroles recommend it.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of William Leroy Coleman—No. 389

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William Leroy Coleman, convicted of burglary and breaking, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions, of Luzerne County, on June 15, 1929, be commuted from five years to two years, five months, expiring on November 15, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. This application is based on the claim that applicant is suffering from an advanced case of tuberculosis. Accordingly the Board requested Dr. Appel to have an examination made and give it a report. Dr. Henry A. Gorman, Medical Director at Hamburg State Sanatorium found that applicant is suffering from advanced tuberculosis as stated in his application and recommends institutional treatment.

2. In view of applicant's physical condition, the trial judge, the Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary, and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend clemency.

3. Applicant is able to pay his own hospital expenses and will be on parole until June 15, 1939.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of John Francis Clapper—No. 545

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that John Francis Clapper, convicted of assault and battery, in the Municipal Court of Philadelphia County, on April 17, 1929, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. In April, 1929, applicant pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery. He and a former friend engaged in an argument which ended in a fist fight. The court placed applicant on probation for a year. This period has expired, and apparently applicant's conduct has been consistently good subsequent to the date when he was placed on probation. He has taken a civil service examination and passed it satisfactorily, but cannot obtain public employment until his record is cleared.

2. The trial judge and district attorney are not opposed to a pardon, the State Supervisor of Paroles recommends it.

3. In view of the fact that applicant was never in any trouble except the instance cited, we are disposed to recommend that he be pardoned.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Nicandro Cimorelli—No. 604

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Nicandro Cimorelli, convicted of burglary, entering to steal, larceny, receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on May 10, 1928, be commuted from ten years to three years, seven months, expiring on December 10, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant when seventeen years of age, pleaded guilty to three counts of breaking, entering and larceny. The thefts totaled a small amount but a sentence of from ten to thirty years was imposed. Applicant has served three years and seven months. His accomplice was commuted over two years ago. We are of the opinion that he has been adequately punished.

2. The trial judge and the Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary are not opposed to clemency, and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommends it.

3. Applicant has employment with Miller and Cornell, Hatboro, Pennsylvania. He will be on parole until May 10, 1958.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

In re Application of Armando Carmona—No. 565

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Armando Carmona, convicted of murder, second degree, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions, of Luzerne County, on February 24, 1925, be commuted from ten years to six years, ten months, expiring on December 24, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant was convicted in Luzerne County of second degree murder and sentenced for a term of from ten to twenty years. If paroled, he will be deported immediately. We feel that this should be done.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of James Roland Brown—No. 518

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of James Roland Brown, convicted of aggravated assault and battery, robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions, of Philadelphia County, on April 14, 1921, be commuted from twenty years to ten years, expiring on April 14, 1931, and that his minimum sentence for breaking and escaping penitentiary, imposed in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions, of Philadelphia County, on April 8, 1924, be commuted from nineteen and one half years to seven months, expiring November 14, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant was arrested March 17, 1921, on the charge of robbery and was sentenced to nineteen and one-half to twenty years, July 14, 1923. He and five others escaped the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was caught in New York and returned November 1, 1923. In April, 1924, sentence for the escape was imposed equal to the original sentence. Applicant has been confined in priston ten years, two months, and ever since his capture after escaping, has had a fine institutional record.

2. The trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary, the deputy warden at Craterford, and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend clemency. We feel that under the circumstances we can join in this recommendation.

3. Several of applicant's accomplices in the escape have been pardoned. He has two hundred dollars ($200.00) saved and a good home to go to in North Carolina. He will be on parole until April 8, 1944.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In Re Application of Ralph Johnson Boyd—No. 377

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Ralph Johnson Boyd, convicted of fraudulent conversion (2 counts), in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Lancaster County, on April 21, 1930, be commuted from five years to one year, seven months expiring November 21, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant was city clerk and for a time city controller of Lancaster, Pa., and misappropriated city funds, for which crime he was convicted. Full satisfaction of his indebtedness with interest was made and he assisted in the disclosure of other financial irregularities.

2. The president judge of the Lancaster county court recommends commutation. He says, in part, "He and his forbears were always honorable men. Ralph Johnson Boyd himself is essentially honest and I am certain that there would be no danger of him ever committing an offense against the law in the future, if your Board would see fit to extend clemency to him." The Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary recommend clemency. We feel that he has been sufficiently punished.

3. Applicant has a position awaiting him with Jacob Hess, Millersville, Pa. He will be on parole until April 21, 1940.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In Re Application of Louis Boyd—No. 560

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Louis Boyd, convicted of robbery, being armed with weapons and striking and ill using, in the Quarter Sessions of Erie County, on January 28, 1929, be communted from three one one-half years to two years, eleven months expiring on December 28, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. On January 28, 1929, applicant was sentenced for robbery and being armed with weapons. He was charged with holding up a taxicab driver and taking from him approximately eighteen dollars ($18.00). The sentence was three and one-half to seven years. We have affidavits from the two officers who made the arrest that they did not find any weapons on the applicant.

2. Since applicant's arrest and conviction his wife has deserted his four children ranging in age from two to eight years. As this was his first offense we feel that the ends of justice will be met by paroling him so that he may support his children.

3. The district attorney, the Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary, and the State Supervisor of Paroles all recommend clemency. Upon his release applicant will be employed by Dougherty's Dry Cleaners and Dyers, Erie, Pa., and will provide for his children. He will be on parole until January 27, 1936.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In Re Application of William E. Bisbing—No. 491

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William E. Bisbing, convicted of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony, aggregated assault and battery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Somerset County, on April 14, 1931 be commuted from three years to seven months expiring on November 14, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant became engaged in a gun fight with one William McCracken, whom he discovered living in adultery with his wife. Applicant shot McCracken four times and the latter shot applicant thru the arm and escaped. Applicant was a miner and McCracken one of his bosses. Applicant received a sentence of from 3 to 6 years, and McCracken a fine of $100.00, and costs, with no imprisonment. Applicant's children have since been abandoned by his wife.

2. The Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend clemency. We feel that commutation is proper.

3. Applicant has a position awaiting him with the Ohler Superior Coal Company, Salisburg, Pa. He will be on parole until April 14, 1937.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In Re Application of Donald Bastress—No. 460

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Donald Bastress, convicted of Larceny, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Northumberland County, on May 24, 1929, be commuted from four years to two years, six months expiring on November 24, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant with several accomplices tore up an old railroad siding the property of the Johnson Coal Company which had gone out of business. The tracks had not been used for a period of eight years. The rails were sold to a junk man. Applicant was the only one apprehended and arrested, and was sentenced to from four to eight years. At the time of his arrest he was nineteen years of age.

2. The State Supervisor of Paroles recommends clemency. He has been imprisoned for more than two and one-half years. We feel that this recomemndation is proper.

3. Upon his release, applicant will be employed by Richard Long, Fishers Ferry, Pa. He will be on parole until May 24, 1937.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In Re Application of Charles Leroy Barr—No. 493

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of Charles Leroy Barr, convicted of robbery and receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Cambira County, on February, 1926, be commuted from six years to five years expiring on Februay 18, 1931, and that his minimum sentence for larceny, breaking and escaping, imposed in the Court of Quarter Sessions, of Center County, on June 21, 1927, be commuted from three and one-half years to nine months, expiring November 18, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant was convicted in Cambria County, of robbery and receiving stolen goods, and sentenced to a term of three to six years in the Western State Penitentiary. On June 11, 1927, in company with another prisoner he escaped from Rockview. He was apprehended a few days later and sentenced to an additional term of imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary of three and one-half to seven years, this sentence to begin at the expiration of his original sentence. He has served almost six years with a very fine institutional record. His accomplice was commuted last June.

2. The Board feels that applicant has been sufficiently punished for both offenses. The trial judge is not opposed to clemency and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommends commutation.

3. Applicant has employment awaiting him, and will be on parole until June 21, 1934.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Thomas B. Baird—No. 529

November Session, 1931.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Thomas B. Baird, convicted of perjury, false entries, embezzlement, false statements, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of York County, on June 11, 1923, be commuted from twenty years to eight years, five months expiring on November 11, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant was cashier of York City Bank. He was arrested for embezzling the bank's money and making false affidavits. He used the money for speculation. The shortage was discovered in April, 1923, and rendered it necessary for the bank to liquidate thru the Department of Banking. As a result of merger, no depositor lost money, although the stockholders did lose money. Applicant assisted the Department of Banking in the recovery of money that otherwise would never have found its way into the funds for distribution. He is 66 years of age and has served almost eight and one-half years.

2. The president judge, the trial judge, the district attorney, the trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary and the State Supervisor of Paroles all recommended his release. We feel that his sentence can properly be commuted.

3. Applicant has a position awaiting him upon his release with Hon. Andrew J. Sordoni, Kingston, Pa. He will be on parole until June 11, 1945.

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,

In re Application of Tom Zima—No. 531

January Session, 1932.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the Allegheny County Workhouse sentence of Tom Zima, convicted of sedition in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Beaver County, on December 12, 1927, be commuted from five years to four years, one month expiring on January 12, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. It is our opinion that the sentence of the trial court was too severe and that the applicant has been sufficiently punished because: (1) He has already served approximately two years, one month of his sentence of five years, (2) There was no evidence of any overt act, (3) This was the applicant's first offense, (4) Prior to his conviction the applicant had an excellent reputation for good citizenship, (5) No good will come from the further incarceration of the applicant.

2. The applicant has a wife and child who are in urgent need of his support and care.

3. The Superintendent of the Allegheny County Workhouse informs us that "the lessen taught has brought about a complete reformation."

4. The applicant has been assured employment by the Sanitary Company, Monacca, Penna.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Charles Russogulo—No. 642

January Session, 1932.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of Charles Russogulo, convicted of murder, first degree, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on April 5, 1918, be commuted from imprisonment for life to a minimum of thirteen years, nine months, expiring on January 5, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Three other men and applicant shot and killed two men. The applicant alleged that these men were members of a blackhand gang who were attempting to blackmail him and others and threatened violence. At the time of the trial the applicant was unable to produce sufficient evidence to convince the jury of the truthfulness of his allegations and a conviction followed. However, the District Attorney's office of Allegheny County now states that after-discovered evidence tends to verify the allegations of the applicant, and there is a reasonable doubt in our minds that the offense which the applicant committed was first degree murder. Accordingly we believe that the applicant has been sufficiently punished. He has served a period of thirteen years, nine months in the Western State Penitentiary.

2. The Assistant District Attorney who conducted the Commonwealth's case and the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary recommend that the sentence be commuted.

3. Employment has been assured for the applicant by Domenick Pavia, general contractor, 331 Ludson Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

4. The applicant will be on parole for the remainder of his natural life.

Walter Matthews, convicted of entering with intent to steal, larceny, assault and battery with intent to kill, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, and Quarter Sessions, of Philadelphia County, on January 29, 1926, be commuted from seven years to six years expiring on January 29, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant has served approximately six years of his minimum sentence and it is our opinion that as this was his first offense, he has been sufficiently punished.

2. Mr. William R. Green, 5018 Locust Street, Philadelphia, Pa., who appeared on behalf of the applicant agrees to employ him. Applicant will be on parole until January 29, 1940.

In re Application of Newton A. Lingle—No. 633

January Session, 1932.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Newton A. Lingle, convicted of breaking and entering, larceny, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Centre County, on September 13, 1929, be commuted from five years to two years, four months expiring on January 13, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. We believe that by reason of the applicant's having already served approximately two and one-half years of his minimum sentence he has been sufficiently punished for a crime which was his first offense.

2. The Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend a commutation.

3. Employment has been assured to the applicant by R. W. Lingle, R. D. 1, Spring Mills, Pa. He will be on parole until September 13, 1934.

In re Application of William Jones—No. 533

January Session, 1932.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William Jones, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions, of Delaware County, on March 28, 1929, be commuted fom ten years to two years, ten months expiring on January 28, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant was a boy fifteen years old when he held up and robbed a theater. He pleaded guilty and was given a sentence of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary, and ordered to pay a fine of $1,000.00. It is our opinion that on account of his youth and because this was the first and only felony or misdemeanor committed by applicant that the sentence imposed by the trial court was too severe and since he has aleady served two years, ten months of his sentence, he has been sufficiently punished.

2. Dr. Leopold, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary, and Dr. Bowman, the moral instructor both recommend a commutation for the reason that a further incarceration will in all probability permanently break the spirit and morale of the applicant.

3. The trial judge, district attorney, trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary and the State supervisor of paroles recommend a commutation of the applicant's sentence.

4. Sylvan H. Hirsch, Esq., 1632 Bankers Trust Building, Philadelphia, Pa., a member of the Big Brother Association, Philadelphia, Pa., has agreed to sponsor applicant.

5. The applicant has been assured employment by the Hirsch Roofing Compound Company, 2218 Market Street, Philadelphia, Pa. He will be on parole until March 28, 1949.

In re Application of Jack Gustaferra—No. 641

January Session, 1932.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of Jack Gustaferra, convicted of murder, (first degree), in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on April 5, 1918, be commuted from imprisonment for life to a minimum of thirteen years, nine months expiring on January 5, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Three other men and applicant shot and killed two men. The applicant alleged that these men were members of a blackhand gang who were attempting to blackmail him and others and threatened violence. At the time of the trial the applicant was unable to produce sufficient evidence to convince the jury of the truthfulness of his allegations and a conviction followed. In re Application of Carl Radke—No. 699

February Session, 1932.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Carl Radke, convicted of operating automobile without consent of owner, larceny, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on April 8, 1931, be commuted from eighteen months to ten months expiring on February 8, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Through an error of the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions, the applicant received a sentence of from eighteen months to three years in the Eastern State Penitentiary, instead of the correct sentence of six months in the Workhouse; and as he has already served over ten months of the incorrect sentence it is our opinion that he has been sufficiently punished.

2. The trial judge, the trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend clemency, because the applicant has active tuberculosis. The district attorney recommends clemency because of the error made by the Clerk of the Court.

3. The applicant will be on parole until April 8, 1934.

In re Application of John McClain—No. 689

February Session, 1932.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John McClain, convicted of rape, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Chester County, on November 10, 1930 be commuted from five years to one year, three months expiring on February 10, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant was not represented by counsel and wrongly pleaded guilty to the charge of rape. Both judges of the Chester County Court concur in this statement, "At the time this young man pleaded and we imposed sentence upon him, the correct facts were not made known to us. Had they been, of course his plea would not have been accepted." They recommend clemency.

2. The applicant has served one year and three months of his sentence. He will be on parole until November 10, 1940.

In re Application of Leo Lawler—No. 579

February Session, 1932.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Leo Lawler, convicted of robbery, c. c. d. w., entering to rob, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions, of Philadelphia County, on November 15, 1927, be commuted from forty years to four years, three months expiring on February 15, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Since the November Session at which the applicant's sentence was commuted to five years, we have received a letter from the trial judge, the Honorable Howard A. Davis, to the effect, "I think the ends of justice would be well served if the commutation could take effect at once." He further states that the applicant's father died recently, the widowed mother now has two children to support, the applicant will be able to secure employment, and "I am sincerely impressed with the rehabilitation of this young man, etc." We are willing to comply with the suggestion of the trial judge.

2. The applicant will be on parole until November 15, 2007.

In re Application of Joseph Kelly—No. 746

February Session, 1932.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the death sentence of Joseph Kelly, convicted of murder (first degree), in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on November 19, 1931, be commuted from death to imprisonment for life.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. Applicant pleaded guilty to the charge of murder. Subsequent to the plea the judge determined that the crime was murder of the first degree and sentenced applicant to death. There is grave doubt in our minds that the crime to which the applicant pleaded guilty was first degree murder. Our reasons follow:

(a) The applicant received a severe blow on the head some years previous to the commission of the crime. Subsequent to the blow he was generally regarded by those who knew him, as partially insane.

(b) He was under the influence of intoxicating liquor at the time of the commission of the act.

(c) There was no evidence of an intent to commit a homicide or any other felony.

2. The District Attorney of Philadelphia County sent his representative to the public hearing before the Board and stated that in his opinion the applicant ought not to be electrocuted.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Paul Harry—No. 697

February Session, 1932.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Paul Harry, convicted of attempted rape in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on September 24, 1929, be commuted from four years to two years, five months expiring on February 24, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant, 76 years of age, was convicted of the charge of attempted rape. At his first trial he received a sentence of from two to four years. At the second trial before the same judge, although the applicant could scarcely speak English, the court refused the request for an interpreter, and imposed a sentence of from four to eight years. As the applicant has already served over two years and four months it is our opinion that he has been sufficiently punished.

2. The trial judge, the district attorney, the trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend clemency.

3. It has been agreed that the applicant will remove to California where relatives will look after his welfare, and it is upon this condition that we make our recommendation. He will be on parole until September 24, 1937.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Percy Fletcher—No. 635

February Session, 1932.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Percy Fletcher, convicted of murder (second degree), in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on February 2, 1926 be commuted from seven years to six years expiring on February 2, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant, a World War veteran, honorably discharged, and another person were involved in an affair which resulted in a fatal cutting of a third party. Separate trials were had and the applicant, with no criminal record and a good reputation, was convicted of second degree murder. The second party involved in the cutting had a bad reputation and a criminal record, and although the principal aggressor, was convicted of voluntary manslaughter. The applicant has now served over six years in the Western State Penitentiary, which is a longer period of time than the principal aggressor served.

2. The Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary, as well as the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend clemency.

3. The applicant will have employment upon his release with Charles Madie and Sons, Coraopolis, Pa. He will be on parole until February 2, 1940.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Sam Einsig—No. 667

February Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Sam Einsig, convicted of pandering, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Schuylkill County, on June 24, 1926, be commuted from eight years to five years, eight months, expiring on February 24, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. We believe that the applicant has sufficiently punished for the crime of pandering as there is some doubt in our minds as to his guilt.

2. During his incarceration, the applicant has learned the baking trade and he has been assured employment by G. Cerbone, 617 Morris Avenue, New York City, and by the Manhattan Bed Company, Inc., 1053 Metropolitan Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. The condition upon which we make our recommendation is that he removes to and remains in New York.

3. The applicant has served 5 years and 8 months in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He will be on parole until June 24, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Rinaldo Cappellini—No. 687

February Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Rinaldo Cappellini, convicted of arson, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Luzerne County, on Februaray 2, 1931, be commuted from two years to one year expiring on February 2, 1931.

Our reasons for making this recommendations are as follows:

1. The applicant was not represented by cousel and pleaded guilty to the charge of arson on a promise from the district attorney to nol pros the same charge against applicant's wife. The evidence to be used in the trial was the same and both the applicant and his wife had the same alibi. The district attorney admits that the facts which the Commonwealth would have presented at the trial would not have caused a conviction. Therefore, we believe that the applicant has been sufficiently punished, as he has served over one year in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

2. The trial judge, the district attorney and a United States Probation Officer, Mr. H. J. Mowles, recommend clemency.

3. The applicant will be on parole until February 2, 1935.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Charles H. Burdle—No. 537

February Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of th Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Charles H. Burdic, convicted of attempted rape, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of McKean County, on October 8, 1930, be commuted from two years to one year, four months expiring on Februaray 8, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. A letter from the trial judge the Honorable J. W. Bouton, states that there is some doubt as to the truth of the story told by the witnesses for the Commonwealth and the applicant "has a wife, who by the way is a cripple and the family are in destitute circumstances."

2. Mr. Charles Griswold of Eldred, R. D. No. 2, Pa., has agreed to employ the applicant at a salary of $15.00 per month with board for his entire family.

3. The applicant has served over one year and four months of his sentence. He will be on parole until October 8, 1934.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Harry Smith—No. 316

March Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Harry Smith, convicted of breaking and entering, larceny, receving stolen goods, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Beaver County, on July 12, 1930, be commuted from five years to one year, eight months expiring on March 12, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant and another were convicted for the same crimes. The property stolen consisted of a few packages of cigarettes. The commission of the crimes was a result of improper associates and drinking. The accomplice was paroled by the trial court. We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished. He has served twenty-one months of his sentence.

2. The district attorney who presented the Commonwealth's case, the trustees of the Western State Penitentiary, and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend a commutation.

3. The applicant will be on parole until July 12, 1940. Employment has been assured by Mr. Copping, Reynoldsville, Pennsylvania.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Earle Kingdon Klock—No. 714

March Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Earle Kingdon Klock, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on August 11, 1925, be commuted from ten years to six years, seven months expiring on March 11, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant an eighteen year old sailor in the United States Navy and three others held up and robbed a storekeeper. The offense was committed while on a drunken spree. The applicant was a participant in only one crime. The accomplices committed a number of other hold ups. They all received a ten to twenty year sentence. Two of the participants have been released on parole. We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished as he has no criminal record. He has served six years and seven months of his sentence.

2. The trustees of the Eastern State Pennitentiary and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend a commutation. The district attorney of Philadelphia County sent his representative to the public hearing before the Board and stated that this was a meritorious application.

3. The applicant will be on parole until August 11, 1945. Employment has been assured by the Solvay Process Company, Solvay, New York.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Paul Berger—No. 726

March Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Paul Berger, convicted of rape, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Northampton County, on September 19, 1929, be commuted from four years to two years, six months expiring on March 19, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant and two others were involved in a rape case. The two accomplices have been paroled. We have considerable doubt whether the applicant was really guilty of the crime charged; and it now appears that the prosecutrix was a girl of doubtful reputation. We believe that the applicant has been sufficiently punished. He has served two years six months of his sentence.

2. The assistant trial district attorney, the trial district attorney and the State Supervisor of Paroles recommend a commutation of sentence.

3. Employment has been assured for the applicant by Mr. S. H. Kelly, Superintendant of School Buildings, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. He will be on parole until September 19, 1937.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Lee Zechman—No. 780

April Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Lee Zechman, convicted of statutory rape, larceny, and accessory before and after the fact, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Snyder County, on February 24, 25, 1930, be commuted from five years to two years, two months expiring on April 25, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant pleaded guilty to a charge of rape and to lareny of a few baskets of peaches. He was sentenced to from 5 to 11 years. We believe that he has been sufficiently punished. Our reasons follow:

(a) After discovered evidence has shown that the prosecutrix in the rape case was a girl of easy virture.

(b) The value of the goods stolen was only a few dollars.

(c) Applicant has served over two years of his sentence and will be on parole until February 1941.

2. The trail judge and district attorney recommend commutation.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of James Priest—No. 779

April Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of James Priest, convicted of murder first degree, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on April 28, 1921, be commuted from life, to eleven years expiring on April 28, 1932, with leave to apply for a pardon, after April 28, 1934.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant was convicted of murder in the first degree and was sentenced to death. This sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. We believe that sentence should be further commuted for the following reasons.

(a) There is grave doubt in our minds that the crime committed was murder of the first degree as after discovered evidence tends to prove that the shot which killed the applicant's wife was fired in self defense.

(b) The District Attorney of Philadelphia sent his representative to the public hearing before the Board, to say that in his opinion the applicant has been sufficiently punished as he is not of the criminal class and that he doubts whether this was a first degree case. He also stated that the trial judge, now deceased, was of the same opiinon.

(c) The applicant has been incarcerated in the Eastern State Penitentiary for eleven years, which is more than the minimum sentence for second degree murder.

2. The family of the murdered woman have always maintained that the applicant was not guilty. They retained counsel to apply for a commutation of sentence. Employment is guaranteed.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Lawrence Houston—No. 672

April Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Lawrence Houston, convicted of arson, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of York County, on April 23, 1931, be commuted from one and one half years to one year expiring on April 23, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant was convicted of arson on the testimony of a jealous woman who admitted to having committed the act. There is grave doubt in our minds as to his guilt. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. He has served over a year of his sentence.

2. The trial judge and the supervisor of paroles recommend a commutation.

3. The applicant's wife and children are entirely dependent upon him and are in destitute circumstances.

4. Employment has been assured by E. L, Ousler, Baltimore, Maryland. Our recommendation is that commutation be conditioned upon the applicant's return to Maryland.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Joseph M. Haley—No. 782

April Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Joseph M. Haley, convicted of larceny by clerk, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on January 31, 1919, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. In August of 1918, the applicant, a boy 19 years of age, was an attendant at a gasoline station. For a period of three weeks he charged some purchasers for more gasoline than they actually received. The excess money he retained. Full restitution was made and the trial court, after a plea of guilty, sluspended sentence. There is no criminal record against the petitioner previous to or subsequent to the commission of this offense.

2. The trial judge and the supervisor of paroles recommend a pardon.

3. The granting of a pardon will enable the applicant, now unemployed, to secure a civil service appointment. His wife and three children are dependent upon him for support.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Leo John Fee—No. 781

April Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Leo John Fee, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Session., of Philadelphia County, on January 16, 1924, be commuted from ten years to eight years, three months expiring on April 16, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant when only 19 years of age, was convicted of robbery. One accomplice was killed while fleeing from the officers and another acquitted. We beleive the applicant has been sufficiently punished. He has served almost eight and one half years of his sentence and will be on parole until January 1944.

2. The trial judge and the trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary recommend a commutation.

3. The applicant's mother is entirely dependent upon him for support. Employment has been assured by Peter F. Redfern and Sons Company, Jersey City, New Jersey.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Albert Young—No. 804

May Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Albert Young, convicted of assault and battery, aggravated, assualt and battery, attempt rape, rape, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on February 20, 1929, be commuted from seven and one half years to three years, three months expiring on May 20, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The crimes for which the applicant was convicted were alleged to have been committed on a girl who from her record in the Morals Court appears to be incorrigible. The applicant pleaded not guilty, had no counsel to defend him, and was tried and convicted in about seven minutes. We believe that there is considerable doubt as to his guilt.

2. The applicant is 38 years of age, served his country honorably during the World War and has been employed continously since then. This was his first conviction. Employment has been assured if he is released.

3. The trustees of the penitentiary and the supervisor of paroles recommend a commutation. The district attorney of Philadelphia, through his representative stated at the open hearing that he did not oppose a commutation.

4. The applicant will be on parole until February 1944.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

In re Application of Melvin Smith—No. 304

May Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Melvin Smith, convicted of entering a building, in the Court of Quarter Sessions, of Allegheny County, on June 21, 1928, be commuted from six years to three years, eleven months expiring on May 21, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant was convicted on two charges of entering a building. This was his first offense. He has served four years of his sentence. Both his conduct record and employment record during this time have been excellent. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

2. Employment has been assured by Mr. William Hoener, Detroit, Michigan.

3. The applicant has a wife and three children who are entirely dependent upon him for support. He will be on parole until June 1948.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,

In re Application of Max Martin Silverstein—No. 831

May Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Max Martin Silverstein, convicted of burglary and larceny, in the Court of Quarter Sessions, of Potter County, on March 7, 1927, be commuted from six years to five years, two months, expiring on May 7, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and larceny. He has served over five years of his minimum sentence of six years. This was his first offense.

2. The trial judge, trial district attorney, trustees of the penitentiary and supervisor of parole recommend a commutation.

3. Employment has been assured to the applicant. He will be on parole until March 1939.

4. Oour recommendation is that the commutation be conditioned upon the applicant's return to Buffalo, New York, where he will remain under the supervision of the New York State parole authorities.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of William Pettitt—No. 809

May Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William Pettitt, convicted of statutory rape and bastardy, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, of Chester County, on March 31, 1930, be commuted from four years to two years, two months expiring on May 31, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant pleaded guilty to the charge of statutory rape and bastardy. Prior to the commission of these crimes his character was above reproach and his employment record excellent. The father of the girl in the case is satisfied that the applicant has been sufficiently punished. He has served over two years in the penitentiary.

2. The wife of the applicant has tuberculcsis in the advanced stages. There are two children in the family. The father is the sole support.

3. Employment has been assured. Applicant will be on parole until March 1938.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of John Majszak—No. 764

May Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Majszak, convicted of rape, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Erie County, on May 18, 1931, be commuted from four years to one year expiring on May 18, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant was convicted of rape. An indictment and conviction was secured through the efforts of a private prosecutrix. She was known to have borne ill will and malice against the applicant. The district attorney who prosecuted the Commonwealth's case informed us, "at the time that I prosecuted I had the greatest doubt concerning his guilt." He also stated that from facts learned since the trial he is convinced of the applicant's innocence. In addition the Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary, and the supervisor of paroles recommend commutation.

2. The applicant was only twenty years old at the time of the commission of the alleged crime. His reputation up to the time of his arrest was of the finest. He was and is the sole wage earner in a family of five. Employment has been assured.

3. The applicant has already served over one year in the penitentiary. If released he will be on parole until May 18, 1939.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,

In re Application of Jerry S. Little—No. 223

May Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Jerry S. Little, convicted of larceny, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, of Indiana County on March 17, 1930, be commuted from three years to two years, two months expiring on May 17, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant pleaded guilty to the theft of a few chickens. This was his first offense. He has served over two years of his sentence.

2. The trial judge, trustees of the penitentiary and the supervisor of paroles recommend a commutation of sentence.

3. The Indiana County Commissioners guarantee employment for the applicant. He will be on parole until March 1936.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Peter Jackowsky—No. 820

May Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Peter Jackowsky, convicted of statutory rape, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, of Allegheny County, on March 31, 1931, be commuted from four years, to one year, two months, expiring on May 31, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. The applicant was convicted of rape. After discovered evidence proves that the girl was a notorious prostitute. The report of the officials of the penitentiary states that this was, "a rape case only in the technical sense." Accordingly, we believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished. He has served over one year of his sentence.

2. This was the applicant's first offense. His reputation was very good as was his employment record.

3. Parole supervision will be exercised until 1946. Employment has been assured.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Alfred Hoffman—No. 817

May Session, 1932

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Alfred Hoffman, convicted of conspiracy, in the Court of Quarter Sessions, of Monroe County, on July 23, 1931, be commuted from two years, to four months, expiring on June 4, 1932 and that his fine be reduced from $1525.00 and costs of prosecution to $200.00, and costs of prosecution.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

1. In January 1931, labor troubles arose at Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania. The American Federation of Full Fashioned Hosiery Workers, upon request of the employees there, sent the applicant to assist in organization. A strike ensued, during the course of which many acts of violence were committed. The applicant was arrested and convicted on three counts of conspiracy. No other persons were ever convicted on any other charges, altho many, all fesidents of Monroe County, were identified as having committed overt acts of violence. Accordingly we believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished.

2. The applicant has signified his willingness to subject himself to parole under the supervision of this Board. A copy of the agreement signed by him and duly witnessed is attached to this recommendation, and made a part thereof.

3. Employment has been assured.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. SHANNON,
Lieutenant Governor.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

W. A. SCHNADER,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair urges all committees to which bills have been referred to meet tomorrow, in order to expedite the business of this session.

ADJOURMENT

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 11.00 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. BRANDT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 9.59 P. M. until 11.00 o'clock, Tuesday morning, Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, June 27, 1932

EXTRAORDINARY SESSION

The Speaker, Honorable C. J. Goodnough, called the House to order.

The SPEAKER. This being the day and the hour fixed by the Governor of the Commonwealth in his proclamation convening the Assembly in Extraordinary Session, the members of the House of Representatives assembled will be in order.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. O. B. Poulson, offered the following prayer:

Our Father, God, we praise Thee for life; for privileges that are new with each dawning day; for responsibilities with which Thou hast seen fit to entrust each one of us this day. Though we fail Thee again and again, we bless Thee for Thy patience with us. Thou, God, seest our hearts. May we this day live honestly and uprightly in Thy sight.

We thank Thee, Lord, that hitherto Thy Providence has watched over and guided the affairs of this Commonwealth. Even in the darkest hours of peril Thy strong hand has been reached out to us, bringing to us strength and deliverance. In the hour when the gaunt figure of misery and want roams our farms, our villages, and our cities, threatening even the continuance of orderly government, our hearts again turn to Thee for guidance and deliverance. Fail us not, O God, in these hours of peril.

Bless the Speaker and each member of this house. Bless each officer and employee. Teach us all to deal justly; to love mercy; and to walk humbly before our God. We ask it in Thy name. Amen.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Proclamation of the Governor.

The Clerk read the Proclamation as follows:

PROCLAMATION

In the Name and by Authority of the

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
Harrisburg

By virtue of the authority vested in me by Article IV, Section 12, of the Constitution, I, Gifford Pinchot, Governor of Pennsylvania, do hereby convene the General Assembly of the Commonwealth in extraordinary session, to meet in the Capitol at Harrisburg, on Monday, June twenty-seventh, one thousand nine hundred thirty-two, at eight o'clock P. M. (Eastern Standard Time), of that day, to consider legislation upon the following subjects:

1. By reductions in appropriations previously made and by amendments or other modifications of existing tax laws or the imposition of new taxes, to provide money to restore, in whole or in part, nine million seven hundred twenty thousand three hundred sixty-four dollars and twenty-seven cents ($9,720,364.27) of appropriations abated by the passage of the Talbot Act, to balance the deficiency of five million dollars ($5,000,000) in the budget for the biennium ending May 31, 1933, and to pay the expenses of the special session of the Legislature.

2. If appropriations previously made can be reduced in an amount exceeding the aggregate of five million dollars ($5,000,000) and the amount by which Talbot Act abatements are restored, to appropriate for unemployment relief the excess of such reductions.

3. To authorize all political subdivisions of the Commonwealth during 1932 to negotiate temporary emergency loans for certain purposes and under certain circumstances to refund such loans annually for a certain period.

4. To increase the taxing power of political subdivisions of the State.

5. By taxation to provide State revenue for unemployment relief and appropriate the money provided, or to initiate a constitutional amendment authorizing a State loan for reimbursing counties, cities, and poor districts for moneys expended for unemployment relief, or both. And, if a loan is proposed, to enact legislation specifying the basis upon which the State shall reimburse such counties, cities and poor districts.

6. Expanding the power of the Secretary of Banking to sell, pledge, and lease the real and personal property of closed banks.

7. Authorizing building and loan associations within certain limitations to borrow money from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other Federal agencies.

8. Authorizing political subdivisions of the State to receive local taxes in monthly installments.

9. Amending the laws relating to the collection and enforcement of collection of delinquent taxes owing to political subdivisions of the State.

10. Authorizing the council of cities of the first class to fix the number and compensation of county employes whose compensation is paid out of the city treasury.

11. Authorizing the creation and regulation of limited dividend housing companies.

12. Proposing constitutional amendments for State loans:

(a) To take advantage of any Federal legislation authorizing loans to states.

(b) For the rebuilding and construction of highways.

(c) To meet, if necessary, the expenses of the State government during the next biennium.

13. Proposing a constitutional amendment permitting the State to distribute among its political subdivisions the whole or a part of any tax collected by the State.

14. Proposing a constitutional amendment authorizing a State income tax exclusively for educational purposes, of which a part must be returned to the school districts of the State.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State at the City of Harrisburg, this (SEAL) 22d day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred thirty-two, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred fifty-sixth.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

By the Governor:
RICHARD J. BEAMISH,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I have the honor to present to you His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR SHANNON. Members of the Joint Assembly, the Chair presents to you His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Honorable Gifford Pinchot, who will now address you.

MESSAGE TO THE SPECIAL SESSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

GIFFORD PINCHOT. Ladies and Gentlemen of the General Assmbly:

The need of the people is the obligation of the Commonwealth.

The first purpose of this extra session is to give relief to the unemployed. It is called upon the heels of an agreement between political leaders and the Administration defining the scope and purpose of the session—an agreement without which to call it would have been worse than useless.

In the name of the unemployed, hundreds of thousands of whom are in the most pressing and immediate want, I urge you to complete the labors of the extra session at the earliest possible moment.

There is a general feeling throughout the Commonwealth that three weeks, or at the most four, should be sufficient for that purpose. Every day of the session costs thousands of dollars. Every day beyond the time strictly necessary puts needless burdens on the taxpayers.

In spite of the depression which bears so heavily upon our people, life on our streets and highways and in our places of assembly and amusement appears to proceed much as usual. But it is unsafe to trust in surface indications. We cannot gamble the security of public order and the welfare of our people on surface indications. For well we know that underneath is widespread and increasing unrest. Underneath is the suffering of millions. Underneath is growing resentment and growing discontent.

THE DANGER OF DELAY

If there were no better reason—as there is—mere prudence would require us to waste no time in providing for the necessities of the millions who are suffering through no fault of their own.

Pennsylvania has the greatest reason to be proud of the restraint and good conduct of her unemployed citizens in the face of want. But it would be mere foolishness to believe that bitter distress can continue without producing its natural result. I warn those who hold high place in this Commonwealth in business, in politics, in government, in philanthropy, and in religion that the long drawn out suffering of their fellow citizens can have but one result.

In a previous message to the Legislature, I said that no man can understand this depression who thinks only of its bread and butter side. The worst of the suffering brought upon our people by unemployment is not physical but mental. Hunger and cold are bad enough, but uncertainty is the worst of all. One of the greatest and most necessary tasks before the people of the United States is to win security for workers.

UNEMPLOYMENT STILL INCREASING

Last November the number of unemployed in Pennsylvania was slightly more than 900,000. Eight months later the number has increased by at least a quarter of a million, so that there are today in Pennsylvania more than 1,150,000 unemployed. In addition about one-third of the persons employed in normal times are now employed half time or less. This makes nearly another million directly affected by the depression.

Even that number is rapidly increasing. In the month from March 15th to April 15th, last, the totally unemployed in Philadelphia increased by 25,000 or 8.4 per cent, and the partially employed by 52,000, or 29.2 per cent. The figures for May 15 were not available when this was written.

Not only the number of employed persons but the amount of employment for each has fallen off. The average number of working hours for each worker decreased in a single year (from April 1931 to April 1932) from 41 to 31 per week. In 1929 the average was 50 hours a week.

Pennsylvania has 8 per cent of the population of the United States and 10 per cent of the unemployment. About one million people are on relief today in Pennsylvania. About 250,000 families with an average of four persons per family are totally unable to support themselves.

I laid before the previous extra session a plan of relief covering two years, for which I recommended that a total of $120,000,000 be supplied. The passage of time has proved these figures to be correct. Representatives of practically all the great relief organizations throughout Pennsylvania agree on about $60,000,000 a year as the least amount that will meet the State situation on the very low basis of $5.00 per family per week or sixteen cents per person per day.

The estimate for Philadelphia, on the basis of $4.23 per family per week, which the Lloyd Committee has been paying is that not less than $1,500,000 per month is required. One and a half millions per month is eighteen millions per year. Philadelphia has less than one-fourth of the unemployed in the State. Four times eighteen is seventy-two. Seventy-two millions a year would barely supply reasonable food, to say nothing of shelter, fuel, clothes, medicines, etc., for the unemployed of Pennsylvania.

SIXTY MILLIONS A YEAR NEEDED

If we take only the totally unemployed, and only a million of them, and estimate only two dependents for each, which may be less than half the actual figure, we have three million persons. Cut that in half to allow for those who can be taken care of in other ways. Then distribute $72,000,000 among them, and we have $48.00 per person per year, or thirteen cents a day, upon which to live. Surely no exorbitant sum.

But suppose there is still some exaggeration, which is far from the fact. Reduce the total from $72,000,000 to $60,000,000. That gives you $40.00 a year or eleven cents a day, apiece, for the totally unemployed and their dependents. With all possible deductions made, $60,000,000 a year is little enough, even if the present increase in unemployment should suddenly stop.

But it is not stopping. We have no reason to believe that unemployment will be reduced for some time to come. Consequently, relief at the rate of $60,000,000 a year, is, in my judgment, the very least that will meet the imperative demand. It is the very least to which the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania can, with self-respect, limit relief to its citizens who are in trouble through no shortcoming of their own—who are guilty of nothing but being alive when the depression came along.

In almost half the counties of Pennsylvania families of five are living on amounts of $3.00 a week or less for food. That means that each person is living on 8½ cents or less per day. The minimum budget required for health was found by the United States Children's Bureau, after an exhaustive study, to be not less than $5.15 per week for food for a family not of five but of three, or 24.5 cents per day for each person.

Children in a family of five which must live on $3.00 a week can not have milk, nor fruit, nor body-building foods. Such living at the best is semi-starvation.

According to the reports of poor boards in nearly half the counties, even such food as these families now receive will fail them after the first of August, unless further funds for relief can be found. The children of hundreds of thousands of Pennsylvania families of this generation are starting life under a serious handicap.

I am strongly of opinion that relief furnished by the extra session should be planned to last until the first of March, 1933. It is true that the Legislature will meet in January, but it may not act immediately, and in any case time will be required to apply relief once it is authorized. It would be wise to allow some reasonable leeway.

DISBURSEMENT METHODS IMPORTANT

From July 1st to March 1st is eight months. Eight-twelfths of $60,000,000, or $40,000,000, is therefore, in my judgment, the very least that can properly be supplied.

The amount of money to be devoted to relief is not the only relief question before you. The methods of disbursing it is also of high importance, both as to the efficiency of the methods employed and the percentage that is spent for overhead.

Overhead cost the Lloyd Committee in Philadelphia between five and six per cent. It costs the Mothers' Assistance Funds, where large numbers of children are involved, about ten per cent. It cost the poor boards, in 1930, 16.5 per cent of the funds available. The grand total expended for poor relief in that year was $10,710,963.08, of which $1,770,982.34 never got to the objects of charity, but went for administration expenses.

I report with great pride that we in Pennsylvania have led all the other states in the number of men employed in relief work upon State highways during the past year. Between September 1st and December 31st of 1931 the weekly average of men employed was 24,500. So far during 1932 it is more than 25,000.

In county after county all over the State the employment thus furnished has been the most effective relief supplied. In county after county it has saved the situation.

During the fiscal year just ended the Highway Department spent $16,000,000 for labor alone. Its expenditures are, therefore, far greater than those of any relief organization in Pennsylvania.

This money was spent under the strictest orders from me that men were to be employed entirely without regard to politics and solely on the basis of their need. I recognize that these orders have not always been obeyed. I give notice that they will be better obeyed in the future. And I point out again that nowhere else in America has work-relief been supplied on any such scale.

I am a hearty believer in giving work instead of food whenever it can be done, but work-relief is from three to five or six times more expensive than direct relief. It would cost us at least $200,000,000 a year to give work-relief, whereas direct relief of a sort can be supplied for $60,000,000.

The pressure for work under the Commonwealth at this time, just when the number of employes must be reduced and not increased, is beyond all previous experience. Apart from the constant demands made in person, there are now on file about 110,000 applications for positions of every sort. Very many of them are cases of urgent need. Eager as I am to help, I do not have work to give them.

$15,000,000 TO BALANCE THE BUDGET

It is my strong desire in every possible way to avoid arousing any feeling which might interfere with the great and pressing purpose of this session. But it is my clear duty to point out that the most serious obstacle in the way of success lies in confusion about the finances of the Commonwealth. And there is no occasion for confusion. The facts and figures are clear.

The Supreme Court decision in the Talbot Act case required appropriations to hospitals, colleges, homes, and mothers' assistance to be abated about ten million dollars. It had to be done because the Auditor General and the State Treasurer agreed with the Secretary of Revenue that the budget for this biennium could not be balanced without making the abatements. At the same time all three of these officers agreed that because of the unexpected continuance and increased severity of the depression the estimates of revenue for the biennium were at least $5,000,000 too high.

The unanimous opinion of the State officers best qualified to speak is that, to balance the budget, if the abated appropriations are to be restored, approximately $15,000,000 must be found. There are only two possible ways to find this money. Appropriations already made must be cut, or new revenue must be provided.

Some of the abated appropriations need not be restored. You may wish to cancel some of them entirely. But it is beyond question that there will be no money available for new appropriations for relief or any other purpose until you have balanced the budget.

This was made clear by the Supreme Court in the Talbot Act decision. And I pause to remark, that in definitely ruling that State expenditures must always be kept within the estimated revenues, plus the cash on hand and one million dollars, as the Commonwealth contended, the Supreme Court rendered an important service to the Commonwealth. Under its interpretation, a balanced budget is a mandatory constitutional requirement. The establishment of this principle was a most constructive achievement on the part of the Attorney General.

The Department of Revenue, after considering the fiscal effects of all legislation passed by the General Session of '31, estimated the income of the State at $155,617,572. This is the estimate for receipts in the General Fund for the current fiscal biennium which was agreed to by all the fiscal officers.

There were on the books at that time large amounts of litigated and delinquent taxes. The Department made a special drive to collect these taxes, with the result that in the first year of the biennium the astonishing sum of over $10,000,000 was collected in non-recurring items that cannot be counted on for further revenue. Delinquent taxes once collected cannot be collected again. There are no sums owed the State which would allow this achievement to be repeated.

TAX SETTLEMENTS SPEEDED UP

Many of these items would have been received in any case during the current fiscal biennium, but the amounts which the Department succeeded in collecting in the first year of it exceeded all expectations. The result is that during the first fiscal year the Department of Revenue has collected $85,710,954 instead of the $77,000,000 which is half the estimated revenue for the two years.

Moreover, the Department of Revenue adopted the definite policy of speeding up tax settlements. Settlements were made so as to bring the moneys into the treasury, wherever possible, from three to six months earlier than had theretofore been done.

The policy of making tax settlements and collecting amounts admitted to be due even though the accounts of prior years were in litigation was likewise adopted. The net result has been to bring into the treasury many millions of dollars earlier than would otherwise have been the case. Taxes thus paid in earlier will not be paid again.

If it were possible to collect in the present fiscal year the remainder of the revenue estimated for the biennium, something like $69,000,000 would come in. But because of the unforeseen and unpredictable severity of the depression, the whole amount cannot be collected. The decline in current revenues at the present time is very marked, as would naturally result from the reduced valuations of stocks and bonds and the fall in net returns of corporations, upon which taxes are paid.

For these reasons the Department estimates that the present decline in receipts will reduce the State's income for the two years by at least $5,000,000 below the estimate of May 31, 1931. In order to meet this decline in receipts, I have reduced the cost of government, in the Departments over which I have control, by $5,350,000.

WHY TAX COLLECTIONS ARE LESS

Collections of most of our State taxes follow a year behind the values and earnings on which those taxes are based. In but few instances as yet can actual collections in this fiscal year be compared completely with those of last year by taxable groups. But some instances can be given.

Tax receipts from State banks are practically complete for this year. The receipts this year are about half what they were last year.

Taxes from national banks will run about half those of last year. Tax settlement on national banks are not yet complete, but the following table gives examples of tax settlements on the shares of national banks this year as compared with a year ago. The average shows a decline of 44.5% on known tax settlements. For obvious reasons the names of the banks are not given.

Since for most State taxes the tax year is the calendar year and not the fiscal year, tax settlements on corporate stocks and loans are now being made on the basis of returns for the calendar year 1931. These settlements are not completed for all companies, and will not be completed for some months to come. But the following table gives typical examples of the taxes assessed thus far this year as compared with those paid last year on the general run of business other than on banks or public utilities. On the average, taxes to be paid this year will be less than two thirds of those paid last year on the same kinds of business.

Taxes on Gross Receipts are also declining, as must be obvious. Five leading railroad companies operating throughout the State of Pennsylvania for the six-months period ended December 31, 1930, paid Gross Receipts Taxes totalling $409,473.09, a reduction of 10% under the amount paid for the preceding six-months period. For the first six-month period of 1931 it fell to $338,462.58 or 17.3% under the preceding six-months. For the next six-months it fell to $284,680.83 or another loss of 15.8%. In eighteen months the Gross Receipts Tax of these railroads fell 37.6%.

The Gross Receipts Tax paid by telephone companies has been practically constant except for the six-month period ended December 31, 1931, which shows that even this class of receipts is declining. For example, the tax paid by a certain company for that six-months period declined 3.75% from the preceding six months.

The Gross Receipts Tax paid by light and power companies declined 8% for the six-months period ended December 31, 1931 under that paid for the preceding six-months period.

HUGE DROP IN INHERITANCE TAXES

By far the larger part of the values taxed by estate and inheritance taxes are in stocks and bonds. Real estate makes up a smaller share. But real estate values have declined quite as rapidly as have intangibles, for real properties owned by the decedents of the larger estates were often held for a possible rise in speculative values, or were in fine suburban districts and could not be sold at all in times of depression.

The table below lists, from estates taxed in the past year, the prices of some typical stocks on June 22 last year and on June 22 this year. These stocks, into which thrifty Pennsylvanians have been putting their money, have declined 70% in value on the average in the past fiscal year. It is on these lower values that estates must now be appraised.

Formerly inheritance taxes made up one-third of our total tax receipts in the General Fund. This year they will no doubt make up less than one-fifth.

In times when stock and bond prices are rising, the rise in value from date of death to date of payment of inheritance taxes may be enough to cover the taxes. At least tax payment will be easier. But in times of falling values ability to pay is lower at time of tax payment. At present in many cases it is all but impossible to pay the taxes when due.

This decline in ability to pay a year or so after date of appraisal is shown in the following table giving examples of typical estates on which taxes have been paid in the past year. This disastrous depreciation makes both tax payments and tax collections exceedingly difficult. In the past year on the average estates at time of tax payment have been worth about half what they were at time of death.

This situation is not confined to inheritance taxes, but is true of any tax payable a year or so after it accrues. Thus it is equally true with corporations paying this year a capital stock tax on values of the preceding year. For this reason, and also for the reason that cash in the bank is better than accruals on the books, the Secretary of Revenue has adopted the policy of making tax settlements as promptly as possible after tax reports are received. This policy is one good reason why the State is in a solvent condition. Deposits of General Fund State moneys in the banks of the State have run over $25,000,000 for the past year. These deposits have made it possible for more than one bank to weather the storm.

But I repeat that this policy of prompt collection does not mean that taxes once paid can be collected again. Hence any estimates based on past collections without knowledge of why they were made and without regard to decline in earnings and values can supply no reliable basis for appropriating the money of the State.

The stocks of many businesses in Pennsylvania have been closely held for decades in fine thrifty old Pennsylvania families. Many of these stocks have never been listed on the exchanges and are therefore unknown. Estates in such stocks are all the more difficult to liquidate in a crisis such as this. The businesses they represent, many of them simply have no market value at the present time. In some cases it is even difficult to borrow the money to pay the inheritance taxes when due. Such facts as these must be considered in estimating tax collections not only now but so long as this depression may last.

MANY FORCED TO PAY INTEREST ON TAXES

Many companies which heretofore have been prompt in paying the taxes due the State in order to avoid the penalties for delay are now forced to pay twelve per cent. interest per year on their taxes because of their inability to borrow money at a lower rate. This is true of inheritance taxes as well as of corporation taxes. Hence the proportion of tax payers compelled to pay the twelve per cent. interest rate grows in alarming fashion.

Today the bankruptcy section of the Department of Revenue is handling twice as many bankrupt cases and three times as many judicial sales as were handled a year ago.

The examples above cited are neither the worst nor the best. There are bright spots but they are few. The taxes on the gross premiums of insurance companies thus far this year are four-tenths of 1% above those of last year. Those who had lost their fortunes tried to protect their heirs by insurance. Tax receipts on the capital stock of electric utilities have been well maintained while those on railroads and street railways have gone down.

But outside of sheltered groups, such as electric utilities, tax returns which show better net income or better values than last year are so rare as to be a matter of comment among the taxing officers.

Our income is declining seriously. Such a decline cannot be met by estimating something not in sight. It can be met only by facing the facts. It is impossible for Pennsylvania to be free from the same decline in income that has brought a two billion dollar annual deficit to the Federal Government. That we have money in the bank is due to good fiscal management and not to increase in receipts.

In making the estimate of income for this fiscal biennium in the Spring of 1931 the Department of Revenue assumed that the State would collect every item that could reasonably be counted on. Among the items thus included was $8,500,000 on the Delaware River Bridge account ($10,000,000 less $1,500,000 of tolls which will cease when the bonds are sold.) The Legislature had just passed the bill. No difficulties were foreseen in collecting it. Unless it is collected before next June the State will be short not $5,000,000 but a much larger sum.

Therefore any income from the sale of the Delaware River Bridge Bonds is not available for additional appropriations nor for abatements under the Talbot Act. The disastrous decline below estimates in inheritance tax receipts alone will call for about such a sum as this.

FURTHER DROP IN TAX RECEIPTS CERTAIN

Nor can windfalls from inheritance or other taxes now be counted on. Since inheritance taxes come into the treasury about one year after death, taxes due from the estates of those who die from now on in this fiscal year will come into the treasury in the next fiscal biennium and not in this. The estates to be taxed this fiscal year are now known.

The facts are convincing that current tax receipts must be far below those of a year ago. And what is even more to the point, these lower tax collections must continue so long as values and earnings are down.

Tax collections are dropping with disturbing speed. The $85,710,954 collected in the past fiscal years is about $28,000,000 below that collected in the fiscal year preceding. The $65,000,000 estimated to be collected in this fiscal year is but $20,000,000 below that collected in the fiscal year just passed or $8,000,000 less than the decline of the year before. I think we shall do well to hold the decline at that point.

The $5,000,000 decline in the estimate of receipts for the fiscal biennium made over a year ago is a decline of three per cent. All fair minded persons must agree that the Department of Revenue will have made an extraordinary achievement, both in estimating and in collections, if in times like these, at the end of the fiscal biennium the actual collections vary from the estimates by not more than three per cent.

The Highway Department well illustrates how the depression affects the yields in taxes. It is now believed that the Motor Fund will fall $19,000,000 short of the first estimates for the present fiscal biennium, mainly because people have at last been forced to economize in the use of automobiles and gasoline. Before they come to that, almost anything else is given up first.

MOTOR FUND RECEIPTS OFF

The receipts from all sources in the Motor License Fund totaled $69,407,475 in the fiscal year just closed. The Department of Revenue estimates a total of $62,585,592 in the present fiscal year, a decrease of 9.1%.

Actual collections for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1932 on account of Motor Licenses were $29,834,415 while our budget estimate for the next fiscal year, ending May 31, 1933, is for $28,818,025, a decrease during the second fiscal year of 3.4%. Actual receipts show a decrease during 1932 below 1931 of 3.4% in the number of licenses for passenger motor vehicles, and a decrease of 2.5% in the number of commercial motor vehicles registered. The number of operator's licenses decreased 2.7% while the number of learner's permits decreased 3.2%. Certificates of title decreased 25.9%, and transfers of title decreased 20.1% during the same period, which will account for the decrease of 5.5% in collections during the fiscal year ending May 31, 1932 as compared with collections for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1931.

The present budget estimate for the second fiscal year of this biennium for collections from Liquid Fuels Tax is $25,497,600 as compared with actual collections during the first fiscal year of $27,402,294, showing a decrease of 7%. Motor registrations show a decrease of 5.5%. This estimate assumes a decline of 1.5% in the gasoline consumption in cars now in use. This may prove too high, for in the last three months, the oil companies are reporting a decline of from 10 to 12% in sales of gasoline. The actual collections for the first fiscal year of this biennium also includes 240,894,360 gallons of gasoline taxed at four cents, while this fiscal year's collections will be on a basis of a three cent tax.

Actual collections during the first fiscal year of the current biennium of receipts from highway contributions, Federal aid and the Treasury Department show $12,170,766, while the estimate for the next fiscal year is $8,269,967, or a decrease of 32%, due almost entirely to the reduced amount of Federal aid and highway contributions available during this next fiscal year.

The net result is that the present estimates for the biennium total $131,993,067 for this fiscal biennium instead of $150,335,688, estimated as of June 1, 1931.

TRUSTING THE PEOPLE

I recognize that telling the truth about unemployment and the condition of our revenues may be denounced by some as pessimism. I do not so regard it. No man has a stronger belief in Pennsylvania and America than I have, nor a stronger desire and hope that good times may promptly return to us. But in my opinion the most fundamental mistake made by the leaders of America in this crisis has been their treatment of the American people as if they must be babied along and protected against knowing the truth. I believe on the contrary that the American people can be trusted to look the facts in the face and meet the situation steadily and unafraid. I can pay to the people of Pennsylvania no higher compliment than to treat them as men and women ready and able to deal with this or any other situation with honesty, intelligence, courage and commonsense.

It is neither good sense nor good policy to dodge the truth and it would be utterly foolish to pretend that the situation is not what the people already well know it to be. We are confronted by a condition and not a theory, and we can deal with it successfully on no other basis.

For nearly a year after the adjournment of the last regular session this Administration proceeded on the theory that the appropriations made by the Legislature, as reduced by the Governor, should be spent. The money was available, the work it would pay for was badly needed, and to spend the money would provide employment and help to relieve the depression.

This policy was based on my conviction that the chief cause of the depression is that the people generally have too little money to spend, and that to restrict the spending or consuming power of our people by refusing to use urgently needed appropriations would be unwise. In addition, the enormous increase of demands upon the State Government for services required every dollar that could be found.

Months ago, however, it became clear that this policy, beneficial as it might be, could not be continued in the face of falling revenues. We could not spend money we did not have, just as our people could not pay out for taxes money they did not have. Therefore the State Administration got ready to make heavy reductions in the cost of government during the fiscal year which began on June 1st.

GOVERNMENT COSTS CUT

Accordingly, the reduction of $5,350,000 for this year was ordered and is now in effect. This is in addition to many other savings which had already been made. Important reductions in personnel have already been carried out and others will follow. The holes have been filled by increasing the work of employes retained. The private use of State automobiles, which was rampant when I took office, has been checked. The use of postal cards instead of letters in one Department alone is estimated save nearly $20,000 a year. Expensive office supplies, gold-embossed letterheads, publications and furniture not urgently needed have been cut out. The use of telephones and telegraph has been restricted. And in countless other ways every effort is being made to see that the taxpayer gets a dollar's worth of service for every dollar spent.

I pass now to the present financial condition of the Commonwealth. For complete details see the summary statement of finances appended to this message.

STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL CONDITION—JUNE 1, 1932

1.	Total cash in the Treasury June 1, 1932	$ 62,451,084.26
2.	Reserved for the Custodial Funds—not available for governmental operations	8,337,657.76
3.	Remainder available to meet expenses of government	54,113,426.50
	Of this the General Fund contained (including $10,000,000 to be returned from Motor License Fund)	35,929,598.07
	And the Special Funds contained (deducting $10,000,000 borrowed by Motor License Fund from General Fund)	18,183,828.43
4.	During the present fiscal year and until the end of the biennium on May 31, 1933, the revenues to the Operating Funds, General and Special, are expected to amount to	129,369,070.47
5.	Making a total available to meet expenditures of government of	183,482,496.97
6.	Against this available total there are present appropriation and appropriation allocation liabilities of	183,176,968.15
7.	So that the total of the estimated unappropriated cash balances for all operating funds on May 31, 1933 is expected to be, on the present estimates of revenue	305,528.82

GENERAL FUND

1. Attention should be called particularly to the estimated present condition of the General Fund. This fund is the item of chief interest since from it comes the money to meet the general expenditures of government—the support of all governmental functions except Highways, Fish, Game, Banking and the State Farm Show; it supports the State-aids to educational institutions; and the State-aids to Welfare activities including Mothers' Assistance, Hospitals, Homes, the Indigent Insane, and others.

2. On May 31, 1933, it is estimated that the General Fund will show a deficit of $831,610.25.

3. This estimated deficit has been brought about through the appropriation by the Special Session of 1931, of $11,296,553,04 for which no revenue provision was made. The principal appropriation item of this amount was the $10,000,000 Talbot Bill.

4. As was shown to the 1931 Special Session, the General Fund contained at that time, available for appropriation, $521,188.77.

5. Since the appropriations by the Special Session were $11,296,553.04 and the amount available was only $521,188.77, the excess, or $10,775,364.27 was appropriated in excess of expected revenues. The Attorney General has since ruled that of the appropriations made by the Regular Session of 1931, $55,000 were unconstitutional. This reduced the over-appropriation from $10,775,364.27 to $10,720,364.27.

Under the decision of the Supreme Court in the Talbot Act case, the $10,000,000 therein appropriated represented a preferred claim upon revenues, ranking below the appropriations for ordinary expenses of government and above the appropriations for State-aids and construction. The decision of the Supreme Court applied to these latter non-preferred classes and resulted in uniform abatements to the extent of 24.16% of the total amounts appropriated, taking into consideration contracts let and expenditures made before the decision was rendered.

6. These abatements totaled $9,720,364.27.

7. Subtracting this sum from the $10,720,364.27 of appropriations in excess of estimated revenues leaves $1,000,000 in excess of estimated revenues. This $1,000,000 deficit was allowed by the Supreme Court's decision in accordance with Section 4, Article 9 of the Constitution and is the reason why the financial statement submitted herewith shows an expected deficit in the General Fund as of May 31, 1933.

8. Aside from this deficit, which has been calculated upon the basis of revenues as estimated June 1, 1931, the beginning of this present biennium, the Secretary of Revenue informs me that in his opinion, because of the continued depression, the actual revenues for the biennium will fall below his original estimate by at least $5,000,000. Therefore it has been necessary for me to order extensive slashes in the amounts of appropriations for the ordinary expenses of Government available during this second year of the biennium or from June 1, 1932, to May 31, 1933.

9. In order to bring the ordinary governmental expenses within the estimated revenues reduced by $5,000,000, I have ordered budget reductions of $5,350,704.23. On the summary financial statement furnished you herewith, these savings have been deducted from the appropriation liabilities standing against the estimated available amount in the General Fund.

10. The total cut of $5,350,704.23 has been made from the second year's balance of appropriations to the following departments:

Governor's Office	$ 25,000.00
Department of Agriculture	143,483.70
Department of Banking	12,893.00
Department of Forests and Waters	243,105.00
Department of Health	34,592.00
Insurance Department	74,858.00
Department of Internal Affairs	92,764.00
Department of Labor and Industry	71,689.00
Department of Military Affairs	468,129.60
Department of Property and Supplies	804,082.00
Department of Mines	42,019.00
Department of Public Instruction	1,284,416.00
Public Service Commission	14,800.00
Department of State	43,306.00
Pennsylvania State Police	20,001.00
Department of Welfare	1,972,149.00
Miscellaneous	416.93
	$5,350,704.23

Additional and substantial savings will be made in the Departments of Justice and Revenue, but because it is not possible to predict the amount of litigation or the amount of difficulty in collecting certain taxes, no attempt has been made to estimate the exact savings at this time.

11. It should be kept clearly in mind that this reduction of $5,350,704.23 could not be taken from the whole of the budget. From the larger part of it no reductions whatever can be made. I cannot make cuts in appropriations to the Legislature, the Judiciary, the Lieutenant Governor, or the Departments of the Auditor General and the State Treasurer. These appropriations amount to $9,579,389.92.

The still larger appropriations for subsidies to hospitals and other private or semi-private enterprises, and to the public schools, cannot be cut by the Governor below the amounts appropriated. These subsidies amount in all to $97,337,771.50 for the two years.

Because of abatements under the Talbot Act decision no reductions in construction appropriations were made. With this addition it appears that out of a total budget of $192,000,000 there are approximately $124,000,000 from which no reductions could be made. There remain $68,000,000 for the two years. But one year has passed and approximately one-half of that amount has been properly and economically spent. There remains, therefore, only about $34,000,000 out of which the $5,350,000 will be saved during the year.

In other words, economies which have been ordered for the present fiscal year will make an average reduction of more than 15 per cent. in the appropriation items from which they are taken. In view of the immense increase in the work of the Commonwealth brought about by the depression this is a very large reduction.

12. No budget cuts or savings have been required from the construction appropriations. While it was within the Governor's power to reduce the budgets of these appropriations, this was not done for two reasons: First, the construction appropriations in the non-preferred group amounting to $15,146,010 were subjected to the 24.16% cut required by the Talbot Act decision. This took from them $3,526,769.02. Of the balance, or $11,619,240.98, the contract obligations and necessary supervision expense to carry these contracts to completion amount to $8,410,765, leaving a total of $3,208,475.98 in them today entirely unobligated. Second, the abatements from non-preferred appropriations of $9,720,364.27 took an anticipated and much needed source of income from many worthy enterprises of our State. The Mothers' Assistance Fund, the State-aided Welfare Institutions, and the Universities and Colleges have been hard hit. One of the subjects for which you have been called together is restoration of these abatements. I submit a list of the activities or appropriations most worthy of having their abated appropriations restored. The sum of this list is $6,407,232.05.

Act. No.	Purpose	Appropriation Amount	24.16 Abatement to be restored

350	Flagship Niagara Commission	50,000.00	12,080.00
27A	Board of Commissioners of Navigation	75,000.00	18,120.00
	TOTAL	$27,105,140.50	$60,407,232.05

I have not recommended restoration of the abated appropriation to the Greater Pa. Council for the reason that time was consumed in organizing the council and the work was late in getting under way.

13. The unobligated balances of construction appropriations amounting to $3,208,475.98 may be applied to meet this $6,407,232.05 if you see fit, although there are items of construction not already started which may be found to be vitally necessary, particularly to the Welfare and Educational Institutions.

14. The figure of $3,208,475.98 above mentioned allows for a total amount of $2,000,000 for continuing the construction of the Eastern Penitentiary. This is being constructed by inmate labor and purchased material instead of the usual contract plan. By this evening, June 27, it is estimated that the construction of the Eastern Penitentiary will have consumed $1,350,000.

If you see fit to bring its construction to an immediate close—and I do not recommend it—there will be available an additional $650,000 to be added to the $3,208,475.98, bringing to $3,858,475.98 the amount available to restore the possible $6,407,232.05 in abatements.

The Pymatuning Project which I have included in the foregoing figures to proceed to a total expenditure of its unabated balance of $1,137,600 is likewise being constructed to a large extent by hired labor and purchased material instead of by contract. By this evening, June 27, this project is expected to have consumed $750,000. I have included the $362,400 abated amount of the appropriation to this project among the amounts suggested for restoration. If you do not wish to restore it and if you wish to stop the construction of the project abruptly—I do not recommend it—the total of the abated appropriation suggested for restoration will become $6,044,832.05 and the total amount of unobligated appropriations available with which to restore it will become $4,246,075.98.

15. I may say in conclusion that I have cut the budgets of the appropriations for ordinary expenses of government under my jurisdiction to the limit if the present enormous demand for State services is to be met in any reasonable degree.

MORE WORK FOR LESS MONEY

There is not a single Department under the Governor whose work has not been increased by the depression. The different Departments are differently affected, and it is impossible to determine with mathematical accuracy just what the increase amounts to in every case. The estimates of the Departments themselves run as low as 2 per cent. in the Forests and Waters and as high as 300 per cent. in Banking. The average is 36 per cent., and that figure is extremely conservative. To do 36 per cent. more work at a reduction of 15 per cent. in cost is an achievement worth reporting to your honorable body. Much more work for much less money is real saving.

Before I close it becomes my duty to set forth briefly the purpose of the several items which the call asks you to consider.

The matters suggested in items 1 and 2 have already been considered.

Item 3 opens the way to immediate unemployment relief. Since the Commonwealth cannot appropriate money which it does not have, and since it cannot borrow without a Constitutional Amendment, there are only two ways by which immediate relief can be supplied. One is through new taxes; the other by authorizing political subdivisions to negotiate temporary loans against their uncollected delinquent taxes. To authorize such loans will enable Philadelphia and other subdivisions to provide at once the cash with which to furnish food, clothing, fuel, and shelter to the unemployed. I suggest that authority might well be given to refund such loans on an emergency basis for a period of years.

Item 4 enables you to empower Philadelphia and other political subdivisions to raise additional revenue for relief purposes by means of additional taxing power.

Item 5 gives to you the broadest possible latitude for dealing with the question whether, and if so how, the State itself shall provide for unemployment relief. It permits you to impose any new taxes which you may deem wise and to improve the collection of present taxes. It also permits you to propose a Constitutional Amendment (in such amount as you may decide) authorizing a State loan, the proceeds of which shall be used for reimbursing counties, cities, and poor districts for money hereafter expended for unemployment relief as proposed to be authorized under item 3.

Items 6 and 7 makes possible legislation enabling building and loan associations, and the Secretary of Banking as liquidator of closed banks, to borrow money from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Such measures will go far to relieve depositors in banks and stockholders in buildings and loan associations.

Item 8 will enable any political subdivision of the State to authorize the receipt of taxes and water rents in monthly instalments.

Item 9 contemplates making the laws on delinquent taxes less unfavorable to the municipalities. Large property owners are taking improper advantage of the present situation. This is no time for leniency to those who are well able to pay.

Item 10 deals with a violation of the principle of home rule under which the number and compensation of county employes paid by the City of Philadelphia have been fixed by Act of Assembly. Salaries paid by the City should be fixed by the City.

Item 11 will enable you to authorize the creation and regulation of limited dividend housing companies. I am told that abundant capital is available for better housing for wage earners in our large cities, but that the necessary legislation is lacking. An Act for this purpose was passed at the regular session of 1931 but defects in form made its approval impossible.

Item 12 suggests Constitutional Amendments:

(a) Enabling Pennsylvania to take advantage of any Federal loans to States. It is probable that the Commonwealth is now unable to accept, under legislation pending in Congress, loans which can be accepted by other States;

(b) Proposing an additional loan for highway purposes. No other form of work-relief has done so much for the unemployed in Pennsylvania as road building. We are, however, facing a great reduction in road building because the depression has cut down the receipts in the Motor License Fund. Unless an additional road bond issue is provided, or very substantial increases in taxes and fees now payable into that Fund are authorized, road building during the next few years must be heavily reduced. Such a reduction would be felt throughout the Commonwealth and is highly undesirable;

(c) Authorizing a loan of $25,000,000 for the expenses of the State Government during the fiscal biennium beginning June 1, 1933. No one can now foretell with certainty whether or not such a loan will be necessary. If it is not, the resolution proposing the Amendment can be dropped by the next regular session. But unless the initial step is taken now it will be impossible for the State to borrow if the necessity should arise.

Item 13 suggests a Constitutional Amendment permitting the State to distribute among its political subdivisions all of part of any taxes collected by it. At present the State can do so only if the money is to be expended for one of the functions of the State Government, such as roads, schools or poor relief. It may become desirable in the very near future for the Commonwealth to collect certain taxes and allocate the proceeds among its several political subdivisions without specifying the purpose for which the money is to be used. That cannot be done until such an Amendment is adopted.

Item 14 suggests a Constitutional Amendment authorizing a graduated income tax exclusively for educational purposes, of which a part must be paid over to the school districts of the State. It is well known that the burden of school taxes upon property holders has already passed any reasonable limit. This proposed Amendment is intended to give property holders relief without crippling the school system of the Commonwealth or sacrificing the proper education of the children. It is of the first importance to the welfare of the children and the integrity of our system of common schools.

So far as the Administration is concerned, there will be no delay of any sort. Bills to carry out most of the purposes of the session, drawn by the Attorney General, are ready for introduction. Support for many of these bills, with such minor amendments as may be found necessary, has been pledged by the Republican State Organization and by the Philadelphia Organization. The State Administration is equally pledged to support them.

In the name of the people of Pennsylvania, I urge you to lay aside every consideration but the needs of the Commonwealth. I urge you to allow no political animosities and no prospect of political advantage to hamper or deter you. I invite you to do your work in the spirit of the agreement reached a week ago tonight.

The people of Pennsylvania expect you to disregard all other matters but the relief of suffering and the protection of the Commonwealth. The State Administration is more than ready to meet you half way.

We all hope for an early end of the depression. But we cannot risk the welfare of the Commonwealth on the chance that our hope may be realized. We must hope for the best and prepare for the worst.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is more generous than any other State in the Union in the provision it makes for unfortunates who need medical care and cannot help themselves. Is there any reason why it should be less generous to those who in this crisis need food and cannot help themselves?

Pennsylvania listens to the cry of the fatherless. Let it never be said of this great Commonwealth that it turned a deaf ear to the cry of the hungry. Let it never be said that Pennsylvania gave to its citizens in want nothing more than the answer of Cain. The honor of the Commonwealth demands a different reply.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR SHANNON. The Chair wishes to express the thanks of the General Assembly to the Governor for his splendid message which he has presented to us this evening. I think that I am justified in promising the Governor that it will have the most careful consideration of the General Assembly and we trust that it will wind up to the good of all concerned.

ADJOURNMENT OF JOINT SESSION

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR SHANNON. The Joint Session is now adjourned and the Senators will please reassemble in the Senate Chamber immediately.

THE SPEAKER (C. J. GOODNOUGH) IN THE CHAIR

UNANIMOUS CONSENT OBTAINED TO REFER BILLS

The SPEAKER. Under Rule 17, the Chair asks unaminous consent to refer the bills that have been introduced tonight. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and the bills will be referred.

RECESS

SEVENTY-SECOND CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

At the First Session

Begun and held at the City of Washington on Monday, the seventh day of December, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States fixing the commencement of the terms of President and Vice President and Members of Congress and fixing the time of the assembling of Congress.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled (two-thirds of each House concurring therein), That the following amendment to the Constitution be, and hereby is, proposed to the States, to become valid as a part of said Constitution when ratified by the legislature of the several States as provided in the Constitution.

"Article—

"Section 1. The terms of the President and Vice President shall end at noon on the 20th day of January, and the terms of Senators and Representatives at noon on the 3d day of January, of the years in which such terms would have ended if this article had not been ratified; and the terms of their successors shall then begin.

"Section 2. The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall begin at noon on the 3d day of January unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

"Section 3. If, at the time fixed for the beginning of the term of the President, the President-elect shall have died, the Vice President-elect shall become President. If a President shall not have been chosen before the time fixed for the beginning of his term, or if the President-elect shall have failed to qualify, then the Vice President-elect shall act as President until a President shall have qualified; and the Congress may by law provide for the case wherein neither a President-elect nor a Vice President-elect shall have qualified, declaring who shall then act as President, or the manner in which one who is to act shall be selected and such person shall act accordingly until a President or Vice President shall have qualified.

"Section 4. The Congress may by law provide for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the House of Representatives may chose a President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them, and for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the Senate may chose a Vice President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them.

"Section 5. Sections 1 and 2 shall take effect on the 15th day of October following the ratification of this article.

"Section 6. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years from the date of its submission."

JNO. N. GARNER,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

CHARLES CURTIS,
Vice President of the United States and President of the Senate.

The SPEAKER. The communication from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, together with the attached papers will be spread upon the Journal and the same is referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING CONGRESS TO MAKE APPROPRIATION FOR PUBLIC WORK

Mr. DUNN offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over for printing:

In the House of Representatives, June 27, 1932.

The period of economic depression now reigning throughout the United States, has brought unemployment to millions, stopped the wheels of industry, closed countless banks and arrested the operation of transportation facilities.

A duty devolves upon the National government to recognize this emergency and to mobilize the Nation's resources, to combat this menace to the freedom and happiness of our people.

The Federal government has the power to initiate a huge program of public works, which will require the employment of labor throughout the country.

The field for public improvement upon which labor can be profitably employed is vast including public buildings, highways, waterways, reforestration, flood control, and water and power conservation, covering every part and section of the Nation, and when this money is spent there will be left to the Nation as full value for the expenditures the contemplated projects, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, respectfully urges upon Congress of the United States the wisdom and necessity of immediately appropriating ten billion dollars ($10,000,000,000), to be used and expended upon public work and to be raised by the issue and sale of bonds, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to each Member of the House of Representatives of the United States, from Pennsylvania, and to each of the two United States Senators from Pennsylvania to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, and to the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States.

RESOLUTION

DIRECTING COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS TO INVESTIGATE FINANCIAL AFFAIRS OF COMMONWEALTH

Mr. TALBOT offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over for printing:

In the House of Representatives, June 27, 1932.

Whereas, The Governor in his proclamation convening the special session of the Legislature on Monday, June twenty-seventh, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, suggests in his call legislation reducing appropriations previously made for the purpose of restoring in whole or in part approximately $9,700,000 abated from unpreferred appropriations by the passage of the Talbot Act; and

Whereas, Neither the Talbot Act nor the opinion of the Supreme Court upholding the constitutionality of the said act abated any appropriations, but such abatements, if any, were ordered to be made by the fiscal officers by Formal Opinion No. 51 of the Attorney General, and

Whereas, The collections for the first fiscal year of the biennium were $85,500,000, or approximately $6,700,000 in excess of the estimates of the Secretary of Revenue, and

Whereas, It appears from an examination of the financial condition of the Commonwealth that if the collections by the Department of Revenue for the fiscal year June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, will amount to approximately $66,800,000, that there will be sufficient moneys to pay all of the appropriations made at the regular and special sessions of 1931, and

Whereas, The Governor in his proclamation in addition to the reduction of $9,700,000 in appropriations alleged to be necessitated by the Talbot Act requests an additional reduction to the amount of $5,000,000 for the purpose of balancing the budget of the present biennium, and

Whereas, It thus appears that it will be necessary to reduce the appropriations by approximately $14,700,000 before any additional unemployment relief can be provided by the General Assembly without new taxation; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Appropriations is hereby directed to make a careful investigation and report to the House of Representatives at the earliest date possible, of the financial affairs of the Commonwealth, taking into consideration the appropriation liability of the Commonwealth, deducting therefrom all appropriations, lapsed or to be lapsed, the estimate of revenues to be collected during the last year of the fiscal biennium and the amount of moneys in the General Fund of the State Treasury, said investigation to be made as of June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two;

Resolved, That the Committee on Appropriations is hereby directed to call before it the heads of the various departments, boards and commissions of the State Government in order to collect the information required by this resolution, and to ascertain in detail appropriations which may be reduced in order to ascertain whether additional moneys may be made available for further unemployment relief without further taxation.

APPOINTMENT OF PARLIMENTARIAN

The SPEAKER. In compliance with the Act approved the 28th day of May, 1931, P. L. 201, the Chair appoints S. Edward Moore, as Parlimentarian in accordance with the provisions of said Act.

RESOLUTION

DIRECTING PRINTING OF TALBOT ACT, STATEMENT OF GOVERNOR AND DECISIONS OF COURTS

Mr. SOWERS presented the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 27th, 1932.

Resolved, That a copy of the law of December 28th, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 1503), known as the Talbot Law, together with the statement of the Governor thereon and the decisions of the court of common pleas of Dauphin County and of the Supreme Court construing said law, be printed at length in the Legislative Journal, after the proceedings of today.

No. 7-E

AN ACT

Making an appropriation under the police power and as a as a governmental duty to the Department of Welfare for State aid to political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor, and providing for the allocation and use of the moneys so appropriated.

Whereas, Present conditions of unemployment aggravate the normal situation facing public authorities charged with the care of the poor, impose a burden which local government is unable to bear, and demand the exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth for the protection of the public health, safety, morals and welfare and the assumption by the Commonwealth of its governmental duty to care for the poor; therefore

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That in the exercise of the police power for the protection of the public health, safety, morals and welfare threatened by existing conditions of unemployment, and in the assumption by the Commonwealth of its duty to the care of the poor, the sum of ten million dollars is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Welfare for payment to political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor, which appropriation shall be allocated as hereinafter provided and paid over by said department in December, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (1931), and the months of January, February, March, April and May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two (1932). The amount to be paid over to or for the use of said subdivisions during said months shall be as follows:

December	$1,000,000
1932
January	2,000,000
February	2,000,000
March	2,000,000
April	2,000,000
May	1,000,000
Total	$10,000,000

Section 2. The Department of Welfare shall make an allocation, during said months respectively, of the moneys appropriated to it among the several counties of this Commonwealth on a ratio that the estimated number of unemployed persons in a county bears to the estimated total number of unemployed persons in the entire Commonwealth, as shown by the tables compiled and issued by the Department of Labor and Industry.

The December allocation shall be made on the basis of the table contained in Special Bulletin Number thirty-three, Page thirteen, issued by the Department of Labor and Industry in July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, or on the basis of any later table issued by said Department of Labor and Industry prior to the time any allocation is to be made by the Department of Welfare, and the basis of allocation shall be changed from time to time as new tables are issued by the Department of Labor and Industry, which shall be at least every two months.

Section 3. Where a political subdivision charge with the care of the poor is coextensive with a county, the amount allocated to the county from time to time shall be forthwith paid by the State Treasurer, on requisition of the Department of Welfare, to such political subdivision.

Where the territory of such a political subdivision or divisions is not co-extensive with a county, the amount allocated to the county, other than a county coextensive with a city, shall, from time to time, be paid by the State Treasurer, on requisition of the Department of Welfare, to the county treasury, and shall in turn be allocated to the various political subdivisions charged with the care of the poor located wholly or partly within such county by the county commissioners, with the approval of the court of common pleas, on the basis of unemployed persons resident within the several subdivisions, but within the county, as ascertained from the best sources of information obtainable, and, when such allocation has been made, the amounts paid into the county treasury by the department shall be paid to the respective subdivisions entitled thereto.

In counties coextensive with cities, the moneys allocated to the county shall be paid by the State Treasurer, on requisition of the State Department of Welfare, into the city treasury, and shall be allocated by the Department of Welfare of such city among the various political subdivisions charged with the care of the poor within such city on the basis of unemployed persons within the respective subdivisions as ascertained from the best sources of information obtainable, and, when such allocation has been made, the amounts paid into the city treasury shall be paid to the respective subdivisions entitled thereto.

Section 4. Each political subdivision charged by law with the care of the poor shall have authority under the provisions of this act, any law to the contrary notwithstanding, to expend the moneys received from the appropriation made by this act for the purpose of providing food, clothing, fuel and shelter for residents within their districts who are without means of support. In no case shall any of said appropriation be used for paying cash, commonly known as a "dole," to persons entitled to relief.

Section 5. The amounts allocated to political subdivisions, under the provisions of this act, and by them expended shall be audited by the auditors of the respective political subdivision in the same manner and with like effect as other moneys expended by such subdivisions.

Section 6. This act shall be in force immediately upon its passage, and approval by the Governor.

STATEMENT BY GOVERNOR GIFFORD PINCHOT CONCERNING ABOVE BILL

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 23, 1931.

The Talbot Bill (House Bill 70) has been represented as a bill for unemployment relief. Doubtless many of my friends in the Legislature voted for it under that impression.

In actual fact there is not one word in the bill that requires a single cent to be spent for unemployment relief. Not one penny is earmarked for unemployment relief. Unemployment relief is not even mentioned among the purposes for which the money is appropriated.

The Talbot Bill is not a bill for unemployment relief. It is a bill for "State aid to political sub-divisions," as its title recites. All the money it appropriates could be spent for maintaining poorhouses, building more poorhouses, hiring employees of poor hands, or paying up their old debts.

The money this bill appropriates could be spent to support persons "without means of support," no matter how well able to take care of them their relations might be.

The best that can be said is that the wording of the bill does not forbid giving relief to the unemployed, if any beneficiaries of the bill should, in their discretion, decide to use some of it for that purpose.

The bill pretends to make an appropriation to the Department of Welfare. But the department could neither direct nor supervise the use of the State's money, but only figure out an allocation among the counties on the basis specified in the bill. It could not even audit the expenditures after they were made.

Giving State aid to political subdivisions without State supervision or control is a most unhealthy precedent. In ordinary times that alone would be reason enough for vetoing this bill.

In certain counties the county commissioners would distribute the "State aid to political subdivisions" among the poor districts, many of which are neither economical nor efficient. In other counties the commissioners would spend the money themselves.

In Philadelphia County the money would be allocated by the city's (not the State's) Department of Welfare "among the various political subdivisions charged with the care of the poor within such city." But Philadelphia has only six poor districts and they cover less than five of the forty-eight wards. All of the money for Philadelphia, therefore, would have to go to these six districts and forty-three wards would get none of it.

This bill would create a deficiency of $10,000,000. There is no money in the State Treasury out of which the $10,000,000 could be paid without going into debt. The bill is like a check on a bank where the signer has no balance.

The State finances are in no condition to stand more deficits. When I took office I inherited a surplus of $35,000,000 from my predecessor. At the regular session of 1931 the Legislature appropriated all of this surplus and all of the estimated revenue for this biennium. Because of the continuance of the depression, which no one foresaw when the estimates were made, the State revenue is likely to be less than was expected by $5,000,000 or $10,000,000, just as the National revenue will be less by $2,000,000,000.

In Pennsylvania this will mean a deficit by the end of the present biennium in a like amount. Therefore the regular session of 1933 will have less to appropriate than the 1931 session by the $35,000,000 of the surplus and the $5,000,000 or $10,000,000 of the anticipated deficit.

If this bill should go into effect the shortage in 1933 would be increased to between $50,000,000 and $55,000,000. This is a situation so dangerous that I feel justified in calling it to the attention of the Legislature and the Commonwealth at this time.

I am advised by the Attorney General that this bill is unconstitutional, and I am completely convinced that he is right. The General Assembly, which, by resolutions unanimously passed in both Houses, asked the Attorney General for his opinion upon the constitutionality of all measures submitted to the extra session, was likewise advised that in his opinion it is unconstitutional.

Article III, Section 18, of the Pennsylvania Constitution, provides that "No appropriations, except for pensions or gratuities for military services, shall be made for charitable, educational or benevolent purposes, to any person or community * * * ."

The appropriation made by this bill is clearly for charitable or benevolent purposes. It is made for "State aid to political subdivisions." A political subdivision is a community. Clearly the appropriation made by this bill is unconstitutional.

Article III, Section 3, requires that the subject of every bill "shall be clearly expressed in its title." The title of this bill does not refer to, much less clearly express, certain duties it imposes upon county commissioners, county treasurers, the Department of Welfare and the treasurer of Philadelphia, and certain courts of common pleas. I am advised that on this ground it is unconstitutional.

Article III, Section 25, of the Constitution provides that at special sessions of the Legislature "There shall be no legislation upon subjects other than those designated in the proclamation of the Governor calling such session." Being clearly outside of any subject designated in the call, this bill is unconstitutional.

Article IX, Section 4, provides that "No debt shall be created on behalf of the State, except to supply casual deficiencies of revenues, repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, or to pay existing debt; and the debt created to supply deficiencies in revenue shall never exceed, in the aggregate at any one time, one million dollars." This bill would create a prohibited debt of ten million dollars.

I have besought the leaders of the Legislature in both Houses to substitute for this bill a different measure, far more likely to be held constitutional, and which would actually appropriate the money for the unemployed. The leaders of the Legislature refused.

This bill is about the worst and most slipshod measure I have had to handle in the whole of my experience as Governor. I recognize, and I believe the whole State recognizes, that it was conceived in politics and born in hatred, and that the last thing its sponsors were concerned about was relief for the unemployed. Nevertheless, it is the only measure which stands between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the disgrace of a complete refusal to give any help worth mentioning to a million of its citizens who are unemployed and to their two million dependents.

The choice before me, therefore, is between vetoing this bill and allowing it to become a law. The argument for vetoing this bill on its merits in ordinary times would be overwhelming.

The argument for allowing it to become a law without my signature is the hope, however faint, that the Supreme Court, might declare it constitutional in spite of everything. If it did, some fraction, however small, of the $10,000,000 this bill appropriates would be secured for the unemployed, and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would be freed from the stigma of complete refusal to help its own people in the time of their distress.

At one time I intended to veto this bill. I announced repeatedly that I would sign no bill which the Attorney General declared to be unconstitutional. I protested repeatedly against the creation of a new deficit. Later I came to question whether it is better to let this bill go through than to lose the last chance of giving some relief to the unemployed.

If I do not veto this bill it will be charged that I have refrained because I feared it would be passed over my veto. Apart from the fact that I knew my veto would be sustained, my record is my answer.

For months I have thought of little else than how to help the unemployed. I have given the best I have to this problem. It is one of the very hardest I have ever had to consider. In not one single case have I used political pressure or the power of patronage to advance my plan for unemployment relief, because I hold this question to be high above all politics. I have prayed for Divine guidance in discharging my duty to our suffering citizens and to the Commonwealth.

My conclusion is that I cannot sign this bill because it is not fit to be signed. But I cannot veto this bill because there is a chance, however remote, that it might be held constitutional, and so give some relief to the unemployed and save the Commonwealth from the disgrace of refusing to help her people. I cannot destroy that chance.

My only course is to follow the recommendation of the Attorney General, and to let the Talbot Bill become law without my signature. That is my decision.

When this bill becomes law, this Administration will favor a prompt decision, because no money can be paid out under it unless and until the Supreme Court affirms its constitutionality. Until it does the opinion of the Attorney General must stand. But the final decision will rest not with him, not with me, but with the Supreme Court.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

Office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth,
Harrisburg, December 28, 1931.

I do certify that the above bill, entitled "An act making an appropriation under the police power and as a governmental duty to the Department of Welfare for State aid to political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor, and providing for the allocation and use of the moneys so appropriated," was presented to the Governor on the sixteenth day of December, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and was not returned within ten days after it had been presented to him, wherefore it has, agreeably to the Constitution of this Commonwealth, become a law in like manner as if he had signed it.

The foregoing is a true and correct copy of Act of the General Assembly No. 7-E.

RICHARD J. BEAMISH.
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, ex rel. William A. Schnader, Attorney General, vs.
Alice F. Liveright, Secretary of Welfare of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Charles A. Waters, Auditor General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and Edward Martin, State Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

In the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County. No. 10, Commonwealth Docket, 1932.

OPINION

BY THE COURT:

The Commonwealth, at the relation of the Attorney General, petitions for a mandamus against the Secretary of Welfare, the Auditor General and the State Treasurer, to require them to perform the duties imposed upon each of them by Act No. 7-E, passed at the special session of the Legislature of 1931, which became a law without the Governor's signature. The Attorney General withdrew as counsel for the plaintiff and appeared for the defendants. R. Lawrence Coughlin, Esq., representing the Central Poor District of Luzerne County, appeared for the plaintiff. We permitted Messrs. George E. Alter, George Wharton Pepper and Earl V. Compton, representing the Dauphin County Poor District, to appear amici curiae. The Auditor General filed his return averring he had no duties to perform with reference to the Act in question, and the State Treasurer, by his return submitted to the Court on the questions raised on the return of the Secretary of Welfare. That return shows that there are fifteen counties in which the poor districts are not co-extensive with the county, and that in the city of Philadelphia there are six poor districts.

The Secretary of Welfare attacked the constitutionality of the Act in question, in several particulars: (1) That it violates Article III, Section 25 of the Constitution in that it was not legislation within the subjects set forth in the proclamation of the Governor for the special session; (2) that it violates Article III, Section 18, in that its apporpriates money to communities for charitable or benevolent purposes; (3) that it violates Article III, Section 3, in that it gives no notice in its title of the duties imposed upon County Commissioners and Courts of Common Pleas; (4) that it violates Article 9, Section 4, in that it creates a debt for the State for prohibited purposes; (5) that it violates Article III, Section 7 because it is a local or special law regulating the affairs of counties.

The pleadings also raise the question—assuming that the Act creates a debt—whether the Legislature, the Governor and the Courts are bound, in determining the constitutional question in reference thereto, by the figures presented by the Governor to the Legislature, or whether the Court may take into consideration evidence as to the receipts of the State at the time the case is heard.

The importance and gravity of the questions involved which have been presented with great earnestness and ability on both sides deserve the most serious consideration.

DISCUSSION

The Act in question is entitled:

"An act making an appropriation under the police power and as a governmental duty to the Department of Welfare for State aid to political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor, and providing for the allocation and use of the moneys so appropriated."

The Act appropriates ten million dollars to the Department of Welfare, which Department is required to allocate the money among the several counties on a ratio that the estimated number of unemployed persons in a county bears to the estimated total number of unemployed persons in the entire Commonwealth. The amount is to be paid in instalments from December 1931 to May 1932, inclusive. The payments are to be made to poor districts, where such districts are coextensive with the counties; to the county commissioners, where the poor district is not coextensive with the county, to be allocated by them to cover the county, with the approval of the court of common pleas; and to the city treasurer in counties coextensive with cities.

"In determining the unconstitutionality of the statue it must be construed in every possible way to sustain it and every presumption must be indulged in its favor." Sinking Fund Cases, 99 U. S. 700; Mugler vs. Kansas, 123 U. S. 623. A statue will be declared unconstitutional only "when it violates the Constitution clearly, palpably, plainly; and in such a manner to leave no doubt or hesitations" in the mind of the Court. Sharpless vs. Philadelphia, 21 Pa. 147, 164; R. R. Co. vs. Riblet, 66 Pa. 164. "It is no part of our business to discuss the wisdom of this legislation. * * * Our plain duty is to enforce it, provided it is not in conflict with the fundamental law." Scowden's Appeal, 96 Pa. 422; Commonwealth vs. Moir, 199 Pa. 534, 543.

"'An Act of Legislature is not to be declared void unless the violation of the Constitution is so manifest as to leave no room for reasonable doubt'; Commonwealth ex. rel. O'Hara vs. Smith, 4 Binn, 117. This utterance of one hundred years ago has been reported times without number, down to the present hour, without shadow of turning." Commonwealth vs. Hyneman, 242 Pa. 243, 247.

It is with these principles in mind that we approach the consideration of the constitutional questions raised in this case.

1. Is the Act in question within the subjects set forth in the Governor's proclamation?

The Governor called the Legislature to meet in special session, November 9, 1931. The preamble to his Proclamation is as follows:

Whereas, the first duty of the Commonwealth is to safeguard the people, and

Whereas, to make secure the lives, the liberties, and the happiness of men, women, and children is the proper object of all governments, and

Whereas, the right to work for a living is part of the right to live, and

Whereas, the welfare of the people in this Commonwealth, as in the United States at large, is engaged by the prevailing unemployment, which has deprived one quarter of the workers of Pennsylvania of the opportunity to earn a living, and

Whereas, this fact constitutes a binding obligation to act upon every unit of government, from the least to the greatest:"

He said the Legislature was "to consider legislation upon the following subjects" and then indicated fifteen specific propositions. On the day of the meeting of the special session he supplemented his call with four additional propositions. None of the suggestions included an appropriation of money such as was made in the Act of Assembly before us.

The precise question is, whether the Governor, having indicated the emergency which necessitated the special session, can limit the Legislature to the consideration of such specific Acts of Assembly as he designated.

Section 25 of Article III of the Constitution provides:

"When the General Assembly shall be convened in special session, there shall be no legislation upon subjects other than those designated in the proclamation of the Governor calling such session."

In determining whether an Act of Assembly passed at a special session is constitutional we must determine whether it is germane to the subject stated in the Governor's call and his entire proclamation must be construed to answer that question. The Governor cannot limit the Legislature by itemizing and calling the various items the subjects, if by a consideration of his entire proclamation there is one broad, general subject to be considered. All of the text books and cases, with few exceptions, sustain this proposition.

In the first paragraph of his proclamation the Governor suggests the creation of a "State Commission on Unemployment Relief"; in the second paragraph he suggests that municipalities be authorized to negotiate emergency loans for "unemployment relief"; in the third paragraph he suggests an amendment to the Constitution to provide for the repayment of money loaned to the "State Commission on Unemployment Relief"; in the fifth paragraph he suggests giving authority to municipalities to levy taxes and expend money for "unemployment relief"; in the sixth paragraph he suggests permitting local authorities to postpone tax sales during periods of economic depression and "unemployment"; in the eighth paragraph he suggests a method which will "give work to the unemployed."

The conclusion is irrestistible, that the emergency which prompted the call was the "unemployment" in the Commonwealth, and the general subject of the call is "unemployment relief." Can the Governor then, by itemizing nineteen specific matters on which he thinks legislation should be passed in order to meet the emergency, preclude the Legislature from using its own judgment as to any other method of unemployment relief? This question is answered in the negative in the following cases: Brown vs. State, 32 Texas Cr. R. 119; 22 S. W. 596; People vs. District Ct. 23 Colo. 150, 46 Pac. 681; In re Governor's Proclamation, 19 Colo. 333, 35 Pac. 530; Baldwin vs. State, 21 Texas App. 591, 3 S. W. 109; Long vs. The State, 58 Texas Cr. R. 209; 127 S. W. 208; Devereaux vs. City of Brownsville (Tenn.) 29 Fed. 742; State vs. Woollen, 128 Tenn. 456, 161 S. W. 1006; People ex rel. vs. Johnson, 25 Colo. 153, 46 Pac. 681; Ex-parte Davis (Tex.) 215 S. W. 341; Chicago, etc. R. Co. vs. Wolfe, 61 Neb. 502, 86 N. W. 441. The constitution in the states from which these cases have provisions similar to ours limiting the subjects to be considered in a special session to those contained in the Governor's call.

In all of these cases the independence of the several branches of our representative government is emphasized, and these courts have insisted that if the Governor is permitted to dictate to the Legislature just what specific bills it may pass, there would be a dangerous encroachment of the power of the Governor on the independence of the Legislature.

In Brown vs. the State, supra, it was said:

"It was not necessary, nor would it have been proper for the Governor in his proclamation, to have suggested in detail the legislation desired. It was for the Legislature to determine what that legislation should be."

In People vs. District Court, supra, the call was "to enact that the law in relation to elections, etc., in this State known as the 'Australian Ballot Law,' be amended so as to provide." Then followed paragraphs designating in detail the amendments which the Governor desired. The Court said:

"The Governor * * * must be held to have submitted the whole subject matter of such act for legislative action thereon. He had no more authority to go further than this, and specify the particular character of the amendments, that were to be voted upon, than he would have had to have prepared the bills, and attached them to his call, and directed the Legislature to have passed or rejected the same, without amendment. Such specific instruction can, at best, be regarded as advisory only, and not as limiting the character of legislation that might be had upon the general subject of the Australian ballot law."

In re Governor's Proclamation, supra, after discussing the proposition that the Governor can designate the business which the Legislature is to transact, the Court said:

"But must we go further, and hold that the Governor may prescribe the particular way and the manner in which the business he has designated shall be transacted in all its details? * * * In a certain contingency the general assembly may be convened in special session for the purpose of electing a United States Senator. Will it be contended that the person to be elected may be specially named in the proclamation and that no other person than the one thus named can be elected at such special session? It is manifest that such a construction would be to destroy legislative independence and convert members of the two Houses into more instruments to register and ratify the executive will —that is, to do the bidding of the Governor, or not act at all."

In Baldwin vs. the State, supra, the Governor called a special session "to reduce the taxes, both ad valorem and occupation, so far as it may be found consistent with the support of an efficient State government." The Legislature, instead of reducing the tax on occupations imposed a tax on occupations not theretofore taxed. The Court held that the Governor's call "embraces the whole subject of taxation and authorizes any and all legislation upon that subject as may be deemed necessary by the Legislature." The Court said:

"He called the attention of the Legislature to the subject upon which, in his opinion, legislation was desired. That subject was taxation. It was not necessary, nor would it have been proper, for him, in his proclamation, to have suggested in detail the legislation desired. It was for the Legislature to determine what the legislation should be."

In State vs. Woollen, supra, it is held that the Legislature "can constitutionally enact any legislation that is germane to the general purpose stated in the proclamation, and that an attempt in the proclamation to abridge this power is absolutely void."

After reviewing a large number of cases, the Court continued:

"All the cases agree that, while the Governor may so limit the subject of legislation, he cannot dictate to the Legislature the special legislation which they shall enact on those subjects. In all of them the inquiry is finally reduced to the ascertainment of the subject or subjects embraced in the call, or message, determined by an analysis and construction of that paper as in the case of any other written instrument, and by a like analysis and construction of the legislation drawn in question for the purpose of deciding whether it is embraced within the call, or message."

In the case cited it was held that the call to make appropriations "to maintain the State's institutions, offices and departments" did not include an appropriation to a corporation for the purpose of supporting agriculture, industrial enterprises and the breeding of live stock and poultry.

In ex-parte Davis, supra, the Legislature was called "to enact a law to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors within ten miles of an army camp, to prohibit the sale of such liquors by any person without a license, and to punish violations by felony, to prohibit the sale of such liquors to any person in uniform or enlisted in the military service." The Legislature enacted a State-wide prohibition law.

The Court said:

"We think the subject submitted by the Governor was legislation concerning intoxicating liquors, and that the purpose was to restrict the traffic in intoxicating liquors and render them inaccessible to the many soldiers training in the State. * * * The designation by the Governor of particular laws was not binding upon the Legislature. It was but suggestive of the views of the Governor relating to the means of accomplishing the purpose for which the Legislature was called in special session."

There are several cases on the other side of the question, cited by the defendants.

In Donvor vs. Moss, 50 Colo. 282, 115 Pac. 696, the Legislature was called "to enact any and all legislation relating to or in any wise affecting corporations, both foreign and domestic, of a quasi public nature." It was held that the call was not sufficiently specific; that it did not show any emergency and that an Act passed defining the liability of railroads for killing live stock was invalid. Two judges vigorously dissented. Inasmuch as these cases are only persuasive upon us, we find that the dissenting opinion is the more persuasive and altogether in line with the weight of authority. The decision is distinctly opposed to the case of People ex rel. vs. Johnson, 23 Colo. 153, 46 Pac. 681. In the case of Sims vs. Weldon, 165 Ark. 13, 263 S. W. 42, the Governor's call was, among other things, "to enact a law imposing a tax on net incomes," and it was held that an Act levying a tax on retail sales of cigarrettes and cigars was not valid under the call. In that case also there is a vigorous dissenting opinion, by two judges, and the case is the antithesis of the case of Baldwin vs. the State, 21 Tex. App. 591, 3 S. W. 109.

In Columbia and Pulaski Turnpike Co. vs. Hughes (Tenn.) 174 S. W. 1108, the Governor called the extra session to consider "road law for Maury County" and to amend the act creating a turnpike commission for Maury County. The Legislature passed an act to regulate the operation of turnpike roads in counties of a certain population which did not include Maury County. The Court, upon the authority of State vs. Woollen, 128 Tenn. 456, 161 S. W. 1006, hold that the act was too remote to be within the call.

In McClintock vs. Phoenix (Ariz.) 207 Pac. 611, the Governor's call was to consider governmental machinery "with a view to more closely co-ordinating, or abolishing certain agencies and activities, and revising expenditures" and to "consider and enact amendments to the Improvement Act of 1912 * * * with the object of restoring competitive bidding." The Legislature passed an Act validating proceedings of the city of Phoenix theretofore taken in voting bonds for the erection of an armory, which was held not to be within the Governor's call.

In Jones vs. The State (Ark.), 242 S. W. 377, the Governor's call was, among other things, to enact such law as will enable cities and towns to collect an additional tax for motor vehicles, to be used for State purposes and "for the purpose of enacting laws for establishing local road, bridge, drainage, school and levee improvement districts," etc. The Legislature passed an Act requiring the commissioners of all such districts to file an annual report on the first Monday of January in each year thereafter which was held not to be within the call, although there was a dissenting opinion.

In Jones vs. The State (Ga.) 107 S. E. 765, the call was to consider the question of amending the automobile license tax and the statute passed regulated the speed of automobiles. It was held invalid.

We think that all of these cases may be readily distinguishable except, perhaps, the Arkansas case of Jones vs. The State, in which the dissenting opinion, in our judgment, states the better view.

There is no authority distinctly deciding the question in Pennsylvania, but the language of Judge Orlady, adopted by the Supreme Court, in Likina's Petition No. 2, 223 Pa. 468, 470, tends so directly to be in harmony with the weight of authority that we are justified in quoting from it:

"In the analysis of this item of the proclamation we are to view it as the members of the general assembly were warranted in viewing it, that is, in the light of the whole document, together with the earlier proclamation of November 11, 1905, under which the general assembly was specially convened with a view to legislation on this and other specified subjects.

"It is urged that the third item in this proclamation contains two subjects; or at least a principal and a subsubject; for the purposes of this case, conceding this to be the fact, yet, the reason for the constitutional mandate prohibiting legislation on any subjects at a special session save those designated in the proclamation of the Governor is fairly apparent. The purpose was that the legislators thus unusually summoned and the public at large should be advised as to the general character of the legislation that could or might be constitutionally enacted at such special session. Although a governor who has decided to convene a special session of the legislature is empowered to proclaim, to indicate, to designate, the subjects for legislative consideration at such session, he cannot by his proclamation, any more than he can by his message to the same body when in regular session, prescribe or limit the manner in which or the extend to which the legislature may dispose of these subjects, which he designates in his proclamation as matters for legislative consideration. He may by proclamation in the one case, as by message in the other, suggest the lines along which, in his judgment, the lawmaking body could most wisely or effectively operate. Such recommendations are in nowise restrictive of the legislative power. When, therefore, the governor, by his proclamation, couched in such language as he may select, has fairly indicated to the legislators and the people a general subject for legislative consideration, the legislature in special session may lawfully deal with that subject as fully and completely as at a regular session."

Among the specific items enumerated in the Governor's call is No. 12: "An emergency tax on gasoline at the rate of two cents ($.02) per gallon for two (2) years" and No. 14, "A tax on cigarettes." In the oral argument, the Attorney General indicated that in his opinion as to No. 14 a tax on cigars would be invalid and that as to No 12 the Legislature might impose an emergency tax of one cent per gallon for one year or two years but if it imposed a tax for three cents a gallon for three years it would raise a very serious question, because it would be going further than the Governor indicated it might go. If this argument be sound then the Governor can legislate and the Legislature in special session would only be a rubber stamp to carry out the Governor's legislative will. In our opinion the safety and security of our frame of government lies largely in the separation and independence of the three branches of government, and when any legislation attempts to take away powers of one branch and vest them in another, such legislation should be strictly construed. Certainly the people did not understand this provision of the Constitution to accomplish such a result as now claimed by the defendants. Therefore, impelled by both the weight of reason and of authority we conclude that while the Governor has the right to determine the emergency and to fix the time of a special session, he is limited to presenting to the Legislature the general subjects upon which the emergency requires legislation and cannot by a multitude of details tie the legislative mind down to such specific provisions as he thinks should be enacted into law.

It is argued that "poor relief" is broader than "unemployment relief" and the Act is therefore broader than the proclamation. When the Legislature, dealing with unemployment, finds that widespread poverty has been thereby created, it would be fairly within the subject.

For these reasons, we are of the opinion that the Act of the Special Session No. 7-E does not violate Section 25 of Article III of the Constitution.

2. Section 18 of Article III of the Constitution provides, in part: No appropriations * * * shall be made for charitable, educational or benevolent purposes to any person or community."

It is contended that the Act violates this provision of the Constitution. The words "person" and "community" are used in the inclusive sense and apply "to persons, kind, class and place, without qualification." Busser vs. Snyder, 282 Pa. 440, 451.

We construe this Act as making appropriations to all the poor districts of the State. Busser vs. Snyder, 282 Pa. 440; Collins vs. Martin, 290 Pa. 388. There can be no question that the care of the poor is a governmental duty. Hamden vs. New Haven, 91 Conn. 589, 593; Busser vs. Snyder, Supra, page 456. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has recognized this duty. Our Acts of March 9, 1771, 1 Sm. 338, 8 St. at L. 75, end of June 13, 1836, P. L. 541 imposed that duty upon local poor districts.

In Commonwealth vs. Moir, 190 Pa. 534, it was held:

"Municipal corporations are agents of the State, invested with certain subordinate governmental functions for reasons of convenience and public policy. They are created, governed, and the extent of their powers determined by the Legislature, and subject to change, repeal, or total abolition at its will."

See also the language of Sharswood, J., in Philadelphia vs. Fox, 64 Pa. 169, 180, quoted with approval in Pittsburgh's Petition, 217 Pa. 227, 238.

The poor districts of the State, as quasi municipal corporations, are just as much the agents of the State for the purpose of conveniently performing its governmental functions as the chartered municipalities.

The Act applies to all the poor of the State. Section 4 authorizes each political subdivision charged by law with the care of the poor to expend money allocated to it "for the purpose of providing food, clothing, fuel and shelter for residents within their districts who are without means of support." We may say in passing that we do not at all agree with the argument of the Attorney General that the language of this section is only permissive and would allow the poor districts to use the money for any purpose they might determine. They are not required to spend the money for the purposes mentioned if not needed but they cannot spend it for any other purpose. The mere fact that Section 5 requires an audit by the local authorities, does not prohibit an audit by the State authorities or show that the moneys can be used for any other purpose than that indicated in Section 4.

Is, then, the State, in performing its governmental function, to be considered as dispensing charity or benevolence in the sense in which the people understood that term in the section of the Constitution above quoted? We think not. In our opinion this section prohibits the singling out of some persons or class of persons, or some community, for the purpose of distributing to them the bounty of the State. It does not inhibit the performance of a governmental duty to all the poor of the State, in the exercise of the police power.

The Act of Assembly under consideration is clearly an exercise of the police power. It is in the interest of the general welfare of the Commonwealth. The Governor in his proclamation says: "The welfare of the people in this Commonwealth * * * is endangered by the prevailing unemployment." The Legislature has declared in the title of the Act that it is an appropriation "under the police power," and in the preamble that the "present conditions of unemployment * * * demand the exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth for the protection of the public health, safety, morals and welfare and the assumption by the Commonwealth of its governmental duty to care for the poor."

Where an emergency demands the exercise of the police power over the whole State in the interest of the public welfare, even though that exercise may be a charitable or benevolent one, as the words are understood in the broadcast and most comprehensive sense, it is not a charity or benevolence as understood by the people in the section of the Constitution above quoted. But even if it is to be so construed the question would arise whether the exercise of the police power or this constitutional provision is paramount. This question has been answered in White's Appeal, 287 Pa. 259, where it is held:

"The police power is the chief attribute of a sovereign power, and if in its exercises it conflicts with part of the Constitution, the police power in the exercise of its major objects, will prevail."

In Commonwealth vs. Widovich, 295 Pa. 311, 318, the State Sedition Law was attacked as violating Aricle I, Section 7 of the Constitution, which provides that "every citizen may freely speak, write and print on any subject." In upholding the law as a valid exercise of the police power, Justice Kephart says, referring to the Bill of Rights:

"Overshadowing these rights is the authority of the government to preserve its existence under the police power. Article XVI of the Constitution says 'the police power shall never be abridged.' This relates to all phases of its exercise. The police power is the greatest and most powerful attribute of government; on it the very existence of the State depends. * * * If the exercise of the police power should be in irreconcilable opposition to a constitutional provision or right, the police power would prevail."

This language seems to be in conflict with that found in Commonwealth vs. Vrooman, 164 Pa. 306, 316, where it is said:

"If it is alleged that a given police regulation violates the fundamental law, a question is raised for the determination of the courts, whose duty it is to apply the constitutional tests and adjudge the law to be void if it is in conflict with them."

The Vrooman case was decided in 1894; the Widovich case in 1929. But the conflict may not be a real one. White's Appeal, supra, says that if the police power "conflicts with part of the Constitution the police power in the exercise of its major objects will prevail."

In Commonwealth vs. Widovich, supra, there certainly was a major object, namely, the passage of a sedition law as to which the Court said, pages 319 and 320:

"The burden of the Act is an effort to preserve the State, and it should be so interpreted," and "the danger line in utterances is reached when one strikes at the very foundation of organized society by inciting rebellion in an attempt to destroy it."

In the Vrooman case an Act of Assembly which prohibited any person, partnership or society from issuing policies of insurance was under attack. This, of course, was the exercise of a police regulation but was far from being the exercise of "Major objects" of the police power. Let us suppose that a plague or pestilence swept over the State with which the local authorities were unable to cope. Would the State be paralyzed by the provision now under consideration, or the debt provision, or any other provision of the Constitution? Or can it reach forth its strong arm of the police power to save lives when salvation, by prompt action, is at hand? We certainly would hesitate to put any construction on our governmental powers as to make the State so impotent. The necessity for action appears only in a lesser degree, when people may die or be driven to desperation by a lack of food, a lack of clothing or a lack of shelter. In the instant case the Legislature in the preamble to the Act has recited "present conditions of unemployment * * * demand the exercise of the police power * * * for the protection of the public health, safety, morals and welfare and the assumption by the Commonwealth of its governmental duty to care for the poor."

The Secretary of Welfare has challenged the fact averred in the preamble and denies that the conditions prevailing impose a burden which local governments are unable to bear but has not presented any evidence to support that attack. The exercise of the police power is a legislative question in which "the largest legislative discretion is allowed" (Beer Co. vs. Mass., 97 U. S. 25) and whether the courts have any authority to review the facts on which the legislature acted is a serious question. Commonwealth vs. Andrews, 211 Pa. 110. In any event, even if authorized to do so, it would take substantial evidence for a Court to find that the assertion by the Legislature of the conditions which induced it to pass the Act were not in fact true. In the absence of such evidence the Court certainly must assume that the situation is as the Legislature declared it to be.

It is suggested that the Constitution ought not to be construed to meet an emergency but the police power is intended to cover emergencies as well as other phases of public welfare. We agree that the Constitution should not be strained to meet an emergency if its language would not fairly bear such construction.

However, it is the glory of our Federal Constitution, construed as it has been, under the guiding minds of great jurists, that the language has been found sufficiently expansive to meet the development of governmental situations as they have arisen. The same is true, in a perhaps lesser degree, of our State Constitution.

The Legislature has a freedom to operate within every sphere of proper governmental activities which is not prohibited. In Norris vs. Clymer, 2 Pa. 277, 285, it is said: "The Constitution allows to the Legislature every power which it does not positively prohibit." In Sharpless vs. Philadelphia, 21 Pa. 147, 161, Black, C. J. said:

"To me, it is as plain that the General Assembly may exercise all powers which are properly legislative, and which are not taken away by our own, or by the federal constitution, as it is that the people have all the rights which are expressly reserved. * * * The constitution has given us a list of things which the Legislature may not do. If we extend that list, we alter the instrument, we become ourselves the aggressors, and violate both the letter and spirit of the organic law as grossly as the Legislature possibly could. If we can add to the reserved rights of the people, we can take them away; if we can mend we can mar; if we can remove the landmarks which we find established, we can obliterate them." See also Russ vs. Commonwealth, 210 Pa. 544, 554.

There is no constitutional prohibition against the State directly discharging its governmental duty to the poor. It is to be noted that no particular communities are to be aided as was done by Anthracite Coal Tax Act, declared void for that reason in Commonwealth vs. Alden Coal Co., 251 Pa. 134, 156. While perhaps up to the passage of this Act the sovereign State has allowed its subordinate agencies, the poor districts, to deal with the poor as a matter of local convenience, we find no constitutional inhibition to prevent the State from assisting all the poor districts without picking out any particular community, in carrying the unusual burden which the Legislature has declared is now placed upon them—a burden which, at least in the judgment of the Legislature they are unable to bear.

Aid to the poor, as a governmental function, does not mean that only those who are permanently and inextricably poor can receive such aid. The welfare of the State may demand that those who are immediately poor and unable to provide for themselves or their families because of unemployment must be relieved, and, if such relief is given to all of the poor of this State, without any attempt at classification, we are of the opinion that there is no constitutional prohibition against it.

This is altogether in keeping with the decision in Busser vs. Snyder, supra, although in our own opinion in that case, reported in 27 Dauphin, 231, 240, we used some language that may be construed as saying that because the Constitution contains nothing to indicate that appropriations may be made out of the State Treasury for the relief of the poor, such appropriations would be invalid. That language is too broad. The decision in that case was that the State could not select a certain class of persons and make contributions to them out of the State Treasury. The Old Age Pension Act under consideration in that case was in no sense a poor law. The Legislature selected a class of persons to be benefited regardless of their ability to earn a livelihood.

In Busser vs. Snyder, supra, the Supreme Court, on page 435, said:

"The question here is not whether the State can take over the care of its poor and relieve the counties and poor districts through the agency created by the Act of 1923; this Act nowwhere embraces the subject of prior poor laws. * * *

Poor persons and paupers have been used as synomous words, although not necessarily meaning the same, but the thing which for more than two hundred years fixed the charge on the Commonwealth was the fact of inability to support themselves, or without means of support. The Constitution of 1870 recognized this condition as a public liability. Nothing is said therein prohibiting, interfering with or controlling the performance of the duty. But that liabliity or charge cannot be extended, or a new condition created to be brought within it, which would be in direct conflict with section 18 of Article III. When the Constitution was adopted the terms 'poor laws' and 'Poor persons' were well understood. These speak of 'poor persons not able to work,' or by reason of age, disease, infirmity or other disability, are unable to work,' 'the needy, sick and indigent,' 'without means of support,' to which the poor authorities were required to give aid. Except as noted, Section 18 of Article III did not cover them."

On page 457 the Court said:

"In other words, in appropriating money, the minute the historical definition of poor persons is broken through, the Act enters the field of forbidden legislation through Section 18 of Article III, and falls as a poor law."

The historical definition has been maintained in Section 4 of this Act. The language of the opinion quoted clearly shows the obligation on the Commonwealth to support those who are "unable to support themselves and without means of support," and when the Legislature in the exercise of that obligation extends its relief to all of the poor of the Commonwealth, without any attempt at classification, we are of the opinion that such legislation is not an appropriation for a charitable or benevolent purpose to any person or community.

For these reasons we think that the Act does not violate Section 18 of Article III of the Constitution.

3. It is contended that the statute violates Article III, Section 3 of the Constitution which provides: "No bill, except general appropriation bills, shall be passed containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title."

This argument is based upon the proposition that Section 3 of the Act provides that where the territory of a poor district is not coextensive with a county the amount allocated to the county shall be paid to the county treasurer and allocated by the County Commissioners with the approval of the Court of Common Pleas. It is suggested that these are burdensome duties imposed upon the County Commissioners and non-judicial administrative duties imposed upon the courts of common pleas, without any indication of such imposition in title. No county or court questions the constitutionality of the Act. Can the Secretary of Welfare raise this question? We think not, for the reasons hereinafter stated. That Department is not prejudiced by the Act in this particular.

The constitutional provision requires notice of the subject. It does not require notice of the various phases of treatment of the subject. This distinction has been woefully overlooked, and has given rise to many groundless and useless attacks upon titles. The subject of this Act is an appropriation for the care of the poor. This is one subject. Neither "courts" nor "county commissioners" is a subject of this Act. Of course our cases require the subject to be "clearly expressed" (Phillip's Est. 295 Pa. 349; Provident L. & T. Co. vs. Hammond 230 Pa. 407; Guppy vs. Moltrup, 281 Pa. 343) but that means that the single subject should be clearly expressed, not the ramifications for carrying out that subject. Commonwealth vs. Charity Hospital, 198 Pa. 270, 275. All that is required is that there be a unity of the subject.

In that much cited case of Commonwealth vs. Jones, 4 Pa. Super. Ct., 362, 368, it is said:

> "The unity of the subject of a statute is to be determined by its paramount purpose rather than by the details through which that purpose is to be accomplished. The subject may have but one object, while the measures necessary for the attainment of that object may necessarily embrace many subordinate subjects, differing in their nature and particular effect, yet all contributing to it, and comprised within the principal subject. Everything which the nature of the subject of a title reasonably suggests, as necessary or appropriate for the accomplishment of its expressed purpose, is sufficiently indicated by such title."

It has been many times said that the title of an Act need not be and ought not be a complete index to its contents. Commonwealth vs. Rapid Tran. St. Ry. Co., 219 Pa. 11, 17.

The title to this Act is:

> "An act making an appropriation under the police power and as a governmental duty to the Department of Welfare for State aid to political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor, and providing for the allocation and use of the moneys so appropriated."

The paramount object is "an appropriation * * * to aid political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor."

The title gives notice that the Act provides "for the allocation and use of the moneys so appropriated." There is plain notice that there must be an allocation of the money. To require detailed information in the title as to how that allocation is made would go beyond what the Courts have required of valid titles.

In Reeves vs. Phila. Sub. Water Co., 287 Pa. 376, 387, the Court said:

> "The Constitution presupposes a reasonably inquiring state of mind, and such a state of mind would follow the trail indicated by the main part of the titles, into the body of the Acts."

This language is particularly pertinent. Any inquiring state of mind would be led by this title into the body of the Act to determine how the allocation is to be made. A title must not be such that a person "is led away from an examination of the body of the bill." Guppy vs. Moltrup, 281 Pa. 343, 346. When this title gives notice that it appropriates money for "aid to political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor, and providing for the allocation and use of the moneys," we are of opinion that county commissioners would be eagerly led to look into, rather than look away from, this Act.

In Booth & Flynn vs. Miller, 237 Pa. 297, 303, it is said:

> "It is, however, no infringement of the section if there are several provisions in the bill, provided they are connected with and germane to the one general subject of the legislation. It is sufficient if they relate to and are a means of carrying out the one general purpose of the act."

See, also, Sugar Notch Borough, 192 Pa. 349.

In Carr vs. Aetna A. & L. Co., 64 Pa. Super. Ct. 343, 349, the Court said:

> "Unless a substantive matter, entirely disconnected with the named legislation, is included within the folds of the bill, the Act should not be declared as a violation of the Constitution by reason of its title offending Section 3, of Article III."

This is not a case where either financial burdens are imposed upon, or important powers and duties taken away from, counties or county officials. Practically all of the cases cited by the defendants were of this class.

In Daily vs. Potter County, 203 Pa. 593, there was no notice in the title of the Act that a substantial burden was imposed on the county instead of on the poor district. The same is true of County Commissioners' Petition, 255 Pa. 88; and in Stegmaier vs. Jones, 203 Pa. 47 the Act under consideration took important powers and duties away from the County Commissioners and vested them in the Grand Jury.

In the Act before us no powers or duties are taken away, no burdens are imposed; in fact, we cannot shut our minds to the proposition that the Act grants relief to counties instead of imposing burdens, because, to the extent that it relieves poor districts, it relieves counties.

In the brief of amici curiae it is said:

> "Countless acts have been passed by the Legislature on some general subject, such as boroughs, townships or counties, the enforcement of the provisions of which necessarily involves the aid of the courts or of subordinate municipal officers. It has never been successfully maintained that the title of such legislation is defective."

A similar suggestion was made by Chief Justice Moschzisker in Commonwealth vs. Snyder, 279 Pa. 234, 243.

We quite agree with this statement. To illustrate: The Act of May 23, 1889, P. L. 277, is entitled "An Act providing for the incorporation and government of cities of the third class." In Article III, Sections 3 and 5, there are provisions for appeals to the Court and prescribing the duties of the Court in matters of annexation; in Article IV, Section 11, an offense is created with reference to entering into contracts by councilmen and the duties of the Court prescribed in reference thereto. In Article XIV, Sections 3 and 6, there are provisions for the appeal from assessments for damages and benefits and trial by Court; in Article XV, Section 15, there is a provision requiring the City Treasurer to make his report to the Court of taxables and prescribing the duty of the Court thereon. Yet there is not a suggestion in the title that there is any duty imposed on the Court. As is stated in the argument above quoted, many such acts may be cited.

In Commonwealth vs. Macelwee, 294 Pa. 569, the General Township Act of July 14, 1917, P. L. 840, was attacked as unconstitutional. The title is "An Act concerning townships; and revising, amending and consolidating the law relating thereto." Section 274 was attacked as unconstitutional because there was no notice in the title that the township treasurer in townships of the first class was required to collect poor taxes among other taxes, although there was no suggestion in the title that the Act had anything to do with poor districts. The Court said:

> "'An Act concerning townships' is notice to all persons located therein and to every subordinate municipal division of the State located wholly or partially within them, that there may be, in the body of the Act, something which affects his or its interests, and ordinarily this satisfies the constitutional requirements as to the title."

In Orlosky vs. Haskell, 304 Pa. 57, a provision of the Motor Vehicle Code which provides for the services of process issued out of the Courts to counties other than those in which the Court has jurisdiction, was attacked, because no notice of such extra territorial service of process was contained in the title, but the Court held the title to be sufficient.

In Sugar Notch Borough, 192 Pa. 349, 353, 355, it is said:

> "The express enumeration of the specific subjects must be affirmatively misleading as to the intent to exclude others, or the title will not be made invalid by it," and "Courts are not to be astute in finding or sustaining objections."

In our opinion, to strike down this statute, or even Section 3 of it, because there is no specific notice in the title that the allocation of the money in certain counties is to be done through the agency of the County Commissioners, with the approval of the Court, would be subversive of the cardinal principle which requires us to sustain the constitutionality of a statute unless it is clearly shown to be in violation of the fundamental law.

4. Article IX, Section 4 of the Constitution provides, in parts:

"No debt shall be created by or on behalf of the State, except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue, repeal, invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, or to pay existing debt; and the debt created to supply deficiencies in revenue shall never exceed, in the aggregate at any one time, one million dollars", etc.

The defendant contends that the Act violates this section because the appropriation, with prior appropriations for the biennium, exceeds the amount of the estimated revenues for the same period made by the Secrtary of Revenue, and thereby creates a debt of the State.

The plaintiff and the asici curiae contend that the Act under consideration does not offend against this provision of the Constitution because the appropriation made does not create a prohibited debt.

The term "debt" as used in the Constitution is to be given its general and popular meaning as the people who voted for it undertsood it. Lesser vs. Warren Borough, 237 Pa. 501. The said term as used in said Article and section has not otherwise been defined. In Bouvier's Law Dictionary, the definition is, "A sum of money due by certain and express agreement". In appeal of City of Erie, 91 Pa. 298, it is said: "A debt means a fixed and certain obligation to pay money or some other valuable thing or things certain whether in the present or in the future. This definition was given in a matter pertaining to a municipality, but we see no reason why a different definition should be given for the debt of the State.

The Attorney General in his brief cites a number of cases of indebtedness created by municipalities in violation of Article IX, Section 8 of the Constitution, all of them having been created in matters contractural. By the last mentioned Article strict limitations are imposed upon municipalities in the creation of debts, but this is not so with respect to the sovereign Sate. There is no limitation to the debts the latter may incur, under Article IX, Section 4, except that created to supply deficiencies in revenues.

In the case of Rhea vs. Newman (Ky.), 44 L. R. A. (N. S.), 989, 993, the Court said:

"It will be noticed that the Constitution nowhere restricts the debt-creating power of the state; at most, it merely regulates the method of using the power. The radical difference between the powers of the state and the powers of municipalities to contract debts is strongly marked. The Constitution places a limit upon the debt-creating power and upon the taxing power of municipalities and, when that limit is exceeded, the debt constitutes no debt whatever against the municipality, for want of power to create it. It is otherwise, however, with the state, which, being the sovereign political power, may create debts without limit, and has an unlimited taxing power for use in the discharge of the debt".

We have considered all of the authorities relating to municipalities cited by the Attorney General and are unable to see that they throw any light on the question before us.

Aside from these authorities, the Attorney General also cites the following authorities relating to state indebtedness, which we will consider.

In 36 Cyc 854, it is stated:

"But an appropriation for which the revenue laws are inadequate, and for which no provision is made by the appropriation act itself, creates a debt".

In Billeter and Wiley vs. State Highway Commission (Ky) 261 S. W. 855, 859, the State Highway Commission entered into a number of contracts for the construction of highways for almost $3,000,000. There were already existing similar contracts for about $8,000,000. It was contended that these items, in the aggregate, constituted an indebtedness far in excess of the gross amount of all the revenues and receipts for the full year 1923-1924. The court decided that contracts could not be let aggregating in ultimate cost more than the current revenues for the current fiscal year, though the contracts do not require appropriations in any one fiscal year in excess of the available funds for that year. The Court said:

"We conclude that, if the appropriations or other obligations assumed during any fiscal year aside from governmental expense exceed the revenues of that year, such excess constitutes an indebtedness, within the meaning of the Constitution".

In State of Louisiana, ex rel. vs. Graham, Auditor, 23 La. Ann. 402, a proceeding was instituted to compel the auditor to issue a warrant pursuant to an Act of Assembly entitled "An Act for the relief of J. O. Nixon, late Public Printer". The defendant denied the claimant's right on the ground that the Act of Assembly was unconstitutional, because at the date of its passage, the debt of the State exceeded twenty- five million dollars and the Constitution prohibited the increase of the debt of the State beyond that sum. The Court said:

"An appropriation is an authorization to the Auditor to check upon the treasury for moneys there deposited. If, therefore, the revenues be inadequate to meet the interest of the public debt and the current expenses of the necessary state agencies to preserve the government an appropriation (whereby the liabilities of the state are increased) for any other purpose than the support and maintenance of the machinery of government is a debt within the meaning of the constitutional amendment, which declares 'that prior to the first day of January, 1890, the debt of the state shall not be so increased as to exceed twenty-five millions of dollars.'"

To the same effect are State vs. Graham, Auditor, 25 La. Ann. 623; State vs. Clinton, 28 La. Ann. 201, 203.

In the case of State of Ohio vs. Arnold Medbery, 7 Ohio St. 522, the issue was whether or not contracts made by the Board of Public Works, on behalf of the State, were valid. The Constitution provided:

"The State may contract debts to supply deficits or failures in revenues, or to meet expenses not otherwise provided for; but the aggregate amount of such debt * * * shall never exceed seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars," etc.

The aggregate of the contracts made, was in the amount of $1,375,000. They were held to be invalid.

In In Re Appropriation by General Assembly, 22 Pac. 464 (Colo.) it is held:

"Debts to provide for casual deficiencies of the revenue cannot be contracted by the State in excess of the limit prescribed in Section 3, Article II, Constitution. A casual definciency of the revenue is one that happens by chance or accident, and without design or intention to evade the constitutional inhibition."

But in that state the Constitution prohibited appropriations in excess of the revenue.

In State vs. State Board of Examiners, 197 Pac. 988, 993, (Mont.), it was said:

"Clearly the character of debts prohibited by the Constitution in excess of $100,000.00 without majority approval of the people at a general election are such as pass the limit of available cash on hand and revenue for which adequate provision has been made by law for the two-year period intervening between regular sessions of the legislative assembly."

Other cases which have come to our knowledge and which may bear upon this side of the subject are the following:

State of Utah ex rel. vs. Candland, 24 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1260, 1268, was an application to compel compliance with the provisions of an Act which authorized and directed the Regents of the University of Utah to expend $250,000 for a building, etc. It was contended that the Act was in conflict with the Constitution, which provided that the State may contract debts to repel invasion, suppress insurrection or defend the State in war, but when the said territorial indebtedness shall have been paid, the State shall never contract any indebtedness (with certain exceptions) in excess of the sum of two hundred thousand dollars. In denying relief, the Court said:

"In other words, in order to constitute an indebtedness within the provisions of the constitutional limitations, it is not necessary that the debt be evidenced by bonds, notes, or other usual evidences of indebtedness, but it is sufficient if, in order to discharge the debt, the State is obligated to pay it at some future time, and that it casts a future burden upon the taxpayer to the extent of a debt or obligation which must be paid by the State of Utah with funds derived from general taxation."

See also Lewis vs. Brady (Idaho), 104 Pac. 900, 28 L. R. A. (N. S.) 149.

On the other hand, there are a number of authorities which sustain the statement in 23 R. C. L. page 397, as follows:

"An appropriation may be of such a character as to have all the essential elements of a contract, and in such a case unquestionably it would be a debt; but where it merely authorizes the payment of a gratuity, or is made in support of one of the state institutions, or to create or maintain a useful arm of the state government, or to defray the ordinary or current expenses of the state, it does not constitute a debt such as may be prohibited by constitutional provisions."

The case of Rhea vs. Newman (Ky.) 44 L. R. A. (NS) 98 was an action to compel the State Treasurer to indorse certain warrants issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts so that they would thereby become interest bearing warrants. There being no funds in the Treasurer's hands to pay the same, the Treasurer contended that the warrants were void because, when issued, the indebtedness of the Commonwealth would exceed the sum of $500,000, the limit provided by the Constitution. In reviewing what was said in the case of James vs. State University, 114 S. W. 772, the Court said:

"It is, we think, further manifest that appropriations such as these cannot fairly be said to create an indebtedness against the Commonwealth, for they may be discontinued, reduced, or changed at the pleasure of the Legislature, or that body might at its next session repeal the act as to so much of the appropriations as would then remain unpaid; but these things could not be done if the appropriation were a debt." * * *

The distinction here pointed out by the court, as to the legal nature and effect of an appropriation, is necessarily sound, for, when we speak of one being indebted, we contemplate the state of his being under obligations to make payment, as of money, or services, to another.

"We do not mean to be understood as saying that an appropriation may not constitute a debt. It may be of such a character as to have all the essential elements of a contract, and in such a case unquestionably it would be a debt; but, under the authorities quoted above, an appropriation which merely authorizes the payment of a gratuity, or is made in support of one of the state institutions, or to create or maintain a useful arm of the State government, or to defray the ordinary or current expenses of the State, does not constitute a debt such as is prohibited by Section 49 of the Constitution. This view is fully sustained by the language of this Court in James vs. State University, supra, where after a full consideration of the question, we reached the following conclusion: 'Whether, therefore, an appropriation is a debt in the meaning of sections 49 and 50 of the Constitution, must depend upon the character of the appropriation, and the manner of its payments.'"

In the case of Stein vs. Morrison (Idaho), 75 Pac. 246, the court held that an appropriation did not constitute a debt or liability against the State within the provisions of the Constitution but rather operated upon the incoming revenue in the nature of a cash transaction.

In the case of Ingram vs. Colgan, 106 Cal. 113, 117, it is said:

"It is not essential to its (appropriation's) validity that funds to meet the same should be at the time in the treasury. As a matter of fact there have seldom been in the treasury the necessary funds to meet the several amounts appropriated under the general appropriation acts of each year. The appropriation is made in anticipation of the receipt of the yearly revenues. It constitutes, indeed, the authority of the controller to draw his warrants, and of the treasurer, when in funds to pay the same, and that is all."

In the case of the People vs. Board of Supervisors, 52 N. Y. 556, the Court said:

"Laws making annual appropriations do not and cannot create debts of the state, within Article VII, Section 4, of the Constitution. They are only effective against funds at the disposal of the Legislature; beyond that they are nullities and create no debt."

And in the same case it is also said:

"Subsequent legislatures can, if the objects of the appropriations are deemed worthy, give effect to them by providing the means and directing their payment, but the discretion and responsibility is with them as if no former appropriations had been made. No duty or obligation is devolved upon them by the acts of their predecessors."

In the case of Eastern and Western Lumber Co. vs. Patterson, et. al. (Ore.) 264 Pac. 441, the Legislature appropriated money for an industrial accident fund to construct an office building and the Court held that the appropriation did not create a debt, saying:

"The plaintiffs declare that the employment of this money in this manner will create a debt. To have that effect, we must find present three necessary elements; a debtor, a creditor, a promise to pay".

In State ex rel. vs. Johnson (Wis.), 176 N. W. 224, the validity of what was known as the Wisconsin Educational Bonus Act was attacked and the Court said:

"It is also urged that * * * a state debt is incurred contrary to the provisions of sections 3 and 4, Article VIII of the Constitution. The money is levied for the purpose of making a gift, a pure gratuity, revocable at will. The law establishes no contract relation such as can compel its levy; nor does it create a debt. State ex rel. Owen vs. Donald, 160 Wis. 21, 59, 151 N. W. 331 * * * The State does not lend its credit or create a debt within the meaning of the Constitution by making a voluntary lawful gift to a number of its citizens".

In the case of Quill vs. City of Indianapolis, 23 N. E. 788, the Court held that certain municipal bonds and certificates payable out of a special fund did not constitute an indebtedness under the Constitution, saying:

"An indebtedness cannot arise unless there is either a legal, equitable, or moral obligation to pay a sum of money to another, who occupies the relation of a creditor, and who has a legal or moral right to call upon or constrain the debtor to pay, State vs. Hawes, 112 Ind. 323, 11 West. Rep. 845. It is not always essential to the existence of the indebtedness that there should be an obsolete legal right to coerce payment, as in that sense the State could never become indebted: Mayor of Baltimore vs. Gill, 31 Md. 375. It is, however, essential to the idea of a debt that an obligation should have arisen out of a contract, express or implied, which entitled the holder thereof unconditionally to receive from the promisor a sum of money which the latter is under a legal or moral duty to pay without regard to any future contingency".

One of the purposes for the creation of the debt under the said section is to supply casual deficiencies of revenue. These would principally be created by appropriations in excess of the revenues of the Commonwealth; another is to pay existing indebtedness. A distinction herein was drawn by the framers of the Constitution from which we must conclude that they did not regard casual deficiencies of revenue as a debt and also that they expected that such deficiencies would accrue. We have no constitutional provision as a number of other states have against the appropriation by the Legislature of a greater sum of money than the revenues will amount to in a given time. So that there might be some control over the Legislature, a further provision was inserted in the said section, to the effect that the debt created to supply deficiencies in revenue shall never exceed the aggregate at any one time, one million dollars.

To hold that an Act appropriating money is invalid because there are not and will not be in the prescribed time sufficient available funds to meet the amount of the appropriations would lead to startling conclusions. Assuming that the fiscal officers estimated the biennium receipts at $200,000,000 and the Governor approved bills for $50,000,000, and afterwards approved the general appropriation bill carrying $175,000,000, it would follow that the general appropriation bill would be unconstitutional and void because in addition to the other appropriation bills already passed, the estimate of the said officers would be much exceeded.

It is a matter of common knowledge that in each legislative session the appropriations made are greater than the estimated revenues. If the Governor did not reduce such appropriations before approving the bills then every appropriation act in excess of the limit would be void if the contention of the defendant is correct.

In the case of Commonwealth vs. Barnett, 199 Pa. 16, upon which the Attorney General relies, the Legislature passed a bill which contained an appropriation of $11,000,000 for the support of the public schools. The Governor approved the appropriation to the extent of $10,000,000 and disapproved the balance, $1,000,000.

Mr. Justice Mitchell in writing the opinion for the majority of the Supreme Court said, page 175:

"Suppose the Legislature should appropriate a sum for school purposes exceeding by more than $1,000,000 the entire revenue of the state. It would be the Governor's duty to veto it to prevent the creation of a prohibited debt".

What he said here has great weight with us, but it must be observed that the Court did not then have before it the precise question of an appropriation act creating an indebtedness which now confronts us, and what was then said was not necessary to the decision and may be regarded as dicta.

We are admonished by what Mr. Justice Simpson said in the case of Hill vs. Houpt, 292 Pa. 339, 342:

"What is actually decided is the law applicable to the particular facts; all other legal conclusions therein are but obiter dicta, though they may be entitled to great consideration because of the high standing of the tribunal announcing them".

After carefully considering all of the authorities we are of the opinion that the weight of them leads to the conclusion that the Act in question does not create a debt of the Commonwealth and does not violate Article IX, Section 4 of the Constitution.

In the view which we take of the case, the evidence to determine whether there will be sufficient revenues to pay the appropriation in question is incompetent and irrevelant. The exception to it is sustained and the evidence is excluded.

But even assuming that we are wrong in our conclusion that this Act does not create a debt, within the constitutional provision under consideration, we are nevertheless of opinion, as we have hereinafter indicated, that the exercise of the police power to meet the emergency which the Legislature has declared, is paramount to this provision of the Constitution.

5. It is contended that the statute is a local or special law regulating the affairs of counties and therefore in violation of Article III Section 7 of the Constitution.

What right has the Secretary of Welfare to raise this question, or be solicitous as to whether this law regulates "the affairs of counties"? It is now settled beyond question that "a court will never heed objections to the constitutionality of an Act of Assembly unless the complainants are affected by the particular feature alleged to be in conflict with the Constitution; furthermore, it is always essential for a complainant to show that he occupies such a position." Commonwealth vs. Dollars Savings Bank, 259 Pa. 138, 146.

In Bartholomew's P. E. Church Charter, 260 Pa. 284, 288, it is said that "constitutional questions can be raised only by one materially prejudiced." See, also, Knowles' Est. 295 Pa. 571, 582; Mesta Machine Co. vs. Dunbar Ins. Co. 250 Pa. 472, 476; Commonwealth vs. Haldeman, 288 Pa. 81, 83; National Automobile Service, Inc. vs. Barford, 288 Pa. 227, 229; Reeves vs. Phila. Sub. Water Co., 288 Po. 418, 420; Commonwealth vs. Loftus, 292 Pa. 395, 398.

Even granting that the Secretary of Welfare is a State official charged with certain duties, she is not concerned with "the affairs of counties" in this regard. We must assume that any Act "regulating the affairs of counties" does not adversely affect her in the administration of her official duties unless such effect is shown. No county is complaining that this Act is a special and local law regulating its affairs. While the Secretary of Welfare may, we think, fairly raise certain other constitutional questions which have been raised in this case she is in no position to raise this one. However, we will consider the main question.

Counties may be classified by the Legislature, so also may school districts. Sugar Notch Borough, supra. The Constitution, in Article III, Section 34, provides for classification of municipalities for the purpose of general legislation for each class. All that is necessary is that the classification be based on germane and substantial distinctions and that the Act applies to all members of the class. Wheeler vs. Philadelphia, 77 Pa. 338; Sugar Notch Borough, supra.

Classification is a legislative question and where real distinctions are present, the courts have no power to interfere. Commonwealth ex rel. vs. Wert, 282 Pa. 575; Seabolt vs. Commissioners, 187 Pa. 318, 323; Mahon vs. Pa. Coal Co., 274 Pa. 489, 504.

The statute in question, if regarded as classifying counties for the purpose of allocating to all poor districts within the counties the proper proportion of the appropriation, has certainly based the classification on real and substantial distinctions. Counties in which the poor districts are coextensive with the counties are put in one class and the payments are to be made directly to such poor districts by the Department of Welfare. Counties in which the poor districts are not coextensive with the counties are put in another class. The Department of Welfare may have neither the information nor the machinery for properly determining how to cover the territory of such county so that the poor located therein may have allocated to them a proper proportion of the appropriation. In counties coextensive with cities there may be a number of poor districts within the territorial limits of the city, and the reason for a classification in that regard is apparent. That the city of Philadelphia happens for the moment to be the only one in the class does not make the classification bad as has been repeatedly decided. There is no constitutional inhibition for classification of poor districts for an incidental purpose, although Section 34 of Article III does not include them among the municipalities which may be classified for general legislation for each class. Insofar as this Act is a classification Act we find no fault with it. But we go further. We do not regard the Act as one regulating the affairs of counties. The mere fact that the State has chosen to use the treasury of certain counties wherein poor districts are not coextensive with the county, for the purpose of transmitting to such poor districts their proportion of the appropriation, hardly arises to the dignity of an affair of the county. It is so "de minimis", that we would be very astute in declaring that the Constitution has been violated because of this method of allocation.

6. The pleadings raised the question that the Act is an unconstitutional delegation of legislative power, but that question is not pressed.

For the foregoing reasons, we are of opinion that a mandamus must issue to the defendants to direct them to perform their duties imposed by the statute in question.

And now, February 15, 1932, a peremptory mandamus is hereby directed to issue, unless the issuance thereof be waived in writing, directing Alice F. Liveright, Secretary of Welfare of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Charles A. Waters, Auditor General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and Edward Martin, State Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to perform the duties imposed upon and required by each of them under the provisions of Act No. 7-E passed by the Special Session of the Legislature of 1931, which became a law without the signature of the Governor.

SUPREME COURT OF PENNSYLVANIA
MIDDLE DISTRICT

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, ex rel. William A. Schnader, Attorney General.
v.
Alice F. Liveright, Secretary of Welfare of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Charles A. Waters, Auditor General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and Edward Martin, State Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

No. 16, May Term, 1932.

Appeal from Judgment of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County.

OPINION OF THE COURT

KEPHART, J.

Appellants, the Secretary of Welfare, the Auditor General, and the State Treasurer, appeal from the award of a peremptory mandamus, directing them "to perform the duties imposed . . . . . by the Act" of December 28, 1931, P. L. 1503. The question involved is the constitutionality of this Act. It was sustained by the court below; and this appeal followed. The Governor, by proclamation, duly convened the Legislature in Special Session, and it passed the act now in question. Both the first and supplemental proclamations of the Governor will be found in the reporter's notes, as will also the Act of Assembly. There are many constitutional questions involved in this appeal, which will be disposed of in their order. In so doing, it must be borne in mind that: "In determining whether an act of Assembly is unconstitutional . . . . . It should not be so held unless it is clearly, strongly and imperatively prohibited. 'If the act is within the scope of legislative power, it must stand, and we are bound to make it stand if it will upon any intendment . . . . . Nothing but a clear violation of the Constitution,—a clear usurpation of power prohibited, will justify the judicial department in pronouncing an act of the legislative department unconstitutional and void'; P. R. R. Co. v. Riblet, 66 Pa. 164, 169. Every presumption should be indulged in its favor and one who claims an act is unconstitutional must prove his case beyond doubt: Collins v. Lewis, 276 Pa. 435, 438; Sinking Fund Cases, 99 U. S. 700; Mugler v. Kansas, 123 U. S. 623, 661"; Busser et al v. Snyder et al., 282 Pa. 440, 449 "It is the duty of every judge . . . . . to search for a construction which will support the legislative interpretation of the Constitution, and an act can never properly be declared void unless this is found to be impossible"; Commonwealth v. Hyneman, 242 Pa. 244, 164. A statute will be declared unconstitutional only "when it violates the Constitution clearly, palpably, plainly; and in such manner as to leave no doubt or hesitation" in the mind of the Court; Sharpless v. Philadelphia, 21 Pa. 147, 164. "An Act of the Legislature is not to be declared void, unless the violation of the Constitution is so manifest as to leave no room for reasonable doubt"; Commonwealth ex rel. O'Hara v. Smith, 4 Binn. 117, 123. "This utterance of one hundred years ago has been repeated times without number, down to the present hour, without shadow of turning"; Commonwealth v. Hyneman, supra, at p. 247.

Article III, Section 25 of the Constitution reads:

"When the General Assembly shall be convened in special session, there shall be no legislation upon subjects other than those designated in the proclamation of the Governor calling such session."

Was the legislation within the nineteen subjects designated in the proclamation?

This constitutional provision contemplates that there shall first exist in the executive mind a definite conception of the public emergency which demands an extraordinary session. His mental attitude or intention is expressed in his proclamation, the purpose of which is to inform the Members of the Legislature of subjects of legislation, and to advise the public generally that objections might be presented if desired. It is not only a guide or chart with respect to which the legislators may act, but also check restricting its action so that rights may not be affected without notice. The proclamation may contain many or few subjects according to the Governor's conception of the public need. While the subjects may be stated broadly or in general terms, the special business as applicable to the general subject on which legislation is desired should be designated, by imposing qualifying matter to reduce or restrict. Although the subjects should be sufficient to evoke intelligent and responsive action from the Legislature, it is not necessary that they include all the methods of accomplishment. The guiding principle in sustaining legislation of a special session is that it be germane to, or within, the apparent scope of the subjects which have been designated as proper fields for legislation. In construing a call the words of any portion thereof must be interpreted not only as commonly and universally understood, but as applicable to the subject intended to be affected by legislation.

While the Legislature must confine itself to the matters submitted, it need not follow the views of the Governor or legislate in any partcular way. Within the special business or designated subjects submitted, the Legislature cannot be restricted or dictated to by the Governor. It is a free agent, and the Governor under the guise of definition cannot direct or control its action. Nor is it confined to any one subject but may chose from parts of different subjects, provided a new subject unrelated to those stated is not acted upon: Chicago, B. & Q. R. R. Co. vs. Wolfe, 61 Neb. 502, 86 N. W. 441. Unless these rules be followed, the constitutional mandate is entirely disregarded and its entire purpose falls. Its mandate is imperative and must be enforced: Pittsburgh's Petition, 217 Pa. 227, 230.

Though to have defined generally the rules applicable, it is frequently difficult to determine just what legislation is valid under a given subject or subjects designated in the call. A few illustrations will be enlightening. A subject may be so broad or general, having so many ramifications, that the special matter in relation thereto on which legislation is desired must be stated in the call.[1] Though a general subject is stated through a specification of a particular matter in connection therewith, this does not open the door for any legislation germane to the general subject beyond the scope of the specification. It must be confined to the specialized matter as interpreted in view of the general subject.[2] The cases cited in the note illustrate not only that legislation clearly outside the special matter, though related to the general subject, will not be sustained, but that where a general subject has been dealt with by naming a particular matter relating thereto, the call cannot further restrict the legislation within that subject.[3] The subject must be stated with some particularity, but within the specified subject the Legislature is fully empowered to act, just as they are forbidden to act when the general subject is not particularized. There are some decisions[4] which go to the extent of holding that when a general subject is mentioned, the doors are thrown open to legislation on that subject, but these authorities appear to be in the minority and are opposed to the well-considered opinions of other states.

Woolen v. Tenn., supra, an authority stressed by both sides, best sums up the general rules, stating:

> "All (the cases) provide that the Governor may confine the Legislature, called in special session to such subjects of legislation as he may prescribe, which limitations he may make operative . . . . . All the cases agree that, while the Governor may limit the subjects of legislation, he cannot dictate to the Legislature the special legislation they shall enact on those subjects. In all of them the inquiry is finally reduced to the ascertainment of the subject or subjects embraced in the call . . . . . determined by an analysis and construction of that paper as in the case of any other written instrument, and by a like analysis and contruction of the legislation drawn in question for the purpose of deciding whether it is embraced within the call, or message."

With this general survey of the matter in mind, we now discuss the Governor's proclamation. The court below stated that though none of the subjects designated by the Governor "included an appropriation of money such as was made in the Act of Assembly before us," as the entire proclamation stated one broad general subject, "unemployment relief," any legislation germane to that subject might be considered. The Governor, by his proclamation, had indicated nineteen specific subjects of legislation, six of which related to unemployment relief. Unemployment is a broad and difficult subject and its relief more so. To be helpful as a designated subject for legislation at a special session, it

Note 1: Thus under a call for legislation "in any wise affecting corporations," a law requiring railroads to fence their right-of-ways, was passed. The call was too broad, covered too wide a field and in effect named no subject, hence the act fell: Denver Co. v. Moss, 50 Colo. 282, 115 Pac. 696; Nielson v. C. B. & Q. R. R. Co., 187 Fed. 393.

Note 2: Thus where a call for an appropriation to maintain certain government agencies was followed by an appropriation for a National Conservation Exposition, the general subject (appropriations) was narrowed and limited by the specific matter to which attention was called, and the above appropriations was held invalid: (State v. Woolen, 128 Tenn. 87, 161 S. W. 1008.) A call for a law on the subject of the erection of county bridges would not open the door for any legislation on the general subject of bridges under the county control; therefore acts concerning their repairs or safety were not good: (Fayette Co. v. County Commissioners, 35 C. C. 401.) A call to enact legislation for the consolidation of contiguous cities in the same county did not permit legislation for consolidating cities generally or cities in close proximity: (Pittsburgh's Petition, supra.) A call to enact road laws for one county did not include the regulation of turn-pikes generally: (Columbia, etc. v. Hughes, 174 S. W. 1108.) A call for legislation relative to the use of money in political campaigns and requiring a report from political committees would not open for legislation the general subject of elections: (Lyken's petition, 223 Pa. 488.)

Note 3: A call to simplify court procedure was, however, sufficient to include as an act regulating the length of the terms of the court: (Long v. State, 58 Tex. Cr. R. 209, 127 S. W. 208); and a call to amend attachment laws of the state by striking out named sections was in itself sufficient to include other causes of attachments; the specific subject of causes of attachment could not be further limited to those named by the Governor in the call: (In re Governor's Proclamation, 19 Colo. 333, 35 Pac. 530.) A call to amend the Australian ballot law in certain particulars permitted other amendments than those specified. The Australian ballot law was itself part of a general subject, election laws. Thus specialized in the call, the Governor could not restrict the legislation on such a specific subject: (People v. District Court, 23 Colo. 150, 46 Pac. 681.) So a call for laws relating to compromising municipal debts gave implied authority to repeal certain acts necessary to reach compromises: (Devereaux v. City of Brownsville, 29 Fed. 742.)

Note 4: See Baldwin v. State, 21 Tex. 591, 3 S. W. 109, where the call was for legislation to reduce taxation, and the legislation imposed a new tax on a new subject, and it was upheld, the Court saying the whole subject of taxation was before the Legislature. So in the same state a call seeking the prohibition of the sale of liquor within ten miles of a military camp was held to have opened the subject of general prohibition, permitting as a state-wide prohibition law: (Ex Parte Davis 215 S. W. 341.)

would need some specialization, in the absence of which almost every kind of legislation might be indulged in by the General Assembly; such as laws concerning taxation, appropriations, hours of labor, regulation of business affairs of individuals and corporations. Indeed, to construe the Constitution so as to permit this latitude would be subversive of its purpose, contrary to its letter and its spirit, and opposed to the principles outlined in the best considered authorities. Such construction would mean that the call could furnish no guide or chart for the Legislature, and could give no notice to the interested public. If this channel was the only way the bill could be sustained, in line with the authorities or other states, we would unhesitatingly declare it void. But we need not do this.

Having designated a channel of legislation through the subjects submitted to the Legislature, it need not, in keeping within these subjects, be bound in the manner, method, or means of accomplishment as stated or implied in the subjects: Likins' Petition, supra, but it may, within a prescribed subject, add thereto, or modify or enlarge it so that, not losing its intimate relation with the subject designated, thus accomplishing the purpose set forth in the particularization of the general subject designated in the call, State v. Pugh, 252 252, Pac. 1018.

The preamble to the proclamation is an expression of the motive which impelled the Governor to act, and recites that "the first duty of the Commonwealth is to safeguard the people and to make secure the lives, the liberties, and the happiness of men, women, and children." It goes on, "The right to work for a living is part of the right to live," and sums up, "the welfare of the people in this Commonwealth, as in the United States at large, is endangered by the prevailing unemployment, which has deprived one-quarter of the workers of Pennsylvania of the opportunity to earn a living and this fact constitutes a binding obligation to act upon every unit of government, from the least to the greatest." To act on what? The answer is obvious, unemployment, the subject the Governor had been speaking about, and which was depriving one-quarter of our workers of the opportunity to earn a living. This was obviously his major purpose in summoning the Legislature. It was not his whole purpose as other matters were submitted but there cannot be the slightest doubt that unemployment relief was the chief thought in the Governor's mind. Did the Governor, in carrying out this purpose submit such subjects for legislation as sustain Act 7-E?

The subjects as related to the preamble, are as follows:

"The creation of a State Commission . . . . . (to) cooperate with counties . . . . . and poor districts in affording relief to the unemployed and their families"; An act "authorizing counties . . . . . and poor districts . . . . . to negotiate emergency loans for unemployment relief;" "authorizing counties . . . . . and poor districts to levy taxes and expend money for unemployment relief"; "permitting local authorities under certain conditions to postpone tax sales during periods of economic depression and unemployment"; "making new appropriations to . . . . . and department . . . . . of the State government . . . . . to enable additional projects to be undertaken which will give work to the unemployed."

These channels of legislation having been pointed out, did the Legislature go beyond the call to such an extent as to make its Act 7-E invalid? The Act states that:

"Conditions of unemployment aggravate the normal situation facing public authorities charged with the care of the poor"; Section 1 that . . . . . "in the assumption by the Commonwealth of its duty to the care of the poor, the sum of $10,000,000 is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Welfare for payment to political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor." Section 2 provides; "The Department of Welfare shall make an allocation . . . . . of monies . . . . . on a ratio that the estimated number of unemployed persons in a county bears to the estimated total number of unemployed persons in the entire Commonwealth." Section 4 provides: "Each political subdivison charged by law with the care of the poor shall have authority . . . . . to expend the moneys received from the appropriation made by this act for the purpose of providing food, clothing, fuel and shelter for residents within their district who are without means of support."

It is urged that the Act does not give unemployment relief, but poor relief, and in this view is not within the call. What is meant when the Governor's call states a "commission . . . . .(to) cooperate with . . . . . poor districts in affording relief to the unemployed" and an act authorizing "poor districts to levy taxes and expend money for unemployment relief"? The Governor's call shows his intention to be that unemployment relief should be taken up by poor districts and that the state should aid them. The powers of poor districts are and always have been limited to furnishing support, food, clothing, fuel and shelter, to poor persons without means of support, and to no others. The only possible way open to a poor district to furnish relief to the unemployed would be when the unemployed were poor persons within the law. The Governor did not intend, nor did his call include an unlawful purpose or one prohibited by the Constitution; he did not intend to include the unemployed who had means of support, the unemployed who were not poor persons under the law. Such being the consequences of his deliberate acts he must have meant unemployment relief in the sense of poor relief as it was the only relief the poor boards could give. When the Governor used the term "unemployment relief" in connection with poor districts, he meant persons who were unemployed and without means of support, or poor persons, and the relief to be given was poor relief.

The legislature, recognizing the Governor's idea was that unemployment relief should be handled through the poor districts, aided through borrowed money and a State Commission, decided that aid could be more promptly and effectively given through an appropriation as in Act 7-E. The fact that the Act may include in addition to the vast number of unemployed without means of support, or poor persons, a small number of poor persons who are such from other causes, should not invalidate the Act as being without the call especially as the Governor well knew in suggesting poor districts furnish unemployment relief that such class must of necessity be included. It does not introduce a new subject as unemployment relief meant poor relief and such inclusion was clearly within the legislative power. See authorities, supra, Note 3, also last paragraph of this opinion.

The legislature determined to do this in Act 7-E by using existing agencies of the State and counties, and to furnish aid to the unemployed through the poor districts, as the State agency. The legislature used its own method of accomplishing the Governor's purposes designated in the call.

The General Assembly was not bound to enact legislation covering one entire subject. An act may look to one subject to sustain part of it and to another subject to sustain another part; provided it does not, however, distort the subjects into an unrecognizable shape and create a new subject: Chicago, B. and Q. R. R. Co. v. Wolfe, 86 N. W. 441. Then too, the legislature has implied powers to make legislation within the subject effective as such by enacting other legislation that will accomplish that purpose: Devereaux v. City of Brownsville, supra. Such legislation must be clearly relevant for that purpose.

The Act was proper under the subjects as stated, and there was another part of the call which authorized an appropriation for new plans to give work to the unemployed. Turning again to Section 4 of the Supplemental proclamation, we find the legislature may make "new appropriations to . . . any department . . . of the State government . . . to enable additional projects (plans) to be undertaken which will give work to the unemployed." Construe the word "work" as synonymous with the word "relief" in the light of the preamble and the subjects above mentioned in which unemployment relief was the dominant purpose. It does not strain the imagination to say that "give work to the unemployed" may include provisions enabling the unemployed to secure work by taking care of their bodies. A man's ability to work depends upon his physical condition. A man that is starved is not able to work, and the first step to bring him into condition to work, is to feed him. The word "work" may well be used in the sense of relief, and is so used; and since the words "unemployed" apply to those who have no sustenance on which to live, then this subject covers the Act. The tenor of the call being unemployment relief, which is poor relief, this thought naturally follows.

Section 4 designates as its subject an appropriation to the Department of Welfare. The Talbot Act appropriates to that Department and for a plan not heretofore undertaken by the State.

Complaint is made that the appropriation was not given to the Department of Welfare, but to another agency of government, but this cannot be correct. The bill gives $10,000,000 to the Department of Welfare, which must perform certain duties in relation thereto. Instead of permitting that Department to be the spending agency, as the legislature may well have done, it designated other governmental agencies which, under that department, spend the money. This is merely another detail of accomplishment of the designated purpose, and is purely a legislative matter, embracing the manner, method, or means by which the money may reach its ultimate destination to accomplish the purpose designated in the call. The Act must be construed, if at all possible, as an efficient, workable system, which we find it to be. No doubt it could have been better drafted but there are no manifest imperfections of substance which would defeat the full accomplishment of the end sought to be attained.

From all that we have stated above Act 7-E is within the designated subjects mentioned in the call.

Article IX, Section 4 of the Constitution provides:

> "No debt shall be created by or on behalf of the State, except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue, repel, invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, or to pay existing debt; and the debt created to supply deficiencies in revenue shall never exceed, in the aggregate at any one time, one million dollars. . . . . ."

The balance of estimated revenue for the biennium, after the regular session of the legislature, was $192,915,000, and the authorized appropriations were $192,394,000. At the special session, prior to the Talbot Bill, $716,000 was appropriated; with it the appropriations of that session totaled $10,716,000. Defendants contend that since the appropriation made by this bill, with prior appropriations already made, exceeded the estimated revenues for the biennium, the excess appropriations were invalid.

The court below held that though strict constitutional limitations were imposed on municipalities in the creation of debts, this was not so with respect to the sovereign state; that there was no limitation to the debt the latter might incur except when created to supply deficiencies in revenue. This conclusion is erroneous. Under Article IX, Section 4, the creation of a debt without the direct sanction of the people is not only limited, but absolutely prohibited, except to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, supply deficiencies in revenue up to $1,000,000, and construct highways; and for the latter purpose the limit is $100,000,000. Under the constitution, neither the legislature, the officers or agents of the State, nor all combined, can create a debt or incur an obligation for or on behalf of the State except to the amount and in the manner provided for in the fundamental law. This section was intended to restrict legislative acts which incurred obligations or permitted engagements on the credit of the State beyond revenue in hand or anticipated through a biennium, and establishes the principle that we must keep within current revenue and $1,000,000. There can be no such thing as a floating debt created through appropriations in excess of revenues and $1,000,000. Such debt may not be directly incurred by statute, nor through an appropriation in excess of current revenue for a gratuity of any purpose. The determination of the question whether Act 7-E creates a debt necessitates a study of the Constitution as it relates to revenues and appropriations.

Legislative power is vested in the General Assembly by Article II, Section 1, and its power is supreme on all such subjects unless limited by the Constitution. The control of the State's finances is entirely in the legislature subject only to these constitutional limitations; and, except as thus restricted, is absolute. Unless expressly prohibited or otherwise directed by that instrument, appropriations may be made for whatever purposes and in whatever amounts the lawmaking body finds desirable. The legislature in appropriating is supreme within the limits of the revenue and moneys at its disposal.

Among constitutional requirements is the provision (Article IX, Section 12) that "The monies of the State, over and above the necessary reserve, shall be used in the payment of the debt of the State, either directly or through the sinking fund," and by Article IX, Section 13, "The monies held as necessary reserve shall be limited by law to the amount required for current expenses." We had a State debt when the Constitution was adopted and the money required to pay that debt, or any State debt, was supplied, inter alia, by the assignment to the sinking fund of any part of the revenue over and above ordinary and current expenses of government. A survey of the Constitution would indicate that the ordinary current expenses of government would be the expenses of the executive, judicial, and legislative departments of government, and of public schools, as provided for in that instrument. It was the intention of the framers of the fundamental law to safeguard and protect these ordinary expenses that the government might exist as such. Therefore, they have a preference or prior claim on all moneys of the Commonwealth over all other expenditures, expenses, debts, or appropriations. We have so held with regard to such expenses of municipalities, "Current expenses have first claim on ordinary revenues and contemplate operating expenses," Georges Township v. Union Trust Co., 293 Pa. 364, 370. The Constitution requires a reserve to be set up sufficient to take care of these preferred claims, and that such reserve be limited by law; but if the legislature fails to so limit it, it is the duty of the fiscal officers to safeguard the ordinary current monthly expenses of government.

The provision relative to the sinking fund state debt requires only $250,000 annually to be paid, and the transfer of a part of the revenue to that fund; that part, of course, being in the discretion of the legislature. But the ordinary expenses of government and the sinking fund payment are not the only preferred claims on revenues thus established and first entitled to payment. Article III, Section 17, permits moneys to be given to charities and normal schools, money for charities if passed by a two-third vote. Money given to normal schools has priority on the general fund over an appropriation to charities, etc.: McLeod v. Central Normal School Association, 152 Pa. 575, 589. The balance of the general revenue, subject to constitutional limitations, is in the absolute and complete control of the General Assembly. It follows that it may create preferential appropriations for any purpose which, in its judgment, it deems necessary in the interest of government, and such appropriations would have a claim on this surplus prior to other appropriations not so favored. See State v. Burke, infra. It may be the question of unfair classification might affect these preferences, but there is reasonable and proper basis for it in this Act. Any appropriation which embodies an intention to pay the amount therein stated before any other appropriation made at the same session of the legislature or any appropriation which stipulates the time at or within which it must be paid, will take rank as an appropriation next to the ordinary expenses of government. Priority is a question of intention and prior claims rank equally unless there is an intention shown to the contrary or expressed through the Constitution.

The fiscal officers of the Commonwealth are required to treat such appropriations as having such priority, provided always, that at the time payment is directed, there are funds available in the treasury to meet such payment above all requirements for the current expenses of government. No administrative custom or scheme of payments under unpreferred appropriations will avoid these consequences or that of a deliberate legislative act in preferring an appropriation. If other appropriations are compelled to suffer because of this preference, the complete answer is that it is the legislative will, and as the sovereign people have thus spoken through their designated agent, no one can complain. If appropriations for other charities and hospitals, equally as meritorious and perhaps some more deserving, are made to suffer because of insufficient revenue, the fault lies with the legislature in not providing means when it had the opportunity. If there are ample funds on hand, of course, or if funds later become available, no difficulty will be experienced.

The Talbot bill, known as Act 7-E, specifically appropriates $10,000,000, to the Department of Welfare, and contains a mandatory direction to the State Treasurer to pay certain sums at fixed periods: $1,000,000, in December, 1931, $2,000,000, in each of the succeeding four months, and the remaining and final $1,000,000, in May, 1932. The amount, the time and the purpose of payment, are thus definitely stated in the Act. The legislature intended these payments to take priority over other payments at the times mentioned, and the purpose stated in the Act furnishes a reasonable basis for such action. When we as judges consider this mandate it is of no moment to us acting in a judicial capacity that other appropriations may suffer. To effectuate its purpose, it was not necessary for the legislature to expressly state, "this appropriation shall take precedence over all other appropriations;" that is done by the Act's mandatory provisions, which accomplish the same result. We assume the legislature must have considered the possible revenues when it issued its mandatory decree to the State Treasurer to pay this money as it directed, and that it also considered the condition of the treasury.

But, it is urged, that notwithstanding this preference, the legislature had already appropriated all the estimated revenues at the general session, and that as there were no funds or anticipated revenues against which this appropriation could be preferred, it is void. But this contention wholly overlooks the fact that under our financial scheme of goverment, while the receipts of revenue come in daily or yearly, our fiscal period is biennial, and revenues for that period are the subject of legislative distribution. This can only be made from revenue accruing during the biennium, and any other available cash assets on hand that may be used for that purpose. From this sum all appropriations, whether made at a general or special session must be met. An appropriation does not speak from the date of approval of the measures, but from a consideration of that appropriation and other appropriations during the same biennium, and the estimated revenue; and if there is a shortage of revenue beyond $1,000,000, it is not a given appropriation, the last one made, that is singled out for rejection by the fiscal officers, but all must suffer alike and abate proportionately. If the budget is not balanced by the Governor, then all appropriations must suffer proportionately except those in the preferred class. There is no priority among appropriations of the same class in any one biennium.

> "Statutes enacted at the same session of the legislature should receive a construction if possible, which will give effect to each. They are within the reason of the rule governing the construction of statutes in part materia. Each is supposed to speak the mind of the same legislature, and the words in each should be qualified and restricted, if necessary, in their construction and effect, so as to give validity and effect to every other act passed at the same session." White v. Meadville, 177 Pa. 643.

Therefore, appropriations made at a special session must be considered in connection with and in relation to appropriations of the general session just as new revenue is included in and is a part of the general revenue for two year period.

State v. Burke, 37 Va. Ann. 433 (1855) illustrates appropriation preference and abatement. There the relator endeavored to have a warrant paid and alleged that the State Treasurer was about to pay other warrants in preference to his. The appropriations exceeded the revenue and the Treasurer pointed out that all could not be paid, and that certain were entitled to preference because such was "expressly given by legislative act" or because they were in support of institutions recognized by the Constitution. The court said:

> "All warrants, except the two classes (constitutional and universities) whose rank has already been settled, are ordinary warrants of the same rank, and are entitled to a pro rata distribution of the funds on which they are drawn, unless the legislature expressly gives some a preference over others. When an appropriation has been made which the legislature can constitutionally make and a preference in payment of it over all others or over certain others has been accorded by the Act, we do not conceive that the judiciary can control the legislative will in that regard." See also Stuart v. Nance, 63 Pac. 323.

To give affect to the Talbot bill it was not necessary that there should be a specific repeal of any particular prior appropriation. The Act itself effected a repeal of so much of other appropriations not in its class as would be necessary to make good this express mandate of the legislature. The result is that a debt is not and cannot be created by merely making appropriations which direct expenditures in excess of anticipated revenue, and the legislature cannot make it so. Appropriations in excess of estimated revenues and $1,000,000 are simply ineffective, they incur no liability or obligation on the part of the State, they simply abate pro rata to be within biennium receipts and cash in hand.

With this determination of the case, we will not undertake to review the many authorities from other states cited by counsel where through contractual obligations debts were or would be precipitated on the state in violation of its constitution: State of Ohio v. Medbery, 7 Ohio State 522; Newell v. People, 7 N. Y. 9; In Re Advisory Opinion to Governor, 114 So. 850 (Fla.); nor from those states which have constitutional restrictions on appropriations in excess of current income: In Re State Warrants, 62 N. W. 101 (S. D.); State v. Kenney, 26 Pac. 383 (Mont.); In re Appropriations by General Assembly, 22 Pac. 464 (Colo.); Parks v. Commissioners of Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, 43 Pac. 542 (Colo.). An appropriation may contain in it all the elements of a contract which, when carried through, may of itself create a debt. On the other hand, where the appropriation authorizes the payment of a gratuity, it is not a debt within the meaning of the Constitution, if there is not sufficient revenue provided to meet it, and a debt must not be created either by issuing warrants, lending credit, borrowing or otherwise to meet it, such appropriation, or such part of it that cannot be met, simply falls. It is invalid.

The record shows that on June 1, 1931, the State had cash in the bank amounting to more than $49,000,000, and since that date up to December 31, 1931, when this first payment was due under the Talbot bill, revenue had been collected up to another $49,000,000 or a total of $98,000,000, more than half of the anticipated revenue for the biennium. It is apparent there was a prim facie right on the part of the appellees to have their claim paid, and it follows that no objection could successfully be made against this appropriation on account of Article IX, Section 4.

Article III, Section 18 of the Constitution provides:

> "No appropriations, except for pensions or gratuities for military services, shall be made for charitable, educational or benevolent purposes, to any person or community, nor to any denominational or sectarian institution, corporation or association."

It is the contention of the Attorney General that Act 7-E violates this provision of the Constitution in that the counties or poor districts which receive the money must be classed as communities, having been so defined by this court; than an appropriation to be used in the discretion of such recipients is an appropriation for a charitable or benevolent purpose; and further, that relief to the poor is a matter of local concern.

May these contentions be sustained in light of the construction which the above section of the Constitution has received by this court? Act 7-E provides for poor relief. Is this a proper subject for legislative action? In Busser v. Snyder, 282 Pa. 440, where we considered an old age pension act, we held that the test for persons entitled to poor relief was, were they persons without means of support? The Act there provided for discretionary payment of $1.00 a day to those of seventy years or upwards whose incomes did not exceed $365.00 a year and whose property did not exceed in value $3,000. An effort was made to bring this class of persons under the poor laws, but we held that the persons entitled to old age pensions by that Act were not poor persons within the meaning of our poor laws; (i. e., persons without means of support), certainly not where the Act included citizens able to help themselves, who had estates up to $3,000 and incomes up to $365.00 a year. It does not require much imagination to show the contrast between the persons considered in Busser v. Snyder, supra, under the Act of 1923, and those entitled to relief under the poor laws. We further held in that case that the money proposed to be given under the old age pension was a benevolence and that the persons who were to receive it were persons or a community within the Constitution. The terms, persons or community, were not limited to a single person or place, but were used in an inclusive sense relating to groups or classes of persons wherever they might be in any part of the State. We held the Act unconstitutional as an effort to give the State's bounty to a definite class of persons who had means of support, and if Act 7-E was a parallel to that Act, we would unhesitatingly decide the same way. But it is not.

As pointed out in Busser v. Snyder, supra, there is a vast distinction between the two subjects under consideration insofar as they relate to the constitutional prohibition. Poor persons, as understood by our laws, were always considered in an entirely different aspect from members of the public who had means of support. We will here again briefly discuss what we there stated as to keeping those historically known as poor persons, which was as follows:

> "There is no direct prohibition against the use of state money to pay for the care and maintenance of indigent, infirm and mentally defective persons, without ability or means to sustain themselves, and other charges of like nature. They become direct charges on the body politic for its own preservation and protection. As such, in the light of an expense they stand exactly in the same position as the preservation of law and order. To provide institutions or to compensate such institution for the care and maintenance of this class of persons has for a long time been recognized as a governmental duty and . . . . . such appropriations may well be sustained on this theory."

This was said in defense of appropriations to non-denominational and other institutions and persons, a comparison having been drawn between the use of State money as provided for in the old age pension act and the use of State money by hospitals, old age homes, for treatment of poor persons. To expend money for such purposes has long been recognized as a function of government, only the manner of its administration is restricted by Section 18 of Article III. Busser v. Snyder, supra, restates what was said in Collins v. State Treasurer, 271 Pa. 428, 433, as to the use of the State's money and the intent of the constitutional prohibition. Then later on (in Busser v. Snyder,) speaking on the same subject, the use of State money for the poor, we said:

"The thing which for more than two hundred years fixed the charge (poor relief) on the Commonwealth was the fact that . . . . . (some of its people were unable) to support themselves . . . . . (were) without means of support. The Constitution of 1873 recognized this condition as a public liability. Nothing is said therein prohibiting, interfering with or controlling the performance of the duty."

We also held in that case that the old age pension act could not enlarge a class (the poor) well known to those who adopted the Constitution and who knew of the government's responsibility for their keep.

We again held in Collins v. Martin, 290 Pa. 388, that the care of the poor as generally understood was a fixed governmental duty similar to the enforcement of law and order. It was there contended by our distinguished Attorney General, citing Busser v. Snyder supra, that "An appropriation to enable a branch of the state government to perform a governmental duty is not an appropriation for charitable purpose," even though it was worked out through a sectarian institution. We held that while there was a duty, whether it be absolute or discretionary, it could not be performed in a manner prohibited by the Constitution. So as not to confuse the performance of the government's duty with the manner of performance, we there said:

"Whether the charitable work is compulsory or discretionary, the performance is controlled by the Constitution. No function of government can be discharged in disregard of or in opposition to the fundamental law . . . . . the performance of a function or duty cannot take place in (a) prohibited way."

"The intent of these (constitutional) provisions was . . . . . to forbid the state from giving . . . . . to a religious sect or denomination . . . . . the money of the people . . . . . for administration or distribution." Collins v. State Treasurer, supra.

In those cases we refused to approve acts because the institutions affected were prohibited by the Constitution from receiving the money. We restated in Collins v. Martin, supra, what was said in Busser v. Snyder, supra, that the obligation of the government to care for poor persons was not a charitable undertaking any more than the performance of any other public function is a charity.

Considering the subject of this case, we find Act 7-E makes an appropriation for the relief of the poor. We again hold that the support of the poor,—meaning such persons as have been understood as coming within that class ever since the organization of the government, persons who are without means of support, the same persons stated in the Talbot Bill, Act 7-E,—is and has always been a direct charge on the body politic for its own preservation and protection; and that as such, in the light of an expense, stands exactly in the same position as the preservation of law and order. The expenditure of money for such purposes by the State is in performance of a governmental function or duty and is not controlled by the constitutional provision, if the purpose is to supply food and shelter to the poor, including those who are destitute because of enforced unemployment, provided only that the money be not administered through forbidden channels.

The appropriation in providing for relief of poor comprehended those who have been forced into that situation through enforced unemployment; they having no means to support themselves. From this cause the ranks of the poor have increased so rapidly as to stagger the people of our State. The fact that their numbers are swollen through unemployment does not change the establishment concept of poor persons. To hold that the State may not under the Constitution now aid such people even though it be a governmental duty, would be to deny to the State the right to perform not only an important, but at this time, a most pressing governmental function. To hold that the State cannot or must not aid its poor would strip the State of a means of self preservation, and might conceive untold hardships and difficulties for the future. It is no answer to say that the people generally should take care of the situation; whether they are or are not able to do so, does not relieve the State of its duty. The framers of the Constitution never intended that the instrument should deprive the legislature of this power. We have so held in Collins v. State Treasurer, supra; Busser v. Snyder, supra, and again in Collins v. Martin, supra. The State has these many years recognized the duty by building or aiding in the maintenance of insane asylums, hospitals for treatment of the mentally and physically deficient poor and has given other poor relief. But when the unemployed, with ability to work, have work offered to them and they, without good reason, do not work, they are not poor people, entitled to support within the poor laws of this Commonwealth. The poor authorities cannot furnish relief in any form to such persons. When work is offered such unemployed, they have the means of support, and neither the State nor the poor district would be permitted thereafter to keep, maintain, or support such persons in idleness or laziness; or further some other object equally as vicious. This would be true even if the families of such persons suffered because the one responsible for their maintenance refuses to work. It is the duty of every citizen, particularly public officials, to aid those entrusted with furnishing this relief to see that it is not given to those not entitled to receive it. If the poor officers violate their duty by furnishing support to such unemployed persons the State authorities may, through any agency, stop payments for such uses. The purpose of the State's relief is to furnish maintenance to poor persons including those who through enforced unemployment have no means of support, and not to those who have such means.

The Attorney General, one of the ablest constitutional lawyers in the State, concedes in his argument: "If in this case the court had before it an act providing that a State agency should supply food and shelter to those who are destitute because of enforced unemployment, and making an appropriation for the purpose, we should not be here urging the court to strike it down as a violation of Article III, Section 18 of the Constitution." He urges only that a county cannot do this, that it is contrary to the Constitution because the payments are discretionary with the county authorities. But this objection will not avail. This being a governmental duty, it can be performed by the government, or by one of its delegated agencies or by an agency not prohibited by the Constitution from performing it.

Having twice decided that appropriations to perform obligatory public duties or functions are not charities or benevolences, we again hold that the State in performance of its governmental duty to take care of the poor is not forbidden by Art. III, Sec. 18, either directly to assume this obligation, or to permit and/or aid one of its subsidiaries of government to perform it, or to have it performed by an institution not forbidden by the Constitution. As long as these channels are kept clear, constitutional inhibitions will not disturb such acts.

Answering further the appellants' position,—the Act is intended to cover poor relief all over the Commonwealth, it was not limited to any particular locality. It embraces all persons within the historical definition of the term. There is no discrimination. When the legislature directed the money to be given to the Department of Welfare, with certain duties to perform and then in turn selected the poor districts as a governmental agency to secure proper distribution, the State has within its hands the right and power to compel its proper administration. The Act has not raised subordinate municipal bodies over their creators. Moreover, the State frequently selects county officials as agents to perform governmental duties. The officers of the poor districts in counties were selected as the most efficient means of administering the fund, and the territorial lines of the counties, which ordinarily limit the jurisdiction of such officers, limit their administrative powers as State agents over the fund. But people who receive it in one county are the same type of people who receive it all over the State, that is, poor people without means of support. Therefore, the administrative officers, the poor directors of the county, in administering this fund, are not communities within the letter or spirit of the Constitution, and as the persons affected are poor persons, in every town, city, and hamlet in the Commonwealth, they are not within constitutional limitation.

Moreover, the persons who are handling the money can be compelled by the courts to see that it is properly administered as directed by law. Mandamus is a powerful remedy and the Attorney General may compel a return to the State Treasurer of moneys not properly spent and may force the officers of the poor districts to spend it in the way the sovereign dictates, —that is, for food, etc., in relief of poor persons. The State does not lose control over the money; if there should be any abuse of the powers granted most likely an enraged public will compel obedience through the courts. That Act called for an audit by the auditors of the subdivisions does not prevent the State within its general powers from making its own audit.

The court below held that even though Act 7-E be prohibited by Art. III, Sec. 18 and Art. IX, Sec. 4, inasmuch as the legislature had declared it to be enacted under police power, these constitutional prohibitions would not apply, citing several of our cases to sustain this theory. The police power cannot be indiscriminately used as a prop to thrust the constitution aside. More particularly is this so with respect to the debt section. If the excess appropriation had been a debt, it was clearly within the constitutional power of the legislature to have provided sufficient revenues, and having failed to do that, it could not sieze the police power provision to sustain its unlawful act. Under any circumstances the police power may not be used to strike down a constitutional prohibition when the legislature could by other means bring the act within the Constitution.

But, while courts will not hesitate to sustain a proper exercise of the police power, under circumstances of extraordinary nature, even though a positive constitutional provision stands in its way, (as for instance the preservation of government), the circumstances which call for such exercise must definitely and clearly appear, and the exercise must be in furtherance of a clearly defined major object of government. These instances are rare; therefore, the power in this respect has been sparingly sustained. Merely because the legislative ordinance has declared that it is enacted in the protection of health, safety, morals and welfare of the government and its people does not make it so.

If it was necessary to resort to the police power to sustain the present Act, we would decide against such use. When this Act was passed, there was no such situation presented to the legislature as would warrant the exercise of this high prerogative of government.

Art. III, Sec. 3 provides that "No bill.....shall be passed containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title," and appellants' position is that inasmuch as the Act devolved duties upon certain officers without notice to them in the title, the Act was void. The Act is entitled, "An act making an appropriation.....to the Department of Welfare for State aid to political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor, and providing for the allocation and use of the moneys so appropriated."

All poor authorities, whatever their official relation may be, certainly have ample notice through the title that the legislature was about to do something in which they are interested. We have often stated the title of an act need not be a synopsis of it. The purposes of the constitutional provision was expressed in Sugar Notch Borough, 192 Pa. 349, 355, and this Act is not in conflict with the restrictions there stated. The county commissioners and treasurers are named for certain purposes, but the duties imposed on them are not burdensome duties they simply receive their quota of the appropriation allotted, and turn it over to the poor director charged with the care of the poor. No new subject is introduced. These officers are merely the instruments which pass the fund on for administration.

Moreover, unless a substantive matter, entirely disconnected with the named legislation, is included within the bill, the Act will not be declared in violation of the Constitution as offending Sec. 3 of Art. III, Carr v. Aetna Accident and Liability Co., 64 Super. ct. 343, 349. It is not so here. Thus in Com. v. Macelwee, 294 Pa. 569, the title was attacked in the same manner because the act required the township treasurer in townships of the first class to collect poor taxes, and there was no suggestion in the title that that act had any thing to do with poor districts. We refused to sustain such contention holding: "An act concerning townships is notice to all persons located therein and to every subordinate municipal division.....that there may be, in the body of the act, something which affects his or her interests." In Orlosky v. Haskell, 304 Pa. 57, where the Vehicle Code of 1929 was attacked because the title made no reference to the service of process issued out of the courts of counties other than those in which the court had jurisdiction, the question was similarly determined in favor of the constitutionality of the act. Other cases might be cited to the same effect. Most of the appellants' cases refer to instances where positive burdens were placed on subdivisions of government or officials of them without notice to them. It is not so in this present Act of Assembly. The Act is not void for that reason.

Art. III, Sec. 7 of the Constitution states,

> "The General Assembly shall not pass any local or special law.....regulating affairs of counties," and Art. III, Sec. 34 permits the legislature to classify "counties."

Appellants contend that to the extent that the Act requires certain county officers to procure information regarding unemployed persons in their districts, it regulates the affairs of these counties, and to the extent that it imposes a like duty on the Welfare Department of Philadelphia, it regulates the affairs of the City. The commissioners of fifteen counties out of sixty-seven are required to perform this duty. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are the only cities.

There is no unconstitutional classification. The Act appropriates funds to all political subdivisions charged with the care of the poor. No one in particular is singled out. As we said in Sugar Notch Borough, supra, at p. 356:

> "It is the settled law since Wheeler v. Phila., 77 Pa. 338, that classification based on genuine and substantial distinctions is within the constitutional power of the legislature, and an act which applies to all the members of the class is general and not special."

The officers selected are the officers of the poor districts throughout the State. The mere fact that in some counties that office may be filled by the commissioners, and in others by poor directors, in a few other districts, by overseers of the poor, and in the City of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh by the Department of Welfare, does not present a case of unconstitutional classification. The bill says the State is "assuming its obligation to care for the poor," and it proposes to do it through poor districts. The Act does not regulate the affairs of counties in imposing State duties on these officers, who are otherwise in control of the local affairs of their districts, the duties imposed being to procure the information and administer State funds. It is not a special Act regulating the affairs of any county.

The classification of poor districts is and always has been very badly mixed up. They do not adhere to county lines, and, as we understand, in some instances overlap into other counties. Parts of cities are joined with parts of townships and separate districts within a city. In many of the counties, the commissioners are in authority, in some districts overseers, others poor directors. This classification was well known when Article III, Section 7, of the Constitution, and the amendment later permitting the classification of counties were adopted, and it will be noted that Article III, Section 7 did not include poor districts among the divisions interdicted from special laws. No doubt this was because, as they then existed, it was deemed wise not to disturb them. It may be argued that as to these districts, Section 7 of Article III does not apply.

There are a few other questions raised by the Attorney General. Are Pittsburgh and Philadelphia political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor, and as such entitled to receive State aid under Act 7-E? A review of the pertinent legislation on the subject of poor districts as affecting these cities discloses conclusively that both are such political subdivisions entitled to receive their allotment under Act 7-E. The Department of Welfare in Philadelphia is charged with the duty formerly devolving on the poor authorities, except as to six specially created poor districts. These duties originated under Sections 18 and 19 of the Act of February 2, 1854, P. L. 21; later April 7, 1859, P. L. 400. Through successive legislative acts these duties have been continued until the Charter Act of June 16, 1919, P. L. 581.

Allegheny County is now divided into two districts, Pittsburgh and the territory without. By legislation similar to that of Philadelphia, all the duties pertaining to prior poor authorities devolved on the Department of Welfare of the City of Pittsburgh.

Relative to the allocation of the various amounts to the several districts as stipulated in the Act and questioned by defendants, it must be conceded that this subject is difficult, but difficulties cannot prevent an otherwise workable Act from being valid. An exact scheme or chart, perhaps, cannot be laid out, but no doubt the officers in control, in obedience to the law, will carry it out according to its letter and spirit, and see that speedy and equitable allocations are made. Other questions concerning this matter have been discussed in other parts of this opinion.

We are not troubled with the meaning of the words "shall have authority," which bother appellants. One thing is quite certain, that the money may only be spent for food, clothing, and so forth, and if it is not all spent for that purpose, it must be returned to the State. We doubt if this question will ever arise. As to the expenditure of any of these funds for persons other than those who are poor because of enforced unemployment, there is this to be said to the credit of our communities: At no time except possibly once or twice since the organization of the State have these districts ever been in a situation to require State aid. They have always been able to take care of the poor because their numbers were so very small, in proportion to the people in the county. Today this number has been vastly increased by enforced unemployment compared with those who were poor in normal times. As a practical matter the State support will not reach any of those who were poor before the increase in numbers, and the Act does not intend that it shall, but the county's money will be used to take care of these persons and to relieve the increased number of poor through unemployment. We have discussed this matter at this point as it is specially dealt with by the Attorney General, but it might well be read with the discussion of the same matter in connection with the call. From all that has been said, it follows that the judgment of the court below was correctly entered.

Judgment affirmed.

Opinion filed April 7, 1932.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to state for the information of the Chairmen of the several committees that the bills that have been referred this evening will be ready for them in the office of the Resident Clerk upon adjournment tonight.

The Chair announces that the various committee rooms will be available for the use of the committees.

ADJOURMENT

Mr. STRICKLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 10.00 o'clock.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1932.

Vol. 14 HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JUNE 28, 1932. No. 2.

SENATE

TUESDAY, June 28, 1932

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock A. M. (Eastern Standard Time).

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Thou Omnipotent God, we are surrounded by forces beyond our control. We are frequently confronted with perplexing adverse conditions before which we find ourselves comparatively helpless.

It is for this reason that we stand reverently before Thee this day, invoking Thy assistance. Thou hast the wisdom and power which we lack. Wilt Thou strengthen our hands and furnish us with Thy guidance as we seek to perform our tasks this day?

May good will and harmony prevail and real progress be made as we toil for the welfare of the citizens of our Commonwealth.

We ask for these mercies in our Redeemer's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. Weingartner, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House concurred in Resolution from the Senate, as follows:

In the Senate, June 28, 1932.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Tuesday evening, July 5, at eight o'clock, E. S. T. (nine o'clock Daylight Saving Time); and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Tuesday evening, July 5, at eight o'clock, E. S. T. (nine o'clock Daylight Saving Time).

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES

Mr. FAY offered the following resolution, which was read and referred to the Committee on Finance:

In the Senate, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, The General Assembly at its Regular Session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one made appropriations for building construction and an appropriation for the Pymatuning Project that were approved by the Governor in a sum upwards of fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000), and

Whereas, In the first fiscal year ending June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, only about three million, one hundred thousand dollars ($3,100,000) of these appropriations had been expended, in accordance with appropriation bills enacted,

Now Therefore be it Resolved, That for the information of the members of the Senate, the Department of Property and Supplies of the Commonwealth is hereby directed to submit to the Senate by Tuesday, the fifth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, the following:

1. A statement showing a list of the appropriations approved or allocated for each State-owned institution under the control of the Department of Welfare, Public Instruction and Health; and, for armories as well as the amount appropriated for the Pymatuning Project.

2. A statement showing a list of allocations from each appropriation; the name of the architect or engineer appointed, rate of compensation and the date when employment began; the date when the contract or contracts were awarded; the amount of each; the date when work began under the contract and the amount unexpended June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, on each appropriation for which no contract or contracts have been awarded.

3. A statement showing the amount expended to June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, from each appropriation and for each allocation, itemized to show:

A. Construction, labor and materials.

B. Fees of architects and engineers.

And Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of Senate, shall upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Department of Property and Supplies.

CHIEF ASSISTANT SERGEANT-AT-ARMS

Mr. SCOTT offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 28, 1932.

Resolved, That by reason of vacancy existing in the office of Chief Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms George A. Helmstead, 3226 Sansom Street, Philadelphia, be elected Chief Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms, vice John F. Rodgers, resigned.

RESLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS

Mr. PARKINSON offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

In the Senate, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, The Department of Highways operates upon funds collected for liquid fuel tax, motor licenses and fees, fines and miscellaneous revenues which have amounted to approximately sixty-two million five hundred thousand dollars ($62,500,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, sixty million dollars ($60,000,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and fifty-seven million seven hundred thousand dollars ($57,700,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and

Whereas, There has been deposited in the said Motor Fund receipts from the Federal Government amounting to about three million seven hundred thousand dollars ($3,700,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, six million one hundred thousand dollars ($6,100,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and nine million four hundred thousand dollars ($9,400,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and

Whereas, The revenues collected from the above sources amounted to about sixty-six million two hundred thousand dollars ($66,200,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, sixty-six million two hundred thousand dollars ($66,200,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and sixty-seven million one hundred thousand dollars ($67,100,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two; therefore the receipts have been nearly the same for each fiscal year, and

Whereas, The balance in bank to the credit of the Motor Fund on June one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, was upward of twenty-six million eight hundred thousand dollars ($26,800,000), of which ten million dollars ($10,000,000) was borrowed by authority of act of Assembly from the General Fund, to be repaid in the present fiscal period, and

Whereas, The receipts from liquid fuels tax is constant and within a few months motor license fees and fines for one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three will begin to be paid, and

Whereas, The Department of Highways reports that it does not have sufficient funds with which to build and or repair many of the highways requested and are employing many laborers on part time, and

Whereas, The Governor in his call for the Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly has particularly recommended:

"(12) Proposing Constitutional Amendments for State loans."

"(B) For the rebuilding and construction of highways," and

Whereas, In order to act intelligently on the proposed bond issue, it is necessary for the General Assembly to have before it for study official records of the Department of Highways in detail, therefore be it

Resolved, That for the information of the Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania, and in order that they may be advised from official records of the State, the Department of Highways is hereby directed to submit to the Senate, by July eleventh, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, the following:

1. Statement showing the cash balance in the State Treasury to the credit of the Motor Fund on June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one;

2. Statement showing the number of miles (by counties) of roads and highways within the Commonwealth on June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, divided as follows: Concrete roads, other hard surface roads (divided as to type) and unimproved State roads on the State highway system and the improved roads not on the State highway system and other roads not on the State highway system, in order to show the total roads and highways within the Commonwealth at that time;

3. Statement showing the number of miles (by counties) of State highways constructed, reconstructed or improved from June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and the cost of each, divided as follows: Concrete roads, rural roads, other hard surface roads (divided as to type) and unimproved State roads on the State highway system;

4. Statement showing the number of miles (by counties) of roads and highways within the Commonwealth on June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, divided as follows: Concrete roads, rural roads, other hard surface roads (divided as to type) and unimproved State roads on the State highway system and the improved roads not on the State highway system and other roads not on the State highway system, in order to show the total roads and highways within the Commonwealth at that time;

5. Statement showing the cash balance in the State Treasury to the credit of the Motor Fund on June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two;

6. Statement showing the number of miles (by counties) of rural roads taken over by the Commonwealth in one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one;

7. A map showing the Twenty Thousand Mile Rural Road System as taken over by the State and showing in color the roads and mileage as per the following:

(a) Roads already improved when taken over;

(b) Roads improved by contract, or by the Department and completed and surfaced by May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two;

(c) Roads constructed and not yet surface treated by May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two;

(d) Roads now under construction or reconstruction;

(e) Roads projected for construction or reconstruction for fiscal year ended May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three;

(f) List by counties of all moneys and mileage as per schedule (a) to (e) inclusive;

8. Statement showing the number of miles (by counties) of State highways estimated to be constructed, reconstructed or improved from June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, and the estimated cost of highways in each county, the allocations made by the Department of Highways on June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, noting where the contracts have been awarded and the contract price of each, divided as follows: Concrete roads, rural roads, other hard surface roads (divided as to type) and unimproved State roads on the State highway system;

9. Statement showing the actual expenditures by main functions from the continuing appropriations to the Department (in form as shown on page forty-two of the 1931 Budget) for the fiscal year ended May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and the estimate of expenditures, for the same purpose, for the fiscal year beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two;

10. Statement showing actual expenditures from specific appropriations to the Department for the fiscal year ended May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two and the estimate of expenditures for the same purposes for the fiscal year beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Department of Highways.

Mr. PARKINSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Public Roads and Highways.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE BUDGET SECRETARY

Mr. HOWELL offered the following resolution, which was read and referred to the Committee on Finance.

In the Senate, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, The Governor of the Commonwealth did on February third, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, in compliance with Article VI of the Act of April ninth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), present to the General Assembly, the budget of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the biennium June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, together with a supplement thereto, with statements showing actual classified operating expenditures of the State Government by departments, boards, and commissions, and appropriations for the period June first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, and estimated classified operating expenditures for the fiscal year, June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, based on budgets submitted as of October first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, and

Whereas, The General Assembly therefore only has before it at this time the estimated classified operating expenditures for the period June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and

Whereas, It has no statements before it of the classified operating expenditures of the State Government of the departments, boards and commissions and appropriations for the period June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and

Whereas, The Governor of the Commonwealth has called the General Assembly to meet in extraordinary session on June twenty-seventh, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and

Whereas, In order to intelligently act upon the matters contained in the Governor's call it is necessary for the General Assembly to have before it actual information as to the revenue, expenditures and unexpended appropriations of the State Government to date, and

Whereas, The Budget Secretary was requested by a resolution of the Senate adopted at the special session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, to furnish the information directed to be furnished by this resolution, and

Whereas, Such information was not furnished by the Budget Secretary prior to the adjournment of such session, and in a letter dated January fifteenth, addressed to the Secretary of the Senate, the Budget Secretary advised that he had "been informed by the Honorable William A. Schnader, Attorney General, that since the Senate had adjourned and is not now in a position to act upon the information it has requested, it cannot properly call upon the executive branch of government for information to be circulated among the members of the Senate after adjournment," therefore be it

Resolved, That for the information of the Senate, and in order that it may be advised from official records of the State of the finances of the Commonwealth, the Budget Secretary is hereby directed to submit to the Senate by Monday, July eleventh, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, the following:

(1) Statements showing the actual classified operating expenditures of the State Government by departments, boards and commissions, for the fiscal year, June 1, 1930 to May 31, 1931, in order to complete the statement of actual classified operating expenditures for the biennial period June 1, 1929 to May 31, 1931; (The supplement of the budget presented February 3, 1931, merely shows the estimated expenditures for the fiscal year, June 1, 1930 to May 31, 1931), and the actual classified operating expenditures for the fiscal period June 1, 1931 to May 31, 1932.

(2) Statement showing in detail the total appropriation liability of the general Fund as of June 1, 1931.

(3) Statement showing in detail the total appropriation liability of the General Fund as of June 1, 1932, itemized by appropriations showing lapses and credits.

(4) Itemized list of Class A preferred appropriations of one hundred fifty-one million, two hundred sixty-six thousand, nine hundred sixty-seven dollars and sity-two cents ($151,266,967.62). (Appropriations not abated).

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, June 28, 1932.

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. O. B. Poulson, offered the following prayer:

O Lord, our Master, we seek to approach the Father's throne in Thy name. We recognize Thee as the supreme ruler of this and of all worlds. All too often we have turned to our own way,—and have missed the road to peace and happiness. We seek this day to know the Father's will and way for all our lives.

We give thanks to Thee for sunshine and for showers; for bountiful fruitage and abundence of grain; for food enough and to spare—all the gift of Thy love and care. We confess our sins; we own our human failures; we confess our shame, when we recall that in the midst of a land of plenty, multitudes of our fellow citizens cry in vain for daily bread. We are assembled here that we might give answer to the heart-rending cry of those who suffer. We plead for Thy guidence that we may not fail in our hour responsibility.

To this end we ask Thee to guide the Governor of this Commonwealth; the Members of this General Assembly; and all who are in authority; that Thy will may be accomplished, here and everywhere, and Thy great name honored and glorified. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday when, on motion of Mr. Schwartz, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

The SPEAKER. The report will be noted in the Journal and printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES

Mr. HEFFRAN offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932

Whereas, There was appropriated at the 1931 Regular Session of the General Assembly six hundred fifty thousand dollars ($650,000) to the Department of Property and Supplies for the purchase of automobile equipment for the use of the departments of State Government, and

Whereas, Each department is allocated for its use amounts from this appropriation, and

Whereas, The appropriations made direct to the several departments do not include the allocations for the purchase of automotive equipment; therefore the allocation from this appropriation is in addition to the appropriations made to the departments, and

Whereas, The General Assembly does not have before it statements showing the amount of expenditures from allocations of this appropriation to the several departments, boards and commissions for the fiscal year ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, nor for the fiscal year ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two,

Now therefore be it resolved, That for the information of the General Assembly, the Department of Property and Supplies is hereby directed to furnish to the House of Representatives by July fifth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, statements showing the expenditures from each allocation of the appropriation of six hundred fifty thousand dollars ($650,000) for the purchase of automotive equipment and supplies for each department of State Government for each fiscal year ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two; together with a list showing the number of cars of each make assigned to each department, board and commission of State Government on June one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two.

And be it further resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Department of Property and Supplies.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE AUDITOR GENERAL

Mr. McKAY offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, The General Assembly has been called in Extraordinary Session to meet the emergency of a grave unemployment condition within the Commonwealth, and

Whereas, It is essential to prevent the increase of the tax burden, if possible, and

Whereas, The cost of Government as now operated must be reduced, and

Whereas, All funds of the Commonwealth deposited in the State Treasury that are undistributed surpluses should be made available for appropriation, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Auditor General of the Commonwealth be directed to furnish the General Assembly by July fifth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, a statement as of June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, showing the undistributed surplus held in the fire insurance tax fund, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Auditor General.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING REVENUE DEPARTMENT TO DEPOSIT CHECKS UPON RECEIPT OF SAME

Mr. STADTLANDER offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate adoption.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, The information is current that checks, drafts, money orders and other evidences of payment are held in the Department of Revenue for an indefinite period, and

Whereas, On account of the general financial conditions it is imperative that checks and other evidence of payment should be deposited at once, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Department of Revenue shall deposit checks received by them immediately upon receipt thereof, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Department of Revenue.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES

Mr. E. P. BROWN offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate adoption.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, There was appropriated at the 1931 Regular Session of the General Assembly three hundred twenty-two thousand eight hundred eight-five dollars ($322,885) to the Department of Property and Supplies for the payment of premiums on policies of insurance, surety and fidelity bonds for the use of the departments of State Government, and

Whereas, Each department is allocated for its use amounts from this appropriation, and

Whereas, The appropriations made direct to the several departments do not include the allocations for the payment of premiums on policies of insurance, surety and fidelity bonds; therefore the allocation from this appropriation is in addition to the appropriations made to the departments, and

Whereas, The General Assembly does not have before it statements showing the amount of expenditures from allocations of this appropriation to the several departments for the fiscal year ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, nor for the fiscal year ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two,

Now therefore be it resolved, That for the information of the General Assembly, the Department of Property and Supplies is hereby directed to furnish to the House of Representatives by July fifth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, statements showing the expenditures from each allocation of the appropriation of three hundred twenty-two thousand eight hundred eighty-five dollars ($322,885) for the payment of premiums on policies of insurance, surety and fidelity bonds for each Department, Board and Commission of State Government for each fiscal year ended May thirty-one one thousand nine hundred and thirty, May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty one and May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two.

And be it further resolved, That the Chief Chlerk of the House of Representatives shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Department of Property and Supplies.

RESOLUTION

RESTORATION OF APPROPRIATIONS TO THE MOTHERS' ASSISTANCE FUND

Mr. DUNN offered the following resolution which was twice read, and laid over for printing.

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, The Attorney General of the Commonwealth has, by an opinion, interpreting the opinion filed by the Supreme Court deciding the constitutionality of the Talbot Bill, caused appropriations to the Mothers' Assistance Fund and to various hospitals to be greatly reduced, and

Whereas, This situation imposes upon localities a greater burden than can be carried during this period of economic depression, and

Whereas, It was not the intention of this Legislature to reduce any appropriation heretofore made; therfore be it

Resolved, That this House is in favor of restoring appropriations to the Mothers' Assistance Fund and to such institutions as have been affected by the opinion of the Attorney General; and be it further

Resolved, That this House favors making such necessary appropriations even if they necessitate the abandonment of the promotion of other activities on the part of the Commonwealth for the reason that the relief of these charges of the Commonwealth is a more important obligation.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE WELFARE DEPARTMENT

Mr. FLEISHER offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, Because of the economic conditions the revenues of the General Fund of the Commonwealth have been materially reduced, and

Whereas, The General Assembly has been called into Extraordinary Session to devise methods of furnishing relief to those of our citizens in distress, and

Whereas, In order to plan intelligently, it is necessary for the General Assembly to have before it specific information, as to the cost of operation of the Departments, Boards and Commissions of State Government, and

Whereas, The General Assembly appropriated upwards of twenty-one million dollars ($21,000,000) for the biennial period June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, for maintenance of State-owned institutions within the Department of Welfare,

Now Therefore be it resolved, That for the information of the members of the House of Representatives, the Department of Welfare of the Commonwealth is hereby directed to submit to the House of Representatives by July fifth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, the following:—

1. Statements showing:—

A. A list of the State-owned institutions under the control of the Department of Welfare.

B. A list of the Superintendents and Chief Surgeons; the annual salary of each and the estimated annual cost of maintenance of each.

C. A list of employes who work in the office of the Department of Welfare at Harrisburg whose salaries during the fiscal year ended May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, were paid from appropriations made to the institutions, showing the charges to each institution.

D. The bed capacity of each institution; the number of patients or inmates of each on June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two; the number of employees of each maintained at the institution; the number of employees of each not maintained at the institution and the amount of salaries paid by each for the fiscal year ended May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two.

E. The appropriations made for maintenance of each institution for the current biennial period, the amount expended for the past fiscal year and the per capita cost,

And be it further resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Department of Welfare.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE AUDITOR GENERAL

Mr. HUTTON offered the following resolution and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, During this period of economic depression it is vital that all public officials conserve the finances of the Commonwealth, and

Whereas, There was an appropriation made at the 1931 Session of the General Assembly of one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) for the expenses of Judges of the Common Pleas Courts that hold court in districts other than their own, and

Whereas, Nearly one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) of this amount has been expended the first fiscal year,

Therefore be it resolved, That for the information of the General Assembly, that it may be advised from the official records of the State as to how expenditures of this appropriation have been made, the Auditor General of the Commonwealth is hereby requested to submit to the House of Representatives by July fifth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, a list of the Judges receiving expenses from this appropriation and the amount paid each month to each Judge,

And be it further resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Auditor General.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Is there objection? The Chair hears objection and unanimous consent is not granted.

The resolution lies over for printing.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES

Mr. STRICKLER offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, There was appropriated at the 1931 Regular Session of the General Assembly one million six hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,650,000) to the Department of Property and Supplies for heat, light, power, water and rent of offices for the use of the departments of State Government, and

Whereas, Each department is allocated for its use amounts from this appropriation, and

Whereas, The appropriations made direct to the several departments do not include the allocations for heat, light, power, water and rent of offices; therefore the allocation from this appropriation is in addition to the appropriations made to the departments, and

Whereas, The General Assembly does not have before it statements showing the amount of expenditures from allocations of this appropriation to the several departments for the fiscal year ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, nor from the fiscal year ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two,

Now therefore be it resolved, That for the information of the General Assembly, the Department of Property and Supplies is hereby directed to furnish to the House of Representatives by July fifth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, statements showing the expenditures from each allocation of the appropriation of one million six hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,650,000) for heat, light, power, water and rent of offices for each department of State Government for each fiscal year ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two; together with a list of space rented and location outside of the city of Harrisburg for the use of each department, board and commission, including space paid for from special funds (indicating in each case the purpose of occupancy) on May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and the annual rental in each case; also a list of space rented in the city of Harrisburg, its location, how occupied and the annual rental in each case on May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two.

And be it further resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Department of Property and Supplies.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE SECRETARY OF REVENUE

Mr. FREDERICK H. MYERS, JR., offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, There was collected by the Department of Revenue for deposit in the Motor License Fund for the fiscal year ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, upward of fifty-seven million five hundred thousand dollars ($57,500,000), for the fiscal year ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, upward of sixty million dollars ($60,000,000) and for the fiscal year ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, upward of sixty-two million dollars ($62,000,000), and

Whereas, The act of Assembly provides that the cost of collecting motor licenses, fees and fines, liquid fuels tax and fines and the operation of the Motor Patrol shall be paid on order of the Department of Revenue from the Motor License Fund, and

Whereas, It has been stated that the cost of collection of the funds deposited in the Motor License Fund has greatly increased for the past fiscal year, and

Whereas, In order to be familiar with the exact cost of these collections. the General Assembly should have before it full and complete information in detail, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of Revenue be required to furnish the House of Representatives by July fifth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, with statements for each of the fiscal years ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, as follows:

1. Statement showing the expenditures of the Department paid from the Motor License Fund by Classification of Accounts.

(a) For collection of liquid fuels tax and fines.

(b) For collection of motor licenses, fees and fines.

(c) For operation of the Motor Patrol; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Secretary of Revenue.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE SECRETARY OF REVENUE

Mr. GREENSTEIN offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, There was appropriated from the General Fund at the 1931 Session of the General Assembly one million three hundred seventy thousand dollars ($1,370,000) to the Department of Revenue for salaries and general expenses, and

Whereas, During the fiscal year ended May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, there was expended from this appropriation upward of six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000), and the collections for the same period were about eighty-five million dollars ($85,000,000), and

Whereas, During the prior biennial period the expenditures for salaries and general expenses were less than eight hundred thousand dollars ($800,000) and the collections were upward of two hundred million dollars ($200,000,000), and

Whereas, The amount expended by the Department from allocations made by the Department of Property and Supplies for office supplies, printing and binding, telephone and telegraph, miscellaneous supplies, etc., motor equipment and supplies and repairs, insurance, etc., are in addition to these items.

Now therefore be it resolved, That for the information of the General Assembly, the Secretary of Revenue is hereby directed to furnish the House of Representatives by July fifth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, with the statements for each of the fiscal years ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred thirty, May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one, and May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred thirty-two, as follows:

1. Statement showing the expenditures of the department for the collection of General Fund revenue by Classification of Accounts.

2. Statement showing the amount expended from each allocation for office supplies, printing and binding, telephone and telegraph, miscellaneous supplies, contracted repairs, office and miscellaneous equipment, motor equipment, motor supplies and repairs, insurance, surety and fidelity bonds, expended from allocations of appropriations made to the Department of Property and Supplies.

And be it further resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Secretary of Revenue.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES

Mr. WEIDEMANN offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, There was appropriated at the 1931 Regular Session of the General Assembly three million eight hundred thousand dollars ($3,800,000), which was increased at the 1931 Special Session to four million thirty thousand dollars ($4,030,000), to the Department of Property and Supplies for office and miscellaneous supplies, telephone, telegraph and printing, etc., for the use of the departments of State Government, and

Whereas, Each department is allocated for its use amounts from this appropriation, and

Whereas, The appropriations made direct to the several departments do not include the allocations for office and miscellaneous supplies, telephone, telegraph and printing, etc., therefore the allocation from this appropriation is in addition to the appropriations made to the departments, and

Whereas, The General Assembly does not have before it statements showing the amount of expenditures from allocations of this appropriation to the several departments for the fiscal year ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, nor for the fiscal year ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two,

Now therefore be it resolved, That for the information of the General Assembly, the Department of Propterty and Supplies is hereby directed to furnish to the House of Representatives by July fifth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, statements showing the expenditures from each allocation of the appropriation of four million thirty thousand dollars ($4,030,000) for office supplies, printing and binding, telephone and telegraph, miscellaneous supplies, contracted repairs, food and forage, office equipment and miscellaneous equipment to each department of State Government for each fiscal year ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two.

And be it further resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Department of Property and Supplies.

RESOLUTION

APPROPRIATION COMMITTEE INVESTED WITH AUTHORTITY TO ISSUE SUBPOENAS

Mr. BLUMBERG offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, Numerous resolutions have been introduced which have for their object the obtaining of information from the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth pertaining to the fiscal affairs of the Commonwealth, and

Whereas, It is most important to this Legislature that accurate and definite information of such condition be speedily obtained in order to guide the members in intelligently passing upon the legislation submitted, therefore be it

Resolved, That in the event that the information desired and called for by such resolutions shall not be transmitted to the Legislature before July fifth, or in case the information submitted is not sufficient in the opinion of the Appropriation Committee of the House, that then the said Appropriation Committee is hereby authorized to hold meetings, either executive or public, and to subpoena and compel the attendance of the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth or such other persons as they may deem necessary for the purpose of obtaining the information deemed necessary, and be it further

Resolved, That said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requiring and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person, and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issuing out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths or affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to appear and testify before said committee, or to produce any books, papers, records and documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases.

RESOLUTION

An Act to provide for the expenses of the extraordinary session of the Legislature, assembled June twenty-seven, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred thirty-two, in pursuance of the proclamation of the Governor of the Commonwealth, dated June twenty-second, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred thirty-two.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM DEPARTMENT OF BANKING

Mr. EDERER asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, The continued depreciation of the value of securities has brought about a material shrinking in the assets of closed banks now being liquidated by the Department of Banking; and

Whereas, There have been many complaints that an unduly large percentage of the assets of corporations in receivership are used up in the expenses of receiverships and in the payment of salaries and fees; and

Whereas, It is the desire of the General Assembly that the assets of closed banks be preserved to the fullest extent for the benefit of depositors therein and creditors, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Department of Banking shall, not later than July eleventh, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, transmit to the House of Representatives a report containing in detail the following information with respect to each closed bank in its possession:

(1) The date when each bank closed, the names of the officers and employes with the monthly salary or compensation of each, and the amount of the monthly payroll at the time each such bank closed;

(2) The names of the employes appointed by the Department of Banking for each closed bank in its possession, with the monthly salary or compensation of each such employe, the monthly payroll of each such closed bank, and the total expense of each closed bank to June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two;

(3) The names of deputy Attorneys General and other attorneys in charge of the legal affairs of closed banks, together with their respective monthly compensation, and the names of the firms, if any, with which each such deputy Attorney General or attorney is associated as a member or employe, and the total amount paid each to June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two;

(4) The names of the persons appointed to appraise the assets of the respective closed banks, together with the compensation paid to each, and the names of the firms, if any, with which each such appraiser was associated as a member or employe;

(5) The amount of insurance and surety bonds negotiated in connection with each closed bank, with the name of the broker or agent writing the same and the name of the company assuming the liability;

(6) A statement showing the reasons and authority for the creation of the Liquidating Bureau of Philadelphia, together with the personnel of said Bureau and the salary paid to each, also a statement showing by whom the expenses of administration of said Bureau are paid, and the total expense to date;

(7) A statement showing the reasons and authority for the organization of asset realization corporations, the number of such corporations created, together with the personnel of each and their salaries or compensation, also a statement showing by whom the expenses of administration of said corporations are paid, and the total expense of each corporation to date; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Department of Banking.

Mr. EDERER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Is there objection? The Chair hears objection and unanimous consent is not granted.

The resolution lies over for printing.

RESOLUTION

TO RESCIND ORDER OF PENNSYLVANIA STATE COUNCIL OF EDUCATION

Mr. STEWART asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the following resolution which was twice read, and laid over for printing:

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, The Commonwealth is now staggering under the burden of a tax load inherited from an era of unusual and unprecedented prosperity and;

Whereas, The Legislatures of that era, in response to an ever increasing demand for services from the State, granted same far in excess of the financial ability of the State to maintain under present conditions and;

Whereas, Much of this legislation took the form of delegating to State departments, bureaus, commissions and councils, powers and authority in the exercise of which, and by virtue of their rulings, the cost of government and governmental activities is increased, and;

Whereas, In the course of this legislative trend there was created the Pennsylvania State Council of Education clothed with authority to establish standards of public education and requirements for public school teachers, and;

Whereas, The Pennsylvania State Counil of Education has, from time to time, promulgated new rulings the effect to which is to indirectly increase the cost of the public schools and make it very difficult for the youth of average means to qualify for the teaching profession, and;

Whereas, within the past two weeks despite the necessity of action in harmony with the economic conditions of the times—the Pennsylvania State Council of Education has issued a new ruling, effective June 1, 1936, that four years post-high school training be required for teachers in elementary schools, and;

Whereas, but two reasons are assigned for the action—To wit:—To bring about a better balance between the number of teachers qualified and the number of teachers required, and to raise the standard of elementary schools to the high school level and;

Whereas, the effect of the order will be to bar from the teaching profession all those who cannot afford to spend several thousand dollars to acquire the four year course after high school; to create a profession to whose ranks only the affluent can gain admission, and, as far as the country and urban school is concerned, discriminate against the son and daughter of the farmer, the miner and every other industrial worker from whose ranks have come as many successful teachers as from those financially able to send their children through college, and;

Whereas, the public school standards now established are far in advance of the ability of the State and local districts to support and the time is not propitious for such an ambitious program as raising the elementary school standards to the high school level, therefore:

Be it resolved, by the General Assembly, that the recent order of the Pennsylvania State Council of Education requiring a four-year course for elementary school teachers should be rescinded

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 9:00 o'clock.

The motion was agreed to and at 3:49 o'clock P. M. the House adjourned until tomorrow morning at 9:00 o'clock.

Mr. MANSFIELD read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 55, entitled:

An Act to amend clause nine of section one thousand two hundred and ten of the act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts theerof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith;" as amended, by temporarily reducing the minimum salaries to be paid teachers, supervisors, principals and superintendents in the public schools, providing that increments shall not accrue, and reducing the appropriation heretofore made for the purpose of paying the Commonwealth's share of such minimum salaries.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 9:49 o'clock A. M., until 8 o'clock (Eastern Standard Time), Tuesday evening, July 5th, 1932.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, June 29, 1932

The House met at 9:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Rev. Frank W. Ruth, a member of the House, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and everlasting God, who didst send Thy Son into the world, not to be ministered unto, but to minister and to give his life a ransom for many; dispose and assist us by Thy grace, we most heartily beseech Thee, to follow the example of His great humility, and heavenly-minded love; that with all lowliness and meekness, and patient continuance in good works we may be enabled through the guidance of Thy Holy Spirit to so shape and direct our labors here, that we may bring real help to those who are in need, without causing undue burdens to be laid upon shoulders already stooped. We are human and finite, Thou art Divine and Infinite. Use us as instruments in Thy hands to do Thy will and to be a blessing unto our fellowman. Forgive us wherein we have erred in the past, in Jesus Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday when, on motion of Mr. Haws, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTION INFORMATION FROM THE SECRETARY OF REVENUE

Mr. STADTLANDER offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted.

In the House of Representatives, June 29, 1932.

Whereas, In the Budget presented to the General Assembly by Honorable Gifford Pinchot, Governor, on February third, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, an estimate of General Fund revenue and receipts of one hundred and fifty-nine million one hundred seventy-four thousand five hundred twenty-eight dollars ($159,174,528) for the biennium June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, was shown on pages forty-five to fifty-one, inclusive, and

Whereas, The Governor states in his message an estimate of revenue for the same period was one hundred fifty-five million six hundred thousand dollars ($155,600,000), which would make seventy-seven million eight hundred thousand dollars ($77,800,000) estimated for collection each fiscal year, and

Whereas, The General Assembly has never had before it a detailed statement of the estimate of one hundred fifty-five million six hundred thousand dollars ($155,600,000),

Now Therefore be it resolved, That the Secretary of Revenue be requested to furnish the House of Representatives, by July fifth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, with the estimate of the revenues of General Fund in detail, by sources, from June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two; the actual collections, by sources, for the same period, and the estimate by sources June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three,

And be it further resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Department of Revenue.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE BUDGET SECRETARY

Mr. HEFFRAN offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 29, 1932.

Whereas, The Governor of the Commonwealth did on February third, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, in compliance with Article VI of the Act of April ninth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), present to the General Assembly, the budget of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the biennium June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, together with a supplement thereto, with statements showing actual classified operating expenditures of the State Government by departments, boards, and commissions, and appropriations for the period June first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, and estimated classified operating expenditures for the fiscal year, June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, based on budgets submitted as of October first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, and

Whereas, The General Assembly therefore only has before it at this time the estimated classified operating expenditures for the period June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and

Whereas, It has no statements before it of the classified operating expenditures of the State Government of the departments, boards and commissions and appropriations for the period June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and

Whereas, The Governor of the Commonwealth has called the General Assembly to meet in extraordinary session on June twenty-seventh, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and

Whereas, In order to intelligently act upon the matters contained in the Governor's call it is necessary for the General Assembly to have before it actual information as to the revenues, expenditure and unexpended appropriations of the State Government to date, and

Whereas, The Budget Secretary was requested by a resolution of the Senate adopted at the special session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, to furnish the information directed to be furnished by this resolution, and

Whereas, Such information was not furnished by the Budget Secretary prior to the adjournment of such session, and in a letter dated January fifteenth, addressed to the Secretary of the Senate, the Budget Secretary advised that he had "been informed by the Hon. William A. Schnader, Attorney General, that since the Senate had adjourned and is not now in a position to act upon the information it has requested, it cannot properly call upon the executive branch of government for information to be circulated among the Members of the Senate after adjournment," therefore be it

Resolved, That for the information of the House, and in order that it may be advised from official records of the State of the finances of the Commonwealth, the Budget Secretary is hereby directed to submit to the House by Monday, July eleventh, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, the following:

(1) Statements showing the actual classified operating expenditures of the State Government by departments, boards and commissions, for the fiscal year June 1, 1930 to May 31, 1931, in order to complete the statement of actual classified operating expenditures for the biennial period June 1, 1929 to May 31, 1931; (The supplement of the budget presented February 3, 1931, merely shows the estimated expenditures for the fiscal year, June 1, 1930 to May 31, 1931), and the actual classified operating expenditures for the fiscal period June 1, 1931 to May 31, 1932.

(2) Statement showing in detail the total appropriation liability of the General Fund as of June 1, 1931.

(3) Statement showing in detail the total appropriation liability of the General Fund as of June 1, 1932, itemized by appropriations showing lapses and credits.

(4) Itemized list of Class A preferred appropriations of one hundred fifty-one million, two hundred sixty-six thousand, nine hundred sixty-seven dollars and sixty-two cents ($151,266,967.62). (Appropriations not abated).

(5) Statement showing the amounts by appropriations that were lapsed June 1, 1931 to May 31, 1932, and the estimated amounts by appropriations that may lapse June 1, 1932 to May 31, 1933.

All such statements shall be in such form as to be comparable with statements as shown in the supplement to the budget of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and shall include all special operating funds; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Budget Secretary.

RESOLUTION

GOVERNMENT OPERATION OF INDUSTRIES

Mr. HOOPES offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, June 29, 1932.

Whereas, We are about to celebrate the one hundred fifty-sixth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, and

Whereas, That historic document declares that governments are instituted among men to secure the rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and

Whereas, So long as the workers are not guaranteed the right to work, their rights to life, liberty and happiness are very insecure, and

Whereas, For the second time in eight months we are met in special session for the purpose of providing relief for the more than one million unemployed in this Commonwealth, and

Whereas, Unemployment is caused by the operation of industry for private profit and the consequent inability of the workers to buy back what they have produced, and will be a permanent problem so long as the private ownership of industry continues, and

Whereas, It is generally admitted that the present inadequate methods of unemployment relief threaten to bankrupt our municipal and State governments within a very few years, without in any way solving the problem, therefore be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives, That it is the duty of the government in order to fulfill the promise of the Declaration of Independence and at the same time end the unbearable drain upon our public treasuries, to take over the industries and operate them for the use and benefit of all the people, and thereby guarantee the workers the right to work and secure them the rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES

Mr. E. P. BROWN offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 29, 1932.

Whereas, The General Aassembly at its Regular Session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one made appropria tions for building construction and an appropriation for the Pymatuning Project that were approved by the Governor in a sum upwards of fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000), and

Whereas, In the first fiscal year ending June first, one billion one hundred thousand dollars ($3,100,000) of these appropriations had been expended, in accordance with appropriation thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, only about three million bills enacted,

Now therefore be it resolved, That for the information of the members of the House of Representatives, the Department of Property and Supplies of the Commonwealth is hereby directed to submit to the House of Representatives by Tuesday, the fifth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, the following:

1. A statement showing a list of the appropriations approved or allocated for each State-owned institution under the control of the Department of Welfare, Public Instruction and Health; and, for armories as well as the amount appropriated for the Pymatuning Project.

2. A statement showing a list of allocations from each appropriation; the name of the architect or engineer appointed, rate of compensation and the date when employment began; the date when the contract or contracts were awarded; the amount of each; the date when work began under the contract and the amount unexpended June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, on each appropriation for which no contract or contracts have been awarded.

3. A statement showing the amount expended to June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, from each appropriation and for each allocation, itemized to show:

(a) Construction, labor and materials.

(b) Fees of architects and engineers.

And be it further resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, shall upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Department of Property and Supplies.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS

Mr. BOWERS offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 29, 1932.

Whereas, The Department of Highways operates upon funds collected for liquid fuel tax, motor licenses and fees, fines and miscellaneous revenues which have amounted to approximately sixty-two million five hundred thousand dollars ($62,500,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, sixty million dollars ($60,000,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and fifty-seven million seven hundred thousand dollars ($57,700,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and

Whereas, There has been deposited in the said Motor Fund receipts from the Federal Government amounting to about three million seven hundred thousand dollars ($3,700,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, six million one hundred thousand dollars ($6,100,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and nine million four hundred thousand dollars ($9,400,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and

Whereas, The revenues collected from the above sources amounted to about sixty-six million two hundred thousand dollars ($66,200,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, sixty-six million two hundred thousand dollars ($66,200,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and sixty-seven million one hundred thousand dollars ($67,100,000) in the fiscal period ended May thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two; therefore the receipts have been nearly the same for each fiscal year, and

Whereas, The balance in bank to the credit of the Motor Fund on June one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, was upward of twenty-six million eight hundred thousand dollars ($26,800,000), of which ten million dollars ($10,000,000) was borrowed by authority of Act of Assembly from the General Fund, to be repaid in the present fiscal period, and

Whereas, The receipts from liquid fuels tax is constant and within a few months motor license fees and fines for one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three will begin to be paid, and

Whereas, The Department of Highways reports that it does not have sufficient funds with which to build and/or repair many of the highways requested and are employing many laborers on part time, and

Whereas, The Governor in his call of the Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly has particularly recommended:

"(12) Proposing Constitutional Amendments for State loans."

"(B) For the rebuilding and construction of highways," and

Whereas, In order to act intelligently on the proposed bond issue, it is necessary for the General Assembly to have before it for study official records of the Department of Highways in detail, therefore be it

Resolved, That for the information of the Members of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania, and in order that they may be advised from official records of the State, the Department of Highways is hereby directed to submit to the House of Representatives, by July eleventh, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, the following:

1. Statement showing the cash balance in the State Treasury to the credit of the Motor Fund on June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one;

2. Statement showing the number of miles (by counties) of roads and highways within the Commonwealth on June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, divided as follows: Concrete roads, other hard surface roads (divided as to type) and unimproved State roads on the State highway system and the improved roads not on the State highway system and other roads not on the State highway system, in order to show the total roads and highways within the Commonwealth at that time;

3. Statement showing the number of miles (by counties) of State highways constructed, reconstructed or improved from June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and the cost of each, divided as follows: Concrete roads, rural roads, other hard surface roads (divided as to type) and unimproved State roads on the State highway system;

4. Statement showing the number of miles (by counties) of roads and highways within the Commonwealth on June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, divided as follows: Concrete roads, rural roads, other hard surface roads (divided as to type) and unimproved State roads on the State highway system and the improved roads not on the State highway system and other roads not on the State highway system, in order to show the total roads and highways within the Commonwealth at that time;

5. Statement showing the cash balance in the State Treasury to the credit of the Motor Fund on June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two;

6. Statement showing the number of miles (by counties) of rural roads taken over by the Commonwealth in one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one;

7. A map showing the Twenty Thousand Mile Rural Road System as taken over by the State and showing in color the roads and mileage as per the following:

(a) Roads already improved when taken over;

(b) Roads improved by contract, or by the Department and completed and surfaced by May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two;

(c) Roads constructed and not yet surface treated by May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two;

(d) Roads now under construction or reconstruction;

(e) Roads projected for construction or reconstruction for the fiscal year ended May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three;

(f) List by counties of all moneys and mileage as per schedule (a) to (e) inclusive;

8. Statement showing the number of miles (by counties) of State highways estimated to be constructed, reconstructed or improved from June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, and the estimated cost of highways in each county, the allocations made by the Department of Highways on June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, noting where the contracts have been awarded and the contract price of each, divided as follows: Concrete roads, rural roads, other hard surface roads (divided as to type) and unimproved State roads on the State highway system;

9. Statement showing the actual expenditures by main functions from the continuing appropriations to the Department (in form as shown on Page forty-two of the 1931 Budget) for the fiscal year ended May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and the estimate of expenditures, for the same purpose, for the fiscal year beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two;

10. Statement showing actual expenditures from specific appropriations to the Department for the fiscal year ended May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two and the estimate of expenditures for the same purposes for the fiscal year beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Department of Highways.

RESOLUTION No. 5

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 5, Printer's No. 5.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the resolution.

The resolution was twice read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932.

Whereas It is proper that the people of this Commonwealth and Members of the General Assembly should be advised from time to time as to the financial affairs of the Commonwealth therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Budget Secretary is hereby directed to make public in printed form quarterly statements of the financial affairs and the condition of the General Fund of the State Treasury Such statements shall be made on or before October first for the months of June July and August on or before January first for the months of September October and November on or before April first for the months of December January and February and on or before July first for the months of March April and May Such statements shall show for each quarterly period (1) the total appropriation liability of the Commonwealth (2) the balance in the General Fund by departments and agencies receiving appropriations (3) the total amount appropriated to each (4) the total amount of the appropriation paid (5) the balance remaining unpaid the statement made as of April first of each odd-numbered year (when the Legislature is in session) shall (6) contain a detailed estimate of anticipated revenues for the fiscal biennium beginning June of the same year and each statement made as of July first shall (7) contain a detailed estimate of the revenues of the current fiscal year

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION No. 2

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 2, Printer's No. 2.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the resolution.

The resolution was twice read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 27, 1932.

Whereas, The Governor in his proclamation convening the Special Session of the Legislature on Monday June twenty-seventh one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, suggests in his call legislation reducing appropriations previously made for the purpose of restoring in whole or in part approximately $9,700,000 abated from unpreferred appropriations by the passage of the Talbot Act and

Whereas, Neither the Talbot Act nor the opinion of the Supreme Court upholding the constitutionality of the said act abated any appropriations but such abatements if any were ordered to be made by the fiscal officers by Formal Opinion Number Fifty-one of the Attorney General and

Whereas, The collections for the first fiscal year of the biennium were $85,500,000 or approximately $6,700,000 in excess of the estimates of the Secretary of Revenue and

Whereas, It appears from an examination of the financial condition of the Commonwealth that if the collections by the Department of Revenue for the fiscal year June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two to May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three will amount to approximately $66,800,000 that there will be sufficient moneys to pay all of the appropriations made at the regular and special sessions of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one and

Whereas, The Governor in his proclamation in addition to the reduction of $9,700,000 in appropriations alleged to be necessitated by the Talbot Act requests an additional reduction to the amount of $5,000,000 for the purpose of balancing the budget of the present biennium and

Whereas, It thus appears that it will be necessary to reduce the appropriations by approximately $14,700,000 before any additional unemployment relief can be provided by the General Assembly without new taxation therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Appropriations is hereby directed to make a careful investigation and report to the House of Representatives at the earliest date possible of the financial affairs of the Commonwealth taking into consideration the appropriation liability of the Commonwealth deducting therefrom all appropriations lapsed or to be lapsed the estimate of revenues to be collected during the last year of the fiscal biennium and the amount of moneys in the General Fund of the State Treasury said investigation to be made as of June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two

Resolved, That the Committee on Appropriations is hereby directed to call before it the heads of the various departments boards and commissions of the State Government in order to collect the information required by this resolution and to ascertain in detail appropriations which may be reduced in order to ascertain whether additional moneys may be made available for further unemployment relief without further taxation.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1932.

Vol. 14 HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JULY 5, 1932. No. 4.

SENATE

TUESDAY, July 5, 1932.

The Senate met at 8 o'clock p. m. (Eastern Standard Time).

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee for the land we love, free America. We pray that Thou mayest look with favor upon all the lands of the earth, and lift them out of the gloom and despair enshrouding them; but we pray particularly for our native land, that Thou mightest let Thy choicest blessing rest upon it and free it from all distress.

We rejoice in the history of our country. Our hearts are thrilled as we read about the achievements of the brave founders of our Republic, who attached their names to the great charter of our freedom, the Declaration of Independence. We rejoice in the valiant deeds wrought by the immortal Washington and his associates.

We pray that our liberties may remain in Thy safe-keeping. May all forms of injustice and enslavement be banished from our shores, and may the inhabitants of our land dwell together in peace, contentment and happiness. Inspire us to perform noble deeds in the America of our day. And we will ascribe to Thee endless praise, in the name of our Lord. Amen.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was accompained by an affidavit made by A. A. Chapman, preferring certain charges and complaints against Honorable W. D. B. Ainey, Chairman of the Public Service Commission, which was read as follows:

TRANSMITTING INFORMATION RELATIVE TO MISCONDUCT IN OFFICE OF THE CHAIRMAN OF THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 29, 1932.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I transmit herewith for your information, and for investigation by you, a copy of a sworn statement of Mr. A. A. Chapman, of Philadelphia, taken before the Attorney General, charging Hon. W. D. B. Ainey, Chairman of The Public Service Commission, with misconduct in office in a number of respects. The original will be available to you upon request.

This statement was made as the result of a communication from Lawrence C. Hickman, Esquire, a Philadelphia attorney, who offered to lay before me certain information in his possession relating to the conduct of an unnamed public officer. I referred Mr. Hickman to the Attorney General, who, in turn, stated to Mr. Hickman that it would be necessary for him to present first-hand evidence of the charges made. Thereupon, Mr. Hickman produced Mr. Chapman before the Attorney General, and Mr. Chapman volunteered to make a sworn statement and submit himself, under oath, to interrogation by the Attorney General.

Mr. Chapman testified before the Attorney General that corroborating evidence of a number of the details stated by him is in the books of Mitten Management. Your body and its committees have the power to subpoena any records necessary to enable you to investigate the charges made. I have not.

I have given Chairman Ainey an opportunity, on July 11th next, to be heard publicly in his own defense, as provided by Article IV, Section 15, of The Public Service Company Law. Mr. Chapman's charges are serious enough to warrant investigation in such manner as your honorable body may deem wise. I shall welcome your co-operation through the appropriate committee, or otherwise.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

Mr. McCLURE, Mr. President, inasmuch as the Governor is going to grant a hearing to Chairman Ainey next Monday, and inasmuch as he has not preferred any charges in this communication, without at all being discourteous to the Governor, I move that the communication be laid on the table until afer such hearing by the Governor.

Mr. BALDWIN, Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The House met at 8.00 P. M.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. O. B. Poulson, offered the following prayer:

Our Father, God, amid the din and tumult of earth's discordant voices, we pause this evening hour that we may hear

Thy still, small voice. We are not only the servants of the people, but we are Thy servants now and always. Thou God, who hast been our help in ages past, be Thou our hope for days to come.

Again we have been permitted to celebrate our nation's natal day. We thank Thee for our country—her honored flag, her doors of hope, her sacred institutions. Though dark and trying days have come upon all the nations of the earth, we bless Thee that our miseries have not been in the same abundance as our good fortunes. We plead for grace to endure the trials—for wisdom and courage that we may wisely mould out nation's destinies.

Remember in mercy any of our members who are absent because of illness or affliction. Bless the deliberations of this hour with Thy presence and guidence. We ask it in Thy name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Wednesday, June 29, 1932.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Wednesday, June 29, 1932, when on motion of Mr. Perry, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Office of Auditor General, Harrisburg, June 30, 1932.

Honorable E. F. White, Chief Clerk, House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. White:

In compliance with the provisions of a Resolution adopted by the House of Representatives June 28, 1932, requesting the amount of undistributed surplus held in the Fire Insurance Tax Fund, you are advised that the records of this Department show that the cash balance in this Fund as of June 1, 1932, was $1,665,911.52.

Very truly yours,
(s) CHAS. A. WATERS,
Auditor General.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF FORESTS AND WATERS RELATIVE TO APPROPRIATIONS FOR STATE-OWNED INSTITUTIONS

The Chair laid before the House the report of the Department of Forest and Waters in compliance with a resolution adopted by the House of Representatives dated June 29th, 1932, which was read by the Clerk as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Department of Forests and Waters, Harrisburg, July 2, 1932.

The Secretary, the House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:

Under the Resolution adopted by the House of Representatives on June 29th, the Department of Property and Supplies was directed to submit certain information concerning appropriations for building construction, including the appropriation for the Pymatuning Reservoir Project, which appropriation was made to the Department of Forests and Waters for the use of the Water and Power Resources Board. I am accordingly furnishing you with the desired information with respect to said project.

1. Amount of appropriation for the Pymatuning project—$1,500,000.
2. (a) The name of the architect or engineer appointed, rate of compensation and date when employment began:

The design and construction of the Pymatuning Dam relocation and reconstruction of highways, clearing the reservoir area and other work in connection with the completion of the project is under the direction of the Water and Power Resources Board, of which Mr. Charles E. Ryder is Chief Engineer. Mr. Arthur E. Morgan, of Yellow Springs, Ohio, is Consulting Engineer.

(b) Date when contract or contracts were awarded:

Contract No. 37, for alterations and repairs to farm house located near dam site, to be used for an administration building, awarded August 18, 1931, amounting to $6,090.05. Work was begun on August 25, 1931, and completed on February 10, 1932:

Contract No. 38, for the construction of Pymatuning Dam, was awarded on September 8, 1931, and the work was begun on September 16, 1931. The contract was awarded to a unit price basis and will amount to approximately $360,000;

Contract No. 39, for drilling wells for water supply as the clearing labor camps was awarded on December 21, 1931, the work was started on December 22, 1931, and completed on January 31, 1932. The contract amounted to $325.

Contract No. 40, for drilling test borings along the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the highway across the reservoir south of Linesville, was awarded on February 15, 1932. Work was started on March 2, and completed on April 21, 1932. The amount of this contract was $1,309.87;

Contract No. 41, for the construction of a test section of highway embankment along the line of the Espyville-Andover highway was awarded on March 28, 1932. This contract was awarded on a unit price basis and will amount to approximately $10,000. Work was begun on April 25, 1932.

(c) Clearing of the reservoir, covering an area of approximately 18,000 acres, is being undertaken by the Water and Power Resources Board with its own forces and with labor secured from the counties in the vicinity of the Shenango and Beaver valleys. This work is being undertaken by force account rather than by contract, as by this method the greatest measure of unemployment relief can be afforded. The clearing operation was begun on January 11, 1932 and on June 1st, there were 976 men engaged in this work. Forty-seven per cent. of the area was cleared on May 31st and the expenditures for this work amounted to $189,301.38.

3. Statement showing the amount expended to June 1st, 1932.
   (a) Construction, labor and materials—$296,760.36.
   (b) Fees of architects and engineers—$6,323.98. (Including traveling expenses).

Very truly yours,

LEWIS E. STALEY.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

*Warden Ashe's salary of $9,800 includes $1,800 to reimburse him for house rent. He receives his provisions from the institution.

In 1926 in accord with the provisions of the Administrative Code the Executive Board established a Salary Schedule and Classification of the positions held by employes in the service of State institutions. An allowance for maintenance was fixed for each grade of service except for the heads of the institutions and the Surgeons-in-Chief. However, on page 61 of the Classification Manual it is provided that—

> "Where it is to the best interests of the institution that the head be non-resident, he shall receive the sum of $2,500 per annum in lieu of maintenance."

In estimating the cost of maintenance for each position as listed above, we have taken into account food, rent, furnishings, heat, light, service and incidentals such as medicines, etc.

It was planned for the first year to allocate for this work from each appropriation made to the Department of Welfare for the maintenance of State institutions not over .1 of one per cent. of the amount appropriated. The payments actually made averaged only .08 of one per cent.

We can report that the new Accounting System is in full operation and we are reporting back to the State institutions each month a statement of their expenditures, commitments and costs, relieving the institutions of the work of making such reports to the Department.

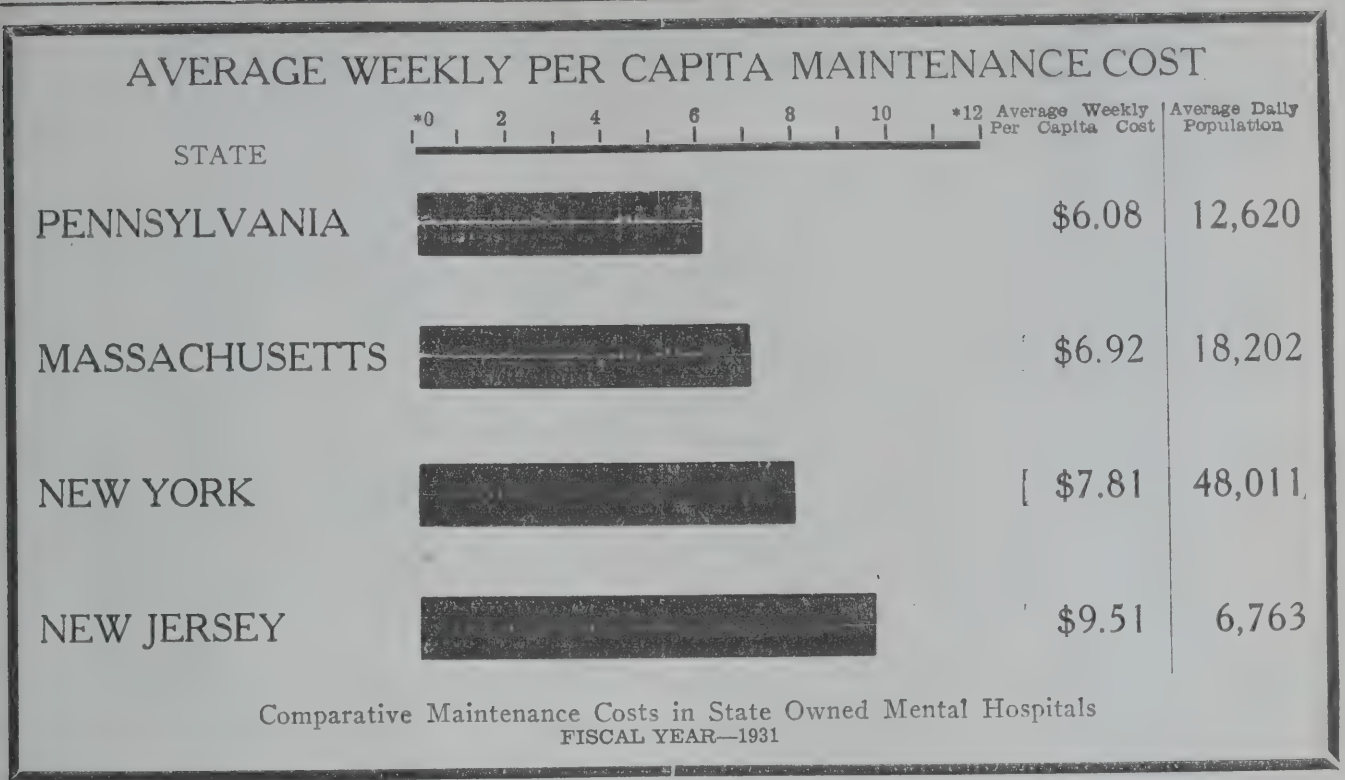
* Of the $1,972,149 saving effected by the Department of Welfare as reported by Governor Pinchot in his message (page 21) the savings of the State Institutions represent $1,738,795. There remains an unallocated balance of $142,503 which is held in reserve for emergencies.

 Locust Mountain partially closed without a Surgeon-in-Chief for several months.



In the case of Coaldale, Locust Mountain, Nanticoke and Philipsburg there are apparent overdrafts which will be met by payments from the appropriation of $250,000 provided in Act 4E Special Session of 1931.

 Represents red figures on the original.

Expenditures for the first year are considerably less than half the appropriations for two reasons:

First, the appropriations contain allowances for the furnishing and equipping of new building whose construction was anticipated.

Second, economies have been effected in the operation of the institutions and commodity prices were lower than was anticipated when appropriations were made.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

REPORT OF SECRETARY OF REVENUE ON ESTIMATES OF REVENUE OF GENERAL FUND JUNE 1, 1931—MAY 31, 1932

The Chair laid before the House the report of the Secretary of Revenue in compliance with resolution adopted by the House of Representatives June 29, 1932, which was read by the Clerk as follows:

Department of Revenue, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania,

July 5, 1932.

To the Honorable, the Members of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

According to your Resolution of June 29 asking for the detail of the estimate of $155,600,000, I hand you herewith a copy of the detail submitted to the General Assembly in Special Session through the Committee on Ways and Means on November 23, 1931. The total revenue and receipts as shown on that table are $156,930,791 from which should be deducted the amount added to cover credits to appropriations which shows the budget estimate of $156,617,572.

Included in this estimate are the returns from the Delaware River Bridge Bonds. The testimony on this point as of that date was as follows:

"Chairman: Dr. King, I want to ask you a question concerning the Delaware River Bridge, because that is a very sizable sum of money. If Congress, in its session about to convene, would ratify the agreement between the two States, which I understand is the condition prevailing, before these bonds can be placed on the market, and it was concluded that the bond market justified the sale of the bonds, it then would become a fact that the proceeds would fall in this biennium?

"Secretary King: Yes.

"Chairman: If these moneys would come into the Commonwealth, it would amount to approximately $10,000,000?

"Secretary King: Yes, about $9,500,000.

"Chairman: If that money was made available, the balance stated on your first Exhibit 'A' would then be increased so much as the sale of these bonds would bring back to the Commonwealth?

"Secretary King: No, sir.

"Chairman: Why?

"Secretary King: At the time we made this general fund estimate, we had, as you know, three windfalls that we might reasonably count on: Dorrance Estate, the Slick Estate and the Delaware River Bridge. The Slick Estate which we thought amounted to about $120,000,000 at that time consisted mostly of oil lands. Slick himself made it clear that he wanted to be regarded as a resident of Pennsylvania, while in Dorrances's Estate, Dorrance wanted to be regarded as a resident of New Jersey. The Dorrance case is now being brought before the Court. In the Slick Estate, the value of the oil lands has been knocked to pieces, so that we are sure of but little in this case. The third thing that we were sure we could count on was the Delaware River Bridge.

"Chairman: You didn't count on the Delaware River Bridge money in setting up your budget in order to balance it, did you?

"Secretary King: Yes."

When appearing before the Ways and Means Committee at the previous Special Session, I also pointed out that the depression was telling upon the receipts for the General Fund and concluded that our estimates would run about $5,000,000 too high, or 3% of the total. I am still of the opinion that that estimate was remarkably accurate as current returns amply prove. To come up to the present estimate of $150,479,563 will require not only the receipts from the Delaware River Bridge bond moneys before June 1st next but also eternal vigilance in collecting every dollar due the Commonwealth.

As the Members of the General Assembly well know, the larger portion of our inheritance tax moneys comes from the eighty per cent. provision of the Federal Estate Tax. The receipts under this provision declined 60.2% from the fiscal year 1930-31 to the fiscal year 1931-32. A similar decline must be expected in the year to come and tax collections will be all the more difficult. A decline in the earning and capital stock values of corporations so disastrous throughout the past year must also mean marked decreased revenues to the State.

The decline in current tax receipts is much more drastic than was anticipated at the time of the testimony indicated above.

Respectfully submitted,

CLYDE L. KING,
Secretary of Revenue.

REPORT FROM DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES SHOWING EXPENDITURES FOR HEAT, LIGHT, POWER, WATER AND RENT FOR DEPARTMENTS

The Chair laid before the House the report of the Department of Property and Supplies in compliance with a resolution of the House of Representatives dated June 28, 1932, which was read as follows:

July 5, 1932.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania:

Members:

We are attaching a report, in compliance with your Resolution dated June 28, 1932, showing the expenditures from each allocation of the appropriation of $1,650,000 for heat, light, power and rent of offices for each Department of the State Government for the fiscal years ending May 31, 1930, May 31, 1931 and May 31, 1932, together with a list of space rented and location outside of the City of Harrisburg for the use of each Department, Board and Commission, including space paid for from special funds.

The report indicates in each case the purpose of the occupancy of leases in existence May 31, 1932, and the annual rental in each case, as well as a list of space rented in the City of Harrisburg, together with its location, how occupied and the annual rental thereof.

Since June 1, 1932, the beginning of this biennium, by contact and survey of the office quarters a reduction thus far in our previous rents effects a saving of approximately $20,000, which is not reflected in the disbursements of this report, with further anticipated reductions as the survey progresses and the leases expire.

We will be glad to give you any further information that you may desire.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN L. HANNA,

Secretary of Property and Supplies.

Encl.

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES ON AUTOMOTIVE EQUIPMENT AND SUPPLIES FOR DEPARTMENTS

The Chair laid before the House the report of the Department of Property and Supplies in compliance with a resolution of the House of Representatives, dated June 28, 1932, which was read as follows:

July 5, 1932.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania:

Members:

We are attaching a report, in compliance with your Resolution dated June 28, 1932, showing expenditures from each allocation of the appropriation of $650,000 for the purchase of automotive equipment and for the maintenance of unassigned cars for the fiscal years ending May 31, 1931 and May 31, 1932.

At your direction a list is also attached showing the number of cars of each make assigned to each Department, Board and Commission of the State Government. It is the policy of the present administration to limit the purchase of new automotive equipment to the most economical type of car, as well as to obtain the maximum utility of the mileage life of the cars by transferring such cars as are not used entirely by Departments into the unassigned fleet under the direction of this Department, whence they become available for the use of any Department.

All Cadillacs and Packards on hand were purchased in prior administrations. In the disbursements of 1932 for automobiles there is an item of $84,110.61, which is applicable to 1931. Thus the true picture of expenditures for 1932 for automotive equipment is approximately $120,000 less than the previous year of 1931.

We will be glad to give you any further information that you may desire.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN L. HANNA,
Secretary of Property and Supplies.

Encls.

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES ON EXPENDITURES FOR SUPPLIES FOR DEPARTMENTS

The Chair laid before the House a report of the Department of Property and Supplies in compliance with a resolution of the House of Representatives dated June 28, 1932, which was read as follows:

July 5, 1932.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania:

Members:

We are attaching a report, in compliance with your Resolution dated June 28, 1932, showing the expenditures in each allocation of the appropriation of $4,030,000 for office supplies, printing, telephone, etc., to each Department of the State Government for the fiscal years ending May 31, 1930, May 31, 1931, and May 31, 1932.

The total of expenditures in 1932 shows a decrease over the years 1930 and 1931 due to the decreased allocation to the Departments occasioned by the lower commodity costs and a vigilant economic program.

We will be glad to give you any further information that you may desire.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN L. HANNA,
Secretary of Property and Supplies.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. MUMFORD asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. Wheeler for the week on account of illness.

Mr. RICE asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. George L. Reed for the week on account of illness.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, the State of Pennsylvania, the State of New Jersey and the City of Philadelphia, never were in greater need of funds with which to meet their expenses from day to day than exists at the present time.

There are due the City of Philadelphia, the State of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey many millions of dollars as a result of the legislation passed at the session of one year ago, authorizing the sale of the Delaware River Bridge to the Joint Bridge Commission. Congress has fully approved that measure. The bankers of Philadelphia and of New York say that this is not an opportune time to float the bonds that are authorized under that legislation.

It occurs to me that if it is possible for the Bridge Commission to pay its obligations to the State of New Jersey, the State of Pennsylvania and the City of Philadelphia in bonds, it ought to be done, and I am offering this resolution to this end, to see whether authority cannot be found by which the obligations to these several governments can be paid in bonds. I am sure that if the amount due the State of Pennsylvania can be paid in bonds, they could be absorbed over night.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman from Tioga, under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING ADVICE ON DELAWARE RIVER JOINT BRIDGE COMMISSION BONDS

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, July 5, 1932.

Whereas, The agreement between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey creating the Delaware River Joint Commission authorizes said Commission to determine as of the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, the net amounts due the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the State of New Jersey, and the City of Philadelphia on account of the moneys contributed toward the cost of acquiring property and constructing the bridge across the Delaware River connecting the cities of Philadelphia and Camden and authorizes said Commission to borrow money on its bonds or other obligations and to pay out of the moneys raised by the sale of such bonds or obligations the sums ascertained by the Commission to be due Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Philadelphia; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Philadelphia, on account of present economic conditions are in need of the funds authorized to be raised pursuant to said agreement, but banking interests question the wisdom of marketing these bonds at this time, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That the Delaware River Joint Commission is directed to advise the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania whether it would be feasible and advisable for said Commission to issue the bonds authorized by said act and to deliver to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the State of New Jersey and the City of Philadelphia bonds of the face value of their respective claims, thereby enabling Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Philadelphia to sell such bonds from time to time and to realize moneys thereon;

Resolved, That the Commission be requested to advise what, if any, legislation is needed to accomplish the purpose of this resolution;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Delaware River Joint Commission.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING CONGRESS TO ACT ON VETERANS ADJUSTED COMPENSATION

Mr. DUNN offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, July 5, 1932.

Whereas, It is the duty of the Federal Government to provide liberally for those whose patriotism was well proven during the World War, and

Whereas, It is encumbent upon the nation for whose defense they were willing to make the supreme sacrifice, to show its appreciation by now making in turn a sacrifice for them, and

Whereas, The payment of the bonus now so urgently needed by those heroes of yesterday would not only alleviate their needs but would, by putting a large amount of money into circulation, stimualte business and manufacturing, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That it is the concensus of opinion of the members of both the House and Senate of Pennsylvania, that both Houses of Congress at Washington should enact legislation that will make payable at once the balance due all soldiers, sailors and marines of the World War on their adjusted compensation, and be if further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be instructed to send copies of this resolution to the presiding officers of both Houses of Congress at Washington and to each member of the Congress of the United States from this Commonwealth with a request that they work and vote to enact this proposed legislation, and also that a copy be sent to the President of the United States for his information.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE RATES ON COAL

Mr. CAUFFIEL offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, July 5, 1932.

Whereas, By reason of unfair and preferential transportation rates granted to more remotely lying coal fields, Pennsylvania has lost its normal natural advantages arising out of the nearness of its-coal fields to the great consuming centers of the country which has resulted in great loss to the coal industry and has affected the property and caused the inconvenience of nearly ten millions of people and the actual suffering of many thousands, and

Whereas, Through this system of unfair preferentials it has become possible to transport coal from a distant point through or around Pennsylvania coal fields for less freight charges than from the Pennsylvania fields, and

Whereas, This system of preferentials has created in Pennsylvania economic distress not only to capital and labor involved in the coal district, but to practically every line of business and every profession because of the direct or indirect dependence of Pennsylvania's prosperity upon the normal functioning of the coal industry, and

Whereas, By reason of these preferentials, Pennsylvania coal with a six hundred mile haul is in many instances unable to compete at point of market with coal which has been hauled fourteen hundred miles and more, and

Whereas, The prosperity of the coal regions will never be restored, and will never become normal until a change is made and until this unfair and unjustifiable preference given to districts at a greater distance and mining its coal under labor conditions amounting to practical slavery is abolished and until the preferential rates now in force are superseded by fair and equitable rates, and

Whereas, The prosperity of Pennsylvania in great measure depends upon the prosperity of the coal regions of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, The right to use its natural markets unfettered and unhampered by artificial, unnatural, unfair and preferential restrictions is necessary to the prosperity of Pennsylvania's coal districts; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Legislature of Pennsylvania calls upon the Interstate Commerce Commission of the United States to fully, fairly and impartially investigate the rates now existing and charged for coal haulage from Pennsylvania districts as compared with rates for coal haulage from other and more distant coal fields to the same point of market, and in making such investigation to have in mind labor conditions, and the standards of living of miners engaged in producing coal in various coal districts within and without this Commonwealth, and be it further

Resolved, That the Members in the Congress of the United States from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be urged to exert every possible influence to cause such investigation to be made by the Interstate Commerce Commission and to bring about a change in the unfair preferential rates now existing, and be it further

Resolved, That this Legislature believing that the prosperity of Pennsylvania depends in a great measure upon the prosperity of each of its various industries, urges upon all of the departments of the State government using or purchasing coal for fuel, the necessity of purchasing and using only Pennsylvania coal, and be it further

Resolved, That the Legislature in order to secure that prosperity for the Commonwealth desired by its citizens, urges upon them the necessity and propriety of purchasing and using only Pennsylvania coal, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to each Member of the House of Representatives of the United States from Pennsylvania and to each of the two United States Senators from Pennsylvania, to the Chief Clerk of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, to the President of the United States, and to the Secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

RESOLUTION

OBLIGATION OF COMMONWEALTH TO CONSTRUCT RURAL ROADS

Mr. STEWART offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, July 5, 1932.

Whereas, this Legislature did, in June 1931, commit this Commonwealth to the project of constructing, maintaining and improving Twenty Thousand miles of rural roads, using the following language:—

"Establishing certain township roads as State highways, authorizing their construction, maintenance and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions," and,

"After the highways described in the foregoing sections of this act shall have been taken over by the Commonwealth, they shall be built, rebuilt, constructed, reconstructed, repaired and maintained by the Department of Highways at the expense of the Commonwealth," and,

Whereas, The amount of welfare relief required in the various counties of the Commonwealth is in inverse ratio to the amount of employment therein, and:—

Whereas, The creation of employment by liberally providing funds for proceeding with rural road construction will serve a five fold purpose, namely;

Reduce the need for direct welfare relief;

Relieve beneficiaries of the embarrassment of accepting a dole;

Free thousands of isolated communities and imprisoned peoples now hopelessly marooned in mud several months of the year;

Return to the Commonwealth permanment and lasting benefits for every dollar so expended, and,

Contribute measurably to the discharge of the obligation of this Commonwealth to construct said rural road system, a commitment of this Legislature, therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the distribution of whatever funds are found, provided or made available for unemployment relief, the fact that the Commonwealth has an obligation to construct the twenty thousand mile rural road system be given consideration, and.

Further, That while admitting the need for some direct relief to the utterly destitute, and the need for certain other forms of Legislation for relief of other than rural communities, distribution of funds should be in such form as will guarantee the benefits of the five fold purpose enumerated above.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1, as follows:

An Act authorizing counties cities boroughs incorporated districts townships school districts and poor districts to negotiate temporary emergency loans for certain purposes during the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-two and under certain circumstances to refund such loans annually for a certain period

Section 6 This act shall become effective immediately upon its approval by the Governor

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 64, entitled:

An Act to provide for the expense of the extraordinary session of the Legislature assembled June twenty-seventh Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred thirty-two in pursuance of the proclamation of the Governor of the Commonwealth dated June twenty-second Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred thirty-two

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KLECKNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. KLECKNER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny kindly inform me, in my ignorance, whether under this bill, which is the first bill on third reading, it is true that no salary reductions for present assemblymen or legislators can be made by law for this present session or whether the salary reductions can only be made for the next General Session?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, this bill is only in reference to the Extraordinary Session of 1932.

Mr. KLECKNER. Mr. Speaker, my question or inquiry was whether or not it would be possible to reduce the salaries of the legislators by this bill or whether that must be brought up at the next General Session, if the gentlemen pleases.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, for the gentlemen's information, this is the pay roll bill for the Extraordinary Session of 1932. It covers nothing but the salaries of the legislators and the employes of the Legislature.

Mr. KLECKNER. Mr. Speaker, under Printer's No. 6, line 21, it says: "for the payment of the salaries of the members of the House of Representatives." May I inquire whether the salaries may be reduced at this session or must that question be taken up at the next General Session?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, that is not within the purview of this act. It is only for your salary of $500 for this session.

Mr. KLECKNER. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate that fact, but as a legislator who is desirous of reducing salaries from the Governor on down, including myself, can we reduce our salaries?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Lehigh will then have to introduce a bill himself.

Mr. KLECKNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny has not yet answered my question.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I am trying to answer the question; I am not evading it, if you please.

For the information of the House, this bill is nothing more than is what is commonly known as the salary bill for the Extraordinary Session. If the gentleman from Lehigh desires to reduce the salaries of the members of any session to come in the future, my only recommendation to him is either to accept in main the proposed reduction of Mr. Patterson of $1,000, or accept the bill proposed by the gentleman from Lawrence of $500 or to introduce a bill to his particular liking and then he can get whatever he wants out of it.

Mr. KLECKNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman still has not answered my question. The question is whether or not we can reduce the salaries of the legislators at this session or whether we must wait for the next session. The answer is no.

Mr. STEEDLE. Why ask me if you know?

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and where as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION

REPORT OF SECRETARY OF REVENUE ON COST OF COLLECTION OF LIQUID FUELS TAX, MOTOR LICENSES AND OPERATION OF MOTOR PATROL

The Chair asked and obtained unanimous consent to lay before the House the report of the Secretary of Revenue in compliance with a resolution of the House of Representatives dated June 28, 1932, which was read by the Clerk as follows:

Department of Revenue, Harrisburg, July 5, 1932.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In response to your Resolution of June 28th, 1932 asking for administrative expenditures for stated periods from the Motor License Fund, I submit the following statements:

Actual collections for each of the three fiscal years mentioned are as follows:

	Fiscal Year 1929-30	Fiscal Year 1930-31	Fiscal Year 1931-32
Receipts from Motor Licenses	$32,519,970.92	$31,378,129.13	$29,845,818.98
Receipts from Liquid Fuels Tax	29,266,409.44	27,633,025.82	27,404,251.91

BUREAU OF MOTOR VEHICLES

The Department now conducts two inspections of automobile equipment each year instead of one and is making the inspection worth something. This change made it necessary to enlarge the safety division by forty men with motorcycles and equipment for inspection purposes, and an additional number of employes to handle the services demanded by this increased inspection.

The inspection of Justice of the Peace dockets in connection with Motor Law violations was not made until January of 1931. Tax returns have amply justified the increased expenditure for this purpose.

Legislation passed in 1931 made it necessary to cite all operators who have been involved in fatal accidents for a hearing. That legislation also provided for re-examination of careless drivers. These changes have increased the amount of work conducted by the Division of Safety in respect to hearings.

Other than these increases in expenditures required by law, the expenditures of this Bureau have been reduced. The work of the Bureau was formerly poorly organized. Improvements have been made so that at the present time the yearly salary rate of the Bureau is running 138,000 below that of six months ago despite the increased services required by the legislation noted above. The payrolls in June of this year totaled $48,-051.42 as compared with $59,538.00 as of January 1, 1932.

BUREAU OF LIQUID FUELS TAX

Due to neglect in previous years, the cost of collecting the moneys deposited in the Motor License Fund from Liquid Fuels Taxes increased more than $300,000 during the fiscal year just passed. That sum had to be spent in the collection of taxes which should have been collected as far back as 1923. If the current work had been kept up to date, this expenditure would not have been necessary.

In this work the Bureau collected over $900,000 in taxes long deliquent. This sum was over 20 per cent. more than the entire cost of operating the Bureau for the whole year. In addition the Bureau had made determinations against tax evaders and bootleggers of more than $2,000,000, not as yet collected.

For the fiscal year ending May 31, 1930, expenses were for but eleven months, not twelve, as June 1929 was charged to the Auditor General. The Department of Revenue did not take over this Bureau until July 1, 1929.

Deposits for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1930, however, covered fourteen months, as against twelve months for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1931 and the fiscal year ending May 31, 1932. Previous to July 1, 1929, reports were made quarterly—that is, April, May, and June were not due until on or before July, 1929. From July 1, 1929 to July 1, 1931, the tax per gallon was four cents as against three cents during eleven months of the last fiscal year. With consideration of this decrease of one cent in tax, the Bureau collected the tax on more gallons in the fiscal year just ended than were taxed in the previous fiscal year by 8.8%.

When the Bureau was transferred from the Auditor General's Department to the Department of Revenue, the work was far behind. Employes were loaned to the new Bureau by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles but not charged to the cost of the Liquid Fuels Tax Bureau. This was true up to November 1, 1931. The records as to the costs were therefore not even honest for comparable purposes.

On February 1, 1931, the books of the dealers in 22 counties (Philadelphia and Allegheny included) had not been audited at all, and, therefore, the work was eighteen months behind. In none of the counties was the auditing up to date. In order to bring the work up to a current basis, the Department added 101 employes. By June 15, 1931, this work was up to date.

While the law clearly required dealers to hold permits, a check made during February 1931 showed approximately 25 per cent. of the dealers had never complied with the law and were reporting neither sales nor taxes. The per cent. not even having permits in some counties was appalling. Here are some examples:

County	No. of Dealers in County	Dealers Without Permits	Per Cent. of Dealers Without Permits
Philadelphia	2915	563	19%
Delaware ..	523	114	21.8%
Bucks	581	50	8.6%

It was, therefore, necessary to increase the personnel to 471 employes as of June 1931 to clean up the old mess and bring the current tax work up to date.

On June 10, 1932, the personnel totaled 207, a decrease of 56 per cent.

Moreover, during the calendar year 1931, tank wagon deliveries increased from 12½ per cent. to 25 per cent in method of transportation. This is the method of transportation best adapted to the use of the bootleggers and the tax evader. The Revenue Highway Patrol was created to combat this evasion. The cost of operating this unit for this fiscal year was $92,-945.71 which included cost of equipment, etc.

For May of this year the cost of collecting current liquid fuels taxes was but nine-tenths of one per cent. The total cost for this current year will run less than $360,000.

HIGHWAY PATROL

While 20,000 miles of highways have been added to the State Highway system in the past year the number of patrolmen was increased but 3%. Prior to the fiscal year 1931-32 the Patrol had not been kept up even to its authorized strength. Moreover, patrolmen are now staying on the job longer hence service pay has increased in amount.

In order to keep experienced men and to reduce training expenses a service pay is added to the base pay of patrolmen. This amounts to $5.00 per month for each year that the patrolman has been in service up to five years and has been given since the first year of their organization. The men deserve this service pay and it ought not to be denied them. Even with this service pay added, their monthly pay is now well below that in the State Police and in other similar organizations.

The approximate cost per highway patrolman during the year ending May 31, 1930 was $2400.00 per man; for the year ending May 31, 1931, $2500.00 per man; for the year ending May 31, 1932; excluding replacements of worn out equipment, $2500.00 per man. The net results, therefore, is no increase whatever in the operating cost for each Highway Patrolman for the first year of the current biennium over the second fiscal year of the last biennium. The increase in total expenditures during the three years under review is, therefore, due entirely to the addition of service pay and increase in personnel. Better efficiency and more men on the road for longer hours was obtained by better administration and by more and better equipment.

During the past fiscal year, the facilities and conditions of the State Highway Patrol have been bettered as follows:

Substations have been moved from inaccessible back streets to main thoroughfares.

Substitution offices have been established on first floors to preclude necessity of public entering bedrooms of Patrolmen.

Proper office equipment has been provided for these offices.

General living conditions in the field have been improved. Equipment has been increased and bettered as follows:

Weatherproof first aid kits are carried on all motorcycles.

Fire extinguishers are now part of motorcycle equipment.

Permanent flag signals have been erected throughout the State for recall of Patrolmen in emergencies.

Two (2) additional Troop Headquarters and additional Substations have been established.

Secretary of Revenue.

The budget submitted to the General Session of the Legislature in January 1931 for the Department of Revenue was that recommended by the former Secretary of Revenue. That total budget was recommended with many known facts in mind, among them the following:

The Department of Revenue was organized on July 1, 1929. The appropriation for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1930 was therefore for but eleven months only and not for the full year.

The Department did not get well organized and under way until the calendar year 1930 during which time settlements were made on all reports filed for prior years which had been held on account of litigation or other disputes and the amounts of tax admitted to be due paid. For example, in this one year, one of the largest taxpayers of the Commonwealth paid capital stock tax admitted to be due for three years. Many other companies paid amounts admitted to be due on disputed tax accounts. During the last few months of the previous administration the cream of all such accounts were settled.

This left upon the books as found by an audit as of December 1, 1930 approximately $35,000,000 of so called unpaid taxes. Many of these accounts were settled years ago and included estimated settlements because of failure to file tax reports, either on account of the company being insolvent or having gone out of existence without notifying the Department of Revenue. Many of the corporations were not even in existence.

Early in 1931 the Department of Revenue found that the only way to clean up the millions of dollars of corporation taxes on the books of the State was to have personal contact with the taxpayers or their representatives in the field. Therefore, seven district officers were establishd with a suprvisor in charge of each and the State divided into eight districts, one of which was assigned to the main office of the Department of Revenue at Harrisburg. In each of these districts field investigators were appointed so that they could investigate the reasons why the old accounts had not been paid and the possibility of the ability of the Commonwealth to collect any portion of the items delinquent and owing to the State. This activity brought in around $10,000,000 in the fiscal year just closed.

There is very little cost in collecting taxes admitted to be due. The real cost is in adjusting disputed items or collecting delinquent accounts. These disputed accounts often require detailed investigations and delinquent accounts always require investigations and attempts to collect by field men.

Further, the Department of Revenue, under the law, had but one year from June 1, 1931 within which to make adjustments of any unpaid and disputed accounts settled prior to June 1, 1929. This fact required intensive action on the part of the Department with respect to adjustments and investigations. Therefore, while the revenue declined from current General Taxes during the fiscal year ending May 31, 1932, the amount of work involved in making these collections and adjustments was materially increased and large sums of delinquent taxes were collected.

With the decline in business conditions there is now an increase of delinquencies in current General Taxes. Such delinquent items were and are certified to field investigators which necessarily increased their work and travelling expenses.

This disastrous business depression requires a vigilance in tax collection not experienced in this State for many years. Every technicality is used to avoid taxes or reduce them. This field tax force is at present therefore of inestimable service to the State. This force has in the past year collected $340,000 in mercantile taxes alone entirely overlooked by mercantile appraisers; thus paying for itself many times over.

For the fiscal year ended May 31, 1932, the Department of Revenue collected a total for the General Fund of $85,710,954.62. The total moneys spent from all sources by the Department for collecting this sum was $716,218.47, or eight tenths of 1%; or only eighty cents out of every $100. Of this record in times like these the Department may well be proud.

Tax receipts not under the exclusive jurisdiction of the Department of Revenue collected through the county offices, namely inheritance taxes, mercantile taxes and the taxes on writs, wills and deeds brought in $22,779,505.18 at a cost of $1,283,527.69 or an average of 5.63%.

The Department of Revenue with exclusive jurisdiction over the collection of corporation taxes collected $45,182,307.28 in current corporation taxes with an entire cost of thirty-nine one-hundredths of 1%, as contrasted with the cost of collecting mercantile taxes, inheritance taxes and the taxes on writs, wills and deeds of 5.63%. This cost of 5.63% is fourteen times more money than the cost of collecting comparable taxes by the Department of Revenue.

The cost of collecting $4,425,000 in delinquent corporation taxes was $156,844.78 or .03½%. These taxes were long over due but where collected at about 63% of the cost of collecting current taxes through county offices.

Under difficult conditions the Department of Revenue is now collecting over $99 for less than one dollar of expenditure out of General Funds. Every dollar is, therefore, well spent as evidenced by these facts.

Respectfully submitted,
CLYDE L. KING,
Secretary of Revenue.

RESOLUTION

REPORT OF STATE TREASURER AND SECRETARY OF REVENUE ON DEPOSITING OF CHECKS IMMEDIATELY UPON RECEIPT

The Chair asked and obtained unanimous consent to lay before the House the report of the State Treasurer and Secretary of Revenue in compliance with a resolution of the House of Representatives dated June 28, 1932, which was read by the Clerk as follows:

Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, July 5, 1932.

To the Honorable, the Members of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

We, the undersigned, as Secretary of Revenue and State Treasurer of Pennsylvania, respectively, desire to make the following statement as regards the procedure employed in depositing checks submitted to the Commonwealth in payment of taxes and other moneys due it. This statement is responsive to the resolutions adopted by the House of Representatives on June 28, 1932:

All checks, drafts, money orders or other evidences of payment received by the Department of Revenue at Harrisburg, representing undisputed amounts due the Commonwealth, are transmitted to the State Treasurer the same day they are received. This is true today and has been for some months.

As late as the early part of 1931, many checks were held in various amounts in the Bureau of Liquid Fuels Tax of the Department of Revenue. Evidence of this may be found in a report of an examination of this Bureau made by the Auditor General, dated February 27, 1931.

Early in 1931 drastic steps were taken to correct this situation. After much effort and expense, incident to changing methods and procedures, the condition was rectified.

The practice and procedure in effect in the Department today make it possible and also practicable to clear checks promptly, even though the volume of detail in preparing transmittals and deposit slips for the State Treasurer in the form required is greater than is customary in ordinary commercial practice.

Under present methods, transmittals made to the State Treasurer before 11:00 A. M. on any week day, Saturday excepted, are dated as of that day and receipts for by the State Treasurer as of the same date. The State Treasurer deposits funds so transmitted on the date received by him. Transmittals made to the State Treasurer after 11:00 A. M. are dated as of, and deposited on, the following day and so receipted for by the State Treasurer.

A transmittal made on Friday afternoon or Saturday morning is dated as of the following Monday and receipted for as of that date, even though it is delivered to the State Treasurer and in his custody on Friday afternoon or Saturday morning. If a holiday intervenes, such as did Independence Day, the transmittals are then postdated to Tuesday. Such a procedure makes it possible for the Department of Revenue and the Treasury Department to keep their books in agreement as to transmittals and receipts during a given period.

Most disputed collections are handled by the Bureau of Delinquent Accounts. There, for obvious reasons, it is sometimes necessary to hold a check to protect the taxpayer's interests as well as those of the Commonwealth. It is essential at all times to show clearly on the transmittal to the State Treasurer the particular tax covered by the check and all other necessary details; otherwise, the State Treasurer would decline to accept the transmittal.

If by chance a check is transmitted incorrectly and deposited by the State Treasurer and later it is ascertained that the taxpayer has overpaid his account, it then becomes impossible (excepting in Liquid Fuels Taxes or Motor Fund Taxes) to reimburse the taxpayer. No appropriation exists from which this can be done. The taxpayer had paid more than he owed the Commonwealth. The Commonwealth is holding funds that do not belong to it. Therefore, when such a check is held in this Department today it is held primarily in the interest of the taxpayer.

During the past fiscal year $186,120,641.67 has been transmitted from the Department of Revenue to the Treasury Department without the slightest discrepancy of any kind by either department.

Respectfully submitted,
EDWARD MARTIN,
State Treasurer.
CLYDE L. KING,
Secretary of Revenue.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. The Chair is advised that something like fifty-seven bills have been introduced tonight, or have come to the House from the Senate. If there are no objections the Chair will declare a recess of forty minutes, during which time the bills will be referred so that they will be available for the committees tomorrow. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and declares a recess for forty minutes.

AFTER RECESS

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The time for the recess having expired the House will be in order.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1932.

Vol. 14 HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JULY 6, 1932. No. 5.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, July 6, 1932.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M. (Eastern Standard Time).

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Our Gracious Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the abundant provision Thou hast made for the supplying of human need. We are perplexed with the scene of many facing starvation in the midst of an oversupply of Thy bounties. Grant that we may discover the way of distributing in an adequate manner Thy favors among those in need.

Give us a clearance of vision which will enable us to formulate and enact such remedial legislation as will bring permanent relief to our fellow citizens in distress.

Grant us Thy guidance this day, with the forgiveness of all our sins, in the name of our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. LANIUS, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

An Act authorizing counties, cities, boroughs, towns, townships, school districts and poor districts to install by ordinance or resolution a system for the collection of taxes in instalments; and specifying certain conditions and penalties in such cases.

Mr. EARNEST, from the Committee on Finance, reported as amended the following resolution:

DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES TO SUBMIT TO SENATE BY JULY 5th DETAILED STATEMENT OF APPROPRIATIONS AND EXPENDITURES FOR STATE BUILDING CONTRACTS, INCLUDING ARMORIES AND PYMATUNING PROJECT

In the Senate, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, The General Assembly at its Regular Session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one made appropriations for building construction and an appropriation for the Pymatuning Project that were approved by the Governor in a sum upwards of fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000), and

Whereas, In the first fiscal year ending June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, only about three million, one hundred thousand dollars ($3,100,000) of these appropriations had been expended, in accordance with appropriation bills enacted,

Now Therefore be it Resolved, That for the information of the members of the Senate, the Department of Property and Supplies of the Commonwealth is hereby directed to submit to the Senate by Monday, the eleventh day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, the following:

1. A statement showing a list of the appropriations approved or allocated for each State-owned institution under the control of the Department of Welfare, Public Instruction and Health; and, for armories as well as the amount appropriated for the Pymatuning Project.

2. A statement showing a list of allocations from each appropriation; the name of the architect or engineer appointed, rate of compensation and the date when employment began; the date when the contract or contracts were awarded; the amount of each; the date when work began under the contract and the amount unexpended June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, on each appropriation for which no contract or contracts have been awarded.

3. A statement showing the amount expended to June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, from each appropriation and for each allocation, itemized to show:

A. Construction, labor and materials.

B. Fees of architects and engineers.

And Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate, shall upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Department of Property and Supplies.

Mr. EARNEST. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions reported from committee to lie on the table one day, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just reported from the committee.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

DIRECTING THE BUDGET SECRETARY TO SUBMIT TO THE SENATE BY JULY 11th COMPLETE AND COMPARABLE BUDGET STATEMENTS FROM JUNE 1, 1930, TO MAY 31, 1933.

In the Senate, June 28, 1932.

Whereas, The Governor of the Commonwealth did on February third, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, in compliance with Article VI of the Act of April ninth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), present to the General Assembly, the budget of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the biennium June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, together with a supplement thereto, with statements showing actual classified operating expenditures of the State Government by departments, boards, and commissions, and appropriations for the period June first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, and estimated classified operating expenditures for the fiscal year, June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, based on budgets submitted as of October first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, and

Whereas, The General Assembly therefore only has before it at this time the estimated classified operating expenditures for the period June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and

Whereas, It has no statements before it of the classified operating expenditures of the State Government of the departments, boards and commissions and appropriations for the period June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and

Whereas, The Governor of the Commonwealth has called the General Assembly to meet in Extraordinary Session on June twenty-seventh, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and

Whereas, In order to intelligently act upon the matters contained in the Governor's call it is necessary for the General Assembly to have before it actual information as to the revenue, expenditures and unexpended appropriations of the State Government to date, and

Whereas, The Budget Secretary was requested by a resolution of the Senate adopted at the Special Session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, to furnish the information directed to be furnished by this resolution, and

Whereas, Such information was not furnished by the Budget Secretary prior to the adjournment of such session, and in a letter dated January fifteenth, addressed to the Secretary of the Senate, the Budget Secretary advised that he had "been informed by the Honorable William A. Schnader, Attorney General, that since the Senate had adjourned and is not now in a position to act upon the information it has requested, it cannot properly call upon the executive branch of government for information to be circulated among the members of the Senate after adjournment," therefore be it

Resolved, That for the information of the Senate, and in order that it may be advised from official records of the State of the finances of the Commonwealth, the Budget Secretary is hereby directed to submit to the Senate by Monday, July eleventh, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, the following:

(1) Statements showing the actual classified operating expenditures of the State Government by departments, boards and commissions, for the fiscal year, June 1, 1930 to May 31, 1931, in order to complete the statement of actual classified operating expenditures for the biennial period June 1, 1929 to May 31, 1931; (The supplement of the budget presented February 3, 1931, merely shows the estimated expenditures for the fiscal year, June 1, 1930 to May 31, 1931), and the actual classified operating expenditures for the fiscal period June 1, 1931 to May 31, 1932.

(2) Statement showing in detail the total appropriation liability of the general Fund as of June 1, 1931.

(3) Statement showing in detail the total appropriation liability of the General Fund as of June 1, 1932, itemized by appropriations showing lapses and credits.

(4) Itemized list of Class A preferred appropriations of one hundred fifty-one million, two hundred sixty-six thousand, nine hundred sixty-seven dollars and sixty-two cents ($151,266,967.62). (Appropriations not abated).

(5) Statement showing the amount by appropriations that were lapsed June 1, 1931 to May 31, 1932, and the estimated amounts by appropriations that may lapse June 1, 1932 to May 31, 1933.

All such statements shall be in such form as to be comparable with statements as shown in the supplement to the budget of one thousand nine hundred and thrity-one, and shall include all special operating funds; and be it further.

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate shall, upon its passage, transmit a copy of this resolution to the Budget Secretary.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions reported from committee to lie on the table one day, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just reported from committee.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. Bell read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 73, entitled:

An Act to further amend section eight of the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 280), entitled "An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands, and prescribing interest charges on non-payment thereof; requiring the receivers and collectors of county, city, borough, town, township, school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes, and providing for the lien thereof; authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes, and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid; and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances," by further regulating the adjournment and readjournment of sales of seated lands for delinquent taxes, and authorizing the county treasurer, with the consent of the county commissioners and a judge, to adjourn and readjourn such sales during periods of economic depression; providing for advertisement and notice preceding any adjournment or readjournment, and dispensing with prior advertisement and notice in such cases, providing for the consolidation of the advertisements and notices of different year's taxes held on the same date, and validating adjourned sales where the original sale has not been advertised or notice thereof given.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. CLARK, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, July 6, 1932.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, July eleventh, at eight o'clock Eastern Standard Time, and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvenes on Monday evening, July eleventh, at eight o'clock Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 32, entitled:

An Act authorizing counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated districts, townships, school districts, and poor districts to negotiate temporary emergency loans for certain purposes during the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-two and under certain circumstances to refund such loans annually for a certain period.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 1, page 1, line 11, by inserting after the word "district" the following: "with the consent of the court of common pleas of the county"

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 54, as follows:

An Act abolishing the office of collector of delinquent county taxes where the same now exists in counties of the second class providing for the collection of such taxes by the local tax collectors and by the county treasurer and providing for their compensation.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the office of collector of delinquent taxes appointed by the county treasurer where such office exists in any county of the second class by virtue either of any general special or local act is hereby abolished Provided however That such collectors of delinquent taxes who shall upon the effective date of this act have in their possession a warrant or warrants for the collection of delinquent taxes that are not fully executed shall continue to collect such taxes with the same powers as heretofore and shall receive therefor the same compensation None of the penalties for delinquent payments of taxes imposed under the provisions of existing laws whether as compensation to the said delinquent tax collectors or otherwise shall be abated or otherwise affected by the provisions of this act but the full amount of the same shall be collected as hereinafter provided and paid into the county treasury for the use of the county

Section 2 The county treasurer in counties of the second class shall appoint the local tax collector of each city of the third class borough and township as the collector of delinquent county taxes within such city of the third class borough or township who shall give bond to the Commonwealth in such penal sum as shall be fixed by the salary board of the county conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties and the payment over to the county treasurer of all taxes and penalties collected The county treasurer shall issue his warrant and schedule of unpaid taxes to such local collectors who shall have all the powers of delinquent tax collectors under the provisions of existing laws and who shall receive for such services as delinquent tax collectors such compensation as shall be fixed by the salary board of the county In the event that there shall be a vacancy in the office of local collector of taxes for any reason or if the local tax collector shall fail to qualify under the provisions of this act the county treasurer shall appoint a suitable person from the district as delinquent tax collector

Section 4 In cities of the second class the county treasurer shall collect all delinquent county taxes for which services he shall receive such additional compensation as shall be fixed by the salary board of the county

Section 4 All acts and parts of acts general local and special inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Section 5 This act shall become effective upon the fifteenth day of August one thousand nine hundred and thirty-twc

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. KRAUSE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 54, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on New Counties and County Seats.

Mr. PAINTER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Krause.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Krause, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KRAUSE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, inasmuch as this bill applies only to second class counties, I would like to ask the Senator what is his interest in the bill?

Mr. KRAUSE. Mr. President, I have been approached by a number of the members of this Committee since it has been reported with the idea of finding out or ascertaining whether it is within the purview of the call of the Governor for this Special Session.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Krause, which of the members approached him on the subject?

Mr. KRAUSE. Mr. President, that I do not remember. And I presume that the Senator realizes that a motion of this kind is not debatable, and his interrogation comes somewhat near to debating it.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, we are not debating it, we are asking for the Senator's position.

Mr. President, if this bill is to be recommitted for the purpose of killing it, I do not believe a man in this Senate should vote to recommit it. This bill will save the taxpayers of Allegheny County the sum of one hundred thousand dollars a year. Last year the delinquent tax collector was able to retain for his own use, after all commissions and expenses had been paid, the sum of eighty-three thousand dollars. Under the distress that is on in our county now, with the great number of people who would be obliged to pay delinquent taxes, it would be a saving of more than a hundred thousand dollars to our taxpayers to have this bill passed; and I do not believe it should be recommitted, unless for the purpose of a hearing. I polled this committee last night. There were nine of the twelve members on the floor of the Senate, and every one agreed to report it out.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I do not understand the Senator from Pittsburgh to say whether he wants to have a hearing on it or not. I would like to vote with the Senators from Allegheny on this bill, as it affects Allegheny County alone. I would like to know the position of the Senator from Allegheny County, Mr. Mansfield, as to whether he objects to its going back for a hearing or what his objection is in reference to this motion.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, this motion was not for a hearing. It was for further consideration. If this motion were for a hearing, I would not object to it, because I am always satisfied to give any one a hearing on any bill I present; and, if this motion is for the purpose of a hearing, I will not object to it, but if it is for further consideration, I do object to it.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator what it costs now to collect the delinquent taxes in Allegheny county?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, the delinquent tax collector, for his own use, was able to retain eighty-three thousand dollars last year. Under the provisions of this bill, that eighty-three thousand dollars he himself received would be eliminated.

This bill also has a provision that allows the salary board to fix the compensation of the different collectors. For example, in the city of McKeesport, where I live, by giving the delinquent county taxes to the regularly elected tax collector, a collector there could collect the tax for five per cent. He now gets eight, and gives two to the delinquent tax collector. That would be a saving of at least two thousand dollars in McKeesport. Now, that would go all down the line in the one hundred and twenty-three municipalities, and would be a saving of more than one hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I ask the Senator if it is not true that he would be a member of the Salary Board that would fix the salary for the new collector?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, that is absolutely true.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield, whether that is his purpose in the abolishing of this office, so that he would have some control over that position?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, absolutely not. If I wanted to have control over it, it would not be in that way. Under this bill, the regularly-elected tax collector will receive all of the taxes in all of the municipalities.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I ask the Senator if it is not true that a tax collector on a commission, makes a stronger effort to collect taxes than a man with a salary?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I have no desire to fix the salary. The salary board will fix a commission.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I ask the Senator if it is not true in his experience that a man on a commission will make a better effort to collect the taxes than a man who is on a salary?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Yes, sir; Mr. President. As far as I am concerned, as a member of the salary board, I will insist on it being a commission, but not as much as they get now.

Mr. COYNE. Then why not, Mr. President, try to reduce the commission instead of abolishing the position that is not now under the Senator's jurisdiction?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Because, Mr. President, the office of tax collector is absolutely unnecessary in Allegheny county. The Senator from Allegheny County, Mr. Coyne, has that already.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, that is in the Metropolitan bill?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. COYNE. Now, Mr. President, that will be up in the Senate again within the next few months, and will abolish this job and many others.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, knowing the position of the taxpayers in Allegheny County, they cannot wait a single day for saving. They are in distress, and if we can save one hundred thousand dollars this year, there is no reason to put it off.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, why did the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield, sit idly by and allow the Board of Commissioners of which he is a member, to increase the expenses of the bureau of elections two hundred per cent.?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, the expense of Bureau of Elections was not increased two hundred per cent. It was reduced.

Mr. COYNE. No, Mr. President, it was not.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, it was. Not nearly as much as I would have liked to have it reduced had I not been in a minority position.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, the man who was in charge of that bureau under the previous commissioners got forty-five hundred dollars a year, and by the vote of the Senator from Allegheny the man has now eight thousand, and he did not qualify nearly as well as the man who had it.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, That is true; but they reduced the custodians fifty dollars a month, all of them.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, my point of order is that the Senators are discussing the bill before the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I think this bill should go back to the committee, and the members of the committee given a chance to discuss the bill in committee instead of polling the committee on the floor of the Senate. I think that would be the proper way to get it out. There are members of the committee who just casually discussed it and said, "go ahead and get it out." They may probably want something explained to them as to what reduction will take place. I would like to see it go back to the committee.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, so far there have been no members of the committee asking to have it sent back, and I think every member of this Senate will realize that, after the dialogue between the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Coyne, and myself, this bill is not going back for the purpose of consideration or for a hearing, but because he is absolutely opposed to the legislation. Now, I think this is a serious matter for us Republicans in the State of Pennsylvania. We have been called into Extraordinary Session for unemployment relief and to reduce the expenses of Government in this Commonwealth. Here is one little bill that will save the taxpayers of Allegheny county the sum of one hundred thousand dollars; and I do not believe the members of the Republican party and the members of this Senate can afford to recommit this bill and run the risk of its being killed. I object to the bill being recommitted except for the purpose of a hearing; and there is no thought or mention of a hearing on the bill. I hope and trust the members of this Senate who have been called here in this Extraordinary Session will realize what it means to recommit this bill under the circumstances.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the discussion of this bill at this time I think is entirely out of order. I am against sending this bill back to committee if the purpose is to kill it; but, like Senator Mansfield, I am always in favor of a public hearing. If the maker of this motion will change the motion, so word it that it will give the citizens of Allegheny County the right to come here and present the facts in this case, I will vote for the motion to recommit it for the purpose of a public hearing. If the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Krause, will make such a motion, it will stop all this discussion and give everybody a chance to be heard at a public hearing.

Mr. KRAUSE. Mr. President, in response to my colleague, Mr. Harris, I do not intend to make a motion of that kind, because I believe that after this bill has gone back to the committee, the committee will want a public hearing. It is up to the committee whether they want a public hearing or not. If the sense of that committee is to have a public hearing, they can so order it.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to move to amend that there be incorporated in this motion the words, "for the purpose of a public hearing."

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. President, was this bill discussed in committee?

Mr. KRAUSE. Mr. President, I would suggest that the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Armstrong, interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion as amended?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HOUSE MESSAGES

RESOLUTION REQUIRING INFORMATION FROM THE DELAWARE RIVER JOINT COMMISSION

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Finance:

In the House of Representatives, July 5, 1932.

Whereas, The agreement between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey creating the Delaware River Joint Commission authorizes said Commission to determine as of the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two the net amounts due the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the State of New Jersey and the city of Philadelphia on account of the moneys contributed toward the cost of acquiring property and constructing the bridge across the Delaware River connecting the cities of Philadelphia and Camden and authorizes said Commission to borrow money on its bonds or other obligations and to pay out of the moneys raised by the sale of such bonds or obligations the sums ascertained by the Commission to be due Pennsylvania New Jersey and Philadelphia and

Whereas, Pennsylvania New Jersey and Philadelphia on account of present economic conditions are in need of the funds authorized to be raised pursuant to said agreement but banking interests question the wisdom of marketing these bonds at this time therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Delaware River Joint Commission is directed to advise the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania whether it would be feasible and advisable for said Commission to issue the bonds authorized by said act and to deliver to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the State of New Jersey and the City of Philadelphia bonds of the face value of their respective claims thereby enabling Pennsylvania New Jersey and Philadelphia to sell such bonds from time to time and to realize money thereon

Resolved, That the Commission be requested to advise what if any legislation is needed to accomplish the purpose of this resolution

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Delaware River Joint Commission

RESOLUTION CALLING UPON THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE RATES FOR COAL HAULAGE

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Mines and Mining:

In the House of Representatives, July 5, 1932.

Whereas, By reason of unfair and preferential transportation rates granted to more remotely lying coal fields Pennsylvania has lost its normal natural advantages arising out of the nearness of its coal fields to the great consuming centers of the country which has resulted in great loss to the coal industry and has affected the property and caused the inconvenience of nearly ten millions of people and the actual suffering of many thousands and

Whereas, Through this system of unfair preferentials it has become possible to transport coal from a distant point through or around Pennsylvania coal fields for less freight charges than from the Pennsylvania fields and

Whereas, This system of preferentials has created in Pennsylvania economic distress not only to the capital and labor involved in the coal district but to practically every line of business and every profession because of the direct or indirect dependence of Pennsylvania's prosperity upon the normal functioning of the coal industry and

Whereas, By reason of these preferentials Pennsylvania coal with a six hundred mile haul is in many instances unable to compete at point of market with coal which has been hauled fourteen hundred miles and more and

Whereas, The prosperity of the coal regions will never be restored and will never become normal until a change is made and until this unfair and unjustifiable preference given to districts at a greater distance and mining its coal under labor conditions amounting to practical slavery is abolished and until the preferential rates now in force are suspended by fair and equitable rates and

Whereas, The prosperity of Pennsylvania in great measure depends upon the prosperity of the coal regions of Pennsylvania and

Whereas, The right to use its natural markets unfettered and unhampered by artifical unnatural unfair and preferential restrictions is necessary to the prosperity of Pennsylvania's coal district therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Legislature of Pennsylvania calls upon the Interstate Commerce Commission of the United States to fully fairly and impartially investigate the rates now existing and charged for coal haulage from Pennsylvania districts as compared with rates for coal haulage from other and more distant coal fields to the same point of market and in making such investigation to have in mind labor conditions and the standards of living of miners engaged in producing coal in the various coal districts within and without this Commonwealth and be it further

Resolved, That the Members in the Congress of the United States from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be urged to exert every possible influence to cause such investigation to be made by the Interstate Commerce Commission and to bring about a change in the unfair preferential rates now existing and be it further

Resolved, That this Legislature believing that the prosperity of Pennsylvania depends in a great measure upon the prosperity of each of its various industries urges upon all of the departments of the State government using or purchasing coal for fuel the necessity of purchasing and using only Pennsylvania coal and be it further

Resolved, That the Legislature in order to secure that prosperity for the Commonwealth desired by its citizens urges upon them the necessity and propriety of purchasing and using only Pennsylvania coal and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to each Member of the House of Representatives of the United States from Pennsylvania and to each of the two United States Senators from Pennsylvania to the Chief Clerk of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States to the President of the United States and to the Secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE PROJECT OF BACK TO THE SOIL MOVEMENT

Mr. HARRIS offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

In the Senate, July 6, 1932.

Whereas, There has been a wide discussion of the so-called "Back to the Soil Movement," and

Whereas, There are thousands of acres of unused land in the Commonwealth ,countless numbers of abandoned farms, and many tracts of cheap but rich tillable land which, if cultivated would support most of those who are now suffering for want of food, and furnish work for many of the unemployed, and

Whereas, An exodus back to the soil of those who, in recent years, lured by the high wages paid the factory workers, have migrated into the city would, by reducing the production force in the centers of population, provide more work for those who remain and relieve the drain on relief funds raised in and for such centers, and

Whereas, Any encouragement given to such a movement by the Commonwealth, if found of possible value, would eventually result to the advantage, prosperity and happiness of all citizens, and

Whereas, Any movement which contains any promise of bettering existing conditions has a very definite relation to the economic situation in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and should be given careful study, therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of seven Senators or citizens be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate for the purpose of making a thorough investigation of this very important project and making a report of its findings to the Senate at the Session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, and be it

Resolved, That if the Committee finds, after such investigation, that such "Back to the Soil Movement" would result in bettering economic conditions in the Commonwealth, that it should attach to its report its recommendations of any action that would be taken by the Legislature, and be it further

Resolved, That the Committee shall have power to secure data and information from agencies of the Commonwealth, and that all departments, boards and commissions of the Commonwealth shall co-operate with said commission and lend their full aid to the Committee in its investigation.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to appropriate committees, be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 9.00 o'clock (Eastern Standard Time).

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 3.51 o'clock p. m. until Thursday, July 7, at 9 o'clock a. m. (Eastern Standard Time).

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, July 6, 1932

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. O. B. Poulson, offered the following prayer:

Our Father in Heaven we thank Thee for the rest and protection Thou hast provided for us throughout the night. Even a chance to live, and to share in the privileges of this new day, are gifts of Thy love.

While we are busy this day within these walls, seeking ways to bring good cheer and comfort to our fellowmen, may we know that Thou, God, art busy throughout Thy whole world, seeking to bless and comfort all who will but call upon Thy name. Dear Lord we would be partners with Thee in the greatest tasks earth or heaven knows anything about.

Forgive our failures, we pray; show us God's way out of all our tribulations; and grant unto us Thy peace, now and always. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday when, on motion of T. J. Brown, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. PEELOR. HOUSE BILL No. 142.

An Act to repeal the act, approved the twentieth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws, one hundred thirty-six), entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Agriculture to establish facilities for and to conduct official egg-laying contests; providing facilities for the same on land now under the control of the Board of Trustees of Harrisburg State Hospital; and making an appropriation."

Referred to the Committee on Repeal Bills.

RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO MAKE WAR IMPOSSIBLE

Mr. DUNN offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, July 6, 1932.

Whereas, War is the most destructive, impoverishing, wasteful and useless force in the world, and

Whereas, War has never definitely settled any great question and has brought sorrow and suffering alike to victor and vanguished, and

Whereas, By a solemn treaty entered into between the Nations, war has been condemned as a means for the solution of international controversies, and

Whereas, If this, the most powerful nation, sets an example of righteousness by disarming and showing to the world its belief in the possibility of settling international disagreements by arbitration, the other Nations, in order to remain financially staple, will be compelled to disarm and eliminate from the cost of government the tremendous price paid for maintaining armed forces, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully memorialize the Congress of the United States and requests that they make war impossible by declaring it to be illegal, and in order to make impossible any declaration of war, or the entry into war by the United States, to immediately pass such legislation as will completely disarm the military and naval branches of the Federal government, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the President of the United States, to the Chief Clerks of the House of Representatives and the Senate of the United States, and to each member of the House of Representatives of the United States from Pennsylvania and to each of the two United States Senators from Pennsylvania.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SPANGLER. You will recall that at the last special session I advocated rigid economies on the part of this Legislature in respect to reductions in all of the departments of the government and a horizontal reduction in State salaries. I am still of the opinion today that I was then, only I am more emphatic in my feeling about economies in the State government today than I was then.

At the last session I called the attention of this House to the fact that economies in State government were imperative; now they are doubly so. Conditions in this State and in the country at large are not only worse insofar as the condition of the people is concerned but they are alarming. We have been subjecting not only our State but our nation to additional taxes until today we have reached the point where it is practically impossible to levy any new taxes upon industry or upon individuals. The state of business and the state of the individual economically is weak, and even the present taxes are a most severe burden, so that we must look to some other source, not only to balance the budget but to make contributions to those who are in distress and who now need our help.

We have at the present time one great source of revenue in this State that we have not started as yet to tap, and that is to cut out the vast extravagances that have been building up in this State during the past ten years. All of you members who have been representatives of this State in the past ten years have seen not only salaries grow but bureaus increase in number and in personnel, and today the State government is operating on a prosperity basis. We have not economized in this State, we have not even attempted to do it, and the time has come when we must not only attempt to economize but we must actually do it and cut the expenses of the State government to the bone.

There has been a very good beginning in the way suggested by the gentleman from Delaware, whereby he suggests or has a tentative plan to cut about twenty-seven million dollars from the appropriations that were made in 1931. I entirely approve of that, but I think that in addition to his plan we can go even farther, in fact, we can go much farther, because there are departments, there are bureaus, in this State government which could be eliminated without impairing in the slightest degree the efficiency of our State government.

I think that the Legislature must realize that we are in the most serious crisis that the State has met in my lifetime and probably in the lifetime of any member here.

We have heard a great deal of talk from the Governor about giving the State a dollar's worth of service for every dollar expended, but I don't believe that there is a man within the sound of my voice or a newspaper in this State that will agree with any such foolish and ridiculous proposition as has been made by the Governor.

One of the expenses that has been called to our attention is the automobile "racket." I notice that this State is now operating over three thousand automobiles; every head of a department has a private automobile for his own personal use, and in many instances chauffeurs. Why have such an extravagance as that at a time when the people of the State who support the office-holder are suffering to the breaking point.

There should be an executive order at the present time setting forth that no man, with the exception of the Governor, should be entitled to an automobile or a chauffeur at a time like this. That is merely one example of extravagance, and we can go through the entire gamut of the State departments and find that during this ten year period of prosperity extravagances have crept in and crept in, and crept in until the State is completely burdened with excrescences and unnecessary frills and the time is now here for the Legislature to take a firm and determined stand in the interest of the people of this Commonwealth, so that taxes can be foregone, so that economies can be effected in conformity with the spirit to the times, and unless we do this we are not worth our salt.

I for one would like to see economies effected that would startle the people of the State and be an example to all of the nation, and that the State can do if it is really in earnest.

Away back in 1921 in that memorable time when I was Speaker, when three days before the end of the session I was thrown out of office, I was thrown out of office then in defense of the economies of the State. At that time we had a Board of Public Charities that was composed of the highest type of men of the State, all of them specialists, about fifteen in number, who gave their services gratis to the State. They cost the State of Pennsylvania about fifty thousand dollars so far as administration was concerned every two years. With a few additional field men the Board of Public Charities would be a better and more serviceable administrative board for the welfare of the people of this State than this great big bureau which has now been established and which spends millions on administration.

We could cut out the moving picture censorship. We have a national board of censors at the present time, and we are spending now about a hundred and eighty thousand dollars a year on a perfectly useless board. You can't tell me that three censors in the State actually censor the moving pictures that are shown throughout the State—not at all. That work is performed by a lot of understrappers, but still we are paying for the maintenance of a great big bureau of that kind. Just a year or two ago in our exuberance for frills in government, and high sounding titles in government we established the Department of Revenue, and during the hearings before the Appropriations Committee I asked the head of the Department of Revenue whether there was any place where economies could be effected in the administrative branches of the government. That was only a few months ago—and what did he say—he said "There can not be," and that has been the attitude of the present administration throughout. They say they will not attempt to effect any economies and if economies are to be effected at the present time they will have to be done by the legislature and not be dependent upon the executive.

Now is the time to begin this work. The time is here and now. We have been sitting here now going on to the third week and we have not done anything except in a tentative way. It seems to me that it will be a very simple matter for this Legislature to come to a conclusion about the economies along the lines of the suggestion of the gentleman from Delaware that we intend to effect and probably by that plan double the economies that the gentleman from Delaware hopes to effect, and then, if any additional revenue is necessary it can be raised by additional taxation, but I am absolutely opposed to pile up any additional taxes upon the State until we of the Legislature have shown a determination to effect, not shallow or superficial economies, but real and actual economies for this Commonwealth.

I think that this State has no right to impose a bond issue. I think that taxation is far preferable to a bond issue and I think that economy is far preferable to both. The ways are open for this Legislature to effect economies, to consider economies and to think about economies and I believe if we do that we will receive the blessings of the people of Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

RESOLUTION No. 1

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 1, Printer's No. 1.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 27, 1932.

The period of economic depression now reigning throughout the United States has brought unemployment to millions, stopped the wheels of industry closed countless banks and arrested the operation of transportation facilities

A duty devolves upon the National government to recognize this emergency and to mobilize the Nation's resources to combat this menace to the freedom and happiness of our people

The Federal government has the power to initiate a huge program of public works which will require the employment of labor throughout the country

The field for public improvement upon which labor can be profitably employed is vast including public buildings highways waterways reforestration flood control and water and power conservation covering every part and section of the nation and when this money is spent there will be left to the Nation as full value for the expenditures the contemplated projects therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully urges upon

Congress of the United States the wisdom and necessity of immediately appropriating ten billion dollars ($10,000,000,000) to be used and expended upon public work and to be raised by the issue and sale of bonds and be it further

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to each Member of the House of Representatives of the United States from Pennsylvania to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, it is not my purpose to consume your precious time because I do not believe that anybody here wants to remain here until September. Therefore, I shall be brief in my remarks.

It is ten billion dollars for which I am asking, and if this resolution passes both Houses and reaches Congress it is my opinion that I really do believe that because it comes from the State of Pennsylvania, Congress will do something. Now there is nobody in the United States who is out of work or who is physically incapacitated would object to our government appropriating ten billion dollars for the purpose of starting the rusty wheels of industry. Each and every person in this House knows that there are many men and women who are graduates from colleges or universities who are now out of work and who would appreciate a job. It seems to me that all we have done here has just been to talk about the depression and not act. I am convinced if every state in the Union would get busy and send resolutions similar to this one to Congress our Congress would act. There is but one way which we will be able to extricate ourselves from the rut into which we have fallen and that is by having our national government do something for the citizens of this Commonwealth.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, this resolution is one which should merit your favor and I ask you to support it.

MR. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS IN THE CHAIR

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Hoopes and Mrs. Wilson.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

THE SPEAKER (C. J. GOODNOUGH) IN THE CHAIR

RESOLUTION No. 6

Mr. EDERER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 6, Printer's No. 7.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1932.

Whereas The continued depreciation of the value of securities has brought about a material shrinking in the assets of closed banks now being liquidated by the Department of Banking and

Whereas There have been many complaints that an unduly large percentage of the assets of corporations in receivership are used up in the expenses of receiverships and in the payment of salaries and fees and

Whereas It is the desire of the General Assembly that the assets of closed banks be preserved to the fullest extent for the benefit of depositors therein and creditors therefore be it

Resolved That the Department of Banking shall not later than July eleventh one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two transmit to the House of Representatives a report containing in detail the following information with respect to each closed bank in its possession

(1) The date when each bank closed the names of the officers and employes with the monthly salary or compensation of each and the amount of the monthly payroll at the time each such bank closed

(2) The names of the employes appointed by the Department of Banking for each closed bank in its possession with the monthly salary or compensation of each such employe the monthly payroll of each such closed bank and the total expense of each closed bank to June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two

(3) The names of deputy Attorneys General and other attorneys in charge of the legal affairs of closed banks together with their respective monthly compensations and the names of the firm if any with which each such deputy Attorney General or attorney is associated as a member or employe and the total amount paid each to June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two

(4) The names of the persons appointed to appraise the assets of the respective closed banks together with the compensation paid to each and the names of the firms if any with which each such appraiser was associated as a member or employe

(5) The amount of insurance and surety bonds negotiated in connection with each closed bank with the name of the broker or agent writing the same and the name of the company assuming the liability

(6) A statement showing the reasons and authority for the creation of the Liquidating Bureau of Philadelphia together with the personnel of said Bureau and the salary paid to each also a statement showing by whom the expenses of administration of said Bureau are paid and the total expense to date

(7) A statement showing the reasons and authority for the organization of asset realization corporations the number of such corporations created together with the personnel of each and their salaries or compensation also a statement showing by whom the expenses of administration of said corporations are paid and the total expense of each corporation to date and be it further

Resolved That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall upon its passage transmit a copy of this resolution to the Department of Banking

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

RESOLUTION COMMITTED

Mr. EDERER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this resolution be committed to the Committee on Banking.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION No. 9

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 9, Printer's No. 11.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 5, 1932.

Whereas The agreement between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey creating the Delaware River Joint Commission authorizes said Commission to determine as of the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two the net amounts due the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the State of New Jersey and the city of Philadelphia on account of the moneys contributed toward the cost of acquiring property and constructing the bridge across the Delaware River connecting the cities of Philadelphia and Camden and authorizes said Commission to borrow money on its bonds or other obligations and to pay out of the moneys raised by the sale of such bonds or obligations the sums ascertained by the Commission to be due Pennsylvania New Jersey and Philadelphia and

Whereas Pennsylvania New Jersey and Philadelphia on account of present economic conditions are in need of the funds authorized to be raised pursuant to said agreement but banking interests question the wisdom of marketing these bonds at this time therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Delaware River Joint Commission is directed to advise the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania whether it would be feasible and advisable for said Commission to issue the bonds authorized by said act and to deliver to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the State of New Jersey and the City of Philadelphia bonds of the face value of their respective claims thereby enabling Pennsylvania New Jersey and Philadelphia to sell such bonds from time to time and to realize money thereon

Resolved That the Commission be requested to advise what if any legislation is needed to accomplish the purpose of this resolution

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Delaware River Joint Commission

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for its concurrence.

RESOLUTION No. 11

Mr. CAUFFIEL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 11, Printer's No. 13.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 5, 1932.

Whereas By reason of unfair and preferential transportation rates granted to more remotely lying coal fields Pennsylvania has lost its normal natural advantages arising out of the nearness of its coal fields to the great consuming centers of the country which has resulted in great loss to the coal industry and has affected the property and caused the inconvenience of nearly ten millions of people and the actual suffering of many thousands and

Whereas Through this system of unfair preferentials it has become possible to transport coal from a distant point through or around Pennsylvania coal fields for less freight charges than from the Pennsylvania fields and

Whereas This system of preferentials has created in Pennsylvania economic distress not only to the capital and labor involved in the coal district but to practically every line of business and every profession because of the direct or indirect dependence of Pennsylvania's prosperity upon the normal functioning of the coal industry and

Whereas By reason of these preferentials Pennsylvania coal with a six hundred mile haul is in many instances unable to compete at point of market with coal which has been hauled fourteen hundred miles and more and

Whereas The prosperity of the coal regions will never be restored and will never become normal until a change is made and until this unfair and unjustifiable preference given to districts at a greater distance and mining its coal under labor conditions amounting to practical slavery is abolished and until the preferential rates now in force are superseded by fair and equitable rates and

Whereas The prosperity of Pennsylvania in great measure depends upon the prosperity of the coal regions of Pennsylvania and

Whereas The right to use its natural markets unfettered and unhampered by artificial unnatural unfair and preferential restrictions is necessary to the prosperity of Pennsylvania's coal districts therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Legislature of Pennsylvania calls upon the Interstate Commerce Commission of the United States to fully fairly and impartially investigate the rates now existing and charged for coal haulage from Pennsylvania districts as compared with rates for coal haulage from other and more distant coal fields to the same point of market and in making such investigation to have in mind labor conditions and the standards of living of miners engaged in producing coal in the various coal districts within and without this Commonwealth and be it further

Resolved That the Members in the Congress of the United States from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be urged to exert every possible influence to cause such investigation to be made by the Interstate Commerce Commission and to bring about a change in the unfair preferential rates now existing and be it further

Resolved That this Legislature believing that the prosperity of Pennsylvania depends in a great measure upon the prosperity of each of its various industries urges upon all of the departments of the State government using or purchasing coal for fuel the necessity of purchasing and using only Pennsylvania coal and be it further

Resolved That the Legislature in order to secure that prosperity for the Commonwealth desired by its citizens urges upon them the necessity and propriety of purchasing and using only Pennsylvania coal and be it further

Resolved That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to each Member of the House of Representatives of the United States from Pennsylvania and to each of the two United States Senators from Pennsylvania to the Chief Clerk of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States to the President of the United States and to the Secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. CAUFFIEL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, at this time I should like to call the attention of the members to the fact that this resolution in substantially the form that it now is, was favorably acted upon over a year ago at the regular session.

Action on this resolution is not entirely dependent upon the membership of this House, but if the Federal agencies will consider it, it will solve the problem of providing work relief without cost to either State or Federal budgets—one of the serious problems of this time—and after inspecting the resolution I would again request that the members vote aye on it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The resolution was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION No. 12

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 12, Printer's No. 14.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 5, 1932.

Whereas This Legislature did in June 1931 commit this Commonwealth to the project of constructing maintaining and improving twenty thousand miles of rural roads using the following language

"Establishing certain township roads as State highways authorizing their construction maintenance and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions" and

"After the highways described in the foregoing sections of this act shall have been taken over by the Commonwealth they shall be built rebuilt constructed reconstructed repaired and maintained by the Department of Highways at the expense of the Commonwealth" and

Whereas The amount of welfare relief required in the various counties of the Commonwealth is in inverse ratio to the amount of employment therein and

Whereas The creation of employment by liberally providing funds for proceeding with rural road construction will serve a five fold purpose namely

Reduce the need for direct welfare relief

Relieve beneficiaries of the embarrassment of accepting a dole

Free thousands of isolated communities and imprisoned peoples now hopelessly marooned in mud several months of the year

Return to the Commonwealth permanent and lasting benefits for every dollar so expended and

Contribute measurably to the discharge of the obligation of this Commonwealth to construct said rural road system a commitment of this Legislature therefore be it

Resolved That in the distribution of whatever funds are found provided or made available for unemployment relief the fact that the Commonwealth has an obligation to construct the twenty thousand mile rural road system be given consideration and

Further That while admitting the need for some direct relief to the utterly destitute and the need for certain other forms of Legislation for relief of other than rural communities distribution of funds should be in such form as will guarantee the benefits of the five fold purpose enumerated above

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING STATEMENT SHOWING 1931 BUDGET REDUCTIONS

Mr. CORDIER offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, July 6, 1932.

Whereas, The Governor in his message to this extraordinary session, stated that he had ordered budget reductions of the appropriations under his control to the amount of $5,350,704.23, and on page 20 of the printed message sets forth the departments in which these cuts have been effected, together with the amounts thereof, and

Whereas, It is important that the Legislature should have the specific information as to the particular appropriation items which are affected by these cuts so that legislation may be adopted reducing these items accordingly, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Governor is requested to transmit to the House of Representatives by July eleventh, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, a statement showing in detail each 1931 appropriation item which is affected by these budget reductions, the amount of the reduction of each such item and the act of Assembly making the appropriation.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Governor.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we have been in session here the better part of two weeks avowedly for the purpose of dealing with the problem of unemployment relief.

The Governor told us more than a week ago that there were one million, one hundred and fifty thousand totally unemployed in Pennsylvania, that many thousands of these were facing immediate, actual starvation, and that it was necessary for this Legislature to do something about it immediately. So far we have been in session a matter of at least five days, and the only bill that we have passed in this House is one to pay our own salaries. I suppose that some members of the House are unemployed and that they have been relieved of unemployment to that extent. But that certainly was not the job for which we were sent here.

I have talked personally to many members of the House. It seems to be the general impression that we will be here for another six or eight weeks, like we were last winter, and that the probabilities of doing anything real to help the situation are even less than they were last November. I, therefore, think it is time we were waking up and realizing that there is a real, serious problem of unemployment, and that the people are facing actual starvation; that, for instance, in the city of Philadelphia alone 57,000 families have no income from which to live, that the funds which have been used for that purpose up to this time have been completely exhausted. Yet we come up here and fiddle around, and do not have a thing on the calendar today, not even one solitary bill before us. Last night we had two, one to pay our own salaries and the other a very mild bill to permit borrowing against this year's taxes or last year's and requiring that the loans be paid back almost immediately. So, I can not see how it is going to help very much, and yet we have passed it and referred it back to committee; that is, passed it on second reading.

I have spoken to a number of the members about what they thought ought to be done, and the main thing they seem to be concerned about is economy, reduction of expenses. Now, members of the House, I am always in favor of stopping waste of public funds. I have no doubt but that there are a lot of political hacks on the public pay roll, because of political services and not because of any work they are doing. I am in favor of such persons being taken off the public pay roll. That kind of economy I am in favor of, but when it comes to cutting wages wholesale and reducing the purchasing power to that extent you are not going to relieve the situation one iota; you are going to make it worse. The more you cut wages the less the purchasing power of the workers is going to be, and that applies to public officials and employes as well as to private workers.

I think we should look at this problem with a little more vision than we have. When we came up here at the regular session of 1931 the Socialist members introduced certain bills. You said that it was no use to pass bills like that; this is only a temporary emergency, and it will be all over by the middle of the summer of 1931, and it won't be necessary to have anything like that, and beside it would require new taxes, and that would be very, very bad. So, we didn't do anything to relieve the unemployment situation at the regular session of 1931. We told you at that time that the condition was getting worse, and that there was positively no evidence to indicate that it was getting any better, but you didn't do anything about it. What was the result? In less than six months after that regular session adjourned we were called back here to a special session for the sole purpose—allegedly at least—of dealing with the problem of unemployment relief. At that time we were decidedly limited in our action by the call of the Governor; at least that was the opinion of many members of the Legislature. The decision of the Supreme Court upon the Talbot Act has indicated that we probably had more power at that session than the majority of the Legislature was willing to use. The only thing we did at that time to relieve the unemployment situation was to pass a ten million dollar relief bill, which was held up in the courts for several months and which was finally released for use late in the spring. Now less than three months after that that ten million dollars is entirely exhausted in many counties and in the others will be exhausted by August first, and here we have been here for two weeks and have not done anything about it except to introduce bills to cut this, to cut that and to cut the other thing, and referring such bills back to committee and not getting anywhere.

I think it is time we were getting down to work and consider the problem we came up here to discuss, namely, unemployment relief; that is the thing before this Legislature, that is the problem we should consider first, last and all the time, and that is the thing we have to consider sooner or later. People are not going to starve peaceably. I don't want to see a violent revolution, tearing everything to pieces, with bloodshed and suffering on all hands. It would be terrible, it would destroy everything that is good in the present order, and I am not one of those that think it is so bad that you must tear it down completely and destroy everything and start from barbarism again. I believe a great deal of it can be used and that by changing its operation and the purpose of it we can get somewhere. But it is time for us to realize that this is not a temporary problem. We have been told that by high public officials, from the President down, by the leaders of industry, particularly the leaders of the steel industry ever since this depression started back in October of 1929. Nearly three years have passed. When does a depression cease to be temporary? Isn't three years long enough? Isn't that a sign it is not a temporary problem, that it is in reality a permanent problem? Even your economists who favor the present order, who believe it is the best possible system of operating the industries, frankly state that if and when a period of so-called prosperity returns there will be at least five million unemployed. That will be the normal army of unemployed in times of prosperity, if and when such times do recur. That alone is enough to make it a permanent problem and we should treat it as such. Many of us believe that prosperity is not going to return at any measurable time in the future. If the depression is going to last, whether we like it or not—of course nobody does—if it is going to last for several years, I think the longer we wait to take real, constructive action and do something about it, the less able you are going to be to do anything. You are letting conditions get steadily worse. You say let the local communities exhaust their borrowing power. You pass a few bills here to permit them to borrow a little bit more. How much longer do you think that can continue? Don't you realize that Philadelphia has issued twenty million dollars of five per cent. bonds which they cannot sell. I believe the last figure I saw they had sold one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars worth. They have been trying to sell them for over a month. The bankers don't think that the credit of the municipality of Philadelphia is good enough to warrant buying their bonds. How much longer are you going to continue? Are you going to keep it up until all of your municipal governments are bankrupt? Then what are you going to do? You are still going to have the problem, and you are not doing anything constructively to relieve it. Can not we learn anything from other countries? I know we in America are bigger and better than anywhere else. If we keep on we are going to have a bigger and better unemployment problem than anywhere else. They have unemployment in other countries, particularly in Germany and England, and they have been following the methods, that you have been advocating here, for the past ten years, and have they improved it? They have economized, they have cut wages. They have done everything to save the business interests, to protect the banks and things of that sort. They have cut the pay of the public employes, and then, when they became municipally bankrupt, they practically were forced to cut the amount of unemployment relief, and despite it all conditions are getting worse instead of better. Isn't that sufficient evidence that we have to try some more constructive method than we have been using? Is it not time that we look at this problem with a view to curing the evil rather than postponing the evil day. I think that the time has come when we must put the unemployed at work; give them jobs. They don't want charity; they don't want a dole, they want a chance to help themselves. If you permit these men and women to remain unemployed over a period of years, or rather you do not permit them to work—because they are anxious to work—if you compel them to remain involuntarily unemployed over a period of years, if you compel them to stand by and see their wives and kiddies suffer from the pangs of hunger, from the want of clothing, insufficient fuel, lack of shelter, if you permit that to go on for a few years, you will destroy their morale, their self-respect, their desire to help themselves, they are going to take the attitude of "What's the use. We are willing and able, we have offered, we have done everything we can, but the cards are stacked against us; they won't let us do anything, so society owes us a living; we will wait." When people get that attitude you are not going to be able to do very much with them.

Some of us want to build a new society. Some of us want to see a new social order; we are willing to produce for use and not for profit, but in order to have that we must have workers who have not been ruined by compulsory unemployment over a period of years. Therefore, we are very anxious that this be not permitted to continue, and I don't believe that you members of this House want to see our working class ruined by any such methods.

But that is not the only thing you are doing. You are going to bankrupt your governments. I have spoken to many members of this House and I have said "What are you going to do next year if this thing continues?" and I have not got an answer yet that was other than, "I don't know." You do not have any plan, any method, of treating with the situation in case it continues. You are just relying upon a faint hope that something is going to turn up. Then I say, "What evidence have you to believe that the conditions are going to get better within the next six months or the next year, or even within the next six years," and they say, "No, we don't have any." Those of you who have studied the financial pages of our newspapers know that stocks are going down steadily; you know that Pennsylvania Railroad stock is selling at seven dollars a share when it was up to a hundred dollars not very long ago. Despite the fact that the president of the Pennsylvania Railroad is getting one hundred twenty-one thousand five hundred dollars a year, you think it is all right to cut the pay of the worker, throw him out of a job altogether, lay him off by the thousand but let the big fellow go on and get his one hundred and twenty thousand dollars a year. You are not doing anything about that. I realize perfectly well that this Legislature cannot tell the Pennsylvania Railroad what to do but I just call your attention to the fact that this method of economy, this method of cutting wages, this method of saving is only meant to apply to the workers and not to the big fellows at the top. There are corporations in this country that made bigger dividends in 1931 than they ever did before, and big corporations at that. Many of the corporations' net income was practically as great last year as it ever was despite the fact that we have millions of unemployed, millions of workers that did not have anything at all.

Are we going to permit that to continue, are we going to protect the big fellow at the top, saving him from taxes and letting the little fellow starve? I don't believe we are. At least, if you do, you are going to rue the day and not very far in the future.

Members of the House, frankly I feel if we stay around here all summer, as it now looks as though we may, and do no more than we did at the last special session, it will be necessary for us to have armored cars to go home, it won't be safe to go home any other way. The people didn't send us here to kill time and to play politics, try to get political advantage for one group or another; they sent us down here to relieve this situation and it is about time we were doing it, and it is about time that we were considering human rights before property rights. After all it is primarily the duty of the State to protect the lives and the health of its citizens; that is the first duty, ahead of everything else. And if it is necessary in order to keep the unemployed from starving to take every dollar of the rich men's wealth it is our duty to do it. (Applause from the galleries.) I knew you members would not applaud so I had to bring some one down here to do it, but thousands of your constituents back home will agree with it.

The time has come for us to look this problem straight in the face; the time has come to consider whether it is not our duty to suspend certain vested property rights, in order to protect the human rights of the unemployed. Evictions by the thousands are taking place all over this Commonwealth. Almost every day some worker comes into my office and says: "I have been out of work for a year. When I was employed I paid my rent regularly or paid my interest on my mortgage regularly, I was buying a home and had it more than half paid, but I still had a mortgage of a couple of thousand dollars on it. Then I got out of a job. My family needed everything we had, we used up all of our savings and had to go to a loan company to borrow and now they are threatening to levy on my furniture, they are threatening to sell my home at Sheriff Sale and put us out on the street. Can they do it?" I am compelled to say "Yes, the law of today protects the property right of the land owner to his rent, it protects the property right of the mortgage holder to his interest, but does not protect the human right of the worker to his job, and even though you are ready and even anxious to work, even though you are an able and capable mechanic who can't get a job, they won't let you have access to the tools whereby you can produce and get the means of paying that rent or that interest. Still they can put you out on the street if you don't pay it."

Members of the House, it is time for that to stop; human rights should come first. The time has come for us to say that if the owners of industry cannot, or will not, put the unemployed to work, then the time has come for us to protect them in their human right to shelter by saying that you shall not evict an unemployed worker from his home for nonpayment of either interest or rent. I know you will say that is radical, that is terrible, that is going to work a hardship on people. I grant you that it will work a hardship on people but it will be less hardship than you are going to work on the unemployed whom you are going to throw out on the sidewalk who has no where to go. In our cities families are living four and five in one house; sometimes two or three families in one room. We can't go on doing that; we will ruin the health of our community; history teaches us if you ruin the health of the lower classes sooner or later it will reach up, so don't think you are above it; don't think it won't reach you sooner or later. You cannot let this thing go on. The very foundations of society itself depend upon giving the people the means of obtaining the right to live, food, clothing, fuel and shelter, and we must do it, that is what we are here for in the last analysis, not to save a little money here or save a little money there, although we should do that if it is possible and practicable.

There is one thing I want to call your attention to on this economic question: What is the cause of unemployment? Unemployment is caused by inability of the workers to buy back what they have produced. Under your present system of society the workers only receive part of what they produce, approximately only four-sevenths of our national income goes to the workers who produce it, the other three-sevenths goes to the owners in the form of rent, interest and profit. The workers are many, they could easily consume all that they produce but they cannot buy it back, they have not got the purchasing power so they cannot get it. The owners cannot consume, they are few, they cannot live in one hundred houses at a time nor can they eat five hundred meals a day. They cannot possibly consume that three-sevenths which they take. They have plenty of purchasing power but don't have the consuming power. The workers have the consuming power but don't have the purchasing power. And there you have a dead lock and the factories are closed down because of the lack of a market for their goods and millions of men are thrown out on the street without jobs and that produces the purchasing power of the workers still more and increases the unfortunate situation still more. Then the masters of industry will say, "Well, in order to save the situation we must cut wages." So they cut wages in half and that reduces the purchasing power that much more and makes the situation that much worse. Then you come along and say "We have got to cut the pay of the public employes," and that reduces the purchasing power that much more and makes the situation that much the worse. What we need to do is to increase the purchasing power of the workers, not to decrease it. The only way to do that is to put the workers to work producing the necessities of life for their own use and consumption and give them the full value of their toil.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, as you probably have noticed, a large delegation has come up here today demanding bread, jobs and security. I am told that they have sent requests to both the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate asking for a hearing to present their demands.

USE OF HALL OF HOUSE GRANTED

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I move that the use of the Hall of the House be granted to this delegation at 3:00 o'clock this afternoon, and that the members of the House and the Senate be invited to attend at that time.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, that when the Senate adjourns it will adjourn to meet at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, therefore, if the motion prevails there would only be thirty minutes for those attending. The Chair, therefore, suggests that the motion be amended and changed to read 2:30 o'clock Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I am willing to consent to that change.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The use of the Hall of the House is granted to the delegation present at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and the members of the House are invited to be present. This motion will be communicated to the Senate and the Senators will also be invited to attend.

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING GOVERNOR TO STUDY METHODS OF REDUCING COST OF GOVERNMENT

Mr. BICKER offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 6, 1932.

Whereas, His Excellency, the Governor, in his personal platform, when a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor in 1922, promised the voters to reorganize the State government on a "business basis," and

Whereas, Such pledges were reiterated before the general election of 1922, and again in his Inaugural Address in January, 1923; and

Whereas, The promise of a reorganization on a "business basis" necessarily implied the promise to reorganize in a way that would mean the saving of money for the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, The actual cost of carrying on the State government since its reorganization under the "business basis" plan of the Governor in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Code, has increased out of all proportion to the cost thereof during the decade preceding the Governor's experiment; and

Whereas, It is alleged that the Governor has caused many thousand copies of his speeches and addresses to be printed and distributed to the Citizens of other States at great cost to the taxpayers of this Commonwealth, and

Whereas, His Excellency, the Governor, has been absent from his office in the Capitol much of the time since he took office, in addressing meetings, gatherings and audiences in other States, and

Whereas, The Executives of some of the other States, according to the speeches made at recent National Conventions, have succeeded through their own efforts and without the expense of an extra legislative session, in effecting economies in and reducing the cost of the government of their states to an almost unbelievable extent; and

Whereas, We feel that, by following the example set and the methods applied by those executives, it will be possible for our Governor to accomplish the same results; therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this House that His Excellency, the Governor, should immediately undertake a study of the methods pursued by the Governors of certain other States, in making possible the reductions in cost of administering the business of their respective states, and be it

Resolved, That His Excellency, the Governor, shall make a study of the economies effected by other States, for the purpose of ascertaining the truth of the claims made as to the wonderful financial savings effected by the governors thereof, and in order to determine the methods to be followed to affect similar savings in Pennsylvania, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution shall be immediately handed by the Chief Clerk of the House to His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth.

Mr. BICKER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Is there objection? The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

The resolution lies over under the rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED RESOLUTION RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned resolution from the House of Representatives entitled as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 5, 1932.

Resolved, If the Senate concur, that three hundred and fifty copies of the suggested reductions in appropriations made in the nineteen hundred and thirty-one Regular and Special Sessions, totaling Twenty-seven million, eighteen thousand seven hundred and sixty-three dollars and ninety-two cents ($27,018,763.92) be printed for the use of the members of the Senate and House of Representatives.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend line 1, by striking out the word "three" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "six."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendment made by the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, July 6, 1932.

Resolved, (If the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, July eleventh, at eight o'clock Eastern Standard Time; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, July eleventh, at eight o'clock Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

The SPEAKER. The rules of the House provide that the House shall meet at 9.00 o'clock. This resolution provides for a meeting at 8.00 o'clock. In conformity with the rules, are there objections to meeting at 8.00 o'clock? If there are no objections the question is on the concurrence of the resolution of the Senate.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair has no further business to lay before the House. Your attention is called to the fact that considerable printing is necessary for the calendar tomorrow, and the Chair suggests that if it meets with the approval of the House, the House convene at eleven o'clock tomorrow. We will be glad to receive any suggestions that the members may have.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 11.00 o'clock.

The motion was agreed to, and at 4.25 o'clock P. M. the House adjourned until tomorrow morning at 11.00 o'clock.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1932.

Vol. 14 HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, JULY 7, 1932. No. 6.

SENATE

THURSDAY, July 7, 1932

The Senate met at 9 o'clock A. M. (Eastern Standard Time).

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Our merciful God, we thank Thee for all the bounties of Thy love Thou art freely bestowing upon us. Forbid that in times of distress we should become unmindful of Thy mercies we daily enjoy.

We have not deserved any of Thy favors. Hadst Thou dealt with us according to our deserts Thou wouldst have sent upon us a more severe chastisement.

Grant that we as a Commonwealth and a nation may repent of our sins and follies. Then Thou wilt blot out our transgressions and permit to rest upon us the smile of Thine approval.

We look to Thee for Thy counsel and guidance, in our Redeemer's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BOWERS, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, July 7, 1932.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In view of the prevailing interest in the expenditures of the State Government, I believe it will be useful if I submit for the information of the Senate a short statement of facts.

As good a test of State expenditures as could be found can probably be reached through a comparison of the present expenses of government with those which obtained before the Great War.

The expenditures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania fall naturally under four heads:

1. Subsidies granted by the Legislature in aid of schools, hospitals, and other local facilities and services, the cost of which, if not paid by the State, will have to be paid by increased local taxation. These subsidies are, therefore, in relief of local taxpayers and especially of those who pay property taxes. This is by far the largest item in the cost of State government in Pennsylvania.

2. Construction and maintenance of roads, prisons, hospitals, sanatoria, and other institutions, the cost of which, if not paid by the State, will have to be paid by local taxpayers. If these facilities are not built and maintained by the Commonwealth the localities will be compelled to tax their people for them. This item also is in relief of local taxpayers.

3. Services such as health clinics and inspections, inspections to promote safety in factories and mines, fruit and seed inspection, and other similar services which, if not performed by the Commonwealth, will either have to be omitted entirely or paid for locally. These services also are maintained by the State in relief of local taxpayers.

4. The operation of government, including all those charges which are propertly involved in maintaining and operating the governmental machinery of the Commonwealth. These expenses are not in relief of local taxpayers, but represent the actual cost of maintaining the government of Pennsylvania. They include, among other things, the entire cost of running the Legislature, the judiciary, the Governor's office, the Attorney General's office, the Revenue Department, and the administrative work of the other twenty government Department.

I repeat that the items 1, 2, and 3 represent subsidies, facilities, or services paid for by the Commonwealth for the relief of local taxpayers. If the Commonwealth does not pay for them the people of Pennsylvania will either be deprived of these essentials of civilized government, or they will have to be paid for out of increased local taxation.

The idea appears to prevail that the present cost of operating our State Government is far out of line with the cost of operation in the pre-war years. That idea is based on unclassified pre-war expenditure figures compared with similar figures of the present day. When such figures alone are used the apparent differences are so great that one who does not look behind them may easily reach wrong conclusions.

Any true comparison requires us to ascertain what amounts the Legislature has granted in subsidies, what facilities and services it has created, in the intervening period, and by how much the real cost of operating the State government (item 4) is reduced by the earnings of the Departments.

OPERATING COST, PRE-WAR AND TODAY

Such a comparison between the fiscal year 1915-16 (the year before we entered the Great War) and the fiscal year 1931-32 shows that the increase in the cost of operating the government paid for from general taxation after subsidies, facilities, and services established by the Legislature, and the earnings of the Departments, have been deducted, is $5,429,236.68.

While the figures are not exactly comparable, this increase is almost exactly the same in amount as the reduction I recently ordered in State expenditures for the single fiscal year 1932-33.

INCREASED COST OF SUBSIDIES

The largest item of increase by far is in subsidies granted by the Legislature to schools, hospitals, mothers' assistance fund, etc. From $15,245,058.60 in 1915-16, these subsidies had increased in 1931-32 to $55,515,515.94.

INCREASED COST OF FACILITIES

Construction and land purchases, which also do not represent the cost of operation of government, grew under Legislative direction from $1,783,729.11 in 1915-16 to $6,699,909.21 in the year 1931-32.

Similarly, grants by the Legislature for the maintenance of teachers' colleges and health and welfare institutions rose from $8,028,373.89 in 1915-16 to $17,196,309.92 in the year 1931-32.

INCREASED COST OF SERVICES

A great variety of new services have been added by the Legislature since 1915-16. In the Department of Labor and Industry, for example, these new services account for an increase of $733,157.20 in comparison. This increase is counterbalanced in part by the earnings of the Department, which increased in 1931-32 over 1915-16 by $122,045.68.

DEPARTMENT OF MILITARY AFFAIRS

Another service to which extensive additions have been made by the Legislature is the Department of Military Affairs. More military units have been created by the Legislature, twenty-eight additional armories, which must be maintained, have been constructed or acquired, and the military reservations at Mt. Gretna and Indiantown Gap have been added. The compilation of World War records, the State Athletic Commission, and the War Veterans Commission have also been attached. These new functions added by the Legislature account for an increase of $707,778.57.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The Department of Agriculture has been given a host of new functions by the Legislature, such as the Bureau of Markets, control of the Japanese Beetle, inspection and certification of seeds and plants, etc., etc. These new functions added by the Legislature account for an apparent increase of $945,990.85.

But this increase is not paid by the taxpayers. It is a remarkable fact that if subsidies and indemnities ordered by the Legislature and paid through the Department of Agriculture are subtracted, the earnings of the Department from licenses, fees, fines, etc., come within $5,800 of carrying the entire cost. In other words, subsidies and indemnities aside, the total net cost of the Department of Agriculture to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania for the fiscal year 1931-32 is only $5,800, or less than the cost of a single mile of cheap type road.

DEPARTMENT OF FORESTS AND WATERS

This Department supplies another illustration of increased functions created by the Legislature. During the sixteen years the Legislature has provided for an increase of half a million acres in State Forest land, which must be cared for. The fire protection work of the Department has been extended by the Legislature from State-owned land only to all forest land, thus increasing the area to be protected about twelve hundred per cent. The Legislature has also given the Department new work in stream gauging, flood control, the construction of the Pymatuning Reservoir project, and the care of a number of State Parks. These additional functions created by the General Assembly account for an increased expenditure of $1,189,183.25.

JUDICIARY

From 1915-16 to 1931-32 the cost of the judiciary increased $1,120,996.08, mainly because the Legislature added twenty-four common pleas and orphans' court judges since 1915, and increased the judges' salaries.

The figures in the illustrations given above all relate to the General Fund, from which the ordinary expenses of the Commonwealth are paid. They are drawn from Departments which have to do with subsidies, facilities, and services established by the General Assembly. Other Departments, such as Revenue, Justice, Treasury, Auditor General, and the Governor's Office, fall under item 4 above, and are properly charged, less their earnings, to the cost of operation of government.

There are certain Departments which cost the general taxpayer nothing. The entire cost of the services they render and the facilities provide is borne out of special funds contributed by those persons whom these Departments are organized to serve. The largest among them is the Department of Highways.

HIGHWAYS

In 1915-16 our system of improved roads was in its infancy. Automobiles and motor trucks were few. Our present State Highway System is by far the best and most extensive in America. It covers 33,000 miles and cares for the needs of 1,766,000 automobiles and motor trucks.

In 1915-16 only $1,326,009.62 was spent for the construction of highways. In 1931-32 the amount was $35,374,583.43.

In 1915-16 $2,796,030.84 was spent in maintaining roads. In 1931-32 the amount was $20,400,470.60.

Altogether road expenditures of the Commonwealth increased from $4,831,458.33 in 1915-16 to $56,559,243.83 in 1931-32. The money thus spent comes from license fees and gasoline tax, and no part of it from general taxation.

DEPARTMENT OF BANKING

The strain of the depression has thrown an unusual burden upon the Department of Banking, as it has on nearly all the other Departments. In 1915-16 it spent $98,235.05. In 1931-32 the total cost of the Banking Department from general taxation was $60,425.12. All the rest of its expenditures were paid for by the banks for services rendered.

GAME AND FISH

The expenditures for game increased from $390,679.80 in 1915-16 to $1,219,633.88 in 1931-32; and those for fish from $116,087.75 in 1915-16 to $442,582.90 in 1931-32. But no part of the expenditure for game and fish is derived from general taxation. All of it comes from fines and license fees.

CONCLUSION

Increase in the cost of government is not confined to Pennsylvania. The Federal Government, in the fiscal year 1915-16, spent $710,415.044. In the fiscal year 1931-32 it spent $5,006,000,000, an increase of 604 per cent. This is almost twice the corresponding figure for Pennsylvania.

In conclusion I repeat that when all the subsidies, facilities, and services established by the Legislature in aid of local taxpayers are deducted, together with the earnings of the Departments, the increase in cost of operation of government for 1931-32 as compared with the fiscal year 1915-16 amounts to $5,429,236.68.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

The PRESIDENT. The communication will be printed in the Journal.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENT TO HOUSE RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the House of Representatives, being introduced informed the Senate that the House has concurred in amended House Resolution as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 5, 1932.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That 650 copies of the suggested reductions in appropriations made in 1931 Regular and Special Sessions, totaling $27,018,763.92, be printed for the use of the members of the Senate and House of Representatives.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

He also informed the Senate that the House concurred in resolution from the Senate, as follows:

In the Senate, July 6, 1932.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, July eleventh at eight o'clock Eastern Standard Time; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, July eleventh, at eight o'clock Eastern Standard Time.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. EARNEST, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 73, entitled:

An Act to further amend section eight of the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 280), entitled "An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands, and prescribing interest charges on nonpayment thereof; requiring the receivers and collectors of county, city, borough, town, township, school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes, and providing for the lien thereof; authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes, and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid; and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances," by further regulating the adjournment and readjournment of sales of seated lands for delinquent taxes, and authorizing the county treasurer, with the consent of the county commissioners and a judge, to adjourn and readjourn such sales during periods of economic depression; providing for advertisement and notice preceding any adjournment or readjournment, and dispensing with prior advertisement and notice in such cases, providing for the consolidation of the advertisements and notices of different year's taxes held on the same date, and validating adjourned sales where the original sale has not been advertised or notice thereof given.

Mr. RIAL, from the Committee on Education, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 62, entitled:

An Act to repeal article twenty-one of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," thereby abolishing teachers' institutes.

Mr. BOWERS, from the Committee on Education, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 55, entitled:

An Act to amend clause nine of section one thousand two hundred and ten of the act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts theerof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith;" as amended, by temporarily reducing the minimum salaries to be paid teachers, supervisors, principals and superintendents in the public schools, providing that increments shall not accrue, and reducing the appropriation heretofore made for the purpose of paying the Commonwealth's share of such minimum salaries.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. MANSFIELD read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 74, entitled:

An Act to amend section nine of the act approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 207), entitled "An act providing when, how, upon what property, and to what extent, liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements, for the removal of nuisances, and for water rents or rates, sewer rates, and lighting rates; for the procedure upon claims filed therefor; the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims; the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened; the distribution of the proceeds of such sales, and the redemption of the property therefrom; for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed, and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed, within six months before the passage of this act; and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly," as amended, providing that tax claims shall bear interest from the date of filing.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Affairs.

Mr. WILLIAMSON read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 75, entitled:

An Act relating to the relief of the unemployed of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; making an appropriation from the General Fund to the Motor License Fund; providing for the allocation thereof to cities, towns, boroughs and townships; prescribing the time, manner, basis and purposes for and upon which such said money shall be allocated; directing the Department of Highways to prepare and distribute proper blanks and forms for the making of applications for such allocation; requiring the filing of certain certificates and information by the officials of political subdivisions receiving such funds; requiring the return of such appropriation to the General Fund; and prescribing the manner and time thereof; and directing a refund of money allocated but not used for the purposes set forth in this act.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. SCOTT read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 76, entitled:

An Act to amend section seven of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 280), entitled "An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands, and prescribing interest charges on nonpayment thereof; requiring the receivers and collectors of county, city, borough, town, township, school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes, and providing for the lien thereof; authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes, and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes herebefore or hereafter returned as unpaid; and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances," by changing the requirements as to advertising sales.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 57, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 59, as follows:

An Act reducing the salaries and compensation of certain officers and employes of the executive legislative and judicial departments of the State Government appropriating the moneys realized from such reductions to the Department of Welfare for State aid to political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor and providing for the allocation and use of the moneys so appropriated

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in order to reduce the cost of administration of the State Government and to provide additional moneys for unemployment relief the annual salary or compensation of each office and employe of or that attached to any public position in the executive legislative and judicial branches of government and paid from State moneys is hereby reduced ten (10) per centum from the date this act takes effect below the annual salary or compensation received or attached to such office or position on July first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two The salary of Members of the General Assembly for attendance at regular and special sessions shall from and after December first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two be reduced per centum below that fixed by existing law

Section 2 The annual salary or compensation of each officer and employe or that attached to any office or position in the executive legislative and judicial branches of government and paid from State moneys shall not be increased during the time this act is effective by act of the Legislature or otherwise above that ascertained and fixed in accordance with section one of this act but any such officer or employe may be promoted to a more responsible position with a greater salary or compensation or be demoted to a less responsible position with a lesser salary or compensation provided such salary or compensation for such office or position has been fixed and ascertained in accordance with the provisions of this act

Section 3 No executive or administrative department board or commission or independent administrative board or commission or officer thereof and no officer of the legislative or judicial branches of the State Government shall create any new office or position the salary or compensation of which is payable from State moneys or increase the public personnel above that of July first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two during the time this act is effective except the same has been specifically authorized by law at this or a subsequent session of the Legislature but this section shall not be construed to apply to seasonal occupations in the Department of Revenue necessitated to expedite the issuing of motor vehicle and operators' licenses Such temporary employment shall not be for a longer period than six months at any one time

Section 4 In all cases where an officer or employe coming under the provisions of this act also receives maintenance from the Commonwealth such maintenance shall be valued at the amount fixed by the State Employes' Retirement Board for retirement purposes and the reduction required by this act shall be calculated also on the amount of such maintenance

Section 5 The reduction provided for in section one of this act shall not apply to annual salaries and compensation of one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1,800) and less nor shall any salary or compensation be reduced by this act to an amount less than one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1,800) This act shall not be construed as reducing the salary or compensation of any public officer during the term for which he was elected or appointed but the Auditor General and State Treasurer are hereby authorized to approve and pay a reduced compensation to any public officer who shall voluntarily agree to accept the reduction provided for by this act and to pay such amount thus realized into the special fund provided by this act

Section 6 All requisitions for salaries or compensation drawn on the State Treasurer during the time this act is in effect shall state thereon the salary or compensation of the person as of July first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two and the amount of the reduction made by this act and the reductions as shown by requisitions shall be paid by the State Treasurer into an Emergency Relief Fund The moneys in said Fund from time to time are hereby appropriated to the Department of Welfare for payment to political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor

The Department of Welfare shall after three months commencing November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two make an allocation of the moneys then in said Fund among the several counties of this Commonwealth on a ratio that the estimated number of unemployed persons in a county bears to the estimated total number of unemployed persons in the entire Commonwealth as shown by the last available table compiled by the Department of Labor and Indus.

Section 7 Where a political subdivision charged with the care of the poor is coextensive with a county the amount allocated to the county from time to time shall be forthwith paid by the State Treasurer on requisition of the Departmnt of Welfare to such political subdivision

Where the territory of such a political subdivision or divisions is not coextensive with a county the amount allocated to the county other than a county coextensive with a city shall from time to time be paid by the State Treasurer on requisition of the Department of Welfare to the county treasury and shall in turn be allocated to the various political subdivisions charged with the care of the poor located wholly or partly within such county by the county commissioners with the approval of the court of common pleas on the basis of unemployed persons resident within the several subdivisions but within the county as ascertained from the best sources of information obtainable and when such allocation has been made the amounts paid into the county treasury by the department shall be paid to the respective subdivisions entitled thereto

In counties coextensive with cities the moneys allocated to the county shall be paid by the State Treasurer on requisition of the State Department of Welfare into the city treasury and shall be allocated by the Department of Welfare of such city among the various political subdivisions charged with the care of the poor within such city on the basis of unemployed persons within the respective subdivisions as ascertained from the best sources of information obtainable and when such allocation has been made the amounts paid into the city treasury shall be paid to the respective subdivisions entitled thereto

Section 8 Each political subdivision charged by law with the care of the poor shall have authority under the provisions of this act any law to the contrary notwithstanding to expend the moneys received under the provisions of this act for the purpose of providing food clothing fuel and shelter for residents within their districts who are without means of support and for no other purpose In no case shall any of said moneys be used for paying cash commonly known as a "dole" to persons entitled to relief

Section 9 The amounts allocated to political subdivisions under the provisions of this act and by them expended shall be audited by the auditors of the respective political subdivisions in the same manner and with like effect as other moneys expended by such subdivisions

Section 10 This act shall be in force immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 61, as follows:

An Act reducing the salaries and compensation of certain county officers and employes and providing for the use of money realized from such reductions by the county commissioners or poor authorities for the relief of the poor appropriating the money realized from such reductions to the Department of Welfare for State aid to political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor and providing for the allocation and use of the moneys so appropriated

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in order to reduce the cost of administration of the county government and to provide additional moneys for unemployment relief the annual salary or compensation of each officer and employe of or that attached to any public position in the government of any county and paid from county moneys is hereby reduced Ten (10 per centum from the date this act takes effect below the annual salary or compensation received or attached to such office or position on July first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two

Section 2 The annual salary fees or compensation of each officer and employe or that attached to any office or position in the government of the county and paid from moneys shall not be increased during the time this act is effective by act of the Legislature the Salary Board or otherwise above that ascertained and fixed in accordance with section one of this act but any such officer or employe may be promoted to a more responsible position with a greater salary or compensation or be demoted to a less responsible position with a lesser salary or compensation provided such salary or compensation for such office or position has been fixed and ascertained in accordance with the provisions of this act

Section 3 No officer board or commission of the county shall create any new office or position the salary or compensation of which is payable from county moneys or increase the public personnel above that of July first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two during the time this act is effective except the same has been specifically authorized by law at this or a subsequent session of the Legislature

Section 4 The reduction provided for in section one of this act shall not apply to annual salaries and compensation of one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1,800) and less nor shall any salary or compensation be reduced by this act to an amount less than one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1,800) This act shall not be construed as reducing the salary or compensation of any public officer during the term for which he was elected or appointed but the county commissioners are hereby authorized to approve and pay a reduced compensation to any public officer who shall voluntarily agree to accept the reduction provided for by this act and to pay such amount thus realized into the special fund provided by this act

Section 5 All requisitions for salaries or compensation drawn on the county treasurer during the time this act is in effect shall state thereon the salary or compensation of the person as of July first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two and the amount of the reduction made by this act and the reductions as shown by requisitions shall be paid by the county treasurer into an Emergency Relief Fund The moneys in said fund from time to time are hereby appropriated to the county commissioners for use by them in affording relief to the poor by providing food clothing fuel and shelter for residents within the county who are without means of support or the county commissioners may pay the same over to the authorities within the county charged by law with the care of the poor for use as herein provided and for no other purpose

Section 6 The county commissioners or the board charged by law with the care of the poor if the commissioners so decide shall have authority under the provisions of this act any law to the contrary notwithstanding to expend moneys received under the provisions of this act for the purpose of providing food clothing fuel and shelter for residents within their districts who are without means of support and for no other purpose In no case shall any of said moneys be used for paying cash commonly known as a "dole" to persons entitled to relief

Section 7 The amount expended under the provisions of this act shall be audited by the county auditors or county controller in the same manner and with like effect as other moneys expended by such county

Section 8 This act shall be in force immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 66, as follows:

An Act authorizing counties cities boroughs towns townships school districts and poor districts to install by ordinance or resolution a system for the collection of taxes in instalments and specifying certain conditions and penalties in such cases

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That any county city borough town township school district or poor district shall have power to provide by ordinance or resolution for the collection and payment of its taxes on the flat rate basis in monthly or other periodic instalments and such method of collection and payment when installed shall be in addition to any method now or hereafter prescribed by law

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, July 7, 1932

The House met at 11.00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. O. B. Poulson, offered the following prayer:

Our Father, God, we bow in reverance before Thy throne —for Thou art King of kings and Lord of lords. Realizing how largely our destinies are in Thy hands, we seek Thy guidance.

In our hearts we love this great Commonwealth. We have but one all consuming desire and that is that it may be well with Pennsylvanians all,—from the least unto the greatest.

Guide Thou the deliberation of this hour. Protect us in our homeward journies. And may Thy will be done is us, —now and always. In the Master's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday when, on motion of Mr. Holcombe, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

INFORMATION ON EXPENDITURES OF STATE GOVERNMENT

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, July 7, 1932.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In view of the prevailing interest in the expenditures of the State Government, I believe it will be useful if I submit for the information of the House of Representatives a short statement of facts.

As good a test of State expenditures as could be found can probably be reached through a comparison of the present expenses of government with those which obtained before the Great War.

The expenditures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania fall naturally under four heads:

1. Subsidies granted by the Legislature in aid of schools, hospitals, and other local facilities and services, the cost of which, if not paid by the State, will have to be paid by increased local taxation. These subsidies are, therefore, in relief of local taxpayers and especially of those who pay property taxes. This is by far the largest item in the cost of State Government in Pennsylvania.

2. Construction and maintenance of roads, prisons, hospitals, sanatoria, and other institutions, the cost of which, if not paid by the State, will have to be paid by local taxpayers. If these facilities are not built and maintained by the Commonwealth the localities will be compelled to tax their people for them. This item also is in relief of local taxpayers.

3. Services such as health clinics and inspections, inspections to promote safety in factories and mines, fruit and seed inspection, and other similar services which, if not performed by the Commonwealth, will either have to be omitted entirely or paid for locally. These services also are maintained by the State in relief of local taxpayers.

4. The operation of government, including all those charges which are properly involved in maintaining and operating the governmental machinery of the Commonwealth. These expenses are not in relief of local taxpayers, but represent the actual cost of maintaining the government of Pennsylvania. They include, among other things, the entire cost of running the legislature, the judiciary, the Governor's office, the Attorney General's office, the Revenue Department, and the administration work of the other twenty government Departments.

I repeat that the items 1, 2, and 3 represent subsidies, facilities, or services paid for by the Commonwealth for the relief of local taxpayers. If the Commonwealth does not pay for them the people of Pennsylvania, will either be deprived of these essentials of civilized government, or they will have to be paid for out of increased local taxation.

The idea appears to prevail that the present cost of operating our State Government is far out of line with the cost of operation in the pre-war years. That idea is based on unclassified pre-war expenditure figures compared with similar figures of the present day. When such figures alone are used the apparent differences are so great that one who does not look behind them may easily reach wrong conclusions.

Any true comparison requires us to ascertain what amounts the Legislature has granted in subsidies, what facilities and services it has created, in the intervening period, and by how much the real cost of operating the State government (item 4) is reduced by the earnings of the Departments.

OPERATING COST, PRE-WAR AND TODAY

Such a comparison between the fiscal year 1915-16 (the year before we entered the Great War) and the fiscal year 1931-32 shows that the increase in the cost of operating the government paid for from general taxation after subsidies, facilities, and services established by the Legislature, and the earnings of the Departments, have been deducted, is $5,429,236.68.

While the figures are not exactly comparable, this increase is almost exactly the same in amount as the reduction I recently ordered in State expenditures for the single fiscal year 1932-33.

INCREASED COST OF SUBSIDIES

The largest item of increase by far is in subsidies granted by the Legislature to schools, hospitals, mother's assistance fund, etc. From $15,245,058.60 in 1915-16, these subsidies had increased in 1931-32 to $55,515,515.94.

INCREASED COST OF FACILITIES

Construction and land purchases, which also do not represent the cost of operation of government, grew under Legislative direction from $1,783,729.11 in 1915-16 to $6,699,909.21 in the year 1931-32.

Similarly, grants by the Legislature for the maintenance of teachers colleges and health and welfare institutions rose from $8,028,373.89 in 1915-16 to $17,196,309.92 in the year 1931-32.

INCREASED COST OF SERVICES

A great variety of new services have been added by the Legislature since 1915-16. In the Department of Labor and Industry, for example, these new services account for an increase of $733,157.20 in comparison. This increase is counterbalanced in part by the earnings of the Department, which increased in 1931-32 over 1915-16 by $122,045.68.

DEPARTMENT OF MILITARY AFFAIRS

Another service to which extensive additions have been made by the Legislature is the Department of Military Affairs.

More military units have been created by the Legislature, twenty-eight additional armories, which must be maintained, have been constructed or acquired, and the military reservations at Mt. Gretna and Indiantown Gap have been added. The compilation of World War records, the State Athletic Commission, and the War Veterans Commission have also been attached. These new functions added by the Legislature account for an increase of $707,778.57.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The Department of Agriculture has been given a host of new functions by the Legislature, such as the Bureau of Markets, control of the Japanese Beetle, inspection and certification of seeds and plants, etc., etc. These new functions added by the Legislature account for an apparent increase of $945,990.85.

But this increase is not paid for by the taxpayers. It is a remarkable fact that if subsidies and indemnites ordered by the Legislature and paid through the Department of Agriculture are subtracted, the earnings of the Department from licenses, fees, fines, etc., come within $5,800, of carrying the entire cost. In other words, subsidies and indemnities aside, the total net cost of the Department of Agriculture to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania for the fiscal year 1931-32 is only $5,800., or less than the cost of a single mile of cheap type road.

DEPARTMENT OF FORESTS AND WATERS

This Department supplies another illustration of increased functions created by the Legislature. During the sixteen years the Legislature has provided for an increase of half a million acres in State Forests land, which must be cared for. The fire protection work of the Department has been extended by the Legislature from State-owned land only to all forest land, thus increasing the area to be protected about twelve hundred per cent. The Legislature has also given the Department new work in stream gauging, flood control, the construction of the Pymatuning Reservoir project, and the care of a number of State Parks. These additional functions created by the General Assembly account for an increased expenditure of $1,189,183.25.

JUDICIARY

From 1915-16 to 1931-32 the cost of the judiciary increased $1,120,996.08, mainly because the Legislature added twenty-four common pleas and orphans' court judges since 1915, and increased the judges' salaries.

The figures in the illustration given above all relate to the General Fund, from which the ordinary expenses of the Commonwealth are paid. They are drawn from Departments which have to do with subsidies, facilities, and services established by the General Assembly. Other Departments, such as Revenue Justice, Treasury, Auditor General, and the Governor's office, fall under item 4 above, and are properly charged less their earnings, to the cost of operation of government.

There are certain Departments which cost the general taxpayer nothing. The entire cost of the services they render and the facilities they provide is borne out of special funds contributed by those persons whom these Departments are organized to serve. The largest among them is the Department of Highways.

HIGHWAYS

In 1915-16 our system of improved roads was in its infancy. Automobiles and motor trucks were few. Our present State Highway System is by far the best and most extensive in America. It covers 33,000 miles and cares for the needs of 1,776,000 automobiles and motor trucks.

In 1915-16 only $1,326,009.62 was spent for the construction of highways. In 1931-32 the amount was $35,374,583.43.

In 1915-16 $2,796,030.84 was spent in maintaining roads. In 1931-32 the amount was $20,400,470.60.

Altogether road expenditures of the Commonwealth increased from $4,831,458.33 in 1915-16 to $56,559,243.83 in 1931-32. The money thus spent comes from license fees and gasoline tax, and no part of it from general taxation.

DEPARTMENT OF BANKING

The strain of the depression has thrown an unusual burden upon the Department of Banking, as it has on nearly all the other Departments. In 1915-16 it spent $98,265.05. In 1931-32 the total cost of the Banking Department from general taxation was $60,425.12. All the rest of its expenditures were paid for by the banks for services rendered.

GAME AND FISH

The expenditures for game increased from $390,679.80 in 1915-16 to $1,219,633.88 in 1931-32; and those for fish from $116,087.75 in 1915-16 to $422,582.90 in 1931-32. But no part of the expenditure for game and fish is derived from general taxation. All of it comes from fines and license fees.

CONCLUSION

Increase in the cost of government is not confined to Pennsylvania. The Federal Government, in the fiscal year 1915-16, spent $710,415,044. in the fiscal year 1931-32 it spent $5,006,000,000, an increase of 604 per cent. This is almost twice the corresponding figure for Pennsylvania.

In conclusion I repeat that when all the subsidies, facilities, and services established by the Legislature in aid of local taxpayers are deducted, together with the earnings of the Departments, the increase in cost of operation of government for 1931-32 as compared with the fiscal year 1915-16 amounts to $5,429,236.68.

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES ON EXPENDITURES FOR PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS ON POLICIES OF INSURANCE AND BONDS

The Chair laid before the House the report of the Department of Property and Supplies in compliance with a resolution of the House of Representatives dated June 28, 1932, which was read as follows:

July 6, 1932.

To the Honorable the House of Representatives, Harrisburg Pennsylvania.

Members:

We are attaching a report in compliance with your Resolution dated June 28, 1932, showing the expenditures for premiums on policies of insurance, surety and fidelity bonds for the use of the departments of the State Government for the fiscal years ending May 31, 1930, May 31, 1931 and May 31, 1932.

The increase of expenditures in the fiscal year ending May 31, 1932 as compared with prior years is influenced by the payment of premiums on workmen's compensation in 1932, a large portion of which was applicable to the fiscal year 1931 and prior.

For your information, workmen's compensation insurance is paid somewhat differently than the average expense, in that an advance premium is charged at the beginning of the year based upon an estimated payroll which is adjusted to conform with the actual payroll determined by an audit, which, of course, cannot take place until the subsequent year.

Accordingly, we have set up the years in the introduction to our report in order to furnish more intelligent comparisons.

The increase shown in the adjusted current year is occasioned by increased insurance rates which are established by the Workmen's Compensation Board.

We will be glad to give you any further information that you may desire.

Yours very truy,

JOHN L. HANNA,
Secretary of Property and Supplies.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

REPORT OF EXPENDITURES, PREMIUMS ON POLICIES OF INSURANCE, SURETY AND FIDELITY BONDS FOR THE USE OF DEPARTMENTS OF STATE GOVERNMENT UNDER APPROPRIATIONS MADE TO THE DEPARMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES

In the following schedule consideration must be given to the fact that increased expenditures in 1932 were influenced largely by payment of premiums on Workman's Compensation Insurance. The payment of these premiums embrace advance premiums with subsequent audit and adjustment in following year. Therefore expenditures as indicated are applicable to prior periods as this outline indicates:

1929	$31,024.48
1930	106,543.44
1931	90,107.11
1932	108,926.21

The increase in the current year reflected here is occasioned predominately by increased insurance rates.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

The motion was agreed to.

USE OF THE HALL OF THE HOUSE GRANTED

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker, if it meets with the convenience of the members of the House, I would move that on next Tuesday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock, Standard Time, the use of the Hall of the House be granted to representatives of organized labor for the purpose of holding a public hearing, and that the members of the Senate be invited to attend.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not one who counsels the conduct of public business with undue haste. I believe that every proposition that comes before this deliberate body should be openly discussed and no decisive action taken until we are convinced we have exhausted every argument pro and con on the respective propositions.

On the other hand as many have stated, we have been in session two weeks, and it would seem to me that the time has arrived when we should begin to come to some definite and permanent conclusions. I do not arise to complain that the House has been unduly slow, I do not agree with those who tell us, or with my fellow newspaper men, who tell the public that this session has made no progress, neither do I agree with those who, whether correctly informed or not, have broadcast the impression that the members gathered together in the various groups are drawing wider apart. I have been, not intimately, but in a way connected with two of the major groups working within the membership of this House. I believe admirable progress has been made.

To begin with, this session was predicated on the conference held in the Governor's Office, participated in by His Excellency the Governor, the Members of his Cabinet, the Fiscal Officers of the Commonwealth, the head of the Republican State Organization and the recognized leaders of both Houses of the General Assembly. There a tentative program was reached, and I believe much progress was made. We are now assembled, and it seems to me by that action to be committed to at least the consideration of that fourteen point program, if not the adoption of the same.

Following that we found on arrival here that one of the groups put forward a so called economy plan providing for the slashing of appropriations in the sum of twenty-seven million dollars, and that program met with popular approval, I believe, among the members of this House, and I venture to say it has even met with the approval of the tax-payers of this Commonwealth. That program is being whipped into shape, and I can say, without violating any confidence whatever, that in the contacts I have had with the individual members of the several groups or so-called blocs, I have not found anybody that disagrees with the principle of economy in state government by the slashing of appropriations at this time. We can, therefore, say upon our return to our homes and to the press that we are substantially in accord with that principle.

Progress has been made in other lines. I have yet to find any member of any of these groups who is not willing to give to Philadelphia and to the other cities any form of legislation they propose, that will help them to work out their own salvation along the lines of the legislation they have requested or did request at the Governor's conference.

It would seem to me in all of the conversations that I have had with the membership of this House that the only point at issue now is to what extent we can effect economies in state government, to what extent we can take the whole $27,000,000 program or to what extent that will have to be abated to take care of a few items therein towards serving the very purpose of unemployment relief that we seek to serve in this Special Session.

That point of difference—and I see no reason why we can't call a spade a spade—is on the matter of how it shall be expended, whether it shall be entirely by direct relief, or in the form of what is in reality a dole, or whether it shall be in the form a work relief, which, I believe, is in accordance with the desires of the membership, on our road program or on forestry, or whether there shall be an equitable distribution of these funds to serve the needs of every county and every city in the Commonwealth. There the problem is presented and the problem is indeed a difficult one.

I believe if it were possible for us under our Constitution to take the savings we shall effect in the economy program and by some measure or law appropriate a certain percentage of that to direct relief and a certain percentage of that to work relief, the problem could be solved over-night, but we are constitutionally barred from that process, I am informed. So, it would seem to me to be up to those members of the House with legal talent to find a way so that the interests of the cities and the interests of the counties, having small rural road programs, can be protected. I believe we from the rural districts can get the necessary aid out of this Special Session that we most require.

In conclusion I feel that the members of this House and the members of the Senate by virtue of the committments made by our leaders in the Governor's conference, have at least committed ourselves to an immediate consideration and disposal of the Governor's fourteen points.

I believe further than that, ladies and gentlemen, by reason of our Resolution No. 6, Printer's No. 7—I believe it was—wherein was enunciated the principle that the needs of the people must be taken care of in the way that the people of that particular district think thy ought to be taken care of, and which further enunciated the principle, that inasmuch as the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the very membership of the House that sits here today, committed itself to the construction and the maintenance and the building of twenty thousand miles of rural roads we need look no further for any project on which we may expend the money of the Commonwealth, or on which we need to use any manner of work relief than that of the rural road program.

I want to call your attention to this fact, that we, as mebers of this House, may be held up to public scorn and ridicule for not doing the thing that our leaders committed us to do in the Governor's conference. The reason for that is to date we do not have before us on the calendar the bills covering the fourteen points agreed upon. I am not arguing for the adoption of those fourteen points or for their being passed into law. I am only asking that they be put before us, in order that we may face the guns. If they are not what we want, that will enable us to discard them and to take up some other proposition. Accordingly with that end in view, Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution and ask for its immediate adoption.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING COMMITTEE TO REPORT BILLS

Mr. STEWART asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 7, 1932.

Whereas, His Excellency, the Governor, his Officials, Cabinet, the Fiscal Officers of the State, the Chairman of the Republican State Organization and other recognized leaders in the political life of the Commonwealth, met at Harrisburg prior to the call for the Special Session of the Legislature, and

Whereas, At that conference there was agreed upon, a so-called Fourteen Point program of legislation for unemployed relief and the relief of municipal problems attendant to the depression, and

Whereas, The Governor in conformity with the understanding arrived at during that conference did issue a call for a Special Session embracing the said so-called Fourteen Points, and

Whereas, The General Assembly has now been in session two weeks and most of the bills covered in the so-called Fourteen Points agreed upon, still remain in Committee, and

Whereas, The citizens and tax-payers of the Commonwealth because of the understandings and agreements had prior to the calling of the Special Session have a right to expect prompt action on the agreed upon program, and

Whereas, The Members of the House of Representatives are prevented by virtue of not having the bills before them from acting finally on the business for which they were called into session, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Representatives request that the Committee or Committees having the bills covering the agreed upon Fourteen Points, report them out to the floor of the House with or without favorable action and without delay, in order that the House may dispose of the business for which its members were convened.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, ——

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman object to the granting of unanimous consent?

Mr. TURNER. No, Mr. Speaker, but I don't want the resolution passed with out one correction being made as the Clerk read it from the desk. For fear that there will be further misunderstanding on the part of the gentlemen of the press, the clerk said, the "Reorganized" leaders of the State. I thought that there might be some misunderstanding as to whether these leaders had been organized or reorganized at that time, when the intent of the gentleman from Clearfield was plainly the "recognized" leaders of the State.

I just want to add a word if I may, speaking to the members of the House for a moment, to what the gentleman from Clearfield has said this morning with which I heartily concur. I do not take it that he means that it is the sense of this resolution to discharge the committees from further consideration of the bills, but that he is urging that we have before us this plan for study.

In that connection I think it is timely that something be said, in the light of his remarks of this morning, because the newspapers this morning have carried to the people of Pennsylvania the impression that there is dissention here in the House and that the so-called blocs have wide differences of opinion that are likely to cause antagonism here.

I hold in my hand "the Harrisburg Patriot" of this morning in which it goes on to say "Legislative leaders plan to confer today to arrange a new and revised plan of legislation. A program satisfactory to all factions," implying that there are factions here in the House. It has been unfortunate that in the accounts of the proceedings that have gone forth of the Legislature so far, the implied statment has been made to the people of Pennsylvania, that there are blocs in the sense in which we ordinarily consider blocs in a legislative body.

Before the session began certain groups of members of this House, believing that something should be done, looking towards the session to formulate the opinions of the members of the House met. It was impossible that all of the members of the House could be called together, no one had the authority to do that. In a group as large as all the members of the House, it would be impossible naturally to have that kind of discussion and work out basic principles. Therefore, this term blocs came into being because I presume that the newspapers had no other way of referring to them than by the names of some members who were active in organizing that information among certain groups of the members, and it has been unfortunate, as we have all forseen, because we all see today how the title has been given to certain groups or members of this Legislature, and it has been implied that other members of the Legislature have been excluded from these groups. I do not believe that any member of the Legislature has been intentionally excluded, it has been just that natural formation of certain men whose opinions have run along certain lines, and if there were any way by which we could erase the names from those blocs, I feel certain that the men whose names appear at the head of them would be only too glad to have them erased and have them forgotten for the rest of the session. We are here for one purpose and as I have gone among the members and have talked to the members I find no difference of opinion. I find an earnest desire to do what they can, and do it expeditiously and to give to the people of Pennsylvania the best thought of the Legislature. I think it has been unfair, as the gentleman from Clearfield has said, that some people have critized the Legislature for doing nothing. Last week there appeared an editorial in the "Philadelphia Record" following the adjournment of the Legislature. I think it was a scurrilous and uncalled for editorial. It said that the legislators would adjourn and would go to some cool resort and drink cooling drinks while some two hundred and fifty thousand people of Pennsylvania would starve. It was unwarranted, unjustified and untrue, because everyone in this House knew that the plan that was being worked upon was in an endeavor to cut down the cost of government in order that we may have money for the relief required. Reports were to be made by the different departments to the Committee on Appropriations and the earliest possible time you could get them was Tuesday of this week. I understand that most of these departments had to work on the Fourth of July, worked day and night to get these figures ready for the Legislature. Therefore it was extremely unfair to bring the information to the people of Pennsylvania that we were indifferent to their plight and their needs and that we had adjourned just to take a holiday for ourselves. I hope then, we may leave here this week and return Monday as the gentleman from Clearfield has said to consider the program. Either adopt or sidetrack, or delay, or do anything else to the fourteen points. We have felt that the first consideration, that the logical way to reach this problem was to find out how much money we could spend, to find out what cuts could be made, to find out what savings could be made in our State government, and then having the amount of money that you could spend you could proceed upon the program. We have been talking solely from that point. We have been seeking to find a way to cut the cost of State government. Let us go ahead. If there is some other group or some other members who are active in formulating their own economy program, let them devote their time to that end. I am sure that you will find no obstacles thrown in your way, whether you be called a group or any other name.

I feel that every member of this House is anxious to do what he can for the State of Pennsylvania in its present condition, but I am certain that the people of Pennsylvania want economy in government first. I believe that they do not want any additional taxation of any kind whatsoever, if it is possible in any way to avoid it. That seems to be the prime factor. Let us forget about blocs, let us forget about groups, let us go forward as the members of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania, the representatives of a great empire, to do what we can in the present emergency, to build right, to build strongly, to make no step forward that is not the right kind of step. Let us do something for the people.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, seems to be the sun in the legislative firmament at the present time and I believe that he has a concrete program. Personally I have not seen any concrete program of legislation submitted to this House. It appears to me that it might be well for the membership of this House to have some concrete statement from the gentleman from Delaware as to his method of procedure.

The first question, of course, that comes before the House in the matter of legislation for this session, is how are we going to obtain the money necessary for the purpose for which we are meeting here. I have advocated consistently that the only method that is available at the present time is through economies. There are a number of measures here that have economy as their purpose in the raising of revenue of the Commonwealth. Mr. Turner himself has introduced a bill cutting appropriations in the various departments which, if that bill becomes a law, will create a saving of some twenty-seven millions of dollars. Mr. Patterson of Beaver has introduced a bill in this legislature which has for its purpose the amendment of the Administrative Code in so far as the reduction of major salaries is concerned.

It appears to me that there should be some kind of a program evolved here which would combine both the savings through the departments of the state as a result of economies, and there should be some understanding and some agreement among the members in respect to salary cuts. There seems to be a good deal of haze surrounding the question as to whether or not salaries shall be cut. I am of the opinion that this legislature should adopt a program of its own and stand on its own feet and put that program of economy through, which would not only take into consideration the provisions of the bill or bills that have been submitted by the gentleman from Delaware, but also include the cutting down of extravagances of government in the shape of useless departments and also a reduction of salaries. It seems to me that all of these measures could be dovetailed into one program, and then we would know fairly well where we stand, in so far as our future progress is concerned. If the legislature has such a program before it in concrete form, we would be on the highway of progress, and I would be glad to have any information that the gentleman from Delaware could give me in so far as a combination of these various measures is concerned looking toward economy, which could be put into concerte form for the use of the membership of the House.

Mr. CHESTER H. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that we should adopt this resolution, in order that we may give the public some intimation of our ultimate intention relative to this unemployment relief program. The gentleman from Delaware has told you what I think should likewise be corrected. The false impression has prevailed—probably due to the newspapers more or less—that there is dissention in this House relative to our ideas and intentions.

I have had the privilege of sitting with the various groups. It seems to me that these meetings have been of very great value. We have been able to sit down and discuss the various problems that are confronting this Legislature, and in that respect I think they have been and certainly will be of ultimate good. There is no real difference of opinion on the fundamentals. There may be some difference of opinions on details or methods of procedure. I think we have all come here with the idea of adopting and passing a worthwhile relief program. That is our first duty. I think we likewise all agree that we must have some economies. That is our second duty; to put those in operation in so far as it is possible, without jeopardizing the functions of our government and its institutions. On the proposition of economy there is no difference of opinion, fundamentally, although such an impression has erroneously gone out. These various groups that have discussed this matter are in whole hearted accord on the principle of economy. There may be some difference of opinion as to how we should proceed but I think that each and every one of us here is imbued with the idea of cutting down governmental expenses to the lowest possible degree comensurate with good government. I think we should adopt this resolution, and I think we should adopt the legislation that the Governor has discussed in his office with the representatives of the various organizations of Pennsylvania.

The proposed relief program is not adequate in my opinion; nobody professes to say that it is; but if we adopt that program which was at least approved in the Governor's office on June 20th, we will have accomplished something tangible in the way of relief. We will then have permitted our municipalities temporarily to borrow money on their delinquent taxes. That may not be economically sound, but it may be expedient under the circumstances. If we adopt this program, which has been approved by the representatives of the various groups, we will show to the people that we propose to do something. Up to this moment we have not taken any concrete action along that line. After that we can then deal with a more comprehensive unemployment relief program. As to whether or not there will be direct relief and in what amount can be ascertained later. As to whether or not there will be indirect relief or work relief and in what amount and by what means, that likewise can be worked out. But let us do something. Let us pass this program that has been submitted under the Governor's call, and then, we at least, will be in a position to do something concrete and something tangible in so far as economies is concerned, I think these bills that have been submitted, this tentative program of twenty-seven million dollars, that at least it gives us a basis upon which we can work. We can then have each department give its side of the case and that amount which has been arbitrarily specified in this tentative program can either be increased or reduced, but we have a working basis. It is going to take some time to work that out in an intelligent and constructive way. Therefore, I do not think we should delay the passage of some kind of relief program, such as is embodied in the Governor's call, and it can then be incorporated in the legislation which has been introduced in the Legisuature in pursuance thereof. In so far as an economy program is concerned it is going to require study. We do not want to jeopardize the functions of government; nobody desires to do that; but we want the greatest amount of economy that we can possibly have. We want to reduce the cost of operation of government to the lowest possible degree. Therefore, I say this program which has been submitted in a tentative way gives us the basis of operation, but we cannot do that too hastily. In my opinion the Appropriations Committee will be obliged to call in the heads of the various departments to augment the supplemental information they have received, in order that they may intelligently act upon that matter, and in order that they may give us some intelligent idea of what we should do. I think we are all absolutely in accord as to the principles involved; as as to the fundamentals involved. The matter of the working out of those details will take some time, but while we are doing that noble job; while we are reducing the cost of government to conform to the present economic condition; let us pass this program and show the people what we mean in so far as being here for unemployment relief purposes is concerned, and then we can extend that program as conditions may require and time may permit.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I feel I should say a word in reply to what the gentleman from York has said, otherwise I would not infringe on your time further. Let me say, in order that I may again relieve any misunderstanding that the program is not my program alone, but that the program for reduction in the cost of government has been worked upon by a great number of men, and that it has been particularly the province of the Appropriations Committee and a subcommittee of the Appropriations Committee of which my colleague Mr. Talbot, has been the chairman, under the leadership of Dr. Steedle, and those five men have been laboring very hard during the past week. I think that we have been making progress. We have been doing what the gentleman from Monroe has said. The department heads have been submitting figures. They have been appearing before the committee and have been giving their side of the argument. There is no desire to be arbitrary, everything is being carefully considered. The question that we have at this session is the same one that we had at the 1931 Special Session. The Constitution of Pennsylvania provides that you can only consider those subjects at a special session that are announced in the call of the session, and the call of this session is extremely restricted. It does not allow us a very wide latitude to accomplish the many things we would like to accomplish. There have been a great number of bills that have been introduced by members of the Legislature, including one that has been introduced by myself, which do not come within the call and which are unconstitutional and, therefore, could not be signed. The gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Patterson, has a number of bills that affect the Administrative Code and some other branches of the State government. I do not believe that those bills are within the call of this session of the Legislature, but we cannot go into that problem at this time. Therefore, under the first and second paragraphs of the call, the only thing that we can do is to reduce the appropriations made in the 1931 Special Session or as it says here, "To provide money to restore in the whole or in part" the nine million seven hundred and twenty thousand dollars by which some of the appropriations were abated and the five million dollars which the Governor says will be a deficit in our income for the biennium, and then if we have money after that time we can spend that money for unemployment relief.

The only other way in which you can get money for unemployment relief, in so far as the State is concerned, is by taxation. We have two methods open to us. One is to reduce the cost of State government, so that we can expend that money on unemployment relief; or by increased taxation. I do not think that there is a member of this House who will say that he is in favor of increased taxes. He knows what the sentiment of the people is in his district, he knows that the people are opposed to increased taxes, and, therefore, there is only one way open to us, and that is to cut down th cost of government if we are to have any money to give. As you know there is a possibility that we may get some money from the Federal Government under the Wagner Bill and there is a possibility that ways and means may be found to take that money and use it in unemployment relief. As my friend from Clearfield has said it may take the form of either direct relief, or it may work out in work relief, but before we can use this Federal money we would have to set up some kind of an agency in this State government and have some kind of machinery by which we can recevie this money and by which we can expend it. We cannot do it as we stand today. We do not have a constitutional amendment to allow us to accept money from the Federal Government, and a constitutional amendment could not go into effect before 1934, because it would have to pass the next session of the Legislature and be voted upon in November of 1933, so that it would not be until 1934 that the Federal money would be available under a constitutional amendment. If the Federal act is passed in such form that it may be avalaible to Pennsylvania by setting up some machinery, and it can be done within the call, then we will have available, it is estimated, about twenty-three million dollars to add to whatever saving we may have here, and that money may be expended upon some relief of some kind, so that the gentleman from York, in his desire, with which I am heartily in accord, could be doing some of the things that he desires, some reductions could be made and the people of Pennsylvania would feel that we are working in the right direction, and would have greater sympathy if we could in some way reduce salaries in the higher brackets of the State officials. Everybody is receiving a cut, everybody is getting along on a lesser income and the man on the street does not understand why we should not act. The sentiment of the members of this House is that they are willing to take a cut with everybody else but you cannot do it with this call by legislation, and, therefore, we are hampered in that respect.

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I feel that it is very important that this resolution should have careful consideration. This rule was made by a committee of the House and is a fixed policy. I would not like to vote on the resolution without reading it two or three times. I therefore move that the matter be deferred until Monday night next.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is informed that the gentleman from Clearfield has already asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution. A motion to postpone further consideration would be in order.

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this resolution be postponed until Monday night next.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unable to decide and asks for a division of the House.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, am I privileged to speak on the motion at this time?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I see no reason for postponing action on this resolution. It has nothing in it of a mandatory nature; it does not effect the discharge, or seek to effect the discharge of the several committees. It is only a simple request that the committees permit this suggested, and somewhat approved legislation, to come out on the floor of the House in order that the entire membership of the House may dispose of it instead of permitting it to be disposed of by any of the various groups of blocs or committees. There is a prevailing opinion on the part, I believe of the majority membership of this House, that one of the bills with the General Assembly is that we remain silent on the floor of the House on proposed legislation, and carry our troubles into minority groups, and there because we meet with men of one sort of ideas we have a preconceived notion we simply stiffen our opposition and encourage obstruction rather than work towards harmony, compromise and cooperation which is the only way we will ever work out of this situation.

Now, ladies and gentlemen of the House, you have seen today's calendar. If anybody here imagines that we can work through this calendar next Monday night and complete it before the time limit set by the late Democratic Convention in June, I would like to see it. If your are going to put over until next Monday night the consideration of this resolution, it will mean that much time will be wasted on Monday night which ought to be devoted to the definite decision of the matters for which this Legislature was called.

I ask you, therefore, to adopt this resolution in order that we may proceed with the business for which this General Assembly was convened. I repeat, the resolution does not endorse the fourteen points; the resolution does not demand that the committee report out these bills. It only makes a request that they do so in order that we may get down to work.

Mr. HEFFRAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not agree entirely with the gentleman from Clearfield. I think the resolution is entirely uncalled for and out of place. It does have in it, whether it was intended or not, a reflection on the various committees. We must understand that in an Extraordinary Session of this kind that necessarily the legislation which has been proposed under the call of the Governor is confined to a few committees, and it is my judgment that the committees are working as fast as it is possible for them to work. Some of this legislation is far reaching in its effects and necessarily must have thorough study and, possibly, certain people must be heard; they have that constitutional right. For instance, Mr. Speaker, in one of the committees this morning in considering one of these bills it was found that a great deal of valuable time had been saved and a true understanding of the matter reached by a thorough discussion of the matter and these understandings were reflected by certain amendments in the bill. That kind of work can be better done in committee than upon the floor of the House and this resolution will I think, if adopted, defeat the very purpose which the gentleman from Clearfield has in mind; I rather think it will delay action rather than expedite it. Each detail must be worked out in committee. Therefore, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think this resolution should be voted down.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Clearfield has passed me a copy of this resolution. I don't think it is nearly as terrifying as some of our colleagues got the impression, and I would respectfully request that you bear with me while we go over this, item for item and then we perhaps will all agree that there is no thunder in here, except this, that I had gotten the impression from what has been said that instead of clarifying the situation, as far as the minds of our constituents are concerned, that perhaps here this morning we have misled them again and probably muddied the waters to a greater extent. The impression may go out that the committees have not been active; that they have not been doing their utmost to enable us to get out of here just as soon as possible, and before leaving Harrisburg providing adequate relief for all concerned. The illustration given by the gentleman from Washington County, Mr. Heffran, is typical of what I have in mind. This morning in the Ways and Means Committee, House Bill No. 1 introduced by Mr. Sterling came up for considerable discussion, and that bill, among others, members of this House, will probably have amendments added to it, and I feel safe in saying that when that bill comes out in its amended form I seriously doubt if there will be any negative votes cast against that bill. If that bill had come out in its initial form there probably would have been a spirited contest on the floor of this House, and there would have been some doubt as to whether the bill would have passed or not.

This resolution says here, "Whereas, His Excellency, the Governor, his officials, cabinet, the fiscal officers of the State, the Chairman of the Republican State Organization and other recognized leaders in the political life of the Commonwealth * * * ." Now there is nothing innately wrong about that paragraph. In fact it is really complimentary, everybody has been mentioned, so there is no harm in that.

The resolution goes on to say, "Whereas, at that conference there was agreed upon a so-called fourteen point program of legislation for unemployed relief and the relief of municipal problems attendant to the depression." My only objection to that paragraph is that it smacks somewhat of an expression of democracy, with all due respects to my friend, Mr. Sarig, as laid down in the famous fourteen points of President Wilson; outside of that, there is nothing innately wrong with that paragraph; it just happens to use the same "fourteen points".

Again, "Whereas, the Governor in conformity with the understanding arrived at during that conference did issue a call for a Special Session embracing the said so-called fourteen points." Now there is absolutely nothing wrong about that because that is the truth.

Then, "Whereas, the General Assembly has now been in session two weeks and most of the bills covered in the so-called fourteen points agreed upon still remain in committee." That is true, and for a very good reason. Because I am sure that no member of this House wants legislation to come up here on the floor of the House without it being first studied carefully in committee, irrespective of what you and I may think of the bills as individuals. After all the form of government here is committee form of government. Your committee first acts upon legislation that is introduced. You would have nothing but chaos if these bills in their inception would be dumped on the floor of this House. I sincerely doubt whether any of them would be passed. Your committees are aboslutely essential component parts of our method of legislation. So, saying that they still remain in committee—we can admit that, but there is nothing wrong about that.

Then again, "Whereas, the citizens and taxpayers of the Commonwealth because of the understandings and agreements had prior to the calling of the Special Session have a right to expect prompt action on the agreed-upon program." That is absolutely true. For we might to our duty here and in the final analysis we must answer for our stewardship; if they feel that we have failed them, that instead of representing them we have misrepresented them, naturally they have their day at the polls. But until such time, until we do something that is innately wrong, until we either do some act of omission or commission, break faith with our constituents, there should not go forth the impression that the members of this House are not doing everything possible for those that are in need.

Another, "Whereas, the members of the House of Representatives by virtue of not having the bills before them, from acting finally on the business for which they were called into session"; there is nothing wrong about that. Anybody that wants to see any of these bills of course can get the pink sheet and study them.

"Resolved," evidently this is the paragraph that causes the trouble, "that the members of the House of Representatives request that the committee or committees having the bills covering the agreed upon fourteen points, report them out to the floor of the House with or without favorable action and without delay, in order that the House may dispose of the business for which its members are convened." There is nothing wrong about that. For instance, you go into court and for some reason or other a matter in which you are vitally interested you think is being held up by the court. You can go to the court and make a request and if the court sees fit that matter or the petition or decision may be handed down at the courts earliest convenience. That is all this resolution does. It requests that these committees that have the bills pertaining to the fourteen point program should act upon them as speedily as possible and permit them to come out before the House. I don't think it was the intention of the sponsor of the resolution, and I hold no brief for Mr. Stewart, I don't think that it was his intention to ask that these bills should come out before the House before they have received due consideration by the members of the committee in which they repose. If that was his intention I believe I would be one among the first to oppose a resolution of this type. It is a mere request and can do no harm. However, as stated in the forepart of my remarks, unless it may have caused a misleading impression as to what is being done here, in the final analysis I don't see anything innately wrong with it and we might as well dispose of it now and let our committees function next week just as they have done in the past, and, incidentally, we think that with this kind of a reminder from the House, that the committees should act as speedily as possible.

And now, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I think that the proper thing to do is to adopt the resolution today in order that we don't consume valuable time on Monday evening determining what one group hopes to do here and what another group is preparing to do there, for, by that time, there is danger that the anthracite group might come into life again, and then "Good night." I don't know what will happen.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that I do not need to go any further than to refer you to the text of the resolution to show you that no criticism is involved whatsoever of the various committees. This resolution was inspired by a desire to speed up action.

My friend, Mr. Staudemeier, refers to one point and says that he fears a wrong impression will go out; that impression has already gone out, and it is rather the purpose of this to cure the wrong impression that is already out.

I repeat, there is no charge made against any committee or committees. I might also add that that it is not my idea at all in my remarks. My remarks on the resolution were prompted by a large group of members of the House who have not been identified with any of the groups and who have been sitting here in ignorance of what these other groups may have in mind or may want to do. About all we know is that fourteen points were tentatively agreed upon before the Governor issued his call.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to very decidedly object to the statement on the floor of the House that the primary purpose of this session of the Legislature is an economic one. I say to you, members of the House, that the primary and sole purpose of this session of the Legislature is unemployment relief. If we can get some of the money for that purpose by practicing economies, well and good, but to tell the world that our first purpose here is an economic one I will under no circumstances let go without objections on my part.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BARTON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. BARTON. Mr. Speaker, with all due respect to everbody concerned, we are on the question of a motion before the House, whether we adopt this resolution or whether we reject it, and there is nothing else that the gentleman has a right to talk on.

The SPEAKER. The question before the House is a motion to postpone action on the resolution offered by the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Stewart. The Chair sustains the point of order raised by the gentleman from Fulton, Mr. Barton and the gentleman from Berks will confine himself to the question before the House.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I wish to call attention to the fact that other members have spoken on the merits of the resolution since that motion was made. I myself have felt that the point of order was well taken but if you permit other members to speak on the merits of the resolution and then when I come on the floor raise the point of order I don't think that that is proper procedure.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules on points of order when they are raised.

Mr. HOOPES. I am not blaming the Chair at all, but I do object to members raising a point like that on one speaker and then permit others to go on and read the whole resolution in discussion.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. HOOPES. I can see nothing to be gained by deferring the vote, and I will ask the privilege of speaking on the resolution after the motion has been passed on.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Stewart.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Stewart, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEWART. I will.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman from Clearfield if he is under the impression that if this House acts unanimously on this resolution, that that will actually make these committees speed up on the bills before them? Is he under that impression?

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, in reply I would say that it may have the effect of speeding up the business of this session.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, after reading the resolution, while it practically means nothing, I desire to withdraw my motion.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, the objection I want to make is that I don't want the impression to go out that there are no members of this House who believe that under no circumstances shall we levy any new taxes. I know that it is unpopular to levy new taxes, but it is our duty to provide for the needs of the unemployed. We are told on good authority that there are fifty-seven thousand families in Philadelphia alone that have got nothing since June 25th and who are facing actual starvation now. I feel that it is our first duty to provide for that need. In a time of war or other emergency we don't talk about economy first, we don't talk about no new taxes first, we talk about meeting the emergency and then take steps to provide means for it. If we have to pass a bill providing for immediate relief it may be only for a couple months until such time until we can work out a relief program. Then you would be justified in going into a discussion of those things. But to remain here while people are starving and waste several weeks is all wrong. So when it is said that our first purpose here is an economic one to my mind that is entirely wrong; the first purpose of this session is unemployment relief.

Let us do something immediately, let us do something to take care of the situation for July and August and then take all the time that you think is necessary to work out your program on economy. Personally, I don't think that by means of the suggested economies that you can get anything like a sufficient fund to take care of unemployment relief up to the time that funds can be made available by the next regular session of the Legislature. Now if that is true I feel that we should take care of the unemployment relief now and work out these other measures later while we are still in session. Don't let us say, "Let the unemployed wait until we can effect these economies." Don't let us say, "Under no circumstances will we levy new taxes." It may be necessary to levy new taxes to take care of the starving and homeless people of Pennsylvania, and if that is the case then we must do it and it is our duty to do it and we should not hesitate a minute to do it. Let us get down to the question of unemployment relief immediately and then when we have time go into these other matters. I seriously doubt if we can effect many economies in the government. By all means let us get rid of any waste that the state government may have, but I have an idea that after we have gone into all this very carefully we will find that there is not much to be realized here, and I do not believe that there will be anything like enough to take care of unemployment relief until next March first or thereabout. So let's get down to the job that we came here to do first.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has asked for a division of the House.

Whereupon a division was had and 106 members or more than a majority of the whole House having voted in the affirmative the question was decided in the affirmative and the resolution was adopted.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been requested by General Davis to announce an invitation to the members of the Committee on Military Affairs to attend the camp at Mt. Gretna on Tuesday next. If the members of the Committee will get in touch with General Davis, he will inform them of all of the particulars.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is not my purpose whatever to prolong the business today, but after listening to the gentleman from Berks on the occasion of yesterday's meeting and also the remarks of the gentleman from York as well as those of my good friend and colleague from Montour, Mr. Rhodes, I feel that I would be absolutely remiss in my duty to my associates if I did not accept the challenge for myself and my committee, for whom I bear the greatest respect, the men who have been working untiringly until one thirty and two thirty and three o'clock in the morning trying to revamp the appropriations that have not been expended from the last biennium; trying to arrive at a place where commissions that are no longer in service and which are not essential may be eliminated and lapsing moneys that lay in the treasury unexpended may be used. They have agreed to come back here on Sunday morning and start to work at nine o'clock and likewise have meetings on Monday for the purpose of listening to the various department heads so that we may balance the figures that we have in our hands with the information we have received from the various heads of the departments. These men are working untiringly with me and I want to assure the ladies and gentlemen of this House that by next Monday night it is our purpose to have consulted or at least interviewed all of the department heads in order to see how our figures compare, ascertain what we think might be eliminated, and accept any of their arguments which can be proposed to this House.

I again assure you, ladies and gentlemen of the House, that this committee will lay on your desk not later than Tuesday of next week a complete and comprehensive program and possibly you can go ahead and determine the question of getting the money for the gentleman's solution of the unemployment relief problem in the State of Pennsylvania together with an economic program for the State government and by which every employe of the State of Pennsylvania within the purview of a certain salary shall receive a certain reduction, and likewise the same thing for the members of the General Assembly which they may accept if they desire. We shall present for your consideration something that is complete and comprehensive and when you come back next week it will lie on your desks and you will be the judges as to what action to take on the economic program as well as on the program of unemployment relief.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1932.

Vol. 14 HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JULY 11, 1932. No. 7.

SENATE

MONDAY, July 11 1932.

The Senate met at 8 o'clock P. M. (Eastern Standard Time). The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for calling us into being and placing us in a world surrounded by that which challenges us to render the best service of which we are capable.

Thou, our Father, art possessed of good will toward the human race. We believe that Thou art seeking to promote our highest welfare and well being. We pray that we may be possessed of a like spirit of generosity toward our fellow men.

We believe that Thou dost intend that we should be our brother's keeper, and that Thou wilt finally judge us according to the way we have exemplified this great fundamental ethical principle in our life.

Grant that we, as a law-making body, may enact legislation which will promote the comfort, happiness and welfare of our fellow citizens.

For all these mercies we will ascribe endless praise. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

TRANSCRIPT OF HEARING IN RE CHARGES AGAINST HONORABLE W. D. B. AINEY

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, July 11, 1932.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I transmit herewith for your information the stenographic transcript of a hearing held in the Governor's Reception Room this afternoon at two o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

The hearing was held pursuant to a letter directed by me to Chairman Ainey, of The Public Service Commission, according to Article IV, Section 15, of The Public Service Company Law. A copy of the letter is also attached.

I desire to repeat what I said in my communication of June 29th, that I shall welcome the cooperation of your body in investigating the charges made against Chairman Ainey. Such cooperation is particularly important by reason of the power of the Senate and its committees to subpoena persons and records. Unfortunately, I do not have that power.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

"Honorable W. D. B. Ainey, Chairman, The Public Service Commission, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. Ainey:

Enclosed you will find a copy of a sworn statement made before the Attorney General by Mr. A. A. Chapman, Philadelphia, charging you with misconduct in office in the following particulars:

1. That you accepted money from the late Thomas E. Mitten, who was in varying capacities identified with the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company and other public service companies under the jurisdiction of The Public Service Commission;

2. That you collaborated with Mr. Mitten in preparing publicity in support of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company's application for an increase in rates then pending before The Public Service Commission;

3. That you conferred secretly with Mr. Mitten during the pendency of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company's rate case, and accepted his hospitality, both in New York City and at Mr. Mitten's home in Roxborough, Philadelphia.

I shall be glad to afford you an opportunity publicly to answer these charges, in person or by counsel, on Monday, July 11, at two o'clock, P. M., (Eastern Standard Time), in the Governor's Reception Room in the Capitol.

Very truly yours,
(s) GIFFORD PINCHOT."

RE: Hearing in connection with charges brought against Honorable Wm. D. B. Ainey, Chairman, Public Service Commission.

Before Honorable Gifford Pinchot, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Governor's Reception Room, Harrisburg, July 11, 1932.

GOVERNOR PINCHOT: Gentlemen, Mr. Ainey is here in pursuance of a letter under date of June 29, 1932, bearing my signature which is as follows:

"Enclosed you will find a copy of a sworn statement made before the Attorney General by Mr. A. A. Chapman, Philadelphia, charging you with misconduct in office in the following particulars:

"1. That you accepted money from the late Thomas E. Mitten, who was in varying capacities identified with the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company and other public service companies under the jurisdiction of The Public Service Commission;

"2. That you collaborated with Mr. Mitten in preparing publicity in support of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company's application for an increase in rates then pending before The Public Service Commission;

"3. That you conferred secretly with Mr. Mitten during the pendency of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company's rate case, and accepted his hospitality, both in New York City and at Mr. Mitten's home in Roxborough, Philadelphia.

"I shall be glad to afford you an opportunity publicly to answer these charges, in person or by counsel, on Monday, July 11, at two o'clock, P. M., (Eastern Standard Time), in the Governor's Reception Room in the Capitol.

"Very truly yours,
"(s) GIFFORD PINCHOT."

Mr. Ainey, will you answer these charges in person or by counsel?

Mr. CONNOLLY: I appear on behalf of Mr. Ainey to ask you, sir, to note the presence here today of John P. Connolly of Philadelphia as attorney for William D. B. Ainey on this occasion. On behalf of Mr. Ainey I desire to make answer as follows:

"ANSWER OF WILLIAM D. B. AINEY TO THE AFFIDAVIT OF A. A. CHAPMAN DATED JUNE 28, 1932

State of Pennsylvania
County of Dauphin } ss.

"WILLIAM D. B. AINEY being duly sworn according to law deposes and says:

"Specifically and generally I deny each and every allegation as made by A. A. Chapman in the Affidavit as furnished to the Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, under date of June 28, 1932.

"Specifically and in detail I make answer and say:

"1. My acquaintance with Chapman has been of the most limited kind and it was not until the early part of the year, 1932, that I exchanged more than a half a dozen words with Chapman.

"2. I do not know what position A. A. Chapman had either with the late T. E. Mitten, the Mitten Bank Securities Corporation or the Mitten Men and Management or any other Corporation, as I had no dealings with him in any capacity whatsoever and never met him in any of the capacities as referred to in his Affidavit.

"3. I deny that in the year, 1922, or at any other time, there appeared on the payroll of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company or the Mitten Men and Management or any other Corporation any item in the amount of $2500.00 which was paid to me by A. B. Millar or any other person as referred to in the Affidavit of Chapman and I deny specifically that A. B. Millar or anyone else ever paid to me directly or indirectly the sum of $2500.00 in the year, 1922, or at any other time as referred to in the Affidavit of the said Chapman and that never directly or indirectly did A. B. Millar, Chapman or Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, the Mitten Men and Management, T. E. Mitten or any other person or corporation pay to me any sum whatsoever.

"4. I deny that in the year following 1922 as referred to in the Affidavit of Chapman there appears on the records of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company any sum of money alleged to have been paid to me and I deny that in the year 1922, or in any other year was there any sum of money ever paid to me by A. B. Millar, T. E. Mitten, Chapman, Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company or any other Corporation whatsoever.

"5. I deny that as set forth in the Affidavit of Chapman, in the succeeding year there was any arrangement made wherein yearly there was to be paid to me the sum of $24,000.00 in quarterly payments of $6,000.00 each and I deny that any sum directly or indirectly was ever paid to me by any person or corporation whatsoever.

"6. I have no knowledge or means of knowledge as to what the said Chapman did with the checks which were alleged to be drawn on the banks as referred to by him in his Affidavit and the payment of the money to T. E. Mitten or anyone else for I was not a party directly or indirectly to any such transaction and that in so far as the same has any reference to me, I deny the same absolutely and say that no such arrangement was ever made with me or were any such payments ever made to me directly or indirectly.

"7. I deny that there was paid to me the sum of $15,000.00 per annum through A. B. Millar and I deny that the said Thomas E. Mitten or anyone else ever said to the said Chapman that this was a payment to me for the reason that the same could not have been truthfully stated by Thomas E. Mitten or anyone else as I never had any business arrangements whatsoever with the said Thomas E. Mitten and no such statement in truth or in fact could have been made by the said Thomas E. Mitten as involving me.

"8. I have no knowledge or means of knowledge as to whether Thomas E. Mitten had apartments in the Pennsylvania Hotel, in New York, as referred to in the affidavit of Chapman, and I specifically deny that on a Sunday, as mentioned in said affidavit I was present at a luncheon served in the Pennsylvania Hotel in New York at which time Thomas E. Mitten, A. B. Millar, and A. A. Chapman were present, and I deny that I ever met Thomas E. Mitten or Chapman in the Pennsylvania Hotel in New York on the Sunday referred to, or on any other occasion.

"9. I deny that upon another occasion as referred to in the Affidavit of the said Chapman I had a breakfast appointment at the Ambassador Hotel in New York for the reason that to the best of my knowledge, information and belief I was never a guest in the Ambassador Hotel in New York and I never met Thomas E. Mitten or the said Chapman therein on the occasion as referred to in the Affidavit or at any other time.

"10. I deny that at this or any other alleged conference, as referred to in the Affidavit of Chapman, the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company had before The Public Service Commission a Petition for an increase of fares for the reason that I never personally met in New York or in Philadelphia, or in any other place the said Thomas E. Mitten in relation to the application of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company for an increase of its rate of fare and I deny that as set forth in the said Affidavit my presence was necessary by reason of the fact that Service Talks were being prepared setting forth the position of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company and I deny that I ever met the said Chapman on this or any other occasion either before, during, pending or after the presentation of the Petition of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company before The Public Service Commission for its increased rate of fare and I specifically deny that I directly or indirectly prepared or caused to be prepared or assisted in preparing the alleged Service Talks as referred to in the Affidavit of

"11. I deny that Thomas E. Mitten handed me a brown package containing $6,000.00 in $100.00 bills upon any such occasion as alleged by Chapman and I deny that the said Thomas E. Mitten then or on any other occasion during my term of service as a Public Service Commissioner of the State of Pennsylvania, either directly or indirectly ever paid me any sum whatsoever and that as before stated this is further denied for the reason that I was never present in the Ambassador Hotel in New York on the occasion referred to or any other place in New York or elsewhere wherein any money was ever directly or indirectly paid to me by the said Thomas E. Mitten.

"12. I deny that I ever met Thomas E. Mitten at any time in relation to the affairs of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company nor when its policy, rates, service or other matters affecting it were under discussion nor in relation to any matter whatsoever which the Public Service Commission had or might have jurisdiction. I deny that I ever had any business relations whatsoever with Thomas E. Mitten. I deny that I was ever the recipient of favors, gratuities or benefits directly or indirectly from the said Thomas E. Mitten. My personal relations with him were friendly but in no wise different from my personal relations with numerous other persons in the State of Pennsylvania and elsewhere.

"13. I deny that at the times and places alleged in the Chapman affidavit I was treated by a masseur named Lang, or that at any time I was massaged by him in the Roxborough home of Thomas E. Mitten, or that the said Thomas E. Mitten ever paid for any treatments given to me by him. In this connection I aver that during the winter of 1924-1925 I was treated a number of times by a masseur named Lang in the Biltmore Hotel in New York City and that said services were paid for by me and by no one else, and I hold the cancelled checks showing payment of services rendered."

In this connection may it please Your Excellency to permit me to say I hold in my possession the checks and other evidences which conclusively show and prove the averment I have just read under paragraph thirteen hereof.

"14. I deny that from 1927 to 1928 I was a frequent visitor at the home of said Thomas E. Mitten, Roxborough Hill Estate, Philaedlphia, and I deny that I arrived late Saturday afternoon and departed either Sunday evening or early Monday morning, and I deny that I was met at the North Philadelphia Station by the Chauffeur of Thomas E. Mitten, and I deny that during any portion of the years 1927 or 1928 I was in Philadelphia except at a hotel, and this was owing to my physical condition and difficulty in walking. I deny that I was recovering from an attack of illness, or that I had been discharged from the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland, during the years, 1927 and 1928, as set forth in the Affidavit of Chapman and I aver and say that I had been a patient in the John Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland, in December of 1925 and remained there until April of 1926, following which my condition became steadily worse until I was removed to Phillips House, Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, Massachusetts, remaining there until late October 1926, after which, by reason of my inability to walk, I could not and did not make weekly, or in fact any week-end or other trips to the Roxborough home of Thomas E. Mitten as alleged in the Affidavit of Chapman.

"15. I have no knowledge or means of knowledge as to the four (4) checks drawn on the Chemical National Bank in New York alleged to be signed by Thomas E. Mitten but so far as I am concerned I deny that these checks or the proceeds thereof were ever directly or indirectly paid to me by the said Thomas E. Mitten or any one else and it may be important to inquire at this point how after a period of several years and nearly more than three years since the death of Mr. Mitten, Chapman came into the possession of these checks as implicating me in this alleged dishonest transaction and it may be more important to inquire into the fact that if such payments were made to me why were they not produced in the lifetime of Mr. Mitten who would have been the best witness as to whether or not any payments were made to me either directly or indirectly or that I had been the recipient of any benefits from him; and it may be necessary to inquire as to why if these alleged payments were made to me by the said Thomas E. Mitten or any one else the said Chapman did not produce these facts when the Legislature of Pennsylvania was investigationg the Public Service Commission during the year 1931; and this raises the question as to what is back of the attack of Chapman on me and why after the lapse of these several years, if I had been paid money for dishonorable purposes by Mr. Mitten or any one else, these facts were not laid before competent public authority for investigation thereof before this time."

With your permission again, since this answer was prepared and which is not set fourth in the answer of Mr. Ainey at this time, information came to me that the counsel for the Legislative Committee for the House during the investigation of the Public Service Commission during the year 1931 sought, obtained and had access to all of the personal checks, accounts and business affairs of the late Thomas E. Mitten in every particular, including the alleged checks as referred to by Mr. Chapman in his affidavit so far as the Chemical National Bank is concerned. I make this statement so that you will understand that the information came at too late a date to embody it, but I now make it public so there cannot be any misunderstanding in making the statement before you that this information has come to me from reliable sources, sources which I believe are honest and correct, and that the gentleman who I am told made this investigation was Harold Evans, a reputable member of the Philadelphia bar, who at the time was counsel for the Legislative Committee of the House.

"16. I deny as stated in the Affidavit of the said Chapman that approximately $150,000.00 was paid to me during all of the period of time as referred to in the Affidavit of Chapman and I deny that the sum of $150,000.00 or any sum whatsoever either directly or indirectly was ever paid to me by T. E. Mitten or any one else acting for or on his behalf or by or through any companies in which he may directly or indirectly have had any interest.

"17. I am not aware of any duties that the said Chapman may have had with the said T. E. Mitten but for the purpose of this Affidavit, I specifically deny that any accounts were ever carried directly or indirectly on my behalf with Parrish & Company, Stock Brokers, Fifteenth Street below Walnut Street, Philadelphia, or any other brokerage house and I deny that I was directly or indirectly the recipient of the proceeds of any of the alleged stock transactions and I deny that I have any knowledge directly or indirectly as to the alleged account known as No. 2 wherein the said T. E. Mitten purchased 5,000 shares of Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company stock averaging perhaps $40.00 per share or that subsequent to the increase in the rate of fare the said stock was averaging better than $50.00 per share or that directly or indirectly was I a party to the said stock transaction or that the said T. E. Mitten could truthfully have said to the said Chapman or any one else that I was to get the benefits of the proceeds of this sale when the increase was granted, for such a statement is a baseless lie and could not have been made by the said T. E. Mitten or any one else.

"18. I specifically deny that I have ever been a party directly or indirectly to this or any other stock transaction while I have been Public Service Commissioner for the State of Pennsylvania as the same would have been illegal, immoral and unethical, and I would not directly or indirectly be a party to the same.

"19. I deny that, directly or indirectly, A. B. Millar ever paid me any money as referred to in the affidavit of Chapman either on his own behalf or on behalf of any other person or corporation. I have known Mr. Millar for many years. He was Secretary of The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for some period of time. After he left the Public Service Commission, I am informed he was employed by the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company. I have every confidence in his integrity, and absolutely deny that he was charged with the payment of any money to me directly or indirectly for or on behalf of Thomas E. Mitten or any one else.

"20. As to how the accounts of T. E. Mitten were carried I am without notice or knowledge and therefore in no position to answer the insinuations as made in the affidavit of the said Chapman but so far as the affidavit of Chapman has any reference directly or indirectly to me by inference or otherwise of the payments of money to me I deny that the said T. E. Mitten or anyone else ever carried any accounts for me or that any money was ever paid to me from any sources whatsoever.

"21. It seems a strange thing that Chapman who claims to have been a friend of Thomas E. Mitten, who befriended him, should attempt, nearly three years after the death of Mr. Mitten to blacken his character by the statements as made in his affidavit. It is manifest that in making such statements and attempting to blacken the memory of one who is dead, he is taking advantage of the dead man's inability to defend himself. Chapman's statements are false in every respect. His motive is apparent.

CHAPMAN

"22. I never had any business or social relations with Chapman directly or indirectly. My acquaintance has been of the most limited kind and I never exchanged more than a half a dozen words with him prior to the early part of the year, 1932. He sought an interview with me and not knowing what his purpose was I granted the same and he came to my home in Harrisburg. He was mysterious in his movements and said that he had some trouble either with the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company or the Mitten Men and Management or someone else wherein he said that a law suit had been instituted against him and that his business was being taken away from him. When Chapman came to my home in February, 1932, he asked me to use my influence with certain people to help him get back his business, suggesting that he would go to the Governor with information in his possession if he did not get relief. I told him that, while I was always glad to help people who were in trouble, I neither could nor would place myself in the position of aiding anyone in what appeared to be a blackmailing scheme and that if he intended to imply that the information referred to concerned me, he was welcome to go to the Governor or to any one else with it.

"23. Chapman continued these threats through indirect sources over a period of several months. I felt it my duty to inform my colleagues on the Public Service Commission of the same which I did in Executive Session, the Commissioners then present being Messrs. Shelby, Brown, Walker, Woodruff and Gruenberg and I frankly told the members of the Commission what threats and what attempts had been made by Chapman.

"24. I have been a member of the Public Service Commission for seventeen years and I have been its Chairman for nearly the same length of time. I have endeavored to do my duty to the public in accordance with my oath and my conscience.

"25. I have never permitted any man directly or indirectly to influence me in my official duties. I have never been and and would not be the recipient of any favor, gratuity, gift, bribe or otherwise from any person or corporation whatsoever.

"26. I took an oath to obey and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania and the laws thereof and I would be untrue and unfaithful to my trust if I permitted or allowed any person or corporation directly or indirectly to influence my actions whatsoever.

"27. I have in this affidavit answered all of the allegations, insinuations, inferences and innuendos of whatsoever kind as contained in the affidavit of Chapman as furnished to the Attorney General.

"28. I am ready and willing to face my accusers before any competent tribunal as my conscience is clear.

"29. In answer to the letter of Honorable Gifford Pinchot, under date of June 29, 1932, transmitting the sworn statement made before the Attorney General by A. A. Chapman, Philadelphia, charging me with misconduct in office in the three particulars as set forth in the said letter, I absolutely deny each and every part thereof.

CONCLUSION

"I am informed and believe on information which comes from my counsel that at or about the time the threats were made against me as hereinbefore set forth, Chapman demanded as the price of his silence from officials of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company the sum of $50,000.00 which payment officials of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company refused to make.

"I am informed that when Chapman was refused the $50,000.00 from officials of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company he then demanded $20,000.00 as the price of his silence which was refused.

"I am informed that subsequently Chapman attempted to sell the checks as set forth in his affidavit to other persons for a large sum of money and that after he was unsuccessful in his efforts to sell the checks as contained in his affidavit, then these charges were made against me.

"If there is an investigation in this matter before a proper tribunal of which I court the fullest inquiry, the parties who have given the information will be subpoenaed accordingly.

(Signed) JOHN P. CONNELLY,
Attorney for William D. B. Ainey,
1526-1527 Land Title Bldg., Phila., Pa."

July 11, 1932.

In conclusion, the only thing I have got to say on behalf of Mr. Ainey is this, that before any Tribunal to which these charges may be referred as stated in his affidavit and now repeated again, he is ready to meet any accusers face to face and we will bring before you, Sir, or any other Tribunal witnesses which will show what was back of the statements as made by Chapman and in this respect, permit me to say in closing that the papers of Philadelphia for the last several days have carried statements that were libelous in the extreme and untruthful in every respect as affecting Mr. Ainey and I would be unfaithful as attorney for Mr. Ainey if I did not say that they were base lies and the accusers will have to answer accordingly. Each and every allegation as contained in the affidavit as made by Mr. Ainey will be substantiated by witnesses who will be brought from any parts of this country and incidentally, I might say in concluding that since the preparation of this affidavit information has come to us of the attempt upon the part of Chapman to sell these wares to many people in high authority in Philadelphia for prices ranging from $75,000.00 down to the last price of $10,000.00. We are here ready to meet anybody.

GOVERNOR PINCHOT: In view of what you have just said, I am sure Mr. Ainey will have no objection to answering the following questions. The first is, will he join me in requesting Mitten Management to produce all books necessary to enable Chapman to trace the transactions.

Mr. CONNELLY: If it is referred to any competent authority.

GOVERNOR PINCHOT: I am asking whether he will join me in such a request.

Mr. CONNELLY: Referred to by whom?

GVERNOR PINCHOT: I shall refer this whole question immediately for investigation to the Attorney General. Will Mr. Ainey join me in that request?

Mr. CONNELLY: As his counsel, I say yes.

GOVERNOR PINCHOT: Good. Second, will Mr. Ainey reveal to me in full the details of his holdings of real estate and securities at the time he became a member of the Public Service Commission and annually thereafter to date, giving me the names of all institutions in which he has carried bank accounts, all places in which he has safe deposit boxes and all brokerage houses through which he has purchased stocks and bonds.

Mr. CONNELLY: No, because Mr. Ainey is not on trial. If his accusers charge him with any mis-deed, we will answer accordingly and whatever further is concerned should come through power of subpoena. But I will not advise Mr. Ainey to lay before you or anybody else his own personal affairs when he is not under any attack.

GOVERNOR PINCHOT: The answer is No?

Mr. CONNELLY: No.

GOVERNOR PINCHOT: Third, will he assist my representative in checking such statements to his satisfaction?

Mr. CONNELLY: No sir.

GOVERNOR PINCHOT: Is there anything further to be said?

Mr. CONNELLY: No sir.

GOVERNOR PINCHOT: In that case I refer this whole matter for investigation to the Attorney General either alone or in cooperation with the Senate, at the option of the latter.

Mr. CONNELLY: That is up to you, sir. We will be glad to meet the distinguished Attorney General on any occasion.

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, I move that this communication from His Excellency, the Governor, lie on the table for the present.

Mr. President, in making this motion, I desire to say that there is no discourtesy toward His Excellency intended or implied, nor is there any thought or desire on the part of this Senate to evade its true responsibility, but merely the desire that we may take time to consider the proper procedure under the circumstances.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM BOARD OF DIRECTORS, PENNSYLVANIA COUNCIL OF REPUBLICAN WOMEN

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communication:

Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women.
Harrisburg, July 8, 1932.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. SCOTT read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 77, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the eleventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Act number fifteen A), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative, and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools, for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one; and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one," making an additional appropriation to the Department of Military Affairs.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. CHAPMAN read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 78, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the seventeenth day of February, one thousand nine hundred and six (P. L. 36), entitled "An act providing a uniform method of electing certain party officers, and delegates to the State and National conventions, and of making nominations for certain public offices; providing for the payment of the expenses of the same; making certain violations thereof misdemeanors, and prescribing penalties for the violation of its provisions," and the act approved the twelfth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 719), entitled "An act regulating certain political parties, providing for and regulating the nomination of candidates of such political parties for certain public offices, the election of delegates and alternate delegates to National party conventions, and of certain party officers, including State committeemen; a method whereby electors of such political parties may express their choice of candidates for the office of President of the United States; and the payment by the several counties, and their reimbursement by the State, of the expenses of the same; authorizing the State committee of a political party to make, and to alter, amend, and revoke, rules; and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act, and for the punishment of certain offenses provided for herein; and repealing inconsistent legislation."

Which was committed to the Committee on Elections.

Also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 79, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Board of Commissioners of the County of Warren for the relief of the Corn Planter Indians residing in said county.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 80, entitled:

An Act to amend section eight hundred and five of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 359), entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto;" by providing for the payment out of the Game Fund of taxes to counties, townships and school districts on lands acquired as public hunting grounds and game refuges.

Which was committed to the Committee on Game and Fisheries.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator PRINCE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, will state his question of personal privilege.

Senator PRINCE. Mr. President, my question of personal privilege is raised to escape the liability of being called to order by the Chair for the introduction of irrelevant, incompetent and immaterial matters.

I am old-fashioned enough to believe that what is good or bad finance for the private citizen, is good or bad finance for the Government. The respective authors of the Book of Proverbs and Poor Richard's Almanac advise that whenever a man finds his income inadequate to his expenses he should either increase the one or curtail the other. In the case of the Commonwealth there are just three ways to balance the budget—tax, borrow or retrench. If we borrow, then we saddle a debt on the next generation, and we do not entirely escape ourselves, because we have to pay the interest which can be met only by taxation.

The individual citizen will submit to any kind of a tax provided it does not hit him. He does not object to a tax on gasoline if he does not own a car; or to a tax on tobacco if he does not smoke; or to a tax on theater tickets if he does not patronize the movies. But the composite citizen drives a car, smokes, and attends the movies. The Federal Government has taxed everything in sight and some things out of sight. So it would seem the only alternative of the Commonwealth is the saner option of economy.

But, unfortunately, we are limited in our efforts to economize to whittling or juggling the appropriations made during the last Regular Session. And we can not lop off as much as a finger from the bureaucratic octopus whose gluttonous appetite devours the Commonwealth's substance. The character of the bills and resolutions constitute a rebuke and challenge to extravagance in State government. But this extravagance harks back to something much more fundamental, than the complaisance or merely liberal moods of the Legislature. No one at all acquainted, Mr. President, with the history of this Republic can fail to note the obvious extension in the scope of government which has marked the present age and the gradual elimination of boundaries between hitherto distinct but co-ordinate branches. The Federal government invades the domain of the State; apparently without reluctance, and the states surrender their reserved rights at the volition of the Federal government; the executive trespasses upon the legislative sphere, and the legislatures usurp judicial powers; while all the governments, Federal, State and local, exhibit the unmistakable disposition to hedge the liberties of the individual and limit the field of associate activity. This confusion of functional boundary and general mixup of the powers that be recalls the predicament of a New England deacon of the olden time by the name of Church, who in the course of his earthly life was four times left a widower. His wives were all buried in the same lot. In his old age it became necessary to re-inter the remains of his four wives in a new cemetery. In the process of removal, their bones became hopelessly mixed. The deacon's Puritan conscience would not permit him to use the original headstones since their descriptions no longer tallied with the facts, so he procured new ones. One of them bore this inscription:—"Here lies Hannah Church, and very likely a portion of Emily." Another read:—"Sacred to the memory of Mary Church, who seems to be mixed with Matilda." Then followed these lines:

> "Stranger, pause and drop a tear,
> For Emily Church lies buried here,
> Mixed in the most perplexing manner
> With Mary, Matilda and probably Hannah."

To some extent the tendency of which I speak has been necessary and inevitable. But it marks a wide departure from old-time constitutional division of powers between Federal, State and local governments and legislative, executive and judicial functions. The wise adjustment of centripital and centrifugal forces, ordained in imitation of nature's perfect pattern, is threatened with destruction. The revolving spheres of our political planetary system are veering inward from their orbits towards the central sun into whose fathomless immensities they seem to be fast falling.

In the case of the Commonwealth, this centralizing process has pyramided the structure, multiplied the cost, and intensified the mischievous potentialities of a State government that has become undisguisedly paternalistic in aim and bureaucratic in method. Now this is the way, Mr. President, the whole thing starts: Somebody conceives the bright idea that the State ought to take over some function of local government, from time immemorial the unquestioned prerogative of the county, the municipality, the borough, or the school district; or that some long established department on the Hill ought to be divided. So the Legislature ordains a commission or a new department. Then we look around for a piece of land on which to erect a new building to house the new department. Next we subdivide the department into bureaus and sections, and create a lot of new salaried offices, because the government never hires less than three men to do one man's work. This is welcomed by the county organizations back home since it means more patronage and rich sources of campaign assessments. The system being found satisfactory from that angle, the process is repeated from time to time, and so it proceeds in a vicious series. The Legislature abdicates or assigns its powers to commissions and departments created by itself.

Now, the official mind constantly craves more power; the more they have the more they want, until like the fatal image of Frankenstein, they turn upon their creator, if not to rend and destroy, at least to flout and defy him. But that is not the worst of it. This enormous power of patronage is vested in the executive branch of the government. That ties up with the Governor, no matter who he may be, the Senators and Representatives who are or who hope to be the recipients of this patronage, or who tremble lest they shall lose it, and to that extent subordinate the legislative to the executive branch of the government, and impairs the independence of the law-making power in the constitutional scheme.

That is the way it starts. This is the way it works at the business end of the system. About the first of January a State teachers' college finds it is runing out of lead pencils or paper, or a hospital discovers the electric light bulbs are all gone. Instead of ordering directly from the jobbers or wholesalers, a requisition is issued on Harrisburg, because everything has to clear through the bureaucracy. The requisition reaches the designated department, and is turned over to the bureau of accounting to approve. The bureau of accounting passes it on to the pricing section, and the pricing section sends it to the purchasing bureau to be signed. The purchasing bureau throws it over to the stenographic section, and the stenographic section tosses it back to the purchasing bureau to write the order, of which three copies are made, one of which finds its way eventually to the teachers' college or to the hospital. The Lord only knows how many people are involved in the transaction, all on salary. It is now the first of April. Observe the date. About the first of September, if everything goes well, the stuff ought to be delivered; but in the meanwhile the teachers' college, in default of pencils or stationery, writes on birch-bark with a burnt stick, and the hospital, in the absence of electric light illuminates with tallow candles. At a certain State college they mow the lawn with horse power. One day last summer the horse cast a shoe. They took him down to the blacksmith to have the shoe re-set, before the teachers' college could pay the bill it had to get an order from Harrisburg, and the blacksmith waited eight weeks for his money.

I see that beginning with next September the department of Public Instruction has decreed intelligence tests and beauty tests to determine the fitness of all applicants for admission to the State teachers' colleges. Now I am familiar with intelligence tests and incidentally I take no stock in them. But beauty tests are a novelty in education. They have always been associated in my mind with Zeigfield's Follies or the studios in Hollywood.

Henceforth only good-lookers will be considered for teachers in the public schools. Nobody with crooked teeth, crossed eyes, or rickets need apply, and no girl who weighs in at more than ten stone will stand a chance. It makes no difference how capable or brilliant she may be, avoirdupois will turn thumbs down on brains.

Mr. President, interpret as you please, the fact remains, that the cost of running this State has increased from about sixty-four million dollars in 1914 to three hundred and fifty-two millions in 1931, while the number of State employees has multiplied nine times. I would not say that it ought to cost no more today to run the State of Pennsylvania than it did eighteen years ago, but I do say that this colossal increase in personnel and costs can hardly be described as a normal growth.

I regret that the terms of the Governor's call have so circumscribed the Legislature in the application of adequate remedies that we cannot perform the major operation necessary to remove this cancerous growth; but we can at least prepare the patient for the real thing in the Regular Session of 1933.

Mr. President, I am a Republican, but I am enough of a Jeffersonian to believe that for us Americans that government is best which governs least. Let us return to the original American conception of government from which like the prodigal son we have wandered to a far country. Let us restore old-fashioned economy and simplicity, before the people are bankrupted by the extravagance and strangled by the red tape of their own government.

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 73, as follows:

An Act to further amend section eight of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws two hundred eighty) entitled "An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands and prescribing interest charges on nonpayment thereof requiring the receivers and collectors of county city borough town township school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes and providing for the lien thereof authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances" by further regulating the adjournment and readjournment of sales of seated lands for delinquent taxes and authorizing the county treasurer with the consent of the county commissioners and a judge to adjourn and readjourn such sales during periods of economic depression providing for advertisement and notice preceding any adjournment or readjournment and dispensing with prior advertisement and notice in such cases providing for the consolidation of the advertisements and notices of different year's taxes held on the same date and validating adjourned sales where the original sale has not been advertised or notice thereof given

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section eight of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws two hundred eighty) entitled "An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands and prescribing interest charges on nonpayment thereof requiring the receivers and collectors of county city borough town township school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes and providing for the lien thereof authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances" as amended by section one of the act approved the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand five hundred ten) entitled "An act to amend section eight of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws two hundred eighty) entitled 'An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands and prescribing interest charges on nonpayment thereof requiring the receivers and collectors of county city borough town township school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes and providing for the lien thereof authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances' by further regulating the adjournment and readjournment of sales of seated lands for delinquent taxes and authorizing the county treasurer with the consent of the county commissioners and a judge to adjourn and readjourn such sales for periods not exceeding one year during periods of economic depression" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 8 Such sale shall be made on the first Monday of August in the second year succeeding the year in which the respective taxes are assessed and levied or on any day to which such sale may be adjourned or readjourned from time to time except in the case of taxes levied for any year prior to the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty in which case and for such taxes the sale shall be held in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one or on any day to which such sale is adjourned or readjourned Provided That the advertisement and notice of a sale as required by this act may be given preceding the date of any adjourned or readjourned sale in which case no prior advertisement or notice shall be required and in case the sales for different years' taxes be held on the same date the advertisements and notices may be consolidated Provided further That if any such sale be adjourned or readjourned after advertisement and notice by public announcement at such sale [or] adjournment or readjournment no additional advertisement or notice shall be necessary for such adjourned or readjourned sale Provided further That no such adjournment or readjournment shall be for a longer period than thirty days unless the county treasurer with the consent in writing of the county commissioners and the approval of a judge of the court of the county in which the sale is pending shall declare at the time fixed for a sale or any adjournment or readjournments thereof that because of widespread economic and business depression and unusual unemployment incident thereto a sale would be inadvisable in which case any such sale may be adjourned or readjourned at any one time and from time to time for a period not exceeding [one year] two years and six months and in no case beyond the date of the actual holding of the first subsequent sale for any other year's taxes

For each tract of land so disposed of the county treasurer shall be entitled to the following fees which shall be taxed as part of the costs of such proceedings and shall be paid the same as other costs

Advertising each tract including printer's charge the actual cost

Selling each tract or part thereof	.25
Writing and signing each deed	1.50
Acknowledging every deed	.50
Writing and filing every bond to acknowledge the purchase money	.25

The county shall in the first instance be liable for the cost of advertising treasurers' sales and the fees collected for such advertising shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of the county

For receiving and paying over the purchase money or taxes collected by him the county treasurer shall be entitled to a commission of two per centum (2%) thereof such commission to be deducted from the amount to be paid to the taxing district upon any settlement with the taxing district and upon presentation to the taxing district of a transcript of the information required to be complied by the county treasurer by section eleven hereof

Section 2 Whenever any county treasurer shall have heretofore omitted to advertise the fact of holding any sale and/or shall have omitted to serve written notice thereof as required by the provisions of section seven of the act to which this is an amendment such omission shall not invalidate the return of said sale nor the lien of such taxes and such taxes may nevertheless be collected by sale of the property upon which the tax is due if the adjourned or readjourned sale at which the same is sold is advertised and notice thereof given in accordance with the provisions of said act

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

HOUSE MESSAGES

RESOLUTION URGING CONGRESS TO PASS THE COSTIGAN-LaGUARDIA BILL

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1932.

Whereas, there is now pending in the Congress of the United States the Costigan-LaGuardia Bill, the passage of which would not only provide immediate relief through the extension of credit to the unemployed heads of households, but should have a marked effect upon business conditions generally, and

Whereas, any measure that will release money, will promote buying and stimulate business and be of inestimable aid in relieving the present economic depression, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Senate and House of Representatives of this Special Session of the Pennsylvania State Legislature hereby memorialize the present Congress of the United States to act favorably upon the above referred bill, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, to the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania, in the Congress of the United States.

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO CO-OPERATE WITH DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE IN THE REVISION OF THE SCHOOL LAWS

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Education:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1932.

Resolved (If the Senate concur), That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall appoint three members of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three members of the House of Representatives, to act as a committee whose duty it shall be to make recommendations and suggestions to, and otherwise assist and cooperate with, the Department of Justice in the preparation of a revision of the school laws, which that department is now engaged in preparing by virtue of authority conferred by the General Appropriation Act of 1931.

CONSIDERATION OF CHARGES AGAINST THE CHAIRMAN OF THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I move that the communications received from His Excellency the Governor at the session of last Tuesday and of today, concerning charges against Chairman Ainey, be taken from the table for the purpose of consideration by the Senate.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE CHARGES AGAINST THE CHAIRMAN OF THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

Mr. RIAL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RIAL offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

In the Senate, July 11, 1932.

Resolved, That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint a Committee of seven members of the Senate to investigate, in conjunction with the Attorney General, the charges preferred against Honorable W. D. B. Ainey, Chairman of the Public Service Commission and communicated to the Senate by the Governor, the Committee to have the power to subpoena witnesses, documents, books, records, etc., which may be deemed pertinent. The committee shall make report thereof to the Senate.

Mr. RIAL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 38, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

It wsa agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair, on behalf of the President Pro Tempore, announces as said committee the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Rial, Chairman, the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Earnest; the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman; the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus; the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Coyne; the Senator from Franklin, Mr. Clippinger, and the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Roberts.

COMMUNICATION TO INVESTIGATE COST OF GOVERNMENT IN ALLEGHENY COUNTY

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. COYNE offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

In the Senate, July 11, 1932.

Whereas, The high cost of government is one of the problems confronting the Legislature, and the proper solution of its cause and the adoption of the best methods of relief can only be arrived at and decided upon after careful study, and

Whereas, The high cost of government in the County of Allegheny is one of the outstanding examples of costly administration of the public business, and

Whereas, A proper investigation of the cost of government in Allegheny County and a careful study of its cause and of the available remedies would be of inestimable value to this Legislature as an aid in solving the question and providing remedies, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That a Legislative Investigation Committee is hereby created to consist of two Senators to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and three Members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, each of the five members to be from Allegheny County, whose duty it shall be to make a thorough investigation of the cost of government in Allegheny County in order to determine the cause of the high cost thereof and to make a report to the session of the Legislature to be convened in 1933, and to include in such report the opinion of the Committee as to what legislation should be passed to reduce the cost of government in said county, and be it

Resolved, That the said committee shall organize immediately after its appointment, elect a chairman and secretary from among its membership, and proceed at once to make the investigation and study for which it was created, and be it further

Resolved, That said Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requiring and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, paper, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person, and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issuing out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths or affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to appear and testify before said committee, or to produce any books, papers, records and documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 38 which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

It was agreed to.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 10:16 P. M. until Tuesday, July 12, at 11 o'clock A. M. (Eastern Standard Time).

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, July 11, 1932

The House met at 8.00 o'clock P. M.
The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. O. B. Poulson, offered the following prayer:

Our Father in heaven we invoke Thy divine blessings to rest upon us, as again we are permitted to assemble here.

Thou hast spared our lives; Thou hast protected us in our journies; Thou hast given us strength and a disposition to want to serve our fellowmen.

In the face of mighty problems may not our faith fail us. Here before Thee are men and women who have not bowed the knee unto Baal, but whose God is the Lord. Fail us not, O God, in our hour of great need.

Bless the officers and members of this General Assembly and all who are in authority. In his name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Thursday, July 7, 1932.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Thursday, July 7, 1932, when, on motion of Mrs. Kirkbride, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

Mr. RICE asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. George L. Reed for the balance of the week on account of illness.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE GRANTED COMMITTEE TO SIT DURING SESSION

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the sub-committee of the Committee on Appropriations, consisting of five members, be granted permission to sit during the session of the House this evening.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS RELATIVE TO COSTIGAN-LaGUARDIA BILL

Mr. FITZGERALD offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted.

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1932.

Whereas, There is now pending in the Congress of the United States the Costigan-LaGuardia Bill, the passage of which would not only provide immediate relief through the extension of credit to the unemployed heads of households, but should have a marked effect upon business conditions generally, and

Whereas, Any measure that will release money, will promote buying and stimulate business and be of inestimable aid in relieving the present economic depression, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Senate and House of Representatives of this Special Session of the Pennsylvania State Legislature hereby memorialize the present Congress of the United States to act favorably upon the above referred to bill, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, to the Senate and House of Representativs of the United States, and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania, in the Congress of the United States.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE COMMITTEE ON HIGHWAYS TO CONSIDER HOUSE BILL No. 52

Mr. SOWERS offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1932.

Whereas, The solution of unemployment requires careful study and pending this demands immediate temporary relief.

Whereas, House Bill No. 52 providing for an appropriation from the Motor License Fund for this purpose provides a remedy and the said bill has been in the hands of the Highway Committee since June 27, 1932.

Now, therefore be it resolved, By the House of Representatives that the House directs it Committee on Highways to meet within the next twenty-four hours and give consideration to the said House Bill No. 52, and amend the same in substance to provide for a six million ($6,000,000) dollars appropriation in lieu of the thirty million ($30,000,000) dollars therein contained and amend the bill in such manner and form as will accomplish this purpose, and within the said time report the bill to the House for action.

The resolution lies over for printing.

RESOLUTION

URGING CONGRESS TO AMEND VOLSTEAD ACT

Mr. SOWERS offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1932.

Whereas, The platforms of both the Republican and Democratic parties reflect the desire of the people of the Nation for a drastic change in the Volstead Act, and

Whereas, It will take considerable time to bring about the amendment of the Constitution in accordance with the plain mandate of the people as expressed in so many ways, and

Whereas, The great mass of the people are demanding an immediate increase in the alcoholic content of beer as now permitted by the Volstead Act, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, respectfully urges upon Congress of the United States the wisdom and expediency of amending at once the Volstead Act so as to permit the manufacture, sale, possession and distribution of beer of four per centum alcoholic content, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to each Member of the House of Representatives of the United States, from Pennsylvania, and to each of the two United States Senators from Pennsylvania, to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, and to the President of the United States.

The resolution lies over for printing.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES TO FURNISH INFORMATION

Mr. SPANGLER offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1932.

Whereas, It is most obvious that real economy will have to be exercised in every governmental function if taxes are to be kept to a minimum and if money is to be made available for the relief of those poor unfortunates who are the victims of the present depression, and

Whereas, The purchase, use and maintenance of any kind of an automobile is a luxury unless it is a necessary part of one's occupation, and in governmental affairs it is criminal waste unless its use is absolutely necessary in economically and efficiently carrying on the work of the government, and

Whereas, Hundreds of automobiles are owned and maintained by the Commonwealth, many of which are used by officials and employes for other than the official work of the Commonwealth, and often in the performance of duties which could much more economically and efficiently be performed in other ways, and

Whereas, Many State owned automobiles remain idle for many hours, showing that a different system could be adopted for the use of automobiles necessary to properly carry on the work of the Commonwealth, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Department of Property and Supplies is hereby requested to furnish to this House not later than Monday night, July eighteenth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, the following information:

(a) Number of State owned automobiles classified as to make, model and purchase price.

(b) Number of State owned automobiles assigned to and used by each department, bureau, board and commission of the Commonwealth, and to whom therein assigned and by whom used.

(c) Reason for assignment to each department head, deputy and employe, and actual use made of the same.

(d) Number of chauffeurs assigned to automobiles or department heads, and salaries paid, and list of departments to which such chauffeurs are assigned.

(e) Total cost of purchase of automobiles now owned by the Commonwealth, and total cost of maintenance during first half of the present biennium; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be immediately served by the Chief Clerk of the House on the Secretary of the Department of Property and Supplies.

RESOLUTION No. 13

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 13, Printer's No. 15.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 6, 1932.

Whereas War is the most destructive impoverishing wasteful and useless force in the world and

Whereas War has never definitely settled any great question and has brought sorrow and suffering alike to victor and vanquished and

Whereas By a solemn treaty entered into between the Nations war has been condemned as a means for the solution of international controversies and

Whereas If this the most powerful nation sets an example of righteousness by disarming and showing to the world its belief in the possibility of settling international disagreements by arbitration the other Nations in order to remain financially staple will be compelled to disarm and eliminate from the cost of government the tremendous price paid for maintaining armed forces therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully memorialize the Congress of the United States and requests that they make war impossible by declaring it to be illegal and in order to make impossible any declaration of war or the entry into war by the United States to immediately pass such legislation as will completely disarm the military and naval branches of the Federal government and be it further

Resolved That copies of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the President of the United States to the Chief Clerks of the House of Representatives and the Senate of the United States and to each member of the House of Representatives of the United States from Pennsylvania and to each of the two United States Senators from Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. No doubt many of you have asked yourselves, what does a resolution of this kind have to do with the unemployment situation?

For a few minutes I want to try and impress on your minds that if this resolution would pass the House and Senate and if our Representatives in Washington would make an effort to do what this resolution demands, I have no doubt but that in the near future there would not be such a thing as a depression.

The United States Government, since it has been a government, has spent for war, and for the purposes of war, over fifty billions of dollars. Many hundreds of thousands of men have lost their lives. Human misery cannot be measured by dollars and cents. Therefore, I say it is the duty of the United States of America to take the initiative to call upon all other nations in the world to come forth, and co-operate and do their utmost to outlaw war. Every man and woman who has read history, and I do not doubt that every member here is more or less of a historian, and you will agree with me that in all of the history that you have read you can never remember any time when war did anything good for civilization.

Mr. Speaker, and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I maintain that if one-twenty-fifth of the amount of money which is expended for war would be spent for educational purposes, all the misery which is now existing would vanish and, therefore, man, in my opinion, would be able to control the elements. Why not appropriate money for our medical scientists, so that they can go forth and produce remedies that will alleviate the suffering of men and women who are physically and mentally incapacitated.

Why not appropriate more money for our geologists and astronomers, in fact, for every scientific branch of our government? I do know it is an absolute fact that if the problem of life is to be solved it will be done by education and not by force, not by the slaughter of mankind. If we resort to education instead of war, all the hatred, religious, national and race hatred, would vanish. Men and women would be educated and learn that man is man, regardless of creed, nationality or color. And I have no doubt that depression would vanish and never come to pass again.

We could use this money to change our deserts into cultivated soil, we could bridge all our rivers and creeks, we could drain the swamps, we could do many, many things to alleviate the present conditions of life. If we took the money which we appropriate for war purposes we would not have our soldiers at the gates of Washington asking our government to give them what belongs to them.

I also desire to say that there is one kind of war that I believe in, and that kind of war would be very effective, would make a new world, would make a new people. Let us declare war on ignorance and superstition. Let us educate our people. Instead of having as many Gods in the world as there are brands of soap, and teaching that it is necessary to get on our knees and thank God for being blind and for being physically incapacitated in some other way, let us convince the people that the God of the universe never intended that kind of philosophy to be handed to man. Let us convince our young people that the right thing to do is to think not of themselves but of their fellow beings.

I know that if this money would be utilized for education instead of for war that we would not have the misery that we do have in the world today. We would not have every square foot of ground saturated with national, and religious and race hatred blood. I maintain that if we are going to do anything for civilization, if we desire that in the future there shall not be a depression, we must have our rule and we must do it. All that we need to do to effect it is to have a little courage and disperse all the selfishness we possess. I don't doubt if we use the money for educational purposes but that all that belongs to man will come back into his possession.

All the gas and oil and riches of the earth do not belong to one man nor to any group of men; it belongs to the peoples of the earth. That is why today we are having depressions, because we have the extensive, obsolete systems that permits some few people to have hundreds of millions of dollars while millions of other people are actually starving.

We have hundreds of women and girls on the highways today selling their bodies that they may get enough money to buy food, and we are responsible for these unfortunate women and for their condition. We should have courage; we should support a resolution of this kind.

Life is short. If we try to do something and bring about a resolution of this sort we need have no fear of where we are going, because in my opinion we are all going to one place anyhow.

Let us make an effort to bring about a condition where every man and woman that is willing to work will have a job and have a place to spend our old days, so it will not be necessary to go on the highways and the byways and beg. The God of the universe has put man on this earth and it is for all men to take advantage of the good things in the world, not for the few, and if we outlaw war we will be lifted to a higher plane.

Some of you may say that I am an idealist. But if I was convinced beyond doubt that life was a circle and man fails in what he attempts to do to alleviate the conditions of mankind, I would not want to live one minute. But I am not a pessimist. I believe that mankind can come into enough facts that blindness and every kind of affliction will pass forever.

Let us spend more money for education and less for war. Ladies and gentlemen, if you have no conscientious objection, I ask you to support this resolution, and when you have done it you are going to help the unfortunate girl of fourteen and fifteen years of age who are on the highways asking for food and selling their bodies, which is an outrage and an abomination. We can do something; let us do something. Let us spend money in developing intellects instead of destroying human minds. And I know if we will do this instead of having many countries in the world with a hundred and fifty flags we will have one flag in the world and across it we will see first, second, last and always the flag of one nation of the world, the flag of humanity. Instead of spending money for war let us spend it to bring peace and good will to all mankind. I ask you to support this resolution. Thank you.

RESOLUTION REFERRED

Mr. KLECKNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Law and Order.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman who just made the motion.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Kleckner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KLECKNER. Mr. Speaker, I will be very glad to reply to any interrogations providing they apply to unemployment relief appropriations, for which we are sitting here.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, my question is going to be of that nature and I think I spoke on the resolution, but just because I made some comparisons it does not signify that it was not intended for unemployment, because I do not believe that there is anything that will help unemployment as much as outlawing war. Therefore I desire to ask the gentleman a question.

Mr. KLECKNER. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire whether this resolution has anything to do with alleviating unemployment or relieving the distress in Pennsylvania immediately.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker. I would say in answer that I recognize in the gentleman a man supposed to have intelligence. You heard me say that it cost billions of dollars for war purposes. Have you any idea of the gigantic sum of money that the United States is now spending for purposes of war? If that money, or half of it, would be spent right now, all the people who are unemployed today would be employed. So, therefore, it bears on the question.

Mr. Speaker, and Members of the House, I ask you to vote for this resolution if you have no conscientious objections, because it is not asking the State to spend one cent of money and Pennsylvania can put herself in the lime light as one of the most progressive states in the nation. Therefore I ask you to vote the gentleman's motion down.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unable to decide and asks for a division. Whereupon a division was taken one hundred and three members having voted in the affirmative and forty-one in the negative the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING GOVERNOR TO ISSUE SUPPLEMENTAL CALL

Mr. SPANGLER offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted.

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1932.

Whereas, The call of the Governor convening the Special Session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, is apparently inadequate to authorize the Legislature to enact legislation specifically providing for the reduction in the cost of government, and

Whereas, It is difficult for the General Assembly to find sufficient reductions in appropriations to enable it to provide funds for unemployment relief and at the same time balance the budget without changing substantive laws which impose costs upon the State Government, and

Whereas, It appears that there is Federal legislation passed or pending, which should be accepted by enabling legislation of the State for the benefit of its citizens, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Governor of the Commonwealth is respectfully urged to issue a supplement call authorizing the General Assembly to pass legislation on the following subjects:

1. To reduce salaries paid to State officers and employes.
2. To reduce the minimum salaries of teachers in the public schools and to prevent the adding of additional increments to such salaries.
3. To accept the benefit of any Federal legislation granting aid to the states and to corporations and farmers' co-operative association;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Governor

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO CO-OPERATE WITH DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE IN PREPARATION OF REVISION OF SCHOOL CODE

Mr. CHESTER H. RHODES offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1932.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall appoint three members of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three members of the House of Represntatives, to act as a committee whose duty it shall be to make recommendations and suggestions to, and otherwise assist and co-operate with, the Department of Justice in the preparation of a revision of the school laws, which that department is now engaged in preparing by virtue of authority conferred by The General Appropriation Act of 1931.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO DECLARE EXISTENCE OF EMERGENCY

Mr. WILSON offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1932.

Memorializing the President and the Congress of the United States of America to declare the existence of a National Emergency and to acquire by the right of eminent domain and to operate the necessary means of production and distribution to provide employment and the necessities of life for the millions of workers now in need.

Whereas, Recurring industrial and commercial panics during the past one hundred years of economic development clearly demonstrate the utter inability of the capitalist system, based upon wealth production for private profit, to function in the interest of the actual producers of our national wealth; and

Whereas, We are now in the midst of the worst panic in the history of this nation, which is adversely affecting the lives and welfare of the entire working population, and which if continued any longer will cause serious physical and moral decay within our social organism; and

Whereas, Our political, business and social leaders are demonstrating their complete inability to cope with the present situation by the fact that conditions are steadily growing worse as the present panic progresses; and

Whereas, A speedy return to prosperity for the victims of the present collapse of the capitalist system requires the introduction of such fundamental changes as are necessary to solve our economic problems; now, therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania declares it to be the highest duty of government to protect the lives and promote the welfare and happiness of the people within its jurisdiction; and that to accomplish this purpose under the present conditions of nation-wide industrial paralysis, unemployment and distress the President and the Congress of the United States of America should recognize and declare the existence of a National Emergency, and should face this problem squarely and courageously by acquiring, by right of eminent domain, and operating such natural resources and means of production and distribution of commodities as will provide employment for all idle workers, to enable them to provide for themselves and their dependents the necessary food, clothing and shelter to maintain themselves in decency and comfort; and be it further

Resolved, That properly attested copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, to both Houses of the Congress of the United States, and to each Pennsylvania member thereof.

RESOLUTION

URGING ADOPTION OF EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION

Mr. BURNS offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1932.

Whereas, The funds in the City of Philadelphia for the relief of those who are unemployed are entirely exhausted and many people are in dire need of assistance, and

Whereas, It is apparent from the studies thus far made that some State money can be made available for additional relief to aid local government in carrying the burden imposed upon it by law, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly shall before it adjourns this week, adopt legislation making an emergency appropriation to aid local government in its unemployment relief problems in order that relief work may proceed until the studies of savings in the State Government have been completed and the required legislation has been finally adopted.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. HEFFRAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burns, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BURNS. Yes. Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEFFRAN. Mr. Speaker, I want to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, whether or not such a bill as provided for by the resolution has yet been introduced in the House.

Mr. BURNS. Really, I don't know.

Mr. HEFFRAN. How does the gentleman expect the resolution to mean anything.

Mr. BURNS. The conditions in our district at the present time are in a very serious situation and we believe that some relief should be given immediately.

RESOLUTION REFERRED

Mr. HEFFRAN. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the resolution is one pledging the House to remain in session this week to pass a bill that has not yet been introduced, and I move that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 60, as follows:

A Joint Resolution petitioning the Congress of the United States of America to call a National Convention to adopt an amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America authorizing and empowering the Congress of the United States of America to establish holidays and enact uniform laws relating to the kind of labor and business that may be lawfully conducted on such days

Whereas our ability to produce has increased enormously Our increased ability to produce has enormously decreased the demand for labor The wages of the laborer purchases the products of industry The wages of the laborer pay the rents of the landlords and the interest on the investing public's money The unemployed laborer by the lack of wages leaves the products of industry on the merchant's shelves The merchant unable to dispose of the merchandise on his shelves ceases ordering more products of industry Thus the employed laborer joins the ranks of the unemployed and likewise becomes a non-consumer Thus the machine still produces and destroys the market for its products This cycle of events must be stopped or general depression must remain permanent Unless the unnecessary labor to produce the products necessary for human consumption is relegated to the position of personal body servants to the prosperous employed or taken up or employed in some useless or luxurious positions which would in all probability be more or less of an immoral character This slack of employment unless remedied is today's most serious problem and

Whereas our ability to consume is the direct and permanent cause to keep our ability to produce employed without time to consume purchasers will not exist and production must cease The general habit of most mankind is to consume far beyond their ability to purchase The human desire to consume is demonstrated by the custom lately developed of buying on the installment plan whereby laborers spend their wages long before they earn them Men given chance opportunity and time to consume if supplied with the ability to purchase will consume and destroy the products of mankind faster than they can ever be produced Man with power to purchase or to obtain on credit will consume more than man can ever produce and

Whereas our ability to produce has increased enormously by reason of invention mass production women in industry increased facilities of transportation radio and wireless telegraph and telephone increased improved highways great dams and the production of electricity aerial travel centralization of population wonderfully improved mill facilities improved facilities of cooking and canning factories eliminating the housewife at home and many other things and

Whereas prohibition naval disarmament land disarmament moving pictures sound pictures and many other things of like nature and character have dispensed with thousands of avenues of employment and

Whereas within the past few years production of goods and merchandise could not be had without the aid of human labor and since the World War the tendency has changed and individual help has become less important in industrial production and human skill has become a secondary factor in the production of goods and the machine has become the supreme factor and mechanical power has taken the first position and human effort a second place and

Whereas machines already and those likely to come have gone long ways toward eliminating human labor and their number and use are increasing day by day and

Whereas since one thousand nine hundred ten the agricultural output has increased twenty-eight per cent. with the labor force reduced six per cent. The tractor plows eight acres of soil in the time required for a man with a horse to plow one acre Forty-five thousand harvesters and threshing machines have displaced over one hundred thirty thousand farm hands and

Whereas in the automobile industry automobile frames are produced almost untouched by human hands and now thirty men turn out more with the aid of machinery than one hundred men did without it and in that industry sixty-six men out of every hundred have in the last sixteen years been replaced by machines and

Whereas but a few years ago thousands and thousands of horses were kept and maintained in the cities and on the farms and it required the labor of thousands and thousands of men to produce the hay corn et cetera needed to feed them and now a horse on the streets of large cities is almost causing the same excitement among children that elephants in the past aroused and

Whereas one man in the brick making industry could turn out a few hundred bricks a day now a machine turns out forty thousand bricks a day and a big power shovel will dig and load as much dirt as four hundred men use to do and

Whereas a dough mixing machine with one man does more than twenty men formerly did with less elaborate machines and one wrapping machine with one attendant now does what twenty workers use to do and

Whereas one man now turns out about thirty-two thousand razor blades with a machine in the same time that it took five hundred men to turn out that amount and now one man takes the places of forty-two men in the open hearth furnaces and

Whereas great improvements have been made in transportation and several years ago eleven men were required to operate one chain of trains now by an automatic control system it has been reduced to a force of one motorman and one guard and the turnstiles have reduced the number of platform men from three to one and

Whereas salesmen by reason of efficiency experts have become purely automatic and with standard packages nationally advertised have been eliminated in proportion of about three to one and as another illustration the once powerful trade organization of window glass workers by reason of a machine that simplified all processes in the manufacturing of glass has dwindled away to nothing and such case is now threatening many other professions trades and industries and in those the advance of the machine is working havoc with skill and high ideals and

Whereas even physicians are now surrounded with machines in the practice of the medical arts and are able with machinery to effect cures never dreamed of heretofore and

Whereas the only apparent immediate remendy for unemployment lies in shorter hours of employment or holidays or the unemployed becoming personal body servants to the prosperous employed or being absorbed in some useless luxurious occupations with their attended evil of immorality and

Whereas man to consume the products of the machine must have employment and wages to purchase its products or otherwise the machine's products will be without consumers and idle men must resort to the crude ways of the past for sustenance and

Whereas shorter hours of employment in one day is not always a good remedy but produces what is commonly known as the "Two job man" and the "Employed Mother" It is like the granting of pensions to early retired employees and finding them in competition at a lower wage with younger laborers thereby forcing the wage of the employed laborer below the limit of a "living wage" Shorter hours of employment in one day makes it possible for the laborer to work in one particular kind of industry for part of the day and another kind of industry for the other part of the day and thereby comply with the laws relating to shorter hours of employment per day and in effect does not distribute employment among a greater number of laborers and

Whereas holidays produce a mob psychology which encourages leisure rest and diversion to the steadily employed and the moral effect of holidays tends better to increase the consumption of machine products and thereby keeps the wheels of industry moving and

Whereas the late World War produced a peculiar and artifical prosperity by the removal of millions of laborers from the fields of industry to the fields of war and why would it not be good to remove all laborers from the fields of industry for additional days than Sundays and give to the steadily employed additional opportunity for study recreation and diversion and

Whereas invention and machines are a great blessing to mankind and can be made a permanent blessing to mankind if the habits and customs of our civilization are so changed to effect the result and if not changed invention and machinery will ultimately destroy our present civilization by producing many evils such as creating in the minds of the unemployed the thought that what is needed for their sustenance they have a right to take from the employed by force and violence which is today one of the underlying causes of the formation of criminal associations more commonly known as "Gangs" and

Whereas the object of reducing the hours of employment cannot well be accomplished by States because of the competition between manufacturers and their natural desire to reduce the cost of production and can only apparently be accomplished by National legislation and

Whereas the establishment of National holidays by Congress will tend to create in the people a uniform sentiment and custom and tend to make all inhabitants of the United States harmonious and

Whereas the Congress of the United States on application of the Legislatures of two-thirds of the several States shall call a convention for proposing amendments and which amendments shall be valid when ratified by three fourths of the States as provided by the Constitution and

Whereas it is the desire of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to make application to Congress to call a convention for proposing the amendment hereinafter mentioned

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the General Assembly or Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby applies to the Congress of the United States of America to call a National Constitutional Convention to adopt an amendment thereto of the following nature and character to wit

"The Congress shall have power to establish National holidays of one or more days duration and prescribe and regulate the nature of and kind of labor and business that may be done on such days by uniform laws"

Section 2 It shall be the duty of the proper officers of the House of Representatives and the Senate of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to notify by sending duly certified copies hereof to the President of the United States of America and the Senate and the House of Represenatives of the United States of America and the Legislatures of the various States of the United States of America of the passage of this resolution by the Legislature or General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 71, as follows:

An Act relating to public improvements undertaken and made in times of economic depression for the purpose of furnishing employment for persons otherwise unemployed authorizing any municipal subdivision of this Commonwealth to undertake and make such public improvements under certain conditions authorizing one or more poor districts to furnish the labor for such public improvements from among the persons entitled to relief and other citizens of this Commonwealth under certain circumstances and to make such public improvements in and for such poor districts under certain conditions with the approval of the court of common pleas providing for reimbursement of such poor districts under certain circumstances out of a State loan when and if approved providing that such poor districts be reimbursed when not coextensive with the municipal subdivision out of any funds lawfully available for the purpose by general taxation or out of municipal liens and providing for interest providing that the provisions of this act are severable as affected by the Constitution and repealing inconsistent laws and defining municipal subdivision as meaning any county city borough township or poor district of this Commonwealth

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That throughout this act unless the context indicated a different intention the singular includes the plural and the masculine pronoun includes the feminine

As used in this act

"Municipal subdivision" means any county city borough township or poor district of this Commonwealth

"Person entitled to relief" means any person who has been a resident of this Commonwealth for at least one year immediately preceding his application for relief and has no other means of support for himself and his dependents and who is unable to obtain for himself and his dependents food clothing fuel or shelter because of inability to obtain employment who has no relatives or other persons legally liable and able to support him who has made earnest and unsuccessful efforts to obtain employment

"Public improvement" shall include the erection construction repair remodeling extension or improvement of any public building street road highway sewer sewage disposal plant municipal water works municipal electric plant or municipal airport public bridge or viaduct

Section 2 It hereby is declared to be a proper governmental function of any municipal subdivision or this Commonwealth to cause public improvements to be made for the relief of distress caused by unemployment during prolonged periods of economic depression

Section 3 Any municipal subdivision of this Commonwealth for the purpose of furnishing employment to persons entitled to relief may cause any public improvement to be undertaken and made which by law now existing or hereafter enacted it would be authorized to undertake and make provided the money necessary for the materials and expenses other than the labor to be furnished therefor by a poor or poor districts as herein provided shall not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation on such indebtedness and in cases where reimbursement is to be made to a poor district or poor districts the money to make such reimbursement can be raised by general taxation for such purpose by law existing or hereafter enacted providing therefor or can be paid out of money collected by and through municipal liens for such public improvement by law now existing or hereafter enacted

Section 4 When ever any municipal subdivision of this Commonwealth by proper resolution or ordinance has determined to undertake and make any public improvement under the terms of this act the poor district which is coextensive with or forms a part of such municipal subdivision or of which such municipal subdivision forms a part or any poor district in the same or an adjoining county may contract to furnish the labor for such public improvement in whole or in part from among the persons entitled to relief within such poor district or poor districts and from among other citizens of this Commonwealth if there are not enough persons entitled to relief but no such poor district shall undertake to furnish such labor unless the persons entitled to relief within such poor district or within all the poor districts joining in the furnishing of such labor who sign contracts to work on such public improvement shall equal ninety per centum of the laborers necessary to do the work but if the number of such persons subsequently shall be decreased below said ninety per centum nevertheless such poor district shall finish its contract to furnish such labor

Two or more poor districts in the same county as the municipal subdivision doing the work or in a county adjoining such county may join in the furnishing of such labor and when the work is done in this manner such poor districts shall submit a joint statement to the municipal subdivision for which the work was done showing the value of the labor furnished by each and if and when the municipal subdivision for which the work has been done makes reimbursement as hereinafter provided it shall reimburse such poor districts pro rata on the basis of such statement Such laborers shall be paid by the poor district in which they reside out of its general funds or out of any other funds legally available for such purpose

Section 5 If such poor district is not coextensive with the municipal subdivision for which the work has been done and not otherwise such poor districts or poor district shall be reimbursed for the amount of the value of the labor furnished such municipal subdivision the same to be paid or reimbursed by the municipal subdivision for which the work was done in such manner as such municipal subdivision may deem best with interest at the rate of three per centum Provided That not less than one-tenth of the whole principal amount shall be paid in any one year until the whole is repaid with interest as aforesaid All money so repaid shall be used as general funds by such poor district

Section 6 Any such poor district may undertake and make any public improvement in and for itself that is authorized by law and under the supervision of such competent superintendent or superintendents as may be necessary selected either from among such persons entitled to relief or otherwise do the work by the services of the persons entitled to relief in such poor district to whatever extent such persons may be available but no authority to do so shall be or is given by this act unless the court of common pleas of the county wherein the work is to be done has found as a fact the existence of a time of economic depression causing distress because of general unemployment and has approved such action

Section 7 If and when an issue of the bonds of this Commonwealth is proposed and approved as provided in paragraph five of the call of the Governor for this extraordinary session the poor districts availing themselves of the provisions of this act may be reimbursed to the same extent as though the said funds had been expended for unemployment relief in any other manner

Section 8 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

Section 9 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions are declared unconstitutional the decision so holding shall not be construed to impair any other provision of this act It hereby is declared as a legislative intent that this act would have been enacted had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein

Section 10 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 63, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto a further section

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows

Section 19 Any city incorporated special district or other municipality or group of municipalities which may now or hereafter have by law the power to construct for the benefit of the inhabitants thereof, transit subways rapid transit railways or other local transit facilities for the transportation of persons and property shall have the power in order the more justly to distribute the benefits and costs of such transit facilities to levy special assessments against such properties whether abutting or not abutting upon said public improvement as are peculiarly and especially benefited by the construction or operation of such transit facilities including such as may have been authorized or begun but not completed before the adoption of this amendment such power to be exercised in accordance with existing or with future laws or pursuant to statutes enacted prior to the adoption of this amendment but made effective by it Such special assessments when so levied may be made payable presently when levied or in installments over a period of years and shall be deducted from any indebtedness incurred for such purposes in calculating the debt of such municipality or incorporated special district Such municipalities or incorporated special districts may acquire by eminent domain either the fee or less estate or easements in land necessary for the construction or operation of such transit facilities or for the disposal of earth or material excavated in the construction thereof but this provision shall not create any additional powers for the condemnation of portions of a public utility system necessary for the operation of such system as a whole

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1932.

Vol. 14 HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JULY 12, 1932. No. 8.

SENATE

TUESDAY, July 12, 1932

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M. (Eastern Standard Time).

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon), in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we realize that Thou art the bountiful Giver of every good and perfect gift. Thou dost not give us that which is of no value to Thee. Thou dost give unto us Thy choicest gifts. To bring us unto our best estate Thou hast sacrificially given.

We pray that selfishness may be taken out of the hearts of men, so that they may practice the godlike art of munificent giving. May devotion to the great cause of human welfare lead men everywhere to give sacrificially, if needful, to relieve the distress of their fellowmen.

May we all realize that our own best welfare is promoted when we live the unselfish life.

Hold us loyal to Thee in service, so that we may be among those who will share with Thee immortal glory. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when on motion of Mr. BAUMER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE CONCURS IN RESOLUTION TO INVESTIGATE THE COST OF GOVERNMENT IN ALLEGHENY COUNTY

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in Resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, July 11, 1932.

Whereas, The high cost of government is one of the problems confronting the Legislature, and the proper solution of its cause and the adoption of the best methods of relief can only be arrived at and decided upon after careful study, and

Whereas, The high cost of government in the County of Allegheny is one of the outstanding examples of costly administration of the public's business, and

Whereas, A proper investigation of the cost of government in Allegheny County and a careful study of its cause and of the available remedies would be of inestimable value to this Legislature as an aid in solving the question and providing remedies, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That a Legislative Investigation Committee is hereby created to consist of two Senators to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and three Members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, each of the five members to be from Allegheny County, whose duty it shall be to make a thorough investigation of the cost of government in Allegheny County in order to determine the cause of the high cost thereof and to make a report to the session of the Legislature to be convened in 1933, and to include in such report the opinion of the Committee as to what legislation shall be passed to reduce the cost of government in said County, and be it

Resolved, That the said Committee shall organize immediately after its appointment, elect a chairman and secretary from among its membership, and proceed at once to make the investigation and study for which ti was created, and be it further

Resolved, That said Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requiring and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records, and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person, and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issuing out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths or affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to appear and testify before said committee, or to produce any books, papers, records, and documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases.

APPOINTMENT TO COMMITTEE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair announces, on behalf of the President Pro Tempore, the appointment of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer, as Chairman of the Committee on Legislative Apportionment, to fill a vacancy.

Section 11 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment and shall remain in effect for and during the term of two years thereafter

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I do not know to whom the credit goes for this bill. It may go to General William T. Price or to former Representative Edmonds or to Lieutenant-Governor Shannon or to Governor Pinchot or to Mussolini or to Senator Weingartner. I take no credit for it myself.

On the 4th of July over the Delaware River Bridge there were counted 55,000 pleasure vehicles; and at the same time, in Philadelphia, there were 55,000 families on the food roll. That is a very, very sad comparison.

On Market Street in Harrisburg, last week, a man approached me,—thought I belonged to the idle rich, I suppose, from my dress—and asked me for some money to buy a bowl of soup—and I did not have the money. I told him I was a nonresident. But if this bill, Senate Bill No. 52, had been enacted, I could have said, "My man, you come with me around the corner to the enlistment station, and if you want to work all you have to do is to sign on the dotted line and you will be taken into the industrial army, which operates under the National Guard, under General Price, General Shannon and the Adjutant-General; and you will get fifty cents a day wages, and you will also get your clothes; you will get shelter, and you will get the army ration for food." And if he says he does not care for that, you say to him, "Good-bye. You do not get any money from me, of course."

Now, the fairest way of presenting this bill is not to present its merits—that is to say, its obvious merits; anybody that has read it can see it has a great deal of merit—but to be honest and point out the two weak spots in it; and the first one is: "What can these men do?"

Please understand, it is not something for nothing; it is something for something. Various suggestions have been made. I admit it is difficult to prescribe work which does not infringe on public business. For instance, the elimination of grade crossings. One Senator said to me, "Why, there are very few grade crossings in Pennsylvania." So I wrote a note to the Public Service Commission, and they have replied that there are over 12,000 grade crossings in Pennsylvania, not including Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Erie, Scranton and so forth, which would cost so much money they have not got the blueprints for them; but for these other grade crossings they have the plans, in the possession of the Public Service Commission, for the abolition of these grade crossings. There is a wide field. The objection, of course, is that it competes with private business.

Now, we have in this State one million five hundred thousand acres of forest land; so, I wrote a note to the Department of Forests and Waters, and I have a reply here from the Secretary, Mr. Staley, who informs me that the Department of Forests and Waters will have available for planting this fall ten million forest trees.

The Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Howell, who is supporting this bill—although there was a slight interval during which the Firemen's Relief Association got him to unsupport it, but now he is back again—says there are a great many denuded hillsides in Lackawanna County where these men can work at reforestration.

The Adjutant General tells me he can employ a thousand men tomorrow in developing the new military reservation at Indiantown Gap, which is to take the place of Mt. Gretna, with which you are familiar, perhaps. That is perfectly available.

Now, the next weak point in the bill is: Where is the money to come from? That is always the point. I was tipped off very nicely by the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations of the Senate and a distinguished Representative from the House, from Cambria County, and they say that there is $1,667,000 lying idle in the Treasury. So, I went down to the Treasury, and found they were correct. There was nobody who wanted this money. So, it was incorporated in the bill.

The bill did appropriate a million and a half from the two per cent. tax on the premiums of foreign fire insurance companies; and then some firemen must have read the bill, so there have been several delegations here protesting. So, last night I went to the Auditor General's office, and he has certified that the million dollars, which is the amendment, is an unexpendable balance from this fire insurance fund. There is $1,667,000 there, and the first draft of the bill was in error in taking a million and a half. But I have been trying to show my brother Senators—and I have succeeded in converting all of them, perhaps, except Senator Apple—that I am not taking any of the firemen's relief money.

The Auditor General has explained that he paid out, last year, $600,000 for the firemen's relief; and the amount, presumably, will be the same this year—at the end of the year. So, if you take a million dollars from $1,667,000 you have $667,000 for the Firemen's Relief Association.

Therefore, we are doing no injury even to the Firemen's Relief Association. Personally I am very fond of any fireman, and I would like to say my father was chief engineer of the fire department—the volunteer fire department—for twenty-five years, and we gave them a reception every year at my father's house. So I have been brought up to respect and admire the firemen. They have a prejudice against me; but that is true.

Now, those are the two weak spots in the bill. Anybody that has read the bill will see that it is not necessary to explain it. It is one of the few bills, I guess, the Senators have read; but please remember that we are quite accustomed here to handling bills that are called "the Governor's bills"—administration bills. This bill has the merit, among other things, of being the Lieutenant-Governor's bill. It is a new role in which Lieutenant-Governor Shannon appears. The Lieutenant-Governor is our own officer, and we are proud to have his name associated with it. He has been associated with this bill from the beginning, as have also the Adjutant-General and General Price.

And there is another advantage. You all know that the public are becoming disgusted with the General Assembly, because on June 26th, in the photogravure section of the Sunday papers, they saw very fine pictures of Mr. Hazlett, Mr. Weglein, Mr. Grover Talbot, Mr. Turner, Mrs. George Wade and Mr. A. L. Sheffer, who were leaving their respective homes to confer with the Governor on unemployment relief—immediate unemployment relief. The same pictures have been in the photogravure section since July 26th, and you can still see these gentlemen departing for Harrisburg to confer with the Governor on unemployment relief. I think the public naturally have become sufficiently familiar with the portraits of Mr. Talbot, Mr. Turner and so forth; and they would like to see the bills, they would like to see some unemployment relief.

Therefore, I say, Senate Bill No. 52 furnishes immediate unemployment relief. And it is not dependent on starving any lunatic in any institution or on taking away anybody's salary; it does not take money away from anybody—it is simply undiscovered, idle money.

Now, I think I have, perhaps, converted everybody but the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman. He is hopeless. But I am prepared to answer the most difficult questions he may ask.

Mr. PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, whether it is not a fact, first, that this bill only applies to unmarried men?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, that is right.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, why?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, otherwise we might be swamped.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, that is true.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, may I answer a little further?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, certainly, as far as I am concerned.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, all last winter in Philadelphia we have had a shelter where unmarried men were cared for. Four thousand of them got supper, lodging and breakfast, and then went out on the streets every day to try to get work. Of course, if there was more money and more work we would have been able to take care of more men. But if we had one million dollars, we would be flooded with applications.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, if the married men are not in more need at this time than the unmarried men?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, that is perfectly true, but the answer is that in all localities the married men are first considered, as Senator Weingartner will tell you, and that at his famous dam in the northwest they give preference to the married men—all those nine hundred men working around there—at the Pymatuning Dam. That is true in every case.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask whether this does not take the money out of the Firemen's Relief Fund?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, no, it does not. I can tell you that.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, if there is a million dollars available, undiscovered as he called it, whether that money could not be used for real relief instead of establishing a Coxey's army in Pennsylvania?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, there is no need to yillify a bill by calling it a Coxey's army. Now, even to the name "army" has been taken away from this bill in order not to give offense. Some of the Senators did not like the name "army." It is a corporation.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, a private corporation?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, yes sir. But please understand it is not "made" work. It is real. It is done either in the forest reservations or in the military camp at Indiantown Gap, or, if you will allow it, to eliminate grade crossings.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask if this money is not to be appropriated and handled by a private corporation, and will it not, therefore, require a two-thirds vote of this Senate?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, it will be handled through the Department of Military Affairs.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, and be expended by them?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, yes, sir. Now ask me another.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia if he really means this bill seriously?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, yes, sir. I know the Senator from Bucks is in favor of recommitting it, but that is his habit; and I have enough friends here to vote it down.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia if he thinks he has enough votes to pass this bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I do.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I do not want to take up very much time in discussing this bill, but it is one of those things our friend from Philadelphia, Senator Woodward, brings—and we all enjoy his repartee and his wit in presenting them—but I do not believe that in his heart he seriously wants it. I do not think a Senator on this floor should vote for this bill.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, it is impracticable. If the State of Pennsylvania has a million dollars in undiscovered funds, there is no better way in which it can be used than to relieve distress, and in balancing the budget. If there is a million dollars there, it is needed to carry on the government of this State, without establishing a refuge for the unemployed, who we always have with us, and this will be used as a haven where all the people who do not want to work can go and be kept by the State. And I do not think any Senator here ought to stultify himself by voting for it. In times like this, it is a foolish measure. I say this, whether or not it does interfere with the Firemen's Relief Fund. If there is a million dollars there, we have plenty of places to use it; and I do not think this Senate ought to go on record as favoring such legislation as is embraced in this bill.

Mr. FAY. Mr. President, I would like to interject a little serious note into this discussion. Now, I am an older man than Dr. Woodward, and our minds are very much alike in many things. Several years ago I had the same idea about this grade-crossing elimination. I went through this grade-crossing elimination idea, and I said that is what we should do. But, Mr. President, I found in my investigation that to eliminate the grade crossings it would take more money than it took to build the railroads. They said, "If you are going to eliminate the grade crossings, you have got to set up a capital account for your railroads double their present capitalization." And you can't get away from that. Now, I knew at one time how many billion dollars that would take, but my mind would not grasp a billion dollars. I am from the country.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, does the Senator know how much a million dollars is?

Mr. FAY. Mr. President, no, I do not know how much a million dollars is.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I wish I did.

Mr. FAY. Mr. President, I never saw it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 55, as follows:

An Act to amend clause nine of section one thousand two hundred and ten of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended by temporarily reducing the minimum salaries to be paid teachers supervisors principals and superintendents in the public schools providing that increments shall not accrue and reducing the appropriation heretofore made for the purpose of paying the Commonwealth's share of such minimum salaries

Whereas His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth in his proclamation convening this Legislature in special session set forth as one of the subjects of legislation to be considered the reduction of appropriations previously made in order to balance the budget for the biennium ending the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three and

Whereas The appropriation made for the payment of the Commonwealth's share of the payment of salaries of public school employes can only be made by the reduction of the legal liability of the Commonwealth for the payment of the same therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That clause nine of section one thousand two hundred and ten of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws three hundred twenty-eight) entitled "An act to further amend section one thousand two hundred ten as amended of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled 'An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith'" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Nine The foregoing schedules prescribe a minimum salary in each instance and where increment is prescribed it is also a minimum It is within the power of the boards of education board of public school directors or county conventions of school directors as the case may be to increase for any person or group of persons included in this schedule the initial salary or the amount of an increment or the number of increments or the minimum qualifications set forth in this act Teachers shall be entitled to the increments provided for in said schedules who have complied with such requirements as may be prescribed by the State Board of Education except where additional qualifications are required by the local board of public education or board of school directors

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to interfere with or discontinue any salary schedule now in force in any school district so long as such schedule shall meet the requirements of this section nor to prevent the adoption of any salary schedule in conformity with the provisions of this act Provided however That during the school years between the date of the approval of this act and the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five the minimum salaries to be paid to teachers supervisors principals and superintendents in the public schools of the Commonwealth shall in each instance be ninety per centum of the minimum salaries prescribed in the foregoing schedules and during such school years no teacher supervisor principal or superintendent shall be entitled to the benefit of any increment prescribed by this section except such as have heretofore accrued

The appropriation of fifty-six million dollars ($56,000,000) for reimbursing school districts upon the salaries of school teachers and for closed schools and for non-resident high school teachers by the act approved the eleventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Appropriation Acts page sixteen) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one" is hereby reduced to dollars and the remainder of said appropriation shall revert to the General Fund

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILL FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence bill of the House of Representatives, as follows:

House Bill No. 71 (Senate Bill No. 85), entitled:

An Act relating to public improvements undertaken and made in times of economic depression for the purpose of furnishing employment for persons otherwise unemployed authorizing any municipal subdivision of this Commonwealth to undertake and make such public improvements under certain conditions authorizing one or more districts to furnish the labor for such public improvements from among the persons entitled to relief and other citizens of this Commonwealth under certain circumstances and to make such public improvements in and for such poor districts under certain conditions with the approval of the court of common pleas providing for reimbursement of such poor districts under certain circumstances out of a State loan when and if approved providing that such poor districts be reimbursed when not coextensive with the municipal subdivision out of any funds lawfully available for the purpose by general taxation or out of municipal liens and providing for interest providing that the provisions of this act are severable as affected by the Constitution and repealing inconsistent laws and defining municipal subdivisions as meaning any county, city, borough, township or poor district of this Commonwealth.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is very sorry to have to announce to the Senate that the Senator from Butler, Mr. Painter, enroute to the Capitol yesterday afternoon met with another automobile accident, within three miles of the place where he had the accident last year. The Chair directs the Secretary of the Senate to express our sympathy to Senator Painter by telegram immediately after the recess.

RECESS

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 3.30 o'clock this afternoon (Eastern Standard Time).

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. James S. Boyd) in the Chair.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communication:

Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce,
Harrisburg, July 12, 1932.

Honorable Edward C. Shannon,
Lieutenant-Governor of the Commonwealth,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear General Shannon:

We transmit herewith copy of the resolutions adopted at a special meeting of the membership of the Pennsylvania

State Chamber of Commerce held in this city on Monday, July 11, and we would respectfully ask that you have these recommendations spread upon the Journal of your House of the General Assembly.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE E. FOSS,
General Secretary.

At a special meeting of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce held in Harrisburg on July 11, to consider the several plans for unemployment relief now pending in the special session of the Legislature, the following recommendations were adopted and the Chamber's officers were directed to forward them promptly to the Governor and members of the Legislature:

(1) That the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce approves adequate State appropriations for unemployment relief during the next eight months to supplement local funds for this purpose.

(2) That the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce favors distribution of such State relief funds through local agencies substantially in the manner approved by the State Supreme Court in its decision upon the Talbot Act.

(3) That the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce favors complete restoration of the original appropriations by the 1931 regular session of the Legislature for hospitals, homes and mothers' assistance, which were abated following the decision of the Supreme Court in the Talbot Act case.

(4) That the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce urges the Commonwealth to employ the following means for relieving unemployment and for restoring the abated appropriations of 1931—

(a) Legislation enabling Pennsylvania to take advantage of the provisions in the Federal Relief Act when finally passed for loans or advances to the states.

(b) An immediate and substantial reduction in the cost of our State government to approach the level of 1924, so that unemployment relief may be largely financed by savings in the ordinary expenses of the State government.

(c) No imposition of new State taxes, for they would only retard the process of economic recovery.

(d) Should the economies in State government and the anticipated federal loan not produce sufficient funds to meet this emergency, then money should be transferred from the State's special funds for this purpose.

(5) That the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce urges temporary suspension of the automatic increases in teachers' salaries now provided by the Edmonds' Act.

(6) That the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce views the prevailing legislative uncertainty about State finances as convincing proof of the need for periodic and complete releases on State revenues and expenditures, in accord with the Chamber's repeated declaration of policy on this point.

(7) Since a special committee on the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce appointed to make a study of the Highway Building Program of the State, in its report calls special attention to certain economic aspects of the Rural Road Program as comprehended by the Act of Assembly of 1931 entitled "An Act establishing certain township roads as State highways; authorizing their construction, maintenance and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions, etc.," the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce recommends to the Legislature, now sitting in special session, the appointment of a joint legislative committee to study the economics of the Rural Roads Program and report its findings to the regular session of the Legislature in 1933.

Respectfully submitted,
Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce,
By GEORGE E. FOSS,
General Secretary.

July 12, 1932.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time .

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FREEMAN, from the Committee on Finance, reported as committed, the following resolution:

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE DELAWARE RIVER JOINT COMMISSION

In the House of Representatives, July 5, 1932.

Whereas The agreement between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey creating the Delaware River Joint Commission authorizes said Commission to determine as of the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two the net amounts due the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the State of New Jersey and the city of Philadelphia on account of the moneys contributed toward the cost of acquiring property and constructing the bridge across the Delaware River connecting the cities of Philadelphia and Camden and authorizes said Commission to borrow money on its bonds or other obligations and to pay out of the moneys raised by the sale of such bonds or obligations the sums ascertained by the Commission to be due Pennsylvania New Jersey and Philadelphia and

Whereas Pennsylvania New Jersey and Philadelphia on account of present economic conditions are in need of the funds authorized to be raised pursuant to said agreement but banking interests question the wisdom of marketing these bonds at this time therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Delaware River Joint Commisison is directed to advise the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania whether it would be feasible and advisable for said Commission to issue the bonds authorized by said act and to deliver to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the State of New Jersey and the City of Philadelphia bonds of the face value of their respective claims thereby enabling Pennsylvania New Jersey and Philadelphia to sell such bonds from time to time and to realize money thereon

Resolved That the Commission be requested to advise what if any legislation is needed to accomplish the purpose of this resolution

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Delaware River Joint Commission

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires resolutions reported from committee to lie on the table for one day be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just reported from committee.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. O. B. Poulson, offered the following prayer:

We praise Thee, our Heavenly Father, for this moment of quiet and peace. As we stand before Thee with bowed heads, we think of the millions of our fellow citizens that make up this great Commonwealth. We think of the boys and the girls—the men and women of tomorrow.

May our supreme desire continue to be that it shall be well with all Pennsylvanians. Strengthen our leaders here today as they try to carry burdens of responsibility that are heavy indeed. Give to us all the spirit of "Good Will" that "Peace on Earth" may speedily become an accomplished fact. And to Thy name shall all the praise be given. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, July 11, 1932.

Whereas, The high cost of government is one of the problems confronting the Legislature, and the proper solution of its cause and the adoption of the best methods of relief can only be arrived at and decided upon after careful study, and

Whereas, The high cost of government in the County of Allegheny is one of the outstanding examples of costly administration of the public's business, and

Whereas, A proper investigation of the cost of government in Allegheny County and a careful study of its cause and of the available remedies would be of inestimable value of this Legislature as an aid in solving the question and providing remedies, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That a Legislative Investigation Committee is hereby created to consist of two Senators to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and three members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, each of the five members to be from Allegheny County, whose duty it shall be to make a thorough investigation of the cost of government in Allegheny County in order to determine the cause of the high cost thereof and to make a report to the session of the Legislature to be convened in 1933, and to include in such report the opinion of the Committee as to what legislation should be passed to reduce the cost of government in said County, and be it

Resolved, That the said Committee shall organize immediately after its appointment, elect a chairman and secretary from among its membership and proceed at once to make the investigation and study for which it was created, and be it further

Resolved, That said Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requiring and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records, and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person, and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issuing out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths or affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to appear and testify before said committee, or to produce any books, papers, records, and documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, at the request of the sponsor of this bill I move that it be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations for further consideration.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I hope that the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny will not prevail. This joint resolution proposes a constitutional amendment, which, if adopted by the next session of the legislature and approved by the electors of the Commonwealth, will make possible a graduated income tax in Pennsylvania, the revenues and proceeds of which will be used altogether for educational purposes. So much for the purpose of the bill, although we are dealing now with a motion to recommit.

The Ways and Means Committee very carefully considered this measure. It deals entirely and exclusively with revenues of the Commonwealth. No part of its subject matter falls within the jurisdiction of the Appropriations Committee which, as we all know, is busily engaged in attempting to bring us out of our chaos, and while the Ways and Means Committee is in no wise jealous of the work, the fine work, the splendid work, which that Committee is performing for this House and for the citizens of this Commonwealth, I submit to you that the orderly procedure of the House justifies that bills should be restricted to the consideration of those committees the jurisdiction of which is intended for the consideration of the subject matter of a specific bill. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I hope the motion of my friend from Allegheny will not prevail.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House; the sponsor of this bill had to leave the House and asked me to make this motion. I will withdraw the motion and let the bill stay on the calender as it is.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman withdraws his motion that this bill be recommitted.

BILLS ON SECOND READING
